Men's fastball schedule ends

The Hiway 14 Sr. Men's Fastball League came to an end Monday night with Ryley edging Holden 14-13.

This created a three way tie for the fourth and last playoff spot. Lindbrook gained second place because of two wins against Bruce during the season. However, this method still left the last three teams tied.

It was therefore decided that the playoffs would include all six teams beginning (yesterday) Wednesday. Bruce plays at Tofield, Ryley plays at Lindbrook, Kingman visits Holden.

Final Standings

	W	L	T	Pts
Tofield	9	0	1	19
Lindbrook	5	5	0	10
Bruce	5	5	0	10

Wildrose Scouts prepare for Norway

Mrs. Severson

Troutman's Landing, on the Battle River, was the scene of the Wildrose District's 1975 "Nordjam" Camporee which was held May 30 to June 1st this year. The Viking theme was incorporated into the Camporee to emphasize the 1975 World Jamboree to be held in Lillehammer, Norway, during the months of July and August.

54 Scouts from the district attended the Camporee. This included five patrols from 2nd Camrose, one patrol from each of 3rd Camrose, Edberg, New Norway, Bawlf, Round Hill and Tofield Scout Troops. This marked the first year that Tofield participated in Wildrose District Activities since they just joined the district this spring. One visiting Scout from Edmonton 135th Scout Troup also participated.

Walter Busenius, Wildrose District Commissioner, was Camp Chief and was assisted by other scout leaders from the various troups.

The weatherman co-operated with the scouts on this occasion with perfect weather being experienced throughout the weekend. This allowed the camp to complete the various activities with a maximum of fun and a minimum of discomfort. The various patrols were judged on scores attained through competition in the following activities: hammer throw, lifeline throw, dryland skiing, compass competition, pillow fight, spear throwing, rifle range, and making a log and twig trophy.

Inspections were made regularly of patrol campsites, and patrols were judged on cleanliness of campsites, proper handling of tools, cooking, personal cleanliness, etc. Competition was very keen and only 22 points separated the first and last place patrols. Edberg Scout Patrol placed first in overall competition, with second place going to Round Hill Patrol. Bawlf and Tofield patrols tied for third.

On Sunday, the entire camp was divided into three sub-camps for a final competition, each receiving different names-Nordska, Denska and Svenska. Each sub-camp was given a large number of logs and miles of binder twine to construct a viking ship, complete with sail, and then, with one passenger aboard and all the other members acting as oarsmen, had to carry their ship a distance of approximately 1000 feet to complete the activity.

An exciting race took place as the three sub-camps busily lashed logs together in the shape of a ship, erected their sails and "launched" their ships. Teams were judged on speed in completing the assignment and proficiency of lashing. In this unusual competition, the Nordska camp completed the assignment first but were overtaken by the Denska camp when it came to judge the lashing, with the Denska camp being declared the overall winner.

The rifle range showed Tofield Scouts as the better shots, with Tofield taking both first and second place in high score and tieing for third as well.

The weekend activities concluded Sunday afternoon with an impressive display of fire power conducted by Joe Voytechek of Camrose, assisted by Stan Kopach, Orlin Knutsvig, Mike Czernyanski and Kim Jensen, all of Camrose. Mr. Voytechek talked of the terrible power unleashed when a bullet is fired from a gun and strikes an object. He followed each talk with a demonstration, showing the damages caused by bullets from .22 and 30.06 calibres and shot gun shells. He also stressed the great need for safety in care and handling of firearms.

Mrs. Ellen Enton

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kandelien of Lethbridge visited relatives in Ryley for a few days. Oscar took in the Sports Day.

Last Friday evening, the Holden and Ryley bands put on a lovely evening of entertainment, "Some Kind of Wonderful", under the direction of their music teacher, Mr. Norris who has done a wonderful job in teaching these youngsters. A large crowd turned out. Encores had part in the program, as well.

Mrs. Lougheed has been moved to Tofield Hospital.

J.B. Saueiar of Vista Lodge in Viking is a patient in the Tofield Hospital.

A Gyaakhana day was held at the Hisey farm, south-east of Ryley, recently, with a number of people turning out for the event.

Mr. Harold Olson and Ann met the bus Monday evening to welcome Glenn Pruboe of Van Dalker, Sweden (Mrs. Gust Olson's sister's grandson). Later that evening, Martha and Robert Johnson, Ole and Ann Soorbekie, Bertha and Bill Wiseman called in to wish him a safe journey home from here. He left for Vancouver, then through the States, and on to Quebec to go back to Sweden on July 12.

Ryley had beautiful weather for their sports day, Saturday. The parade was led by three cadets and two R.C.M.P. in their red coats. Very lovely floats, decorated bikes, a cow took part in the parade. She cooperated beautifully with her leader and rider. Many horses and colts were in the parade too. Ben Jacobson, driving his antique Buick car which still runs smoothly. The Ryley band played at the grounds. Rain spoiled the last game with Ryley ahead of Round Hill.

Ken and Rachel Rees and two girls were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Ellen Enton, visiting Ken's uncle, Mervin Rees.

Cooking Lake study is having progress

Throughout Canada today, there is increasing concern being expressed about the amount of land which is continuing to be taken out of agriculture. Yet people continue to demand more and more residential acreages. Similarly, people continue to demand greater access to rural lands for recreation pursuits. And above this, many people decry what perceive to be the general spoiling of the environment.

However, very few people appear to realize how interrelated these problems are; that it is often their demands for recreational facilities that spoil land for agriculture, that their demands for residential acreages make farm land unusable. Similarly, they fail to appreciate that the solution for one problem has ramifications for the solving of another problem. For example, if a particular area of rural land is designated for farming only and is protected by a rigid zoning bylaw, the recreation potential of the area is depleted. This displacement may cause the recreation to be pursued in another, possibly more unsuited area, thereby creating worse problems.

Such a state of affairs presently exists in the Cooking Lake Moraine Area to the east of Edmonton. Public demands are being placed on the Government of Alberta, and the various counties involved, to do several things with the area:

(1) Preserve the natural qualities of the area.

(2) Maintain the area's farmland.

(3) Develop the area's recreation potential, and

(4) Provide more residential acreages.

Since 1973, an interdepartmental group from the Alberta Government has been attempting to ascertain whether these activities can all be suitably accommodated within the Moraine Area and, if so, to what degree.

In order to gather the necessary information required for a sound decision, the Cooking Lake Study Committee is pursuing three phases. The first phase, now complete, is an inventory of the area's environmental characteristics and an assessment of the ability of these characteristics to withstand change. This assessment has been used in formulating five very general environmental

Cancer fund nets $1474

Due to the dedicated work of the canvassers and the generosity and concern of the donors, 1975 was a banner year for the Cancer Campaign in the Tofield area.

A record amount of $1473.55 [illegible] and to date $1700.00 has been forwarded to Edmonton.

Sponsorship of the campaign has been assumed by the Lions Club.

Outside teams win Tofield tourneys

Viking, Ryley, and Paltonville emerged as the winners of tournaments in Tofield on Tuesday during that center's annual Sports Day.

BASEBALL

Viking edged Camrose Roadrunners 10-9 in the finals after having whipped Ryley 15-4 in the semi-finals and stopping Round Hill 5-1 in the opening round.

Camrose edged Bardo 4-3 and Ryley outslugged Tofield 13-8 in the other opening round games.

LADIES SOFTBALL

Ryley edged Tofield B-7 in the finals after edging Lamont 15-13 in the opening round.

Tofield had outslugged Round Hill 31-21 in the semi-finals and beat Fort Saskatchewan in the opening round. Round Hill topped Tofield High School in the other opening round contest.

MEN'S SOFTBALL

Paltonville edged Camrose Windsor Hotel 1-0 in two extra innings in the finals. Paltonville whipped Tofield B 11-3 in the semi-finals and walloped Holden 9-3 in the first round.

Camrose had whipped Tofield A 8-2 in the semi-finals after beating Kelsey 6-2 in the first round. In other first round games, Tofield B whipped Lindbrook 9-4 while Tofield A walloped Kingman 17-4.

Playground set to open

The Tofield Playground will be officially opened on July 7. Registration for children ages four years and up will be held from 9:30 - 12:00 and 1:00 - 5:00 at the Tofield Arena with the fee being $1.50.

This year's playground program will be running from July 7 to August 22 under the supervision of Jona Clark for the first three weeks and Carolyn Chilkowich and Colleen Walker for the last four weeks.

The recreative hours will be from 9:30 - 12:00 and 1:00 - 5:00. All children who are interested in a summer of games, crafts, singing and drama are urged to attend the Tofield playground.

Rough roads Most of the streets in Tofield are torn up, as many people found, to their dismay, when they tried various ways of getting into the town on Tuesday for the sports day and then had trouble getting from one are a to another. One of the better sections was this part of Main Street which still has enough room to pass.

management plans for the area.

The second phase consists of an evaluation of these management plans and the possible generation of further alternative plans. The plans are evaluated to ascertain which is the optimal solution.

In this phase, the Study Committee is encouraging public input.

Interested persons and groups are being asked to evaluate the management plans and indicate which is the most suitable proposal, and in creating a new one, and suggest how it may be most effectively implemented. By involving the public in evaluating and completing the design of the proposals, the Committee is more assured of developing a plan which is better suited to the area than a plan which is created in isolation from the public.

Contact with the public is being initiated with various mail-outs and phone calls and followed by a series of meetings. These meetings are held at the convenience of the sponsoring group and in their home territory This latter point is important. It not only enables people to refer more specifically to their concerns, it also provides them with the sense of security that one has when he is speaking from within his territory and amongst his neighbours. Furthermore, it enables the members of the study group to better understand what the area means to people. The identity and feeling people have of and for an area is better established when people are talking from within it rather than from without it

The evaluation of these proposals will be presented to the Government in the early fall for the third phase of the study, the selection of the management plan This decision will be made at Cabinet level. Consequently, as the decision is political, public interest will exert a strong influence on the study's outcome.

If you would like to find out more about the study or become involved in it please contact Gary Wilson or Bill Scott at Alberta Environment - 427-6225

Mrs. Melvin Carlson and son, Eric, left Saturday evening for Sherwood Park being overnight visitors with Edith's sister and family, Mr and Mrs. David Scott, all leaving early Sunday morning by car for Penticton, B.C., where they will visit with Edith's and Freda's father, Mr. Lamb and other relatives in the area. Their sister, Kay, was also flying out from the Maritimes to visit with the family.

Clare Anderson, who had been holidaying and visiting for the past two weeks at Watford, Ont. and other points around the district, returned home last Wednesday afternoon, his cousin, Beulah, coming along with him and visiting for a few days with him and Mrs. Francis Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bell spent the weekend of June 21st on a fishing trip at one of the lakes near St. Paul, their son and his wife, Millie, of Edmonton, were also there over the weekend.

Walter Dorin of Edmonton, a former Holden resident, passed away Wednesday, June 18th at the age of 59 years after an illness of several months. He is survived by one son, Barry of Calgary; one daughter, Lynne, of Sylvan Lake; five grandchildren; and five sisters. The funeral service was held Saturday, June 21st, at Sylvan Lake and interment was in the Red Deer Cemetery. The Dorin family were pioneer residents of Holden, residing just south of the village. Walter was born in Holden and received his education at the Holden School. He served during the second world war overseas in the Canadian Air Force and on returning to Holden at the conclusion of the war, owned and operated the Frozen Food Lockers and Butcher Shop, then selling it to the Semotuk brothers on leaving Holden. One of his sisters, Mrs. Bertha Sanderson, was the AGT operator and manager for the office in Holden for many years until it was closed down when the new AGT building was built.

N. Haramynchuk, who has been in poor health for the past several months, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Vegreville on Tuesday morning of last week, for treatment on his back and legs.

Miss Leona Gardecki of Edmonton was a weekend visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gardecki.

Mrs. Olive Good drove over to Sedgewick a week ago Sunday to visit with her father, Norman Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tiedemann spent a couple of days, the past weekend, fishing at one of the lakes around the St. Paul district, Henry slipping on a rock when pulling the boat out of the water and hurting his knee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Budd have had their daughter, Linda, staying with them for a while, and to take the children home. Linda was a Tuesday visitor in Edmonton.

Mrs. Edith Carlson, Eric and Vivian, were visiting last Saturday evening with Chris Christensen, Mrs. Kennie McLennan, and Mrs. Anna Christensen at Parkland Nursing home in Viking.

Mrs. S. Sachy is presently a patient in a hospital in Vancouver, having had surgery.

Summer Cooling?

If you've been contemplating Summer Cooling, we offer these helpful hints.

Window Air Conditioners can offer an economical and efficient method of cooling your home without wasting energy.

A WISE INVESTMENT — Used intelligently, your Window Air Conditioner is a wise investment and many times more efficient than temporary fans. Because your windows stay closed, your home doesn't get dusty. Your cleaning appliances are used less. You can draw your drapes against the glare of the sun and reduce solar heat. By doing this you also retain cool air that would otherwise be lost. Your cooler home will return the compliment by reducing the load on your air conditioner

CORRECT SIZING — When considering an air conditioner, make sure it is the correct size (Btu capacity) for the room or home. Also check that it has a high efficiency rating i.e. that it gives a lot of cooling power for the amount of electricity used. Ask your dealer for details

EASILY INSTALLED — It takes just a few seconds to install most models of Window Air Conditioners. They are designed to fit into practically any size or style of sliding window and may include built-in panels that slide out to ensure a weathertight fit. For more permanent installations air conditioners can be professionally fitted through the wall

OTHER WAYS TO PLAY IT COOL — Your window air conditioner works even more efficiently when you insulate your attic, install an attic fan and sun shades, add storm doors, windows and weather stripping. On really hot days, increase interior temperature settings to as much as 25° C (that's still comfortable when it's 29° C outside) and save by reducing the amount of cooling needed. And one of the most pleasant ways to keep your cool is to plant shade trees on the south, east and west sides of your home

Citizenship papers presented to grads

by Grace Phillips

Judge Orval Allen of the Court of Canadian Citizenship presented Canadian citizenship certificates to the grade nine students at the annual grade nine graduation banquet held on June 20th in the library of the Tofield School with president of the Big 3, Lynn Warner, presiding.

After Bill Simon had said grace and Sheila Werton had proposed the traditional toast to the Queen, the banquet was served by the grade eight girls who had also prepared it. The tables were set with blue and [illegible] tablecloths and featured globe candles in various colors. A silver airplane for [illegible] graduand was taped to the [illegible] frame as was the motto "Onward, Upward". The girls were presented with corsages and the boys with boutonnieres supplied by the Big 3.

Melody Heuriksen, the grade eight representative and vice-president of the Big 3, proposed the toast to the graduands and Donna Friesen replied. Heather Allen proposed the toast to the school, to which Ted Whyte replied. Lynn Warner thanked the grade eight girls for their work for the banquet.

Dr. Neil Gannon, Superintendent of Schools, had to leave early for another event but left good wishes on behalf of himself and the school committee. Al Pollock, principal, spoke briefly reminding the students of their

by Grace Phillips

Lynn Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Warner, is the 1974-75 winner of the Melnyk award given annually in the Tofield school.

The students in Junior High vote for the grade nine student who best fulfills the criteria of (1) academic achievement, (2) ability in sports, (3) sportsmanship, (4) leadership and participation in student affairs (5) conduct.

Lynn is an excellent student, has been the 1974-75 president of the Big 3 of Tofield Junior High, is an active participant in basket ball and softball teams. She enjoys dancing and swimming and has achieved her grade 8 in music from the Toronto Conservatory of music. After completing High School, Lynn has tentative plans to become a nurse.

The runner-up for the Melnyk award was Carrie Epp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Epp.

Betty Ann Shewchuk and Diane Rose arranged a scavenger hunt and a wiener roast as the wind-up party for the Big 3. It was held June 23rd at the Tofield School.

Buck fights legislation

The Government legislation, which allows M.L.A.s to become members of Government Boards and Commissions, has been severely criticized by Clover Bar M.L.A., Dr. Walt Buck.

In the Legislature and on the C.B.C. Provincial Affairs Program, Dr. Buck said the legislation is "wrong in principle." Government M.L.A.s have called the legislation "contemporary and forward looking." Dr. Buck points out that this system — used in Ontario — is about to be abandoned. A Com-

Jobs for MLA's

One has to question the suggestion of the Lougheed government that Members of the Legislature be selected for certain specific additional jobs such as permanent appointment to committees, boards and authorities, at salary levels in the $20,000 bracket.

In the first place, what this does is to place them in the same general salary range as a cabinet minister, without, presumably nearly as much influence or authority.

In addition, it can be difficult, if not impossible, for an increasingly large number of elected representatives to have their time so completely filled as to be unable to properly keep in touch with their constituents, which is the very basis of the parliamentary system. And goodness knows we want members to be more in touch, rather than less, with their home ridings. Accepting appointments such as proposed by the government means more and more members will find their election represents a full time job (and a fairly well paid one) rather than the seasonal undertaking it started off to be.

But there is more. Some MLA's might reasonably claim to have won election on their own merits, and without riding on Mr. Lougheed's coat-tails. However, appointment either as a cabinet minister, or as a committee chairman inevitably depends only and entirely on Mr. Lougheed's own judgment, so that institution of this new program would quickly mean that an absolute majority of even the current huge majority of Conservative members was absolutely dependent on the premier for their continuing preferment, including its better than average salary level.

Such a situation we already have in the Trudeau government in Ottawa, and it would seem highly desirable not to import the concept into Alberta. Mr. Lougheed already possesses all the power over his party that he needs....we should not wish to see this domination extended.

Bill-paying time

It's only a few years ago that most of the provinces urged Ottawa not to saddle them with the costs, shared, but nonetheless huge, of the new Medicare program. But Ottawa ignored them because it was politically expedient at the moment, and one by one, the provinces fell in line, if only because they were paying for the scheme anyway, and they felt they might as well get something back for their money.

Now, Ottawa has finally reckoned up the bill, found that it's "too high" and is opting out. Unfortunately, there's no way the provinces can turn around and also opt out...they'd get all the blame, and it would be political suicide, not to say disastrous for the broad span of the public which has come so much to depend on the service, and which has become so much healthier through its use over a period of years.

But surely it's irresponsibility of the highest order for the party which started the whole thing to walk out without paying the bill.

Protection needed

The strike of prison guards was bound to come as their utter helplessness became more and more apparent.

The wonder, really, is that it took so long for the message to get through that their position was completely untenable as the Trudeau government moves more and more towards abolition of the death penalty.

Prisoners facing long sentences, or life, know they have absolutely nothing to fear if they take the life of anyone, whether it be ordinary citizen, policeman, or prison guard. Their sentence will probably be no longer, and certainly they will not hang. So, obviously, they have nothing to lose and everything to gain if they make desperate breaks for freedom, sometimes killing along the way.

We cannot agree that the death sentence should be imposed only in the case of the killing of a policeman or a prison guard . . . they definitely deserve far greater protection than presently extends towards them. But then, so do all of us.

Where you start

Federal Finance Minister John Turner recently made a great deal of comment over the fact that, high as they were, the budget figures had been trimmed back by over a billion dollars in a move in Ottawa to show some restraint.

Which sounds wonderful, until you stop to think that the budget might have been trimmed by ten billion if only the figures had been higher to start with, and really, there would have been no more restraint than is currently being shown.

This fact is most interestingly brought out in this week's column by Battle River MP Arnold Malone, who, in addition, points out our new dependence on the printing press. More money has been printed in Canada since 1968, reports Mr. Malone, than in all the previous history of Canada. Or in other words, it took only the last seven years to exceed the entire hundred years previously.

The implications are somewhat shocking, if not downright scary. Maybe things can keep on escalating at such a dizzy pace, and we probably all hope so. But anyone old enough to remember the Depression of the '30's probably feels in their marrow that a levelling off adjustment is essential.

Score for Alberta

Many of our readers, we feel, will be interested to know that one of Alberta's centres of education, the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology, is recognized all across Canada as a leader in the field of power engineering. Its correspondence course has been officially adopted for the standardization of training of power engineers for the whole country.

It's rather fascinating to learn that an inland school such as Calgary's should have more than three thousand students-on-the-job in plants across Canada, and some in other countries, enrolled in the four part training system which leads from Fourth Class through to First Class Power Engineering qualifications.

In addition to some 37,000 lessons which have been individually corrected by SAIT instructors during the past year, the courses have been translated into French for the province of Quebec, and into Arabic in the United Arab Republic.

Only a comparatively few years old as schools go, it's great to see it succeeding so well.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — I suppose we'll see plenty of politicking by Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau this summer. The action had already started by the end of early May and it continued full blast through June. The Prime Minister's office explains that it is all part of Mr. Trudeau's determination not to become separated from the grass roots of Canada, the way critics felt he had been parted in 1972, when he nearly lost an election.

Mind you, the forays into Ontario could have something to do with the Ontario provincial election this fall, and the improved chances there for provincial Liberals.

What strikes home is the P.M.'s definition of keeping in contact with the grass roots. He doesn't particularly want to hear what the people say, he wants them to listen to him. His personality is truly magnetic and he has little trouble drawing big crowds. The trouble is, he filibusters when he "explains" government policy, and if he runs into tough questions from someone in the crowd he beats them down because he is an excellent debater. What chance has a guy in the crowd against P.E.T.? He's talking with all the power and prestige of the Prime Minister's office. The P.M. is not above stretching the truth even in Parliament, where he sometimes gets caught. Remember the Diefenbaker - Trudeau rumble in May when the P.M. actually admitted that part of what he had been saying was false? The quote from Trudeau in the House of Commons was: "I thought those facts up myself."

So forgive me if I am skeptical of Mr. Trudeau's desire to stay in close touch with the grass roots of Canada. His intention is merely to fertilize them with his own brand of manure.

We might also rightly ask about the financing of these political jaunts. Trudeau and his entourage travel by armed forces helicopters — usually three of them — and the bill is paid for by you and me. The price for keeping a Huey helicopter aloft is $515.49 for one hour. Most of the P.M.'s political jaunts then cost in excess of $20,000, the proceeds from several taxpayers for a whole year.

The expenses might possibly be justified if the Trudeau trippings were less partisan and more honest.

The only way such spending can be stopped is by public pressure and we are the only ones who can apply it. If you object to tax spending for political purposes, sit down and write a letter to Mr. Trudeau. It wouldn't hurt either to send a copy of your letter to this paper.

Perform a death-defying act.

mission Report, authored by prominent Conservative, Dalton Camp, is severely critical of the system, and has recommended it be discontinued.

Dr. Buck says the first responsibility of an M.L.A. is service to his constituents. When an M.L.A. is involved in government administration, he loses his ability to act impartially and opens up opportunity for "conflict of interest."

The Clover Bar M.L.A. adds, "This type of legislation would never be introduced if there was a more even numerical balance between Government and Opposition! This legislation will allow for Government back-benchers to become involved in patronage of the most destructive nature."

Attempts by the Opposition to amend the Bill to make the M.L.A. board memberships non-paying; to designate which Boards and Commissions would have M.L.A. membership, and to make M.L.A.s accountable to the Legislature were soundly rejected by the Government.

Dr. Buck and his Socred colleagues have stated they will not become members of any Government Boards or Commission, even if they are asked!

SNACKS — CHANCE OR CHOICE?

In today's life style, snacks are becoming a big part of our diet. It seems we are constantly eating. Breakfast skippers grab a doughnut as coffee break. Children eat as soon as they get home from school. Late night T.V. watchers nibble all the early hours of the morning.

There is nothing wrong with snacking. However, the foods that you select as should be of good nutritional value. Candy, chips, and soft drinks contribute empty calories and lots of them. Such foods eaten between meals may make the difference between just enough calories in a day and too many calories.

In order that we can choose nutritious snacks they must be as readily available as non-nutritious snacks. When one has to choose between the doughnut sitting on the cupboard and the celery that needs to be cut and washed, which will the chosen? Prepared raw vegetables such as turnips slices, carrots or celery sticks, cherry tomatoes or cauliflower flowerettes should be available in the fridge. "Prepared" is the key word. If weight gain is a problem you might serve your dessert from meal time for a moment of weakness. One piece of chocolate cake has fewer calories than two.

If you can't seem to get the breakfast habit, take a pocket breakfast with you. A peanut butter sandwich, bran muffin or cheese and crackers will keep you away from the doughnuts at coffee time.

If you can't resist a cookie, make it a nutritious one. Peanut butter cookies, oatmeal cookies or whole wheat or graham crackers are good choices. Date, oatmeal, or bran muffins are also nutritious treats.

Raw or canned fruit make delicious snacks. Cubes of meat, cheese or pickles give interesting variety of snacks.

Don't forget that beverages are snacks. Milk, milkshakes, eggnog, fruit or vegetable juices are lower in calories and far more nutritious than soft drinks.

This is a recipe for a hearty healthy snack.

SNACKS — CHANCE OR CHOICE?

In today's life style, snacks are becoming a big part of our diet. It seems we are constantly eating. Breakfast skippers grab a doughnut as coffee break. Children eat as soon as they get home from school. Late night T.V. watchers nibble till the early hours of the morning.

There is nothing wrong with snacking. However, the kinds that you select should be of good nutritional value. Candy, chips, and soft drinks contribute empty calories and lots of them. Such foods eaten between meals may make the difference between just enough calories in a day and too many calories.

In order that we can choose nutritious snacks they must be as readily available as non-nutritious snacks. When one has to choose between the doughnut sitting on the cupboard and the celery that needs to be cut and washed, which will she choose? Prepared raw vegetables such as turnips slices, carrot or celery sticks, cherry tomatoes or cauliflower flowerlets should be available in the fridge. "Prepared" is the key word. If weight gain is a problem you might save your dessert from meal time for a moment of weakness. One piece of chocolate cake has fewer calories than two.

If you can't seem to get the breakfast habit, take a pocket bread/cheese with you. A peanut butter sandwich, bran muffins or cheese and crackers will keep you away from the doughnuts at coffee time.

If you can't resist a cookie, make it a nutritious one. Peanut butter cookies, oatmeal cookies or whole wheat or graham crackers are good choices. Date, oatmeal, or bran muffins are also nutritious foods.

Raw or canned fruit make delicious snacks. Cubes of meat, cheese or pickles give interesting variety of snacks.

Don't forget that beverages are snacks. Milk, milkshakes, eggnog, fruit or vegetable juices are lower in calories and far more nutritious than soft drinks.

This is a recipe for a hearty healthy snack:

DATE ORANGE LOAF
1½ cups dates
1 egg or substitute
½ cup brown sugar, packed
2 tbsp. oil
1 tbsp. grated orange rind
1 tsp. vanilla
1½ cups whole wheat flour
1 cup sifted all purpose flour
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp baking soda
½ cup sugar puice.

Chop dates. Beat egg and brown sugar until light and creamy. Blend in oil, orange rind and flavourings. Sift flour with salt, baking powder and soda. Add alternately with orange juice to egg mixture. Stir in dates. Turn into greased 9 x 5 x 2½ inch loaf pan and bake at 350 degree F for 55 minutes. Cool on a wire rack in pan for 10 minutes turn out of pan onto rack and cool thoroughly before cutting. Makes one loaf.

Freeze storing of embryos opens new world to livestock breeders

New advances in the development of methods of preserving embryos of farm and laboratory animals by deep freezing are reported by scientists working at the Agricultural Research Council (ARC) Unit of Reproductive Physiology and Biochemistry in Cambridge, England.

According to information received by Alberta Agriculture, normal lambs have been born from ewes which received embryo transplants that had been previously frozen and stored in liquid nitrogen at a temperature of minus 196 degree C.

The British report states that they were the first lambs ever to have been produced from embryos that were preserved by deep freezing.

Considerable problems were encountered when this technique was tried on cow and pig embryos, but up to 20 per cent of frozen and thawed embryos taken from rabbits and transferred to a recipient result in the birth of normal young.

The method of deep freezing, says the British report, involves collecting embryos from donor animals at a stage when they are only a few days old. They are treated with a medium to protect them against damage from freezing and thawing and are then cooled very slowly to the temperature of liquid nitrogen. After being slowly rewarmed, the embryos are transferred to the uterus of recipient foster mothers.

The British scientists say that once the embryos are at the temperature of liquid nitrogen, no deterioration takes place from length of storage, and that it should be possible to preserve them almost indefinitely.

The report points out that there is a great potential for the practical application of embryo transplantation for livestock improvement. The techniques are already starting to be applied on a commercial basis in cattle breeding, particularly for introducing and multiplying new breeds in various countries.

However, future developments on a larger scale will depend to a great extent upon the perfection of techniques for storing embryos outside the body. Deep freezing would be the obvious choice, according to the report.

It goes on to say that it should be possible to set up "banks" of embryos obtained from animals of high genetic potential and to use these embryos over a period of time for transplanting into suitable recipients.

The export and import of embryos between countries should also become a practical proposition as has already been shown with frozen semen.

The recent birth of lambs from frozen embryos, and the first report last year of the birth of two calves also from embryos that had been frozen and thawed shows conclusively that embryos from these farm animals can be preserved in the frozen state.

It should be emphasized, however, states the report, that there are still many problems to be overcome before the techniques can be considered practically applicable.

Scientists at the ARC Unit of Reproductive Physiology and Biochemistry and also at the University of Cambridge Physiological Laboratory are pioneering research in the field.

New names for beef

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan and Consumer and Corporate Affairs Minister Andre Ouellet have recommended adoption of a standard name system for beef cuts.

The new voluntary system consists of eight primary or wholesale cuts and 16 secondary cuts.

Under the new system, the forequarter is divided into five cuts: brisket, chuck, shank, plate and rib. Retailers who use the new system cut the chuck into chuck short rib, blade, cross rib, neck and shoulder. The plate is cut into short ribs and the rib into ribeye and short ribs.

The hindquarter is divided into three wholesale cuts: flank, hip and loin. For the retail trade, the hip is cut into the round, rump shank and sirloin tip; the loin is cut into the wing, tenderloin, porterhouse, sirloin, sirloin tip and T-bone.

Tofield School notes

by Myrna Beerges
Heather Allen

On Tuesday May 20, the Ryley grade 5 class, taught by Mrs. Kope, was invited by the Tofield grade 5 class to visit our school. When they arrived at about 4:00, mixed teams were picked and [illegible] games were played. This was followed by a world dinner, in connection with their social studies unit. Each student from Tofield chose a country and brought a dish from that country. All together there were about 30 different dishes brought. After spending an enjoyable evening getting to know each other, Ryley left at [illegible]

On Tuesday, June 3rd the Tofield grade 8 and 9 girls presented a fashion show in the gym. The girls modelled whatever they had made during the past year in their Home-Ec. class. The commentator for grade 8 was Melody Hendrikson and Donna Primen commentated for grade 9. The grade 9 girls had decorated the gym earlier in the day around the theme of "Fashion Fantasy." Mr Pollock began the program by welcoming everyone. After the girls had modelled, Mrs. Lehman, the Home-Ec teacher, thanked everyone for coming and invited them to stay for lunch and coffee afterwards. The evening was enjoyed by all.

On May 30, the county track meet was held in Viking. Taking part were schools from Tofield, Ryley, Holden, Bruce, and Viking. Good ability in all events was shown and many records were broken. Also, on June 5th, Tofield had its own track meet in which grades 1 to 9 participated. Points were given to each student who won in an event and at the end of the day, a trophy was given to the student in each grade who had obtained the most points.

Because the new physical education teacher, Mr. Watson, only arrived shortly after the Easter holidays, not too many people, including the students, know too much about him. So we interviewed him, and this is what [illegible]

He was born and raised in the town of Delbourne, which is about 20 miles east of Red Deer. After finishing high school, he attended two years at Red Deer Junior College, from where he transferred to the University of Alberta in Edmonton. There he spent one year in physical education and one in education. After receiving his degree, he taught junior-high level phys. Ed. in High Prairie. Then he became a travelling teacher in Wetaskiwin, teaching grades 1 to 6 phys. ed. During this time he was very active in sports, which included 3 years of football with the Red Deer Packers. There, he also was involved in a outdoor education program and was in a canoe and kayak club. He also played on a senior men's basketball team.

Mr Watson majored in football and his other main interests are badminton, track and field, and [illegible].

On Tuesday, June 17, a farewell party was held for Mr Lysio, Mr. Simon, and Mr. Hulkovich who are taking a year's leave of absence from the Tofield school.

The party was organized under the direction of Mrs. Price with help from Debbie Price, Kim Price, and Lori Jurgens. The evening started off with presentations to the three teachers and gifts to Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Price. This was followed by a potluck supper and a dance. The evening was very successful and was enjoyed by all.

Dr. Buck speaks at graduation banquet

There was an unfortunate omission in the account of the Tofield Grade Nine Graduation banquet on June 20 in the Tofield School. The omission concerned the presence of Dr. W. Buck, M.L.A., and Mrs. Buck who came from Fort Saskatchewan during a heavy rainstorm to attend the banquet, at which Dr. Buck was the guest speaker.

Dr. Buck urged the graduands to take an interest in political issues, both local and provincial, as soon they would be of voting age.

The staff and students of the Tofield Junior High have met Dr. Buck on several occasions and were glad to welcome him and Mrs. Buck at the banquet.

Not helping out

Federal housing minister Barney Danson is disappointed that he has not been able to sponsor enough new housing starts to meet the program he is attempting, in an effort to reduce some of the pressures on housing in this country. We've not heard that the price of housing, for purchase or rental, has reached a really critical situation yet in Camrose, as it seems to have in Calgary and Edmonton, although we do know that rental units are scarce as hen's teeth, once you pass the one bedroom level.

Calgary MLA Ron Ghitter hit the nail right on the head the other day, when he told a Legislature committee that a number of public spirited citizens, clamoring for a rent control board, would simply worsen the situation, rather than improve it. As Mr. Ghitter pointed out, the price of houses continues to rise, and if builders cannot get enough profit from building for rental, they'll simply stop renting, and sell instead. So controls would simply put more pressure on an already critically short supply, and in the end, the renter would be worse off than at the moment.

One thing some of these people applying pressure on rents could do that would be constructive would be to encourage acceptance of any new methods making construction cheaper, and to discourage the imposition of all sorts of costly regulations, coupled with closed shop practices that play into the hands of unions demanding unreasonable and exorbitant wages for less and less work.

Open for Review

Bernie Rostaing of Ohaton was impressed this week with some correspondence from Battle River Member of Parliament Arnold Malone.

It seems that recently Mr. Rostaing telephoned his Member of Parliament to inquire why the government had closed off the Canadian market to sisal fibres, so that Canadian farmers had to buy plastic twines for their binders.

After some checking, Mr. Malone reported a couple of weeks ago that the government permits importation of sisal on the provision that it has not been highly manufactured. That is, it may be dried, cleaned, cut to size, ground and sifted, and imported without duty. Beyond that level, however, it is subject to a duty of twenty-two and a half per cent.

A little later, he sent a copy of Hansard for June 26, during which he closed some rather rambling remarks on the Budget by direct reference to the sisal question, charging that the government, by imposing such a heavy duty, was actually injuring the developing nations which produce this product, and at the same time the Canadian farm consumer, while putting pressure on him to switch to plastic twines which in many instances would not be his working preference.

Mr. Malone got no response from the government, of course, nor did he expect any answers in the House. He reports to Mr. Rostaing, however, that his comments stirred some very interesting questions amongst Government Members of Parliament.

Three cheers for Mr. Rostaing, and for Mr. Malone. Even to get the government members to question their own policy is a signal achievement. It may not lead to changes in the regulations, of course, but it may delay the imposition of further such burdens.

We're a developing nation ourselves, and we probably need all the help we can get here in Canada. Additionally, in the light of the burgeoning new plastics industry right here in Camrose, using farm produced rapeseed as a base, the day may not be too far distant when we shall want all the protection we can get to help make it viable, although we doubt if this will really be necessary. In the meantime, wouldn't it be nice to have some sisal fibre on the shelves...at least to have a choice

HOUSE OF COMMONS

OTTAWA

MY VISIT TO POLAND
By
Don Mazankowski, M.P.
(first of a series)

Recently I was privileged to be selected as a member of the Canadian Parliamentary Delegation which visited Poland. Our group consisted of two Conservative members, three Liberal members, including the Deputy Speaker, one Conservative and one Liberal senator. The visit was arranged through the offices of the Speaker of our House of Commons and was a return visit of a similar Polish delegation to Canada a few years ago.

Under the auspices of the [illegible] Inter-Parliamentary Relations Branch, Canadian [illegible] have the opportunity of receiving and visiting Parliamentarians throughout the world. These visits provide members with an opportunity to gain a broader understanding and appreciation of the various types of parliamentary practices and traditions. Also, these exchanges provide for full and frank discussion in the ongoing desire of seeking ways and means to make our respective Parliamentary systems more effective, and more attuned to the peoples' needs.

Such visits serve to generate a greater understanding amongst the nations of the world, socially, economically, politically and culturally. At the same time, one is given an opportunity to learn first hand the geographic and climatic conditions of the nation visited. Most importantly, it provides the opportunity to talk to the people and learn from them their perception of our country and their individual aspirations and ideals.

Canada is looked upon by the Government and people of Poland as an independent country with international prominence being regarded as a partner of trust and confidence. While our two countries belong to different blocs, the Polish Government sympathizes with Canada and respects its position. It is their view that Canada should play a much larger role in European affairs. We are well remembered for our role in World War II, and are commended for our participation in the various peace keeping missions throughout the world.

During the course of our talks with members of the Polish Parliament, we dealt with many issues which included a frank discussion on their concept of freedom and democracy as compared to our interpretation. Flowing from this we naturally discussed in a candid way our obviously different parliamentary systems. This exchange provoked marked differences of views, however enlightening but nonetheless a greater awareness and appreciation for our Parliamentary [illegible]

Specifically our discussions centered around five major areas. Firstly the Polish Government wishes to expand trade relations with Canada. As of 1974 Canada imports some $44 million worth of goods from Poland namely, footwear fabrics and steel and exports some $85 million of which $70 million is accounted for by barley wheat and flax. Poland is Canada's largest market for Canadian imports to eastern Europe after the Soviet Union.

Naturally, Poland wishes to sell more to Canada because of its critical shortage of foreign currency and because of its unfavourable balance of trade with our country.

Tourism is a rapidly growing industry and Poland has recognized its potential. Tourism is actively encouraged through its state-owned agency, Orbis, which operates a hotel chain and bus tourist enterprise. In 1973, over 11,000 Canadians visited Poland and this number is increasing, while only 4,300 Polish visited Canada. This was mainly because Canada is found to be too expensive, so we are told, and partly due to restrictions imposed by the Polish [illegible] on movements out of their country. Because of this Canada's tourist potential with Poland seems rather limited.

Anyone contemplating a visit to Poland, however, will find no restrictions to movement inside the country, and will find goods and services rather inexpensive by comparision to our standards.

On the whole question of commercial relations, it was reaffirmed that our countries should carry-out regular trade consultations, the next of which is taking place this June in Warsaw. In addition, Canada will participate with a National Pavilion for the first time in the Poznan World Trade Fair which com[illegible]

Secondly, in keeping with the desire to establish increased tourist potential, and closer links between these two countries, Poland is pressing for a direct air link between our countries. Such negotiations are expected to com[illegible]

Thirdly, Poland is most anxious to establish arrangements for the service and maintenance of its fishing fleet operating off the Canadian West Coast. This is a matter which depends to a great degree on the consensus that emerges from the Law of the Sea Conference and the action of the respective countries thereafter.

Fourthly, the matter of cultural co-operation and exchange between our two countries rates very high and while it is a mutual feeling that this exchange should be broadened and expanded, it was felt that this could be most successfully achieved outside the framework of a formal cultural exchange agreement.

Lastly, the Canadian delegation pressed for freer movement of people to emigrate from Poland to Canada, particularly in respect to reunification of families. While it was pointed-out by Polish officials that restrictions in their view were limited as far as those wishing to visit outside the country, other than accumulating sufficient money, there was little hope for a relaxation of emigration regulations.

It was pointed-out that they have a chronic shortage of manpower and tradespeople. Everyone capable of working is working or attending school. Furthermore, the people, particularly the young, are looked upon as a resource vital to the further development of their country.

Consumer goods are generally in short supply, housing is critical, trade deficits and foreign currency shortages are chronic problems. It is felt these problems can be overcome only by increased productivity and efficiency, the result of which dictates that all available human talent and resources remain within the country.

Beaver Council briefs

COUNTY OF BEAVER COUNCIL MINUTES JUNE 20th, 1975.

Present were: Crs. Armitage, Brissard, Rwesiuk, Kwadnius, Krupiniecki, Roddick and Sauer. Also present A. Robert Cross, Secretary-Treasurer, and M.D. Lehman, Administrative Assistant.

The meeting was called to order by the Reeve, Cr. Roddick, at 9:00 a.m.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that payment had been received from the County of Beaver's insurance company for an A.G.T. claim in the amount of $1,569.61. Moved that this report be accepted.

A letter was received from the Minister of the Department of Municipal Affairs regarding the concern of the Agricultural Committee over the County's decision to cancel the annual meeting in 1975. A letter was sent from the County of Beaver to the Agricultural Committee with a carbon copy to the Minister outlining the reasons for not holding this meeting. The reason for not holding an annual meeting is as follows. "Due to the lack of interest and small attendance in 1973 and in prior years, it was decided not to hold an annual meeting in 1974.

It was the opinion of the Council that if there was an expression by the electors that an annual meeting was desired, one could be held in 1975. However, no such expression was forthcoming. For this reason an annual meeting was held in 1975."

The Agricultural Committee's recommendation will be kept in mind for 1976. Moved that the letter received from the Minister of Municipal Affairs be received and filed and that the action taken by the Secretary-Treasurer in replying to this letter be concurred in.

A letter was received from the Alberta Department of Transportation advising that their Department is now becoming involved in many areas of transportation such as airports, railways, urban transportation, along with the highways and road systems. It is being attempted to determine the transportation priorities of an area including every aspect of transportation. It is therefore asked if Council could in general terms forward their opinions as to transportation requirements in their area, which direction should possibly be followed, how railway abandonment would affect the area concerned, the continued reduction in farm population, industries affecting transportation in the area, improved primary highways, increase secondary road construction, etc. Moved that a letter be sent to the Department of Transportation advising that due to the closure of elevators and the increased loads hauled on municipal roads, that the Department of Transportation be requested to become involved to a greater extent financially in the appropriation of grants for the construction and maintenance of municipal roads.

A letter was received from the Alberta Utilities and Telephones Department regarding the Iron Creek Gas Co-op Ltd. service area approval for the remainder of the system. Moved that this letter be received and filed.

A letter was received from Canadian Transport Commission advising that their Department will carry out an inventory inspection of railway branch lines in the three Prairie Provinces this year. The project involving 193 lines and about 11,000 of the 19,000 miles of track in the Prairies will provide a record of branch line users for use in verifying railway claims for federal assistance to cover annual losses on the lines. Last year these claims totaled $56,000,000.00 Moved that this correspondence be received and filed.

A letter was received from the Alberta Department of Environment regarding the Cooking Lake Area Study. The purpose of the letter is to request the County's assistance in assembling information pertinent to this study. Moved that this letter be received and the information requested be provided.

A report was received from the Vegreville Health Unit on a sample of water collected May 14th, 1975. The remarks regarding the sample collected indicated that the standard plate count is over 3,000 which is considered quite high. Moved that this report be received and filed.

A letter was received from the Daysland and District Chamber of Commerce regarding their feelings concerning the high priority that they feel should be given towards the paving of the road between Holden and Daysland. It is the consensus of the Chamber of Commerce that by paving this road it would help preserve the Family Farm and the business community of both centres. It is the County of Beaver's opinion that all secondary roads should be upgraded before consideration be given towards the paving of this road. Moved that this letter be received and we advise that our first priority is the completion of construction of our Secondary Roads.

A report was received from the Vegreville Health Unit for the period January 1st - March 31st, 1975. Moved that this report be accepted.

A report was received from the Tofield Municipal Hospital District No. 7 for the year ending December 31st, 1974. Moved that this report be received and filed.

A letter was received from the Alberta Recreation Parks and Wildlife Department regarding the study of the InterDepartmental Coordinating Committee is presently conducting The Committee is currently investigating the development of Aquaculture or Fish Farming as a viable enterprise in Alberta. Moved that this correspondence be received and filed.

A letter was received from Gibson Petroleum Co. Ltd. regarding the 1975 oil program. To supply, haul and apply an asphaltic crude oil as used in past years, Oilsorb' price will be 34.40 cents per gallon including federal sales tax. This price is subject to change due to the market fluctuation of road oil products. Moved that this letter be received and filed.

A letter was received from Lorne D. Kiehlbauch of Bryan, Anderkson and Company regarding the expropriation of Julius Olson property for road construction. Mr. Kiehlbauch has contacted the Public Utilities Board concerning the expropriation hearing. Their written decision has not as yet been prepared and he is unable to ascertain when this will be available. Moved that this letter be received and filed.

A request was received from the Provincial Planning Board for the proposed subdivision of the S.W. 17-49-16-W4. Moved that County Council has no objection to this proposed subdivision.

A request was received from the Provincial Planning Department regarding the proposed subdivision of the S.E. 4-47-15-W4. Moved that this request for subdivision be refused because it is contrary to County policy regarding subdivisions.

Correspondence was received from the Alberta Municipal Affairs Branch regarding the proposed sub-division of the S.E. 32-52-19-W4. The proposal calls for the creation of four forty-acre parcels from the existing 160 acre parcel. Moved that County Council has no objection to this proposal provided the County of Beaver is not required to provide access roads to the subdivided areas.

A request was received from the Provincial Planning Department for the proposed subdivision of the N.W. 27-50-20-W4. The proposal called for the creation of two eighty acre parcels from the existing quarter section. Moved that County Council has no objection to this request provided the County is not required to provide access roads to the subdivided areas.

Correspondence was received from the Department of Municipal Affairs for the proposed subdivision of the N.W. 36-50-20W4. The proposal called for the creation of four 40 acre parcels from the existing quarter section.

MICROWAVE COOKING

I have had some calls about Microwave Ovens and I know there are some in the County.

What are Microwaves? Microwaves are a type of energy in the form of waves similar to radio waves or light waves. They are produced in Microwave Ovens by a unit called a magnetron. They are distributed by a fan as they enter the oven.

How do they cook? When the microwaves enter the food, the molecules begin to rotate and rub rapidly against each other. This rubbing produces heat just like the heat which is produced when you rub your hands together. This heat cooks the food.

There is no heat inside the oven. The air and the walls stay cool. Only the food gets hot because it is the only thing that absorbs microwaves. You can let the serving dish out without oven mitts. The dish sometimes gets warm not because it absorbs microwaves but because heat is transferred from the food to the dish.

Microwaves travel in straight lines. They are reflected by metals, absorbed by food and transmitted by materials such as glass, china, some plastics and paper.

Because metals reflect microwaves, aluminum foil, stainless steel or cast iron cannot be used for the utensils. Metals cause arcing and may reflect microwaves back to the magnetron causing damage.

Heat — resistant glass such as Pyrex and Corningware, china (without gold or platinum trim), earthenware, some plastics and paper transmit microwaves. Containers made of these materials will remain relatively cool except for heat conducted from the hot food. Melmac is not recommended.

To test the suitability of a container, place in a microwave oven for 15 to 20 seconds. If the container feels very warm when taken out of the oven, don't use it for cooking.

What do microwave ovens look like? Most are about the size of a portable TV. They weigh from 70 to 90 lbs. and sit on a counter in a home, camper or trailer. They plug into a grounded 120 volt circuit. There may be one or two timers registering seconds and minutes and a start control.

Microwave cooking is gauged by time not temperature. Next week we'll look at how and what to cook in a microwave oven. Meanwhile you might like to try:

CHICKEN 'N' MUSHROOM BAKE
4 chicken breasts
½ tsp. salt
½ lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced.
Parsley
3 med. carrots, thinly sliced
Pepper
½ c. white wine or milk
1 tin cream of chicken soup.

Arrange chicken breasts in 1½ qt. baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Top with mushrooms, carrots and wine. Spoon soup over top, spreading to cover. Cook, covered with wax paper, 15 minutes or until carrots and chicken are done. Garnish with parsley. Serve with rice or noodles. Yield: 4 servings.

NOTE: 1 conventional oven, bake at 375 degrees F for 1 hour.

MILK'S STILL TOPS

Milk will continue to be one of mankind's most important sources of food nutrients, and the challenge facing researchers is to increase its availability, says B.B. Migicovsky, director-general of Agriculture Canada's Research Branch.

"I assure you that we have no intension of dismantling milk research. This includes research on other food products which no doubt will contribute to the use of milk," he told members of the National Dairy Council of Canada.

Beaver Council briefs

COUNTY OF BEAVER COUNCIL MINUTES JUNE 20th, 1975.

Present were: Cn. Armitage, Brissard, Rwenok, Knudelsen, Krupelnicki, Roddick and Sauer. Also present A. Robert Cross, Secretary-Treasurer; and M.D. Lehman, Administrative Assistant.

The meeting was called to order by the Reeve, Cr. Roddick, at 9:00 a.m.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that payment had been received from the County of Beaver's insurance company for an A.G.T. claim in the amount of $1,569.61 Moved that this report be accepted

A letter was received from the Minister of the Department of Municipal Affairs regarding the concern of the Agricultural Committee over the County's decision to cancel the annual meeting for 1975. A letter was sent from the County of Beaver to the Agricultural Committee with a carbon copy to the Minister outlining the reasons for not holding this meeting. The reason for not holding an annual meeting is as follows: Due to the lack of interest and small attendance in 1973 and in prior years, it was decided not to hold an annual meeting in 1974.

It was the opinion of the Council that if there was an expression by the electors that an annual meeting was desired, one could be held in 1975. However, no such expression was forthcoming. For this reason no annual meeting was held in 1975."

The Agricultural Committee's recommendation will be kept in mind for 1976. Moved that the letter received from the Minister of Municipal Affairs be received and filed and that the action taken by the Secretary-Treasurer in replying to this letter be concurred in.

A letter was received from the Alberta Department of Transportation advising that their Department is now becoming involved in many areas of transportation such as airports, railways, urban transportation, along with the highways and road systems. It is being attempted to determine the transportation priorities of an area including every aspect of transportation. It is therefore asked if Council could in general terms forward their opinions as to transportation requirements in their area, which direction should possibly be followed, how railway abandonment would affect the area concerned, the continued reduction in farm population, industries affecting transportation in the area, improved primary highways, increase secondary road construction, etc. Moved that a letter be sent to the Department of Transportation advising that due to the closure of elevators and the increased loads hauled on municipal roads, that the Department of Transportation be requested to become involved to a greater extent financially in the appropriation of grants for the construction and maintenance of municipal roads.

A letter was received from the Alberta Utilities and Telephones Department regarding the Iron Creek Gas Co-op Ltd. service area approval for the remainder of the system. Moved that this letter be received and filed.

A letter was received from Canadian Transport Commission advising that their Department will carry out an inventory inspection of railway branch lines in the three Prairie Provinces this year. The project involving 193 lines and about 11,000 of the 19,000 miles of track in the Prairies will provide a record of branch line assets for use in verifying railway claims for federal payments to cover annual losses on the lines. Last year these claims totaled $56,000,000.00. Moved that this correspondence be received and filed.

A letter was received from the Alberta Department of Environment regarding the Cooking Lake Area Study. The purpose of the letter is to request the County's assistance in assembling information pertinent to this study. Moved that this letter be received and the information requested be provided.

A report was received from the Vegreville Health Unit on a sample of water collected May 14th, 1975. The remarks regarding the sample collected indicated that the standard plate count is over 3,000 which is considered quite high. Moved that this report be received and filed.

A letter was received from the Daysland and District Chamber of Commerce regarding their feelings concerning the high priority that they feel should be given towards the paving of the road between Holden and Daysland. It is the consensus of the Chamber of Commerce that by paving this road it would help preserve the Family Farm and the business community of both centres. It is the County of Beaver's opinion that all secondary roads should be upgraded before consideration be given towards the paving of this road. Moved that this letter be received and we advise that our first priority is the completion of construction of our Secondary Roads.

A report was received from the Vegreville Health Unit for the period January 1st - March 31st, 1975. Moved that this report be accepted.

A report was received from the Tofield Municipal Hospital District No. 7 for the year ending December 31st, 1974. Moved that this report be received and filed.

Moved that this correspondence be received and filed.

A letter was received from Gibson Petroleum Co. Ltd. regarding the 1975 oil program. To supply, haul and apply an asphaltic crude oil as used in past years. Gibsons' price will be $4.60 cents per gallon including federal sales tax. This price is subject to change due to the market fluctuation of road oil products. Moved that this letter be received and filed.

A letter was received from Lorne D. Kichbusch of Bryan, Anderson and Company regarding the expropriation of Julius Olson property for road construction. MICROWAVE COOKING

I have had some calls about Microwaves Ovens and I know there are some in the County.

What are Microwaves? Microwaves are a type of energy in the form of waves similar to radio waves or light waves. They are produced in Microwave Ovens by a unit called a magnetron. They are distributed by a fan as they enter the oven.

How do they cook? When the microwaves enter the food, the molecules begin to rotate and rub rapidly against each other. This rubbing produces heat just like the heat which is produced when you rub your hands together. This heat cooks the food.

There is no heat inside the oven. The air and the walls stay cool. Only the food gets hot because it is the only thing that absorbs microwaves. You can lift the serving dish out without oven mitts. The dish sometimes gets warm not because it absorbs microwaves but because heat is transferred from the food to the dish.

Microwaves travel in straight lines. They are reflected by metals, absorbed by food and transmitted by materials such as glass, china, some plastics and paper.

Because metals reflect microwaves, aluminum, stainless steel or cast iron cannot be used for the utensils. Metals cause arcing and may reflect microwaves back to the magnetron causing damage.

Heat — resistant glass such as Pyrex and Corningware, china (without gold or platinum trim), earthenware, some plastics and paper transmit microwaves. Containers made of these materials will remain relatively cool except for heat conducted from the hot food. Moisac is not recommended.

To test the suitability of a container, place an a microwave oven for 15 to 20 seconds. If the container feels very warm when taken out of the oven, don't use it for cooking.

What do microwave ovens look like? Most of them are quite portable. They weigh from 70 to 90 lbs. and sit on a counter in a home, cabin or trailer. They plug into a grounded 120 volt circuit. There are timers one or two timers registering seconds and minutes and a start control.

Microwave cooking is gauged by time not temperature. Next week we'll look at how and what to cook in a microwave oven. Meanwhile you might like to try:

Cook, covered with wax paper, 15 minutes or until centre of chicken are done. Garnish with parsley. Serve with rice or noodles. Yield: 4 servings.

MILK'S STILL TOPS

Milk will continue to be one of mankind's most important sources of food nutrients, and the challenge facing researchers is to increase its availability, says B.B. Migicovsky, director-general of Agriculture Canada's Research Branch.

"I assure you that we have no intention of diminishing milk research. This includes research on other food products which no doubt will contribute to the use of milk," he told members of the National Dairy Council of Canada.

HALL MOVED

It was moving day on Friday morning when Fieldstone of Edmonton moved the Ministik Memorial Hall to it's new site on the Dick Allen farm. It had stood on its former place for 50 years and was found to be in good shape. Furniture and fixtures had been moved into the new hall on July 4th.

The first event to be held in the new hall was a dance on July 5th which was quite well attended.

The ladies club held their meeting at the local campsite, which is a custom each summer season.

Several entertainments were planned for the fall season. Betty Wilson, vice-president presided in the absence of the president.

Mrs. S. George enjoyed a July birthday and received a birthday card and had Happy Birthday sung to her. Lunch hostesses were Laurie Svabey and Margaret Pearson.

Mrs. Martha Lasher and Mrs. Fred Hostetler of Tofield called on Mrs. S. George on Tuesday afternoon and Mrs. Dorothy Millmore of Edmonton was a Thursday evening caller to help her celebrate her 80th birthday. Members of her family, neighbors and friends also called at different times through the week, to help her celebrate.

Sister Lods Blackburn of Ste St. Paul, Quebec, and Mrs. Arthur Hazard of Beaumont paid a visit to their niece and family, the Joe Davenports, on Thursday.

The Ken Nilsson of Dixon, California, who have been visiting friends in the area, called on the Joe Davenports on Friday.

The Dennis Schwartz have moved to their acreage at Sunny Plain after having lived in a trailer on the Verdun ranch here.

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — The diminishing amount of crude oil and refined petroleum products sold by Canada to the United States is giving Finance Minister John Turner a headache of mammoth proportions. Things have got to such a state, in fact, that Canada now seems to be rethinking her decision to squeeze off the flow of oil exports quickly.

Federal regulations have been revised to allow up to 750,000 barrels of Canadian crude to cross the border daily, and a Canadian export charge on crude oil has been lowered from $5.50 to $4.70 a barrel. National Energy Board officials say the revisions will mean an increase of exports to the U.S. for the balance of the year — likely up to an average of 760,000 barrels daily.

Canadian crude will also bear the extra charges that President Ford has levied on all oil imported into the U.S., but as the same rules apply to all those selling oil to the U.S., those charges won't affect Canadian sales particularly.

Canada has also revised her export charges on refined petroleum products — up to $3.50 a barrel from $1.50 a barrel for gasoline; to $3.50 from $2.00 for heating oil, and to $3.00 from $2.75 on heavy industrial oils. These increases will help to swell the funds which Ottawa uses to pay subsidies to refineries in the Eastern part of the country, where expensive foreign crude oil is consumed.

The object is to collect enough in export charges from the United States to pay the subsidies in Eastern Canada which maintain the $7 a barrel uniform price for the entire country.

The fund for making those subsidy payments has been running badly in the red, because while our imports of expensive foreign crude for Eastern Canada have increased, the outward flow of Canadian Western crude has decreased due to higher prices, and due to the announced Canadian intention of cutting back exports to preserve dwindling oil reserves for Canadians use.

With the Federal treasury in trouble over crude oil subsidy payments, it appears that long term supply difficulties are being shoved under the carpet — and that may be a penny-wise pound-foolish action.

GAS ALBERTA — REVISED RATES FOR NATURAL GAS

Effective April 1, 1975 Gas Alberta's wholesale price to the rural gas distributors was increased from 306/Mcf to 426/Mcf. This is a direct result of the increase in the support price for rebate calculation from 16.76/Mcf to 286/Mcf. The average field price for natural gas has roughly tripled from 16.76/Mcf prior to January 1, 1974 to over 50¢/Mcf today. Alberta consumers are still sheltered through the Natural Gas Rebate Plan from a substantial portion of this increase.

Gas Alberta averages all gas purchase prices and the 426/Mcf is "net after rebate" and includes the operating costs of the regulator stations. There is some inflationary increase built into the wholesale price to cover higher administration, transportation and operating costs.

Competent to Counsel

Has evangelical religion sold its birthright for a mess of psychological pottage? Who is competent to counsel? Counseling is the work of the Holy Spirit. Effective counseling cannot be learned apart from Him. The question ministers and concerned laymen must ask themselves is "Shall I refer this "patient" to a psychiatrist or a mental institution, or can I do counseling for him"? Is the fundamental problem of persons who come for counseling sick sons or sin?

The members of the Tofield Garden Club met on Monday evening at the park.

After viewing the yards of Mrs. Grace Lawson and Mrs. Audrey Brown in Tofield, they travelled out to the home of Theone Jones. Everyone enjoyed walking through Theone's vast area of lawn, flowers and vegetable garden. The business meeting was then held in Theone's home.

The club is planning a tour of the Botanic Gardens and the University of Alberta horticultural plots in Edmonton on Saturday, August 9th. We will meet at Petra's Park at 8:30 a.m. and bring our own lunch. Any non-members interested in going - contact Yvonne at 662-3651 or Theone at 662-3192.

Members were designated to work at the Park during August and September, and also those who are to take flowers to the hospital.

It was decided to have someone who is qualified, to speak to the members on flower arranging sometime before the Fair on August 23rd.

The members also decided to travel to Red Deer on August 21st to see the Red Deer Flower Show and possibly visit some other points of interest while there. Further plans to be made at the next meeting

The next meeting will be held on Sunday, August 17th at 2 p.m. at the home of Yvonne Brown.

Around the town

Amel Rude, after visiting cousin Emil and Clarence Rude of Tofield, and brother, Pastor S.J. Rude of Camrose for a couple of weeks, left for his home in Minneapolis again. Impressed with this country on his first visit here, 74-year-old Mr. Rude declared, "I should have come up here 40 years ago," but, felt it was far too late now for him to make the switch. With a varied background in the mechanical and electrical worlds, Mr. Rude was highly impressed at the development in Camrose, especially in the field of manufacturing, such as the Stelco tube mills.

Mrs. Louisa Winder was a guest at the Albin Winder home at Duhamel on Sunday, when Mrs. Albin Winder's mother, Mrs. Alfhild Ekdahl, was honored on her 83rd birthday.

Mrs. J.A.L. Smith left on July 11th to spend a two-week vacation with her daughter, Edith Mary Isabel Williams, now living in Birmingham, England. She will also visit other relatives in England and Scotland.

A granddaughter, Diane, and grandson, Don Odiorne of Armstrong, B.C., and Jean and Arlie Ford from Ross Creek, visited W. Odiorne over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Arney Klassen are home after a short visit to B.C., bringing Mrs. Katherine Penner (Hilda's mother) with them for a visit.

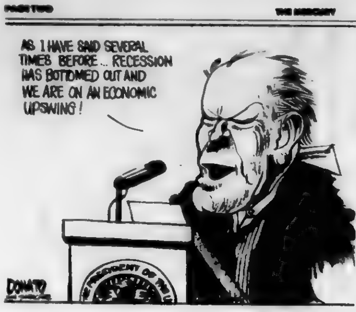
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Regehr, Mr. and Mrs. John Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huebert, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Froese, Mrs. Mary Horton, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Penner attended a 50th anniversary reunion at Naco, south of Consort, on Sunday.

Mrs. Rita Price has returned from a trip to Toronto where she visited her daughter, Marilyn.

Mrs. Marie Worton and Sheila have returned from their vacation spent with Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Booth and family at Escondido California. Included in the many sight seeing trips were visits to Mexico, Oceanside, Capistrano, Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm, the "Queen Mary" ship at Long Beach and Dr. Booths' Medical University at Loma Linda. The Booths send greetings to all their friends in Tofield, Ryley, and district.

The Tofield Mennonite Church Congregation welcomed their new minister with a short program and potluck lunch on Sunday evening. Rev. and Mrs. John Unrau will be living in the former Halverson home.

Mrs. Olive Sutton was pleasantly surprised on Sunday when friends and relatives visited her to help her celebrate her birthday. Among those attending were Ken Sutton and family and grandchild; Bill Sutton and family; Percy Sutton and family; Norman Oslund and family and grandchildren; Mrs. Hilde Simpson, Toby and Mailan Nameland; Mary Kallal; and other friends.



Redistribution

Apropos Mr. Stromberg's proposal, the Hon. Lou Hyndman fared rather better with his Bill 32, dealing with electoral boundaries in the province, which was given final reading and passed the same day as Mr. Stromberg's made first reading only.

Camrose should be particularly interested in both this, and a new proposal from [illegible] concerning redistribution and revision of electoral boundaries, for both have significant changes to offer.

Mr. Hyndman's Bill stipulates that the province shall be divided into 79 proposed electoral divisions, 43 of which would be urban and 36 would be rural.

However, the Act continues, Camrose would be one of eight centres denominated as a proposed urban electoral division. The others are Drumheller, Grande Prairie, Medicine Hat, Red Deer, Wetaskiwin and St. Albert. Further, there would be 16 seats in Calgary, 18 in Edmonton and two in Lethbridge.

The way we read this Act, that would mean that Camrose would have its own member, as separate and distinct from the rural area surrounding it.

There may be immense new benefits to be gained, or there may be inherent difficulties which would shape up immediately, but either way it should be looked into. And depending on the assessment, recommendations just might be made requesting modifications or changes in the new legislation.

Another revision we discovered last weekend is in the federal constituencies, which are being proposed for discussion purposes. Major revisions are being suggested here, with the result that urban ridings have been concentrated into strictly urban, rather than as urban-rural mixture, with the result that many rural ridings would be far, far larger. For instance, the riding presently represented by Stan Schumacher, of Drumheller, which ranges from that city clear to Calgary, and embraces a good deal of the Cow-town population, would in future be completely separated from Calgary, and would be merged with Eldon Wooliams riding, so that it would range from Drumheller south to Cardston, and as far west as the Banff-Jasper highway. Some riding.

In the case of Camrose, we'd be just as badly situated. We'd find ourselves in the northwest corner of a riding named Acadia, which would reach south to Three Hills, then east to Hanna, south to Duchess, (which is almost as far as Brooks) east to the provincial border and back up to Provost. What a territory for one man to try to represent.

Hearings are to be held later in the fall, and it's to be hoped that several party groups, Chambers of Commerce, and councils, will strive for some easing of this kind of redistribution.

Isn't it a team?

Finance Minister John Turner has been the butt of many critical comments since his June 24 budget, but apparently nowhere more than in Quebec, where, it seems, he is being castigated for choosing French Canada's most cherished holiday, St. Jean Baptiste Day to reveal his budget, thereby causing a large section of the financial community to work. "It reflects either total arrogance or bad planning" cried the president of Maison Placements Canada.

Anglo Saxon and Protestant Turner may not have known, but what about his leader, Pierre Trudeau? Or Jean Marchand? Or Chretien or Ouellet or Pelletier, or all the others? Aren't they playing on the same team? Or why is Turner being sacrificed?

MY VISIT TO POLAND
by
Don Mazankowski, M.P.
(second of a series)

THE PEOPLE AND ITS GOVERNMENT

The population of Poland is 33.5 million and well over half of the people reside in the urban areas. While the government is Communist controlled, Poland is unique amongst eastern counterparts in that 85 per cent of the agricultural land remains in private hands, notwithstanding the fact that large state and co-operative farms do exist.

Another unique feature of Poland is that 95 percent of its people are Roman Catholic and religion still plays a prominent role in the peoples' lifestyle. These two aspects of Polish society account in part for the fact that the Polish brand of Communism tends to be one of the more liberal within the Communist bloc.

The people are steep in culture and tradition, highly nationalistic and are prepared to [illegible] of their country, even if it means giving up some of their freedom which, under the present system, they are forced to do. Coming from Canada, it was at times difficult to conceive the 1000 year history which Poland, like many other European countries, claims.

The government of the day attaches great importance to the preservation and development of a distinctive cultural identity. All are proud of the fact that even with the tremendous influence which Russia has on their country, they have been able to maintain a distinctive cultural identity and have been able to preserve their language. [illegible] accomplished at considerable cost and sacrifice, but is looked upon as a very important element to Polish society.

Young people are encouraged, in addition, to their academic studies, to engage themselves in the arts or sports field as their contribution to the country's culture. People like Chopin and Copernicus are held as classic standards of the quality of their cultural and intellectual achievements.

The Poles are grateful for the fact that their country enjoys relative stability, even though their living standards are low in comparison with ours, and for the fact that their country lives in peace. There is nothing the people fear more than war, given the history of successive conflicts. The Government of the day is quick to remind one that the peaceful survival of Poland is contingent upon its alliance with the eastern front and points-out, glowingly, that they have been free from war over the past thirty years.

The scars of war today are readily obvious wherever one travels. The effects of the Second World War are fairly well known. About six million Poles, or 22 per cent of the population, were destroyed. The damage to industries, communications, housing, buildings, and to culture in general, is impossible to estimate. The city of Warsaw with its 1.5 million people was virtually destroyed during the conflict.

When one surveys the achievements and accomplishments, one has to admire the determination of the people in the rebuilding and restoring of their country. The city of Warsaw, for example, although completely destroyed, has been restored in the same manner basically as it appeared before the bombing. The buildings which existed were rebuilt with the same architectural style, the streets were restored as they appeared, the square, the monuments, the works of art and architecture, we are told, appear today as they did then.

The Government of the day is quick to take credit for the accomplishments over the past thirty years and, in doing so, implies that history and progress would have stood still without their particular social and economic regime. One can only make such a value judgment by comparing the achievements of West Germany or Austria.

The Government, which is defined as a Peoples' Democracy is patterned after that of the Soviet Union. There is ostensibly a tripartite division of power, with parliamentary supremacy. However, in practice, all organs of state power are subject to the programs and policies of the polish Communist Party known as the Polish United Workers Party. There are approximately two million persons who are members of the Polish United workers Party which is strictly controlled and limited. Two other political parties, the United Peasants Party and the Democratic Party, also exist but they are committed to the support of the programs of the Polish United Workers Party. All political parties must support the principles of communism and it is illegal for any person or body to criticize the government of the day or its allies, or the principles of communism.

The Polish Parliament is composed of 460 members elected for a period of four years on the basis of a single unified list of candidates. It, in turn, elects a fifteen member council of state which exercises certain legislative and executive functions. In addition, it elects a Council of Ministers (cabinet) which performs the principal executive functions and corresponds to "the government" as it is understood in western European countries.

The policy direction of the government is furnished by the Politburo of the Polish United Workers Party. Local administration in the twenty-two provinces, 322 counties and 8,000 rural districts is carried on through Peoples Councils which are supervised and guided by the Polish United Workers Party at every level.

The overall concept of government is based upon a high degree of centralization with a rigidly planned and controlled economy, which, in many cases, does not reflect the needs of the people, particularly at the local level. The peasants, for example, are very poor and farm their land with hand tools and horses with very little evidence of improvement and progress. While the myth prevails that the country is governed by workers and peasants, I could see very little evidence of workers and peasants in the makeup of the administration. Those whom we met in government were either appointed or elected, so-called, were intellectual type professors, academics, economists and the like who hardly resemble the makeup of the vast majority of the population and quite different from the composition of our own House of Commons.

I got the impression that the class distinction, which the regime suggests it has overcome, is not, in fact, the case. In fact, the government is composed of an upper bourgeoise-elite substantially removed from the average man or woman and, further, anyone with any degree of excellence or ambition must join the ranks of the active Communist Party if he or she is to enjoy any degree of success and accomplishment.

He arrived on Wednesday and was an overnight and Thursday morning visitor, then went to Edmonton and was a Thursday overnight visitor there, back to the farm Friday morning and did some work for his mother before leaving again Friday evening to spend the balance of the week visiting with his wife, Shirley and daughter Margie. Then both Shirley and Leroy returned to Fort McMurray on Sunday.

They returned to Seba Beach Sunday evening before Kevin and Judy returned to Fort McMurray.

Charlie and Mickey Niemetz were Sunday visitors at the home of their daughter, Patsy and George Bekker, at Ryley.

Rainy weather continues after a real downpour on Wednesday evening with some hail during the storm, but no real damage in this district so far. Cooler weather accompanied the storms making haying impossible with no drying weather. Warm drying winds and sunshine are required before the farmers can get their hay put up.

The Homemaker

Some people wonder what is the difference between an electronic and a microwave oven. They are the same thing.

Let's look at what you cook in a microwave oven. The microwave oven will not replace a conventional oven. The microwave oven heats left overs well. There is no heat in the oven to evaporate moisture and dry foods out. It thaws and cooks frozen dishes and heats frozen prepared foods. It cooks vegetables, fruits, meats and fish dishes from scratch.

Baked products are not usually successful. They rise unevenly due to the speed of cooking and as a result some parts will be overdone and some underdone. Rotating the pan during the baking will help overcome this problem. Baked items do not brown. For items that have an icing or a topping, this maybe acceptable.

The length of cooking time depends on several factors. As the temperature of the food decreases, the length of cooking time increases. Frozen food takes longer to cook than thawed food. The amount of food in the oven also influences cooking time. One baked potato takes five minutes, two take eight minutes. The shape of the food is also a variable. Food should be uniform in thickness and regular in shape, to give even cooking. If some areas are thinner than others, they will cook more quickly and begin to dry out before the thicker area is done.

The safety of a microwave oven is another consideration. All models have a series of safety switches to automatically turn the unit off if the door is opened. Microwaves are a form of radiation that does not cause cumulative damage to body tissues nor can it be stored by the body. There has never been a case reported of injury resulting from using a microwave oven. When buying a microwave oven look for the C.S.A. stamp. It is important to keep the oven door and gasket clean in order to ensure a tight seal.

How do you care for a microwave oven? Cleanup is easy because spatters don't bake on. An easy way to clean the oven is to boil a glass of water in the oven for several minutes. The steam created will soften the soil on the walls and it can easily be wiped off with a damp cloth.

Microwave ovens usually come with a good instruction book. Litton has an excellent cookbook available.

Microwave ovens are efficient, time saving and fun to use. It takes time and experimentation to learn what they will do well and what not to well.

CAULIFLOWER HOLLANDAISE (for microwave ovens)

Place whole cauliflower on a Pyrex or Corning pie plate or Corelle plate (or other plate tested for use with microwaves). Add four tablespoons water. Cover with wax paper.

Cook eight to ten minutes, depending on size of cauliflower. Let stand in a warm place while making Hollandaise Sauce.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE (for microwave ovens)

In a two-cup measure, melt one quarter cup butter by cooking for 30 seconds. Add one-quarter cup light cream, two lightly-beaten egg yolks, one tablespoon lemon juice, one quarter teaspoon salt and the grated rind of half a lemon. Mix well and cook uncovered for one minute, stirring twice. Remove and beat until light. Pour over cooked cauliflower.

Farm safety briefs

In farm safety programming special attention must be given to the hazards involving farm machinery. Studies have shown that most farm accidents happen during the busy season. They have also shown that high incident of accidents occur during three periods in the day. Mid-morning, mid-afternoon and at night. Other industries have made provisions for a break at the mid way point of a work period. These breaks add to the efficiency of the operator and reduce fatigue. Many farmers take a break, but all too many work straight through from breakfast to lunch to dinner and then bedtime. This can lead to monotony and inattention. His chances of having an accident are greatly increased. Why not develop a safe working routine now during farm safety week and then carry it throughout the year.

Located on the Muskoka River, 3½ miles from Bracebridge, Ont., Santa's Village, which comprises 18 acres, is visited annually by thousands of visitors.

Tofield Playground has a busy schedule

The Tofield summer playground program is now under the supervision of Colleen Walker and Carolyn Chilkowich.

There are a number of events planned for the following week. On Wednesday, we hope to have a friendship lunch where each registered playground child brings a friend for lunch, games and songs.

Then on Thursday, an overnight campout is planned at Camp Lake for seven-year-olds and over. We hope to have a bottle drive on Monday, August 4th. Please save your bottles as these youngsters will probably ask at your door.

We hope that all parents will attend the Pet Show next Tuesday evening and help challenge the playground kids in a ball game.

We have many proposed special events for August which will be printed in the paper so you can keep up to our program. Also check for posters around town.

Registrations are still being taken at the arena which is the location for the playground this year.

Holden Agribition goes on August 12

The Holden and District Agricultural Society will be holding their second annual Agribition on Tuesday, August 12, in the Complex.

Area residence are invited to participate in this year's fair by entering exhibits in the various categories, and by coming and viewing the exhibits and displays.

Several new classes have been added this year. To encourage the young people to participate, a school work exhibit has been added, also a junior hobbies and junior baking section, as well as a pet section.

All entries must be in the Complex by noon, August 11th except the livestock and pets, which must be in by noon, August 12th. Pets are to be in suitable cages, or on leashes.

Another added feature to this year's fair will be demonstrations of various crafts, such as egg decorating, pottery, basketry and macrame, which will be held throughout the afternoon of August 12. The fair exhibits will be open to the public at 12:00 o'clock, August 12th.

The Devonian Group of Charitable Foundations will have a trailer parked near the Complex and will be featuring displays of wildlife, and Indian, and Eskimo Art. The public is invited to see these displays.

Tofield Fair is set to go

Tofield's 1st annual Summer Agricultural Fair is all set for Saturday, August 23rd.

The Fair is being sponsored by the Agricultural Society who are urging everyone to submit entries and come out and view all the exhibits that will go on display early in the afternoon.

During the afternoon, the Beaverhills Light Horse Association will hold a closed trophy gymkhana with action to commence at two o'clock.

Ladies will have an advantage over men when it comes to gaining entry into the Fair as all ladies bringing two pies will be admitted free of charge. For everyone else, there will be an admission fee.

As added attractions, displays have been obtained from departments of the Government of Alberta. In all four displays will be shown. They include a display of weeds, an Agri Prom display, A display of Dahlias by Mrs. Collins of Edmonton, and a Farmers' Market display table.

Some of the different classifications of competition which will be held include light horse, field crops and vegetables, horticulture (open and closed), handicrafts, and home baking. The latter classification is under the direction of Mrs. Eve Dybhavn.

Holden has playground

Regarding the display of July 24, the leaders of Holden Playground would like to thank the people who supported us by buying crafts and donating money, to make it possible for our wiener roasts and special outings.

Special thanks go to: Mr. and Mrs. H. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. B. Lutz, Chris Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Schaning, Mr. and Mrs. Peter P. Komarnisky, Mr. and Mrs. J. Petty.

For future events will be wiener roasts coming from the proceeds of our arts and crafts sale, puppet shows, outings such as overnight camps, and day camps, and a field trip.

We have been very happy with the great attendance at our playground, and hope that our future events are just as successful.

Part of our 'energy dollar' buys a nice day in the country.
Most people consider a pleasant day spent in the country with families and friends as one of the free things in life. Freedom to run, jump and play under clean, blue skies. But few realize how much it actually costs to keep the air clean.
A portion of every energy dollar which Calgary Power spends goes toward environmental control. Electrostatic precipitators (ultra-sophisticated air purifiers) installed on the thermal generating plants located on Lake Wabamun are designed to remove 99.5% of the flyash from exhaust gases. That's good, but it's expensive.
Two units at the Sundance operation across the lake have already been equipped with precipitators and by 1980, another four will have been installed.
The cost of environmental programs is astronomical. Present estimates call for an expenditure of over $100 million on environmental protection at our Sundance and Wabamun plants.
As a concerned company, we will continue to spend part of our energy dollar to buy a nice day in the country for all Albertans.

The Homemaker

SOMETHING TO DO WHEN THERE'S NOTHING TO DO!

Do you need something to do on a rainy day? Are your children a little bored with holidays? Canada Search has come up with an idea!

CREATIVE CLAY
1 cup Corn Starch
2 cups (1 lb.) baking soda
1¼ cups cold water
Oil

METHOD:

Stir the corn starch and baking soda together in a saucepan. Add in water and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches a slightly moist mashed potatoes-like consistency. Turn it out on a plate. Cover with a damp cloth. When cool enough to handle, knead like dough until it is pliable and easy to use.

Divide the Creative Clay into smaller amounts and knead in small quantities of Rit Dye to make different colours. If a marbled effect is desired, only partially knead dye into clay.

The clay is now ready to create, but you can store it tightly covered for later use.

To dry your creation, leave it at room temperature in a safe place. Turn occasionally. Small objects will dry overnight and larger objects will dry in a couple of days.

When the creation is dry, decorate with water colours, poster paints or felt-tip pens or leave them plain. A coat of shellac or varnish will protect it.

HINTS: Creative clay is not edible.

What can you make with the clay?

"Beads" - Shape creative clay into balls, ovals, squares or flat discs. Use a pin or name wire to make a hole through each bead.

"Pendants and Pins" - Roll out clay to one quarter inch thickness. Cut out shapes.

Smooth the edges with your fingers. You may top with another clay shape by moistening each piece slightly so they will stick together or glue in place when dry. Decorate by pressing in buttons, seeds or other decorations. Other things you can make are Christmas tree ornaments, pencil holders, napkin rings, picture frames, animal sculptures and wall hangings.

A pamphlet on "Creative Clay" may be obtained from this office.

Playground news

Last Wednesday afternoon, the kids and supervisors of the Tofield playground brought a friend for lunch. Games were played, and songs were sung after lunch was eaten at the school playground. A special treat of watermelon was served later.

On Thursday, 15 kids and one leader were driven out to Camp Lake where they spent an enjoyable day swimming, canoeing, playing soccer and doing crafts. Everyone returned home Friday, tired but in happy spirits. We would like to thank Jim Ingram for driving the bus and the Camp Lake staff for the good time.

A variety bingo was held Friday afternoon with the winners being Jim Warner, Grant Baerg, Kelly McLaren, Gary Langkaas, Colleen Walker and Carolyn Chilkowich. The luckiest winner was Lori Mitchell who bingoed four times, including the blackout.

This week's events include a pet show and hobo supper.

MY VISIT TO POLAND

by Don Mazankowski, M.P.
(first of a series)
INDUSTRY AND ITS ECONOMY

Poland is a major agricultural nation accounting for 8 percent of European agricultural production. Livestock production is important and meat products such as ham, bacon, sausage make a significant contribution to Polish exports. Principle crops are rye, wheat, oats, sugar, beets and potatoes. While private owned farms operate 85 per cent of the agricultural land, one-third of the agricultural production comes from the socialized sector of agriculture. State farms range in size from 4 to 5 thousand acres and are highly integrated from production to processing to marketing.

The east cost r oroduction, however, is 20 pe. cent higher than in the private sector in spite of higher yields. This has caused a re-assessment of agricultural policy While at one time it was the aim to socialize the total agricultural industry it is not the case today We were advised that the government now supports further nationalization of agriculture only when justified economically as well as demographically Because of the lower production costs in the private sector, there is to be greater emphasis on the encouragement of the private production sector and voluntary co-operative enterprises.

It is quite obvious from our visit that too little emphasis has been placed upon improving the standards of the peasant and his enterprise Their holdings are relatively small, 10 - 12 acres, they farm with one or two horses, using horse drawn machinery, with no mechanization whatsoever other than electric power. At the present time 30 per cent of the population derive their living from agriculture. Concern was expressed at the continued depopulation of the rural areas and it is now recognized that improved conditions must be initiated if this trend is to be reversed The peasants of today have a loyal attachment to the land, the younger generation, however, are being lured to the cities.

Industrially Poland has embarked upon an intensive program based upon socialist principles and it was quite obvious the conditions of the workers are considerably better than that of the peasants.

Two-thirds of the population now earn their living in non-agricultural activities compared to 75 per cent who earned their living from agriculture 30 years ago. Their industrial growth is amongst the ten fastest in the world, Poland is one of the world's richest in copper and sulphur deposits and there are also substantial deposits of natural gas. However, it must rely upon imports for 95 per cent of its crude oil, hence even the Poles were fascinated and interested in Alberta Tar Sands. Its major industrial exports are coal, ships, steel and clothing

We had the opportunity of visiting some heavy industrial plants engaged in the manufacture of heavy construction machinery and marine engines. We found many women working in factories. Day-care centres are established on the premises and many couples work together at the same factory and bring their children with them.

All major factories are state owned as are the majority of retail stores. Chronic shortages of goods prevail and it is common to see huge line-ups at the various shopping centres waiting to be served. There is no unemployment, everyone is either working or attending school. Even the elderly, they must work to provide a living until they are physically or mentally unable to do so. If a peasant decides he is unable to work further, he can turn his holding over to the state in exchange for an annuity pension.

Apartments are provided for by the state at reasonable rental but there is a critical shortage and this remains one of the governments problems.

No one is allowed to accumulate any sizeable amount of wealth or ownership. The state takes the view that it will provide the necessary job opportunities to maintain a standard of living providing the basic essentials, food, clothing and shelter, anything in excess is confiscated through exorbitant taxation and other means.

While uniformity and the principle of each according to ones ability to each according to ones need prevails, there is an admission that personal initiative and individuality cannot be [illegible]

In the course of a discussion with a plant leader of the Communist Workers Party which employs some 22,000 people and is said to be the factory where the seeds of socialism were first planted, he too indicated the necessity of providing individual incentives to gain increased productivity from the workers. He had indicated that such incentive programs have had a tremendous impact on keeping unit costs down and thereby improving their overall competitive position on world markets. He also said something else which was significant, he said, "On the other hand you cannot give people something for nothing People even in our system do not appreciate and value something which they receive for nothing, so whatever benefits the state does provide, some form of payment must be attached."

Another significant statement was made by a gentleman who claimed to be a communist since 1929. In defence of smaller agricultural farms, privately owned, he said there are some things which require personal attention and these things can only be nurtured through personal care, namely land, trees, cattle and animals.

Later on that evening he elaborated somewhat by saying so far he had been married three times in his life time and that may not be his last

by Mrs. Jim Roddick

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lafontaine and Claude enjoyed a salmon fishing expedition over the last weekend at Campbell River, B.C

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Chambers of Edmonton visited their grandmother, Mrs. S. George, on Wednesday, relating experiences on their recent trip to England, Scotland, and area. They were so surprised not to find tea available in lunch shops. It seems our English friends have converted to coffee as their cup of refreshment rather than tea.

Tommy Norton of Leduc spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Michael Nasichuk, returning home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Vandermeer took their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Johan Vandermeer of Holland, to the Jasper area for five days to view the beautiful Canadian Rockies.

Ministik pioneer, Dick Wilson passes

Funeral services were held at Holmtock Funeral Home on July 28th for the late Adam Richard Wilson of R.R. 2, Tofield, who passed away on July 24th at the age of 87 years.

Dick was born in Roseberry, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, in February, 1888. He came to Canada in 1910 and to the Ministik area in 1911. He filed on a homestead, and with the exception of four years spent at Brule, Alberta, from 1923 to 1927, this had been his home.

On February 5, 1923, he was united in marriage with Jessie Ferguson, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ferguson, in First Presbyterian Church Manse. In 1973 they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Thought: Safety does not consist in the absence of danger, but in the presence of God.

You don't have to be famous to be somebody.

Think about the people in your community — individuals or groups — who deserve special recognition for their outstanding achievements, professional excellence, or voluntary service.

Are they rich and famous? Probably not. They are pretty special though — people who stand tall in the eyes of others.

Men and women who have made exceptional contributions to sports, education, the arts, humanities, or science. Individuals or groups who have brought honour to themselves and to the Province through outstanding achievements or performances at national or international competitions. Albertans who have played a vital role in the life of this Province.

Each year, the Government of Alberta presents Achievement Awards to outstanding Albertans. To ensure that no one deserving of an award is overlooked, we need your assistance.

The three specific Award categories are Performance (Competition), Excellence, and Service.

Think of the people — individuals or groups — you know who have — won competitions or awards at a national or international level during the past year (Performance (Competition) category).

— served national or international recognition in a professional occupational, or volunteer capacity during the past year (Excellence category).
— been noted for outstanding service of Provincial impact (Service category).

Then let us know. They could qualify for an Alberta Achievement Award. But don't delay — deadline for receipt of applications is September 2nd, 1975.

For further information and nomination forms, telephone 427 2626 or write

Farm safety briefs

Some accident reports are tragic, some are dull and factual, but on the odd occasion you find one with a tingle of humour.

Take the report of the farmer shingling his barn. "The barn was badly in need of singling and to save time going up and down a ladder I rigged a beam on the ridgepole with a pulley to hoist up the shingles. When I finished there were quite a few shingles left over.

I hoisted the cradle back up and tied the line at the bottom, filled the cradle with shingles and cast off the line.

Unfortunately, the shingles were now heavier than I, and before I knew what was happening, they started DOWN and I STARTED UP. Halfway up, I met the shingles coming down and received severe lacerations to my shoulders and forearms. I continued to the top where my fingers jammed in the pulley. When the cradle hit the ground it broke open, allowing the shingles to spill out.

Now I was heavier than the cradle and started down again at high speed. Half way down I met the broken cradle coming up, receiving injuries to my feet and legs. I continued to the ground where I twisted my ankle on the pile of broken shingles. At this point I completely lost my presence of mind and released the rope. The broken cradle came down, hitting me on the head and putting me in the hospital".

End report.

What do you think? It can't happen to YOU - - - - well. It's almost enought to give you the SHINGLES.

Lakeshore-McKenzie news items

Mrs. Ellen Eaton

Mrs. Lena Lesaruk announced that her son Joe Lesaruk, and Mrs. Gail Moser, eloped and were married on Tuesday morning, July 29th.

Leroy and Shirley Eaton of Fort McMurray arrived at the home of Leroy's mother, Mrs. Ellen Eaton, late Friday afternoon and were overnight guests there before leaving on Saturday morning on a two-week holiday motor tour to Jasper, Banff and other points where they will also visit some of Shirley's relatives. They took their son, Ronnie with them, and also picked up their daughter, Margaret, who was in Edmonton. Ronnie had spent the past month on the farm holidaying with his grandmother.

Esther and Joe Majakey of Edmonton were Tuesday, July 29th visitors with Esther's sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Wood, on the farm, also with her brother, John Wood, at the Tofield Hospital.

Mark Jones, Doug Walker, and Sydney Gorgiete, members of the Tofield 4-H club from this district left on Monday to spend the week at the 4-H camp at Moose Lake.

John Wood from the Tofield Hospital was out home Sunday afternoon for a few hours. Sunday visitors at the home of John and Mary Wood were their daughter, Mrs. Lorene Francis and daughter, Pat, and son, Leigh, of Viking; another daughter, Dede and Robert Goubault of Drayton Valley, and their daughter, Judy and Dennis Elford of Edmonton, George Hines and friend, Mrs. Sheila Maine of Drayton Valley, John and Mary's daughter, Kay Wood and their son, Johnny and children, Cathy and Ted, and Jim Jones. All were entertained at a family dinner in John's house and later to a luncheon before John returned to the hospital.

George Hines and Mrs. Sheila Maine of Drayton Valley were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Ellen Eaton. They have been visiting at the home of Johnny Wood for the past weekend and left for home on Monday.

On Monday morning Hans Erdmann, Gordon Boretta, Barbara Watkins, and Linda Niemetz, all of Vancouver, were early morning guests at the home of Linda's grandmother, Ellen Eaton, before leaving on the return trip to Vancouver where they are all employed.

The weather has continued with showery weather most every day over the past week, either in the evening or during the night and early morning hours with clearing by noon and quite warm during the afternoon. What is needed most is a good rain and then clearing so the farmers can get their hay put up. The gardens and late grain and greenfeed require more rain for continued growth and filling out of the grain.

Sorry folks, if I missed any of your news items but, haven't been able to catch anyone at home this week.

Farmers pay gasoline tax

The gasoline excise tax of 10 cents a gallon recently announced by the federal government applies to farmers as well as other consumers.

The new tax must be paid at the time of purchase, says Paul Barlott, of Alberta Agriculture's engineering and home design branch. Marked or 'purple' gasoline is also affected by the excise tax.

The excise tax will be refunded to farmers for gasoline used in farming operations, the federal government indicated, says Mr. Barlott. However, the method to be used to make a claim for refunds is not yet known.

In the meantime, until this method is known, farmers should keep all their receipts as proof of purchase, so they can be assured of their rebate.

New information on the form the rebate will take will be released as soon as it's known.

Farmers are gamblers with safety

When it comes to safety, people are inveterate gamblers. In fact, many of them take chances a professional gambler wouldn't touch with a forty foot pole. Consider the case of the farmer whose tractor wouldn't start. Instead of getting a new battery or having the old one recharged, he hitched a logging chain from the front end of his tractor to the rear end of the truck. Finding the truck couldn't lift the tractor in low gear he shifted up a couple. That got the tractor going all right but now he really had a headache. Stopping the truck was impossible because the tractor would run it from the rear. Stopping the tractor was equally impossible because he couldn't leave the truck. Hoping to read the tractor he matched speed and allowed it to come gently against the rear of the truck. He then switched off the truck and jammed on his brakes. Having dislodged the power of the tractor as he had everything else that morning, he found himself being pushed, slithering and sliding into a nearby fence which finally halted the whole sorry spectacle.

And still we wonder how accidents happen.

In reading over newspaper accounts of a farm accident do you ever find yourself wondering just what caused it. Why did it happen. Are farmers as a professional group more careless than workers in other industries. Or, are they just thoughtless and unconcerned because the possibility of being injured and killed seems remote - something they read about in newspapers - something that happens to other people, on other farms. And does this lead to complacency - a sort of "It can't happen to me" attitude.

Whatever the reason, a brief glance at the rising injury and fatality trend in agriculture is enough to make you wonder. Of course, there's a wide variety of choices available to the farmer if he wants to be selective about how he's going to be injured. He can roll the tractor, stick his hand in the feed mechanism of the combine, he can be hurt by an auger, a pitch fork or a rake, he can be kicked by a horse, gored by a bull, or trampled by a steer, he can be electrocuted, burned by gasoline, poisoned or drowned in the digout.

But given the opportunity I think all of us would rather avoid having to make any choice at all. So, it all boils down to a matter of complacency - an "It can't happen to me" attitude. But if it CAN'T happen to me, who is it that's being killed in all the farm accidents?

It's a curious fact that is common after trips over an object left lying on the floor, he's a clumsy oaf. But if we trip over it we blame the thoughtless fool who left it there.

If we pass a car overturned in the ditch, it's a clear case of some idiot going to fast.

If someone loses a finger in an auger, a saw or the cutter bar of the mower he's obviously a nitwit who never paid attention to what he was doing. But, if it happens to us - well - that's a different bottle of fish. When, there's a perfectly logical explanation for the whole thing. The plain truth of the matter is that we see accidents and their causes from opposite sides of the fence depending on whether we're the victim or the observer.

It's easier to blame others when something goes wrong. It's less of a blow to our self esteem if we can find some scapegoat to relieve us of responsibility, and it's EASIER to rationalize than accept the fact that we may have made a major mistake in judgement.

Have YOU had a close shave recently or been involved in an accident? If so, what was YOUR EXCUSE?

Ryley women form 'objective together'

Would you enjoy a chance to share ideas and concerns with other women in your community? If so consider supporting a new group for Ryley and district women - "Objective: Together"

The name is derived from the medical symbol for women, which naturally forms the letters O and T. This informal social and civic group has as its main objective the planning and sponsorship of activities for women of all ages.

The ideas for the group were formed on Thursday, July 31 when a number of women met in the District Agriculturist's Office to discuss ideas. It was decided to plan activities for the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, from 7.30 - 9.30 in the evening.

The first meeting will be held on September 10, when it is hoped Diane Lake will provide information and answer questions on the services provided by the District Home Economist.

The location of the meeting will be announced later

The organizing group realizes that for some farm women this date may be inconvenient as harvest takes priority but, interested people can attend later activities. Possible future activities, talks and seminars may include crafts, handicraping, effective parenting and other topics as suggested by members.

Whether or not a particular activity is undertaken depends upon the interest shown. So come on out, share a cup of coffee with a friend and possibly learn something new

Mrs. Jan Reddick

A general meeting and program report of the Lotus Senior Citizens Recreational group, and Arts and Crafts, will take place at the old Inkman Hall, one mile west and one and one quarter miles south of the original site, on Sunday, August 24th at 2 p.m. Everyone a welcome.

A contact, Mrs. Ruth King, who Mrs. Albert Hrutiuk hadn't seen for sometime from Victoria, B.C. paid her and the family a visit last Sunday. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Borutski of Hanna and Mr. and Mrs. Alex McQueen of Edmonton.

The Gordon Thorn of Edmonton were guests of the Allen Peterson. They had returned from a vacation to Northern Alberta and B.C.

The Peter Lehmanns of Edmonton were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lehmann and Glenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dunn and girls were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Donaldson and family of Wildwood. Doris remained for a week's vacation. Phyllis, who had been home for the weekend, accompanied the group.

The Ladies Club meeting will be held at the usual time, weather permitting.

Bill Cattanach, who had been a student minister of the Elnora Church, preached his last sermon here for sometime as he returns to Toronto to continue theology studies. His bride, Brenda Bird, will take up duties in a Toronto hospital.

The Homemaker

It was planned to be home in Saskatchewan for a few days. My father was having tractor trouble as I experienced, once again, the frustration farmers have with getting repairs and maintenance. The crops look good especially when you consider that it has been a very dry year.

My Dad's family from Ontario was also visiting at the farm. We had lots of good things to eat. Fresh vegetables from the garden can not be beat! My Aunt Mabel makes the best muffins. This week, I'll share her recipe with you.

AUNT MABEL MUFFINS

Blend:
2 tbs. shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg

Add:
1¼ cups sour milk
1 tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla

Blend Together:
Add 1½ cups all-purpose flour
Cut dates on top of flour (approx. ½ cup). Stir again. Add ½ cup Graham Flour

Bake
Put in greased muffin tins. Put in 475 degree F. oven for 2 minutes, then reduce heat to 375 degrees F for ten minutes or until done when touched on top.

Part of our 'energy dollar' buys a bundle of energy for new Albertans.

Planning for the future is an on-going program at Calgary Power. This year, the rapidly increasing demand for electrical energy will cost us almost triple what it did in recent years. But we've planned for it.

In 1974, the total generation on the company's system was 8,631 million kilowatt hours and this demand is continually growing. We now serve more than 163,000 Albertans with a distribution system spanning 75,000 square miles. And we're growing.

This year, plant expansion will include completion of a 375 megawatt generator at the Sundance Plant, and continuation of work on Unit four which is scheduled for commissioning in 1976.

Tomorrow's energy needs? A fifth unit at Sundance has been approved and Calgary Power has applied for a sixth unit.

We'll expand our facilities to provide a bundle of energy for new Albertans ... today and for future generations. You can count on it!

Drive slowly

Driving in the Town of Tofield isn't the most pleasant passtime in the world, especially when it's wet. The race is on to get all streets ready for paving and then have the pavement laid. It's quite a task, but some streets are now ready for smooth surfaces. After a summer of driving on torn-up streets, Tofielders can be forgiven if they hold little envy for big city dwellers who have to put up with this sort of thing all the time.

Garden Club plans annual flower show

On Sunday afternoon, members of the Tofield Garden Club met to tour some of the rural gardens and yards.

They viewed the gardens of Gladys Gill, Marie Mitchell, Gwen Petersen, Isabell Lee, and Yvonne Brown. Despite the weather on Sunday and the light frost damage done to the gardens and flowers last week, the tour was very much enjoyed by all.

The business meeting for August was held following the tour, at the home of Yvonne Brown.

The trip to Red Deer to see the Red Deer Flower Show on Thursday,(today) was discussed. It was decided to travel via bus.

Final plans were made for the annual Flower Show which will be held on Saturday in conjunction with the Tofield Fair. It was decided that the Garden Club would again sponsor a sale table of garden produce and other items at the Flower Show.

The members also decided to sell pie and coffee during the afternoon.

There are 45 classes to be judged in the Flower Show this year, and these, plus the floral displays, should make quite a show. Everyone is invited to attend between 1 and 5 o'clock.

Around Town

On August 10th, relatives of Mrs. Ila Walker gathered at the Miniwatt Camp Site to help her celebrate her 80th birthday. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] and Andy from Grassland; Mr. and Mrs. S. Potovitch and Kathy; Mr. and Mrs. Don Gilbert and family; Mr. and Mrs. K. Bell; Mr. and Mrs. D. Bell; Mr. and Mrs. H. Porter; and Mrs. Sinclair, all from Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. R. Height from Spruce Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stoen and Mrs. Hunter and Norma, from Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. D. Jenkins and girls from Lethbridge; and from Tofield were Mr. and Mrs. M. Walker and Ricky; Mr. and Mrs. Vern Walker; Doug, Colleen, and Sydney Goughs; and Ronald Walker.

Frederick Richard Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kelly of Camrose, passed away on August 14th in his eighteenth year. He is survived by his parents; his sister, Marlene and brother-in-law, Luke Cahen; Frances, Nancy Silvstrom; paternal grandmother, Lillian Kelly; and [illegible] grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nordstrom. Graveside service was conducted at the Holden Cemetery by Rev. C. K. Bussels. Memorials to the Ryley Swimming Pool or the Holden Sports Complex gratefully accepted.

The final results of the Boys Hi-Way 14 Minor Baseball League have been tabulated.

The League decided this year, because of the short season, not to have semi or final play-offs, and to only use league standings at the cut off date.

LADIES' FASTBALL

What started out to be a six-team league of women who are out of school, shrunk to two teams.

Another league of girls, 16 years and under, was started this year, but enough did not enter to make a worthwhile league either, so after a meeting or two, it was decided to put them all together to come up with a schedule of games, instead of dropping all those interested.

All but two teams of 16 and under dropped out after school ended, leaving four teams, Ryley Bluejays, Tofield Ladies, Kingman and Ryley Chickadees.

SEMI-FINALS

Tofield played Kingman.
Ryley Bluejays played Ryley Chickadees.
Winners: Tofield Ladies and Ryley Bluejays

FINALS:

Ryley Bluejays won trophy.

The league will be looking for new teams in both age groups, and also, new ideas and suggestions.

Playgrounds

By Carolyn Chilibeckt and Colleen Walker

A pet show held Tuesday night proved successful as ten pets arrived with proud owners. We had hoped that more parents would have come to this evening program, though.

Constable Ross Lyle was a guest on Wednesday as he pointed out bicycle laws and safety.

The bottle drive proved successful as it brought in $41.

On Thursday, everyone biked to the golf course for a "Hobo Supper". Cans of food were brought and dumped into a big pot to be heated. Everyone ate their spaghetti, wieners and ravioli with odd kitchen utensils which they had picked by numbers.

We would like to thank Con. Ross Lyle, Jim Kallal, Tofield Municipal Hospital, the community and the Round Hill Bottle Depot.

An overniter at Miquelon campsite had been planned but, because of rain, had to be cancelled. The special event of the week was a trip to Miquelon Lake where everyone enjoyed swimming and a wiener roast. On Monday, the Travelling Book Players entertained at the playground with their [illegible] and story plays. We would like to thank them.

Arts committee sets next meet

Decisions pertaining to the 1976 County Arts and Music Festival will be made, as well as future commitments which will be taken on by the Committee.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Regional Recreation Office, in Ryley at 663-3730.

"A Stranger from the Past"
by Lorimer DeKalb

It was 6 years since the accident when she awoke in a hospital remembering nothing of her past but that she was committed to Jesus Christ. In these half-dozen years, Dorothy Keith had managed to build a fulfilling life for herself. Then one day a handsome stranger walked into the church and threatened to unlock those hidden rooms deep in her soul. . . Would she ever discover who she really was and what the stranger truly meant to her?

Knudslien named reeve of Beaver

George Knudslien was named reeve of the County of Beaver when the county held an organizational meeting on August 14th. He succeeds J H Roddick, who resigned on July 8th.

Mr Roddick had been both reeve and school committee chairman, and resigned for personal reasons. He had seriously considered not running at the election last fall, but was persuaded to do so when it appeared a number of other councillors might not run. As it turned out, they did, and were elected.

A bye-election was immediately called for Division No. 2, with nominations to be received on July 30th. At that time, only one nomination, that of John McIntosh, was received, and Mr McIntosh was declared elected by acclamation. Mr McIntosh has been farmer in the district for a number of years.

Two weeks later, the county held its organizational meeting, and Mr Knudslien was named reeve. Mr. Knudslien has represented Division No. 6 for more than 9 years, as of last January. Elected deputy reeve was Councillor Walter Kropielnicki, another long term member of council, representing Division No. 4.

Since Mr Roddick was also chairman of the school committee, it became necessary to elect a new chairman for this body. However, traditionally the committee does not meet in August, and that election will not be held until their regular meeting on September 9th, reports County Secretary Bob Cross.

In the meantime, vice chairman Harry Wilkie is carrying on in charge. Mr Roddick has been a member of the council and school committee for the past fifteen years, and during that time has been considered a pillar of strength by other members, who felt they would sorely miss his guidance.

Mr Roddick was asked to remain on the Vialta Lodge and Viking Hospital Boards, by the council, because of his knowledge and experience in these areas.

In his letter of resignation, Mr Roddick expressed his warm appreciation for the opportunities to serve he had found during the fifteen year period, saying the work had always been interesting, stimulating and challenging. He very much appreciated the co-operation he has received from other county and school committee members, and especially the administrative staff during his period of office.

Language of the air

We were astonished the other day to read the opinion of one Edmonton citizen supporting the government of Quebec in its position that the French language should be used by pilots flying to any airport in Quebec. After all, he reasoned, French is one of the official languages of Canada, and the official language of Quebec, and their position seems perfectly right and tenable.

It's a pity he didn't take the trouble to become just a little better informed, rather than sounding off on a purely emotional basis.

For regardless of what is official in Canada or Quebec, English is THE language of the air. ALL pilots on international flights, and ALL air traffic controllers, in whatever airport, use English as the language of communication. It matters not a whit whether they are Dutch or German or Hebrew or Russian, or anything else. Even the French pilots use English, as do the officers in the tower at French airports.

One of the reasons, of course, is that English speaking countries, and especially the United States, dominated the field of flying and of aircraft manufacture almost from the start. But another highly important factor, one recognized by all flying agencies, is the need for instant, understandable response between the flight deck of the airplane and the tower on the landing field, and even of other planes in the air, especially for planes which may be flying closer to each other at the rate of twenty miles in one minute. With these almost incredible speeds, and all the complications that can be introduced by physical phenomena such as weather, with mechanical and human problems thrown in in addition, it's no wonder that even a second's delay due to language cannot be tolerated.

If Quebec wants to use French on the little airports around the province such as we have in Camrose or Ponoka, it would probably cause little concern. But to insist on French at the international airports, such as Dorval, could only lead to far greater complication, lessening of the safety factor, and probably, a reduction in traffic as pilots insist on landing elsewhere.

Unfair practices

Did you notice, W. H. J. Stutt asks businessmen, that in Section Four of the Unfair Trade Practices Act it seems to be assumed that in a consumer transaction only the seller is capable of "unfair acts or practices".

Mr. Stutt, who is manager of the Better Business Bureau in Edmonton, then goes on to ask whether such things as unpaid accounts, NSF cheques, stopped cheques, "shipping", unreasonable demands for refunds and exchanges, exaggerated claims for loss, shoplifting, pilfering, price tag switching, failure to disclose all facts when registering a complaint, and other such acts by the consumer should be considered "unfair" within the meaning of the Act.

His questions are well founded, particularly if the feelings of several retailers we've talked to recently are any criterion. In widely separated fields, three men in recent weeks all have voiced a feeling that the shopping public has become highly unfair in its attitude and in its dealing with merchants. Not only the demands on the merchant but the accusations of unfair pricing were felt to have increased tremendously over the situation of only ten years ago, to the extent that two expressed the wish they could get out of the field entirely.

All three, of course, agreed that rapid and hefty price increases had brought about some of the criticism, particularly from shoppers who really didn't know when they were getting quality or not, but who felt the price that was being asked must be unwarrantably high, and therefore must be subject to criticism.

It's a sorry situation, but it does, indeed, suggest that Mr. Stutt may be right in pointing out what seems like an obvious one-sidedness in the bill piloted through the Legislature by the Hon. Bob Dowling.

The Editor:

It seems to me that too many Tofield people are forgetting to be grateful for the excellent health care that is available to us.

I was raising children during the war years when we had no doctor or hospital and were constantly threatened by Polio.

Believe me, this way is better.

Not the first

Dear Sir,

In a recent issue of The Mercury, under the heading "Agriculture Fair ready in Tofield" appears the statement "This will be the first such fair ever held in Tofield."

I protest this statement, as it is incorrect, and also unfair to the early settlers. Tofield pioneers had an Agricultural Society, with paid-up membership, duly elected officers, and regular meetings. They put on a fair in 1909 – there may have been earlier ones – and it was an annual event till 1922. In 1911 the Society bought the land east of town known as "The fairgrounds," and still in use today. At the north end of the grounds was a large, long building known as the skating rink, which housed the livestock for the fair, cattle, horses, pigs, sheep and poultry. In winter it was a popular rink for skating and for hockey. Although separated it did have a roof.

A large building near the present curling rink site was used for other exhibits. Classes were provided for baking, canning, sewing, quilting, fancywork, grains, vegetables, fruits and flowers. Entries were numerous, competition was very keen, and surprisingly high quality work was exhibited. Judges were from out of town, each an expert in his or her field.

Fair day was the highlight of the whole year, and found the entire family enjoying the holiday. Remember those were the days long before tractors and high powered machinery had been invented.

Congratulations to the 1975 Society, and best wishes for their continued success, but let us not forget the credit due the pioneers.

Oldtimer 1909

Canadian comment

OTTWA — (SF) — From now until Parliament resumes again in fall, the country is going to be criss-crossed with progressive Conservative politicians, as a legion of candidates and potential candidates try to drum up support for the coming leadership race.

Not too long ago in the House of Commons, Prime Minister Trudeau made a crack about the poor Tories, who couldn't find anyone half as good as the leader they were throwing out. Well, Bob Stanfield hasn't really been thrown out, but almost. That's the penalty for being a loser in politics.

Trudeau was right, though, when he said there would be difficulty finding a man half as good as Stanfield. I don't know anyone in the media on Parliament Hill who doesn't like and respect Bob Stanfield. We'll miss him extremely when he goes — and so will the party.

When Stanfield was named leader in 1967, the Tories were electing a Prime Minister, not a get-fighter politician. The election victory which the Tories were sure would come, lacked from their grip in the wave of Trudeau mania, and Stanfield himself proved to be not enough of a politician to force an earlier election when he had the chance while ministers of the Pearson government were standing on each other's fingers in the leadership race.

Now the Tory party is again seeking a man who can lend them to formation of a government, and I suspect they'll be hunting for a man or woman who can out-Trudeau the PM. That would be a dreadful mistake.

The Tories need a man hardened in the fires of politics, with true determination to follow his principles, capable of giving the country something to believe in.

Right now I don't see such a candidate in the lists — one who can lead the Tories out of the wilderness of opposition. There is just a possibility that as the legion of hopeful candidates stumps the country late this summer and in fall, such a leader may emerge and if that happens we may once again have a working Parliament with strong opposition.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS

About 440 agricultural fairs are held in Canada each year. They emphasize education but also serve as a market place and give urban and rural people a chance to get acquainted. Agriculture Canada helps by giving grants for prize money, 4-H junior activities, judges' salaries and operating expenses – a total of about $1 million a year. The government has also given about $24 million in loans for capital expenditures to 25 fairs since 1971.

PROTECT THAT MACHINE'

How can you protect your automatic washer from costly wear and tear? The following hints are given by the home laundry [illegible]

The foremost rule is that you not overload your machine. An overloaded washer will not function properly. The spin cycle slows down. Excessive vibration results. When this happens, stop the machine. Remove one or two bulky items. Shift the other pieces so they are evenly distributed in the tub. In top-loading machines, you will get better results by placing bulky items on the bottom [illegible]

Never use gritty cleaners on the enamel finish of your machine. They can cause tiny scratches which eventually rust the metal underneath. A damp rag will restore the lustre very nicely.

The amount of detergent required will vary with the hardness of water, size of load, dirtiness of clothes. When laundering exceptionally grimy clothes, those soiled with mud and sand, wash fewer items than usual at one time. The sooner you wash clothes after wearing, the cleaner they get. Dirt does not get a chance to set. Clothes last longer too.

What to you do if your machine won't operate properly? First check the electrical cord to make certain it is plugged in tightly. Next make sure the machine is not overloaded and the load is balanced evenly. Check the fuse box or circuit breaker. Check the hot and cold water faucets on your machine. Are they turned on?

If none of these help then you will need professional servicing for your machine. Write down the [illegible] ber of your machine (usually located on the side) and describe your problem to the repairman over the phone.

Laundry day can be any day with an automatic washer. This can save money as your family will need fewer clothes. Automatic washers also reduce your work load.

Just treat them with care.

Frost hit the district during last week with a light frost on Wednesday, Aug. 13th and a heavier freeze on Friday night, freezing the tops of some potatoes and bean leaves, but so far, not killing the plants. On Saturday evening, it clouded over and by Sunday morning had started rain showers which continued through Sunday and a drizzle continuing all through Monday, leaving side roads muddy and stopping all haying and harvesting once again. Forecasts are for more of the same for a couple more days. What is needed now is warm drying winds to continue the ripening of the grain and allow crops already swathed to dry out.

Ellen Eaton was among several Tofield senior citizens who accompanied Ryley senior citizens on a trip by bus to Edmonton to visit Fort Edmonton. This trip was sponsored by the Recreation Board. Enroute to Edmonton, the Holden bus had trouble with the fuel pump and the folks had to wait for a couple of hours near Fontaine's on the highway, until another bus could arrive to continue the trip. An enjoyable afternoon was spent despite the fact that the tour was shortened. All seemed to enjoy picnicking along the way and made the best of the delay by good fellowship. At Fort Edmonton building is going ahead with many more new places added since a year ago, showing what the original scene were like before the turn of the century. A longer visit is needed to tour all the buildings and for senior citizens a conveyance is needed to cover the distance around the grounds to see all the buildings brought in and [illegible]

Mrs. G. H. Taylor

(Intended for Last Week)

Fred Kelly, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly of Camrose, former residents of Holden, passed away suddenly last week, at the age of 17 years. The funeral was held Saturday with interment in the family plot in the Holden cemetery. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly, one sister, Marlene; his grandmother, Mrs. Charles Kelly of Edmonton, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nordstrom of Camrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Allen were away during the weekend on a trip with their motor home at points in Central Alberta.

Cold temperatures and a penetrating rain set in Sunday and stopped all harvest operations. Many gardens in the district were touched by frost, some quite severely.

The Holden Agrifaction was a very successful event, held August 13th in the Holden and District Complex. There was a good showing of entries in the various classes, the senior citizens of Holden showing baking, rugs and other articles of fancy work and crafts. Many beautiful flowers were shown and lovely fruit and vegetables.

At the 61st annual Bruce Stampede, held July 27th, around 7,000 packed the stands to watch the events. The stampede is one of the first started in the very early pioneer days. Teresa Pederson of Bawil was crowned Stampede Queen at the dance held the previous Saturday night. Lucky ticket holders were George Curtis of Sirome, 1st prize of $300.00; J. P. Brussen of Daysland, winning 2nd of $75.00 and Ron and Donna Desmarais of Coquitlam, B.C., 3rd prize of $50.00. The Butler team were winners of the horseshoe tournament.

Black rat trapped in an Edmonton building face to face with destroyed telephone wire.

Edmonton's rat problem over

Edmonton's newest rat problem is officially ended.

More than a month has passed since the last roof or black rat was seen, trapped or poisoned from the walls of a building in the city's downtown area, says Alberta Agriculture's supervisor of animal pest control, Cliff Barrett.

About 10 rats were trapped and destroyed after complaints were made to the City of Edmonton this spring. An estimated several dozen more rats died in the walls from poisoned bait.

We'd like to congratulate the City on the prompt and dedicated action it shown in general, and particularly showed in this case, "says Mr. Barrett." It did everything required to get the infestation cleaned up."

As a result of Alberta's rat-free status, many Albertans don't know what a rat looks like. Pocket gophers, muskrats, squirrels and woodrats are all frequently reported as rats by well-meaning residents who have never seen a Norway rat or a roof rat.

"So we were disturbed to find there were some black rats here in Edmonton which hadn't been reported. They chewed off a telephone cable, and the first report was of some very large mice Well, they did have some rather large mice"

The infestation was cleared up by a pest control firm on contract to the City

Mr Barrett feels the failure to report the rat problem was unfortunate Alberta's rat control program is based on one part-time and rat bait-time pest control officers, and 250 volunteer honorary pest control officers but mainly on the concern and co-operation of Albertans in general

"The Edmonton case showed a breakdown in the reporting system."

Roof or black rats are an oriental species, and the Edmonton rats are believed to have arrived in a packing crate from Hong Kong

"The fact the rats weren't reported increased the hazard of spread, but so far no reports have come in from elsewhere to indicate they did spread."

Like Norway rats, black rats are carriers of the bubonic plague organism. This, along with the conditions of rat damage, is the reason for Alberta's vigilance in keeping the province rat-free.

The black rats found in Edmonton are different in appearance from Norway rats. They are smaller, with large ears and longer tails at least equal to their body length. Their fur is darker, and they're more agile.

Most rats enter Alberta overland from the east, between Cold Lake in the north and the American border in the south. The province's southern border, fronting on the state of Montana, presents no rat entry problem. The northern part of Montana is sparsely populated, with long distances between communities, and rat entries from the state are not considered a problem. Rats also enter infrequently from the west.

Rats destroy an estimated $20 to $30 each annually when they damage crops, stored grains, and equipment, Mr. Barrett says.

"Some geographical areas have come to believe rats can't be cleaned out . . . that they're unreliable, like death and taxes. But while it may require a high outlay to eliminate rats, the returns are tremendous."

Moving along

Paving work on the streets in Tofield was moving along well last week, with pavement on Main Street by the end of the week being laid as far north as the Co-op Store. Residents are eagerly looking forward to the completion of the project, which would mark not only the end of the frustrating and rough driving conditions in town during this summer's road work, but also the end of the mud and dust which have always plagued Tofield's busier streets.

Garden Club wins provincial honors

by Doris Brown

The 21st Provincial Horticultural Show and Calgary's 68th annual Horticultural Show was held on Aug. 24th and 25th at Exhibition Centre and Stampede Park in Calgary.

One of the 585 classes was an 8 ft. Horticulture Display open to clubs. The Tofield Garden Club entered the on a club project and received 1st prize.

Since 1958, the Calgary Horticulture Society has given a trophy and memorial award for the most outstanding exhibit of the entire show. The Tofield club was the recipient of this honour. Yvonne Brown accepted these awards on behalf of the club and thanked Calgary for their hospitality as the Tofield group had been invited to the judge's luncheon at noon and the director's banquet in the evening, at which Grant MacEwan was guest speaker. Yvonne invited everyone to visit Tofield for the Provincial Show in 1976.

The awards received were an engraved shield from the Alberta Horticulture Association, and a challenge trophy, memorial award and Rosette, given by the Calgary Horticultural Society. These awards will be displayed at business places in Tofield over the next few months.

Besides the awards received by the club, Myrna Herbert, Yvonne and Donald Brown received individual placings in six other classes.

The 8 ft square club display was built and taken to Calgary by Wilmer and Myrna Herbert, Glen and Therese Jones and Peter and Yvonne Brown. Plants used in the display were contributed by Gladys Gell, Kaetha Brown, Idarie Wortma, Mary Rempel, Lillian Berrocchi, Therese Jones, Myrna Herbert and Yvonne Brown.

The next major undertaking for the Tofield Garden Club will be the hosting of the Provincial Horticulture Show in the summer of 1976.

Plan for inevitable

Farmers in the Dodds-Round Hill district held another meeting last week to discuss with the Farmers Advocate some of the actions they should take in the event that Calgary Power launches action again to develop the coal resources of the area for electric power generation.

We weren't informed of the meeting, and unfortunately we have no information on what action took place during the discussions, but we would hope that sometime during the program it was uggested that consideration should be given towards means of planning the greatest amount of control and personal involment of the farmers in the event the program does proceed.

It's easy to understand the concern of the farmers, and it's easy to sympathise with it. All the same, we feel it's about as productive as was the action of King Canute in trying to hold back the waves.

Our own opinion is that the development is inevitable . . . the only question is one of when. Whether it comes ahead of other developments, such as one near Hanna, for instance, or afterwards.

And if it's inevitable, it really doesn't matter whether action taken is a little earlier than necessary, or not, so long as it is taken in time enough to be effective.

It's fairly well known there are some farmers in the area who are old enough and tired enough to want to retire, even though their land may not be the first parcel that would be selected for development. And there are other, younger farmers, who want to hold on for years. And probably some of these are sited right in the middle of early action areas. Some would be happy to move off the land forever, while others would feel bitterly unhappy if moved.

Under these circumstances, why would it not be possible to form a regional corporation, owning all of the land proposed for development. Representation on the board of directors could include a balanced number of power utility people and farmers, with specially selected experts acceptable to both sides with particular knowledge of the soil and farm situation, to act as umpires, or mediators, or tie breakers, or what have you. Such people could come from the Farmers Advocate, or recognized impartial District Agriculturists, or probably many other sources.

On such a basis, the older farmer could dispose of his land to the corporation, which might turn it over until it was needed, to one of the younger farmers displaced in the initial developments, who could then continue to farm, in the same general neighborhood, and in much the same way as he is used to. By the time the outer area land was needed for development, the central land would in all probability have had time to be rehabilitated, and the younger farmer could move back in, possibly even to his old farmstead.

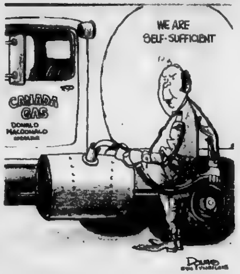
Given careful evaluation of the condition and quality of the land in the first place, and equal care in appraising the condition of the reclaimed land, surely a team of umpires could asses the value added or the value lost in the mining program, to the satisfaction of the landowners and of the utility firm, and compensation for the difference could be worked out.

In addition, if those farmers who wished to remain on the land simply turned their acres over to the corporation, with a claim for an equal number of acres later on, rather than accepting cash at the moment, they would be able to continue farming long after the coal program was over, even though it is estimated as a thirty year program. Cash for the retiring farmer would be ideal, but for the young man, it would be a real problem. Given normal inflation and escalation in land prices, it is unlikely there would be enough money at the end of the thirty year program to buy back his original land, even if all the capital and interest remained intact for that purpose. And in the meantime, what would he do for housing and work? It would take the returns from an entire quarter section of land, at $300 per acre, just to buy him a simple little bungalow in Camrose . . . and prices here are lower than they are in major centres.

This method of returning land to the farmer-owners should work well, for the utility company has no interest in the land after the coal is used up, and would be putting it on the market in any case. At the same time, it provides a means of handling objectively all the problems that may develop over the period of acquiring and assembling all the rights which will be needed, and of the personal problems that would otherwise be presented to a large number of people who would have to move from the community they have known, the church they have known, and the friends they have known, over many years.

Even if it's early, such action would by no means be wasted.

And as we read all the signs and indicators, the pressure for development is slowly but continuously building up, to the point where it will be inevitable to proceed.



Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

VICTORIA, P.E.I. - (SF) - Once or twice each summer the people of this tiny fishing village move their Sunday church service outside to hold it in the shadow of the stacked lobster pots. Holidays for this family this year were, coincidentally, just right to attend one of those dockside services.

You could spot the tourists attending by their casual dress but the regulars wore customary church clothes. - suits, jackets and ties. The folding chairs were overflowing 10 minutes before the service began and late comers stood leaning on parked cars at the back

The minister sported a neck microphone, TV style, and he opened the service by announcing a bagpipe solo. Some of the tourists clapped but the locals maintained an approving, decorous silence Before the service was over, we'd heard from three young girls singing, selections by two local choirs, a flute solo and a torchy rendition of "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," sung by a local girl now studying at London's Conservatory of Music. It was a great service and in a marvelous setting, exactly the kind of thing which demonstrated the benefits of living in Canada's smaller communities.

There are drawbacks, though. We discovered that staple foods have soared higher than ever in price on Prince Edward Island, as they do every summer when the tourists arrive with their money. It's great for the merchants but terribly hard on local people. Milk, for example, costs 20 cents more for a three quart package. Bread is 10 cents more a loaf than usual and eggs, butter and flour all cost extra Equate that with the lower wages paid, and you wonder what people have to sing about so enthusiastically Sing they do, though, and you'll seldom meet a more contented crowd.

Question of confidence

Recently offered to the buying public, shares of the much-touted Canadian Development Corporation drew somewhat cool response in the first few days of issue, so the experts went back to the drawing boards, and came up with a couple of additional goodies. The rate of interest on the issue was raised by one full percentage point, while the period of guaranteed redemption was shortened from ten to five years.

And suddenly the shares took off.

For our money, that's exactly when they should have gone dead. If the principals planning the issue couldn't read their company's capabilities any better than that, or the market's probable acceptance of the issue any better than that, it seems hard to predict a bright future for the company, even though it may be shored up with all kinds of government (that is to say, taxpayer) money, and start off with some real plums, like Texasgulf, in its holdings.

The concept seems excellent, and should certainly be applauded, seeking to make it possible for the ordinary Canadian to have an investment role and not just the taxpayer's role in developing major Canadian corporations and industries. Yet somehow when the politicians build in avenues whereby political influence can be exercised, such corporations all too often seem to lose touch with economic reality.

OATS - CEREAL OF THE FUTURE

Oats have the potential to help solve the world's food needs. When all the world's best lands are growing high value crops, its poorer soils -- to which oats are suited - will have to grow the extra food needed by a larger population Agriculture Canada has bred new varieties of high protein oats and a new class of oats which goes dormant over the winter

FREEZE FOR FRESHNESS:

There is nothing like freezing to provide food as nearly like the fresh food as possible. Frozen produce makes it possible to serve adequate, well-balanced meals the year round, at reasonable cost.

There are seven steps to success in freezing foods:

1) SELECT only fresh foods of high quality. The condition of a food before freezing determines its quality when served.

2) PREPARE foods quickly and carefully. Follow instructions as outlined herein for cleaning, cutting, blanching and packing.

3) PACKAGE in odorless, [illegible] moisture-vapor-resistant freezer containers or wrappings to prevent the food from drying out and to protect it from absorbing [illegible]

4) FREEZE foods at 0 degree F or lower as soon as possible after packaging. If a delay is unavoidable place each package in the refrigerator as soon as it has [illegible]

5) STORE frozen foods at 0 degree F or lower with as little variation in temperature as possible.

6) THAW frozen foods properly and use soon after thawing.

7) COOK frozen foods carefully according to directions. Cook thawed meat and poultry in the same way as fresh. Do not overcook frozen vegetables.

Avoid high seasonings. Pepper, cloves, garlic and synthetic vanilla may become strong and bitter. Salt, onion and chili lose flavour and salt increases the rate of fat rancidity. Add salt at serving time. Green pepper and pimento may get stronger Nutmeg, cinnamon and sage within their original strength.

To get the best use out of your freezer, it is important to follow the directions of the manufacturer DO NOT freeze more than 25 to 30 pounds of [illegible] food at one time. A larger amount will raise the temperature in the freezer and lengthen the freezing time. Food should be thoroughly frozen within 24 hours.

It is important to label all packages with the name of the food, the date frozen and any other details that will be helpful when the food is to be thawed or cooked. Keep an up-to-date inventory of the contents of the freezer. Be sure to record foods as they are put in and taken out. Organize the space in your freezer. A freezer in which the foods are systematically arranged will generally hold many more packages than one which is poorly organized.

Remember to use; not save, the food in your freezer. We have two good "Freezing Foods" publications available. Write or phone for your copies.

Beaver Council briefs

COUNTY OF BEAVER COUNCIL MINUTES, AUGUST 14th, 1975.

Present were: Crs. Armitage, Brissard, Ewanish, Knudslien, Kropielnicki, McIntosh, and [illegible]

Due to the resignation of Cr [illegible] and the [illegible] of John McIntosh, the meeting had been called as a Statutory Meeting to elect a Reeve and other Committee Members.

The meeting was called to order at 10:15 a.m. by the secretary-treasurer, Robert Cross.

[illegible] oath as a representative of the Council for Division 2, replacing Cr Roddick.

Nominations were now called for the position of Reeve for the County of Beaver No. 9. Cr George Knudslien was nominated by Cr. Sears. Moved that nominations cease.

Cr Knudslien took the chair as Reeve of the County of Beaver and welcomed Cr McIntosh to the Council.

Cr. Knudslien called for nominations for Deputy Reeve.

Cr Kropielnicki was nominated by Cr Ewanish. Moved that [illegible]

Motion 371 of the meeting of July 10th, 1975 authorized Jack Roddick to be a member of the Viking Hospital Board and Vialta Lodge Board as a representative of the County Council. Moved that Motion 371 of the meeting of July 10th, 1975 be confirmed.

Moved that Cr McIntosh be allowed to attend the meetings of the Viking Hospital District and Vialta Lodge, as an observer.

Moved that Cr. McIntosh replace Cr. Ewanish on the Regional Recreation Board.

Moved that Cr Knudslien and Cr. Kropielnicki be appointed as members to the Road Study Committee.

Moved that Cr. Knudslien and any other members be authorized to attend the meetings of the Edmonton Union of Municipal Districts and Counties.

Moved that the Public Works Shop Committee be Crs. Ewanish, Knudslien, Kropielnicki and [illegible]

Moved that the Council representatives on the Seed Cleaning Plant Board be Crs. Sears and McIntosh.

Moved that the Salary Committee consist of Crs. Knudslien, Sears and Kropielnicki.

As there was no further business for the Statutory Meeting it was moved that the meeting be adjourned.

Moved that the Council proceed with the regular meeting.

Moved that the minutes of the regular meeting of July 10th, 1975 be approved.

Moved that the Minutes of the Court of Revision held on May 5th, and June 12th, be approved.

Cr Brissard reported on the Viking Hospital Board. He advised that the plans are proceeding with the new hospital. They have made tours of two hospitals, one in Jasper and the other in Wainwright, as they are required to submit proposals to the Provincial Government prior to the appointment of an architect.

Cr Kropielnicki reported on the Tofield Hospital Board. The Hospital Board has discussed the curtailing of services by the Tofield medical staff in Holden and Ryley. It was rumored that the Tofield Medical Clinic was going to re-establish an office in Holden, however nothing concrete has developed to this date.

As it was reported at the meeting of July 10th, that the Daysland Medical Clinic was prepared to supply Medical services to Holden, it was moved that Crs. Kropielnicki and Ewanish be authorized to contact the Council of the Village of Holden in regard to the use of the office in the house used by the Vegreville Health Unit.

Cr Sears reported that the Tofield Hospital District has purchased a new ambulance.

Laurie Weatherill, Agricultural Fieldman attended the meeting at this time.

Mr Weatherill discussed the Mayweed problem and the problems that they are having enforcing the regulations.

It appears that there is going to be quite a bit of business in regard to the Agricultural problems. Moved that an Agricultural Committee meeting be held on August 19th, and the Weed Inspectors be asked to attend this meeting.

Lawrence Hermanutz and Dave Daniels from the Water Resources Division of the Department of Environment attended the meeting at this time. Also attending were Jack Roddick, former Cr of Division 2, Vince Malloy, and Vic Istace. In regard to the Water Drainage Projects which have been discussed over the last period of a few months and also some new projects which have been surveyed in Division 2. The Water Resources Branch were interested in getting all of our projects lined up and setting our priorities on their construction, and to see if the Department of Environment will finance a portion of these projects.

While in attendance, the representatives of the Water Resources Division were asked questions on other drainage projects which had been discussed previously.

The Water Drainage of Camp Lake was discussed with them and they advised that they can see no reason why Camp Lake should not be lowered. Apparently there have been some questions raised by other residents of the area wondering whether this is a reasonable solution to the problem. Mr Daniels suggested that the drainage of Camp Lake, by lowering the lake 1½ - 2 feet is only bringing it back to a level that it would have been had the road not blocked the drainage from the lake, and could see no reason why there should be objection to lowering the lake level.

Cr. Kropielnicki asked the policy of the Department in regards to draining water into the Vermilion River Basin. Mr. Hermanutz suggested that water could be drained on a controlled basis as there is a project under way to improve the channel on this river.

The representatives from the Water Resources Division retired at this time.

After considerable discussion regarding the priorities on the drainage project, it was moved that the following projects be submitted to the Department of Environment in order of their priority.

1. Sec. 31 and 32-50-12-W4th and 5-50-12- W4th Sec 12-49-13-W4th.

These are equal in priority as the road grades are under water.

2. Sec. 3, 7, 18, and 19-47-14-[illegible]

3. West of Sec 13-49-19-W4th.

4. Certain sections in Township 50 and 51-16-W4th previously submitted to the Water Resources Branch, under file 83 H-8.

5. Sections 4, 9, 10, and 15-49-12-W4th Section 17 and 20-49-12-W4th.

6. Torlea Area.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that he had compiled the information required in order to have petitions for water and sewer submitted to the County Council by the Hamlets of Bruce and Kinsella. However no new information was available at this time.

Moved that the matter of a Zoning By-Law be dealt with at the September 11th, meeting.

As a result of correspondence with the Department of Environment in regard to the Regional Landfill Site, two gentlemen from this Department, Mr. Prichard and Mr. Simpson had been into the County Office to discuss this matter. They are in the process of compiling a new policy with regard to landfill sites, and expect when this policy is completed it will mean that 2 or more municipalities could be involved in a Regional Site. This would mean that the County of Beaver plus some of the villages or towns could get together to establish a Regional Landfill Site. The gentlemen from the Department of Environment suggested that we contact the towns and villages to see if they would be interested in such a Landfill Site. The Department of Environment would like to see one site in the County of Beaver which would take in all of the municipalities involved. They would purchase the land, fence it, and supply equipment which would be available to bury garbage as it was delivered.

Moved that the Secretary-Treasurer set up meetings with the town and village councils to see if they are interested in being involved in a Regional Landfill Site for the County.

A letter from Disaster Services advised that our claim for flooded roads, which we submitted recently cannot be accepted as their program was finalized on March 31st, and no further claim could be accepted.

A letter from the Battle River Tourist Association requested that they be allowed to attend one of our Council meetings.

Moved that we advise Battle River Tourist Association that they can attend the next Council meeting on September 11th.

A letter from the Department of Transport in regard to our 1975 Bridge request advised that they concur in our recommendations. They wish to be advised three months in advance for the supplying of culverts to the sites indicated in their 1975 requests.

A letter from the Water Resources Division of the Department of Environment requested information on the Round Hill Flood Control Project. They wish to be advised as to the work which has been completed to date. Cr Knudslien advised that all of the work had been completed except seeding the banks and that some rip-rapping of erosion areas would be required. Moved this report be accepted and forwarded to the Department of Environment.

A letter from the Department of Transportation was received in regards to the cultivation of the ditch bottoms on Secondary Road number 92h. They do not wish the farmers to cultivate these ditch bottoms as it creates the possibility of erosion and the siltation of culverts.

A letter from the Department of Agriculture advised that subsequent to a meeting at the Vegreville Smith Research Station by the Honorable Mr Whalen Mr Whalen had advised that they are not going to make this a self sufficient station. It will still be under the direction of the Lacombe Experimental Station.

Due to the change in the County Council new officers will have to be appointed to sign on behalf of the County. Moved that Cr Knudslien, Reeve, Walter Kropielnicki, Deputy Reeve, Robert Cross, Secretary-Treasurer and Ronald Pepper be authorized to sign on behalf of the County Council.

The length of County Council meetings was discussed. Some of the council expressed the opinion that due to the distance that some of the members have to travel, that a definite time limit should be put on council meetings.

Moved that the County Council meetings be from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

A request had been received from the Kinsella Recreation [illegible] the breaker box at the town well for power to the Kinsella Skating Rink. Moved that this request be approved.

Moved that the meeting adjourn and reconvene on August 19th.

SANDWICH TIME:
It's back to school time once again . . . and back to packed lunches.
This week let's look at sandwich ideas.
There are four basic ideas to bear in mind in sandwich making. Make them attractive, make them appetizing, make them nutritious and make them satisfying.
The variety of sandwich fillings is limitless. Fillings should be flavoursome and well-seasoned. Make fillings moist to facilitate spreading and to prevent dryness. Solid ingredients in fillings should be finely chopped or cashed.
Agriculture Canada suggests garden sandwiches. When vegetables are combined with cheese or eggs, they make wholesome, satisfying lunches.

CARROT RAW SANDWICH
2 cups finely shredded carrot
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup raisins
½ cup mayonnaise salad dressing
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ tsp. nutmeg
4 ounces cream cheese, softened
8 slices rye bread, buttered
Combine all ingredients except cheese and bread. Spread cheese on each bread slice. Spoon carrot mixture. 8 open-face sandwiches.

VEGETABLE EGG SALAD FILLING
¾ cup finely chopped radishes
1½ cups finely chopped unpeeled cucumber
3 tbsp. finely chopped green pepper
3 tbsp. finely chopped onion one third cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
12 slices whole wheat bread, buttered
Combine all ingredients except bread. Spread on six slices bread and top with remaining slices. Makes six sandwiches.

SOAP, LOTION AND CREAM RECIPES:
This is a new publication from Alberta Agriculture. It gives you the basic formula for soap; then tells you how to vary it to make glycerine soap, saddle soap and shampoo soap. Would you like to make your own cold cream, hand lotion or after shave lotion? This pamphlet tells you how. write for your copy.

Ryley playground leads in season
Reminded by Lee Wards

The Ryley playground was the scene of a busy place this summer, with 42 children taking part in the activities.
There was a bike trip, circus, track meet, birthday days and numerous other things, with the crafts being the highlight of the day.
The kids raised enough money from a raffle for a trip to Story Land Valley Zoo and a wind-up wiener roast with prizes for games played.
Marvin Nackonachy was the panda bear cake and Mrs. M. Pederson was the chocolates.
Cheryl and Janice would not have been able to enjoy all this without the help of the kids and mums.

Students are home from Jamaica trip

by Grace Phillips

The group of people from Tofield School who travelled to Jamaica this past summer, returned home during the third week of August. Some returned by jet from Toronto and were met by friends and relatives at the Edmonton International Airport in a tearful, happy reunion. Other members returned by train and were granted the privilege of having the CN transcontinental train stop in Tofield, just to let them off! By now the students are into the routine of home and school, sharing some wonderful experiences with family, and friends.

While in Jamaica, the six students worked for three to four hours, four days a week, at various work sites in Kingston, the capital city of Jamaica. These sites included, Excelsior College, Jamaican Red Cross, the university and Children's Hospitals and the St. Andrew's and Operation Friendship Summer schools. Each site offered the participants some worthwhile experiences in interpersonal relations and cultural exchange. The weekends were spent "exploring" Kingston and the rest of the Island giving students the rare opportunity to share ideas with, and see people of a different race and culture.

The six-week stay was periodically scheduled to include time for personal and group reflection or experiences, and the opportunity to discuss them with knowledgable people from all walks of Jamaican life. Each of the participants is now involved in preparing a report on any aspect of Jamaican life she experienced. The group was also recently given the opportunity to share these experiences with the ladies of the United Church in Tofield.

Besides unforgettable and fond memories, the students also acquired an understanding, through direct personal contact, of the diversity among peoples of

by Grace Phillips

Tofield High School's annual graduation ceremonies will be held on Saturday night in the Community Hall.

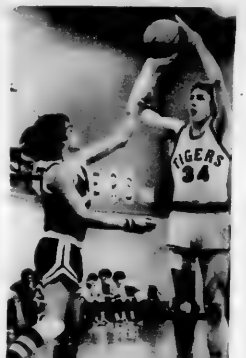
Twenty-one students will be graduating.



STANDING ON HIS OWN LEG, Mike Hays, 15-year-old high school sophomore in Junction City, Ore., plays a mean game of basketball. The 6-4 Mike averaged 18 points a game and shot 79 per cent from the freethrow line as a freshman. His artificial leg prevents him from being a starter.

Bad faith?

Postmaster Bryce Mackasey and the Dominion Government have been charged with bad faith in negotiations, by the leader of postal workers in Quebec, where a strike may develop in only a matter of days.

Surely it seems ludicrous to hear bad faith charged by the leader of a group that came to the bargaining table demanding salary increases of seventy-one percent, and a reduction in the work week from forty to thirty hours. The existing contract was deemed good enough to sign only about a year ago, and nothing in the world could suggest that terms which were acceptable then could be so far out of line now.

Mr. Mackasey has said he's quite prepared to lock up the Post Offices, if a strike develops, over a number of weeks, and surely this is what will happen, for the postal union is funded sufficiently to pay strike pay for at least a three month period.

Undoubtedly there will be other means devised of getting correspondence delivered from Point A to Point B, and it may eventually mean the Post Office will just turn the whole business over to private contractors. They could even be forced to sell all their new highly automated sorting devices and ultra-modern terminals, if it gets to that point, for there would be no need for sorting machinery if the business is taken over.

But even the government cannot forever continue to support an unreasonably expensive and costly operation, particularly in the face of seemingly decreased effectiveness. Canada's new postal code and the machinery to make it operational could give us the most efficient and effective postal system in the world today, but the whole thing can be slowed to the point of being ineffective by a small number of workers throwing sand in the gears, figuratively speaking as well as literally.

Hurray for Beryl

Why should anyone in Alberta, or Ottawa, worry about what's happening in the food industry in British Columbia? Out there, supermarkets have locked out workers and closed operations, until they can get a guarantee that work will continue on a stable basis.

But what has that to do with Alberta, or elsewhere? Well, it should be pretty obvious that what happens there will very shortly affect every community across the country, as more and more locals of unions strike for "parity".

And the employing food chains there, faced with what are considered preposterous demands, have resisted. In the face of requests for over eighty percent increases, they've offered something like twenty-five.

This offer is still considered absurdly high in other areas, which led Prices and Food Board director Beryl Plumptre of Ottawa to urge more responsibility on the food industry, employers and employees, in the interest of consumers all across the country.

A recent traveller to that area commented on all the unrest and unhappiness prevailing in B.C. and at the same time noted that food prices are substantially lower just a few miles across the border, and all through the States.

With meat and other produce trading across the border, even in the face of quotas, it's fairly obvious that producers in the States must be getting approximately what Canadian producers bring home for their calves, hogs, grain and vegetables. That being the case, the only obvious place for cutting prices must lie in distributive costs and profits.

And while B.C. consumers are still managing to get enough food supplies at neighborhood groceries to fill out reserves laid in for such an emergency, it won't take long for the distributive system to break down, because it isn't geared for this type of small quantity operation. Even though the public isn't hurting a great deal yet, either the federal or provincial government, or both, owe it to the consumers right across Canada to see that they don't fall victim to an attempt to jack up the entire economy by the bootstraps of B.C.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — Late summer is the traditional time for the Trudeau Cabinet to have the annual all-day bull session at Meech Lake, outside the Capital, in the Gatineau Hills.

It's a session when all ministers let down their hair and talk in broad terms about government directions, philosophies of government, and Liberal aims. Usually very little leaks from the Meech Lake session, but drifts and drabs begin appearing in statements from Cabinet ministers in early fall.

This year at Meech Lake you can count on the Canadian economy receiving high priority, and you can expect the ministers to discuss at length possible Canadian policies concerning methods of achieving national aims for sovereignty in the Arctic, Pacific, and Atlantic coasts.

Prime Minister Trudeau was pretty definite in his early August press conference about the route Canada will follow on the offshore sovereignty issue. He said then that unilateral Canadian declaration of 200 miles jurisdiction was one of the options the Cabinet was considering, but that such a move would be taken only in a last resort.

Trudeau is convinced that Canada can achieve her aims through negotiations with the nations which traditionally fish in waters off Canadian coasts, and win agreement for Canadian claims at the Law of the Sea Conference. That route is the better one to follow, said Trudeau, because in some areas Canada wear more than jurisdiction over 200 miles of coastal waters.

The Trudeau government, though, is naive in assuming that once international agreement is obtained to Canadian claims, the need for policing our off-shore waters will diminish. Currently we are involved on a fisheries dispute with the Soviet Union because the Soviets have taken twice as many fish as they are allowed under North Atlantic fishing agreements. It's clear case of the Soviets violating an international agreement. What makes Trudeau think that the Soviets would be any more willing to abide by new international or bilateral agreements?

No, if we are going to make claims off shore, we're going to need equipment and inspection staff to enforce those claims. To think otherwise is foolish in the extreme.

Round Hill,

Dear Sir,

We, the taxpayers of Round Hill, have been quiet for sometime, and we thought it rude was quiet perhaps the Camrose County School Committee would do the same but they have been making noises lately that are a long ways from the truth

FIRSTLY they have broadcast on the air that they are sorry to see us sending our students to Ryley over such great distances I would like to point out that their proposal to Bawlf, using their own figures, meant a ride for the far theu student of 122 miles per day. To Ryley the longest ride is 68 miles per day.

SECONDLY they say they are sorry to see the government grant money going to another school system All we can say is that if they can't give us the service they they should n't get the grant

THIRDLY the Bawlf curriculum would only have offered our grade eleven students one senior matriculation subject as the first semester whereas in Ryley they get two

In response to an article on the front page of the September 3rd Canadian I have strong feelings concerning the Camrose County School Committee remark that they have given the County of Beaver permission to run a bus route in their county for one year only I would like to inform the Camrose County that we are not living in Russia yet and I will send my students anywhere I please when I please This is the same dictatorial attitude we recevied at any meetings we had with the school committee and we are not accustomed to being treated as peasants.

The Camrose County gets we educational tax dollars but couldn t see fit to educate our High School students in a manner acceptable to us, and yet the County of Beaver put on a special bus in order to educate our students,without our tax dollars

In answer to an earlier letter by the former assistant county school superintendent Mr Smith, wherin he stated that the county needed an assistant superintendents position to get a special government grant for remedial education, I would like to point out that this grant is available whether an assistant is hired or not Further the County of Beaver gets the same grant and has matched it dollar for dollar because they felt it was such a good program The County of Beaver has put $120 000 into the program including the grant, whereas according to Mr. Smith the County of Camrose only puts in the grant of $60 000 less two thirds of his wages ($12,000?) for a total remedial program of $96,333.00

What a difference!

The Round Hill end of the Camrose County has been sucking the blind teat too long and now we are going to do something about it.

A petition is being circulated to take all of township 48-18-W4 and the eastern 2 miles of township 48-19-W4 out of the Camrose County to join the Beaver County for several reasons.

1. The disinterest of the Camrose County in our road situation (we have been the forgot ten end too long)

2. The snow removal in the County of Beaver is much better than in our end of the Camrose County

3. The withdrawal of a complete school system in our division by the Camrose County.

4. Our education tax dollars are going to the County of Camrose, but the County of Beaver is educating our High School students.

5. The County of Beaver has three oiled roads coming to the county boundaries but Camrose won't further them. (The one they did flopped)

6. County tax dollars are being funnelled into the City of Camrose in some instances which do not give any benefit to us in this distant area.

We have been in touch with the boundaries commission and they have been quite receptive.

Perhaps then we can get some roads.

All I can say further is that it is a pleasure to do business with people of a receptive nature.

Yours truly
Bernie von Tettenborn.

Present were: Cn. Armitage, Bohonos, Kwasnik, Knaulcher, Krupinski, McIntosh, and Sorge.

The meeting was called to order by the Reeve, Cr. Knaulcher at 10:00 a.m.

A letter from Can Pac Minerals Ltd. advised that they have received permission from the Provincial Government to carry out water drilling tests in the County of Beaver and also they have received permission to do road testing in the County.

A letter from the Provincial Planning Department advised that they refused the Application for Subdivision of the S.W. 1 and the S.E. 6-51-19.

Information from the Vegreville Health Unit advised that the water in the Bruce well requires incessant chlorination.

Kerring Explorers and Services Ltd. advised that they will be doing a geophysical survey in Township 50, Ranges 15, 17 and 18, West of the 4th, within the next two weeks.

There was some discussion on the amount of damage these exploration companies are causing the roads in the County of Beaver. They are posting in approaches with an culvert and leaving the approaches when they are finished causing road flooding in the spring.

Moved that we contact the Resolutions Council and the Department of Mines and Minerals to see if there is some way we can insure these exploration companies to repair the damage after they have completed their survey.

Information from the Canadian Transport Commission advised that hearings are to be held regarding the Application of the C.N.R. to abandon a portion of the Height subdivision and the Kitscoty subdivision. These are being abandoned due to the lack of business on these lines.

Anderson Gas Co-op Ltd. have requested that we allow them to construct regulator stations close to the road allowances in the S.W. 23-48-16-W4th and S.W. 15-48-15-W4th. The farmers affected by these regulator stations did not want these to set back in their fields, which would be necessary to comply with our by-law of having an easement within 125 feet of the road allowances. The request from Anderson Gas Co-op advised that they would move these regulator stations at their expense if the road allowances were to be upgraded.

Moved that this request be approved.

A request from Alberta Gas Trunk Line Ltd. requested approval for crossing road allowances with a four inch natural gas pipeline from the S.W. 36-49-16 to the S.E. 6-50-15.

Moved that this request be approved.

Correspondence from Libbie, Ashroyd, Bradley & Company indicates that the Pre Commodity Centre Amendation wishes to be reactivated for the purpose of disposition of the property. The lawyers wanted to know if the County had any objection to this action.

Moved that the County of Beaver has no objection to the disposition of the Pre Commodity Property.

A copy of a proposal for a completely new County which had been submitted by the Boundaries Committee by the Town of Vegreville was discussed at this time. A map which was enclosed with the submission, showed that this new County would take in approximately half of the County of Beaver. A letter from the County of Minburn, and the submission that they made to the Boundaries Commission was also discussed. Strong opposition had been expressed by the Counties concerns, which are, Counties of Minburn, Lamont and Two Hills.

Moved that we express strong opposition to the proposal for a new County as submitted by the Town of Vegreville.

Moved that a request for approval for a subdivision in the S.E. 31-49-W4th be approved subject to the road restrictions regarding roads.

Moved that a request for a subdivision in the S.E. 5-47-16-W4th be approved subject to the road restrictions.

Moved that a request for a subdivision in the S.E. 9-50-20-W4th be refused due to the size of the subdivision parcels not meeting the County policy.

A presentation by C.J. Woods Sales Ltd. for the construction of a motel Public Works Repair Shop was presented to Council at this time. The Council felt that a new building was absolutely necessary due to the equipment which we have at the present time. The old building was adequate when we were using only Cats and Scrapers, but with the Graders and the number of Road Graders we have now, the old building is not adequate. It does not have room for winter repairs, while road graders are in demand for removal of snow. The financing of a building was discussed and the Secretary-Treasurer advised that under the Municipal Government Act the County Council can authorize a loan for three years, providing the repayment per year does not exceed a five mills.

Cr. McIntosh requested he be excused from voting on a motion for the construction of a new grader shed. He has not been involved in previous discussion on this matter and he does not feel that he should vote on it.

Moved that Cr. McIntosh be excused from voting on the construction of a Public Works building.

Moved that the County Council construct a new Public Works Shop.

Moved that we accept the plan as presented by C.J. Woods Ltd., including provision for a twin post lifter.

Moved that the Shop Committee proceed with the necessary plans and arrangements for the acquisition of land for the Public Works building.

There are some discussion on the matter of changing some of the yield signs to stop signs in the County. Moved that this matter be tabled to the September meeting.

A request from Brian Campbell of Ellerslie requested information regarding the operation of a gas fitting and plumbing business in Edmonton. At once of the requirements was that approval had to be given by the County Council it was.

Moved that the Council has no objection to the operation of a gas fitting and plumbing business in Edmonton.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that Douglas Lehman had resigned as Administrative Assistant, to take a position elsewhere. He stated that he had discussed the matter of a replacement in the County Administrative position with the Superintendent of Schools and had also discussed it with the Reeve of the County, Cr. Knaulcher and the Vice-Chairman of the School Committee, Harry Wilkie. The outcome of the discussion was that we felt a better arrangement would be to appoint Ronald Pepper as Asst. Secretary-Treasurer, and advertise for an Accountant to look after the Payroll, Accounts Payable and other related duties. This had been agreed to by the above-mentioned people. As a result of this discussion, advertising had gone out for the position of an Accountant for the County of Beaver.

Moved that the Council concur to the advertising for an Accountant and to appoint Ronald Pepper as Asst. Secretary-Treasurer.

Cr. Armitage advised that Gordon Benton was interested in keeping a Pound in the N.E. 28-50-11-W4th.

Moved that we appoint Gordon Benton as Pound Keeper for the County of Beaver.

Cr. Armitage said she had been approached by Gordon Benton to see if the County Council would be interested in leasing an area of his land for a gravel pit.

Moved that this matter be tabled to the next meeting.

Louis Wentworth, Agricultural Fieldman, together with the Weed Inspectors, George Banchak, Peter Gardecki and Alex Warner attended the meeting at this time to discuss the weed program up to the present time. Mr. Wentworth advised that the spraying of Mayweed on road allowances is still in progress and it should be completed shortly. With the program that is in effect now all of the roads in the County of Beaver should be sprayed and Mayweed completely irradicated within three to four years. Mr. Wentworth discussed the irradication of Mayweed in crop land. He said he has checked out Mayweed, where it is growing in crops, and found that the Mayweed has not matured, indicating that it will not compete in crops. It appears that the only effective way to get rid of this weed in crop land is by intensive cultivation, as there is no effective way of spraying it.

As we have spent about $90,000.00 this year on the spraying of Mayweed on road allowances, it is important that, in order to not have more weeds spread, that we do our best to eliminate this weed adjacent to the road allowances. Mr. Wentworth said that he had also found a new weed, Stinkweed, in the County. This is mentioned in one town and covers about 30 acres. Also there is getting to be an infestation of Nodi. He intends to have a meeting of the farmers who have these new weeds, together with representatives of the Department of Agriculture to see if there's some method they can devise to control it. He discussed the matter of hauling grain on County roads and intends to address the act regarding the covering of truck boxes so dry and loose bean spreading weed seeds on the road allowances.

Mr. Wentworth advised that he had only issued four or five notices to farmers this summer, but feels that these notices should be enforced, otherwise there is no point in issuing them. This was reported by the County Council.

Mr. Hunchak brought up the matter of weeds in gravel pits. He indicated that the worst pit to be infested is the C.N.R. pit at Kinsella. He was advised by the County Council that he should contact the Boudmaster, Lloyd Pith, and investigate this matter to see if there is some way that these weeds can be destroyed.

Mr. Wentworth asked the Council if there would be any possibility of winter work for some of the Weed Inspectors, or Weed Cove. He would like to be able to find some work for these men so that he would have them again next year. The Council stated that they would keep this matter in mind, to see if there's some work that these people could do during the winter.

As there was no further business it was moved that the meeting adjourn.

Beaver Council briefs

MINUTES OF THE RECONVENED MEETING OF THE COUNCIL OF THE COUNTY OF BEAVER NO. 9, TUESDAY, AUGUST 19th, 1975

Present were: Cn. Jonathan Bellerud, Tweddle, Knowlton, Krupskie, McIntosh, and Sonn.

The meeting was called to order by the Reeve, Cr. Knowlton at 10:00 a.m.

A letter from Can Pac Minerals Ltd., advised that they have received permission from the Provincial Government to carry out water drilling tests in the County of Beaver and also they have received permission to do coal testing in the County.

A letter from the Provincial Planning Department advised that they refused the application for subdivision of the S.W. 5 and the S.E. 8-51-19.

Information from the Vegreville Health Unit advised that the water in the Brown well requires increased chlorination.

Koosing Explorers and Services Ltd. advised that they will be doing a geophysical survey in Township 50, Ranges 15, 17 and 18, W of the 4th, within the next two weeks.

There was some discussion on the amount of damage done exploration companies are causing the roads in the County of Beaver. They are putting in approaches with no culverts and leaving the approaches when they are finished causing road flooding in the spring.

Moved that we contact the Reclamation Council and the Department of Mines and Minerals to see if there is some way we can have these exploration companies to repair the damage after they have completed their survey.

Information from the Canadian Transport Commission advised that hearings are to be held regarding the Application of the C.N.R. to abandon a portion of the Holden subdivision and the Kingsway subdivision. There are being abandoned due to the lack of business on these lines.

Anderson Gas Co-op Ltd. have requested that we allow them to construct regulator stations close to the road allowances in the S.W. 23-48-16-W4th and S.W. 10-48-15-W4th. The farmers affected by these regulator stations did not want them to set back in their fields, which would be necessary to comply with our by-law of having no structures within 125 feet of the road allowances. The request from Anderson Gas Co-op advised that they would move these regulator stations at their expense if the road allowances were to be upgraded.

Moved that this request be approved.

A request from Alberta Gas Trunk Line Ltd. requested approval for crossing road allowances with a four inch natural gas pipeline from the S.W. 36-49-14 to the S.E. 6-50-13.

Moved that this request be approved.

Correspondence from Lilian, Ashroyd, Bradley & Company Auditors that the Pine Community Centre Association wishes to be re-evaluated for the purpose of disposition of the property. The lawyers wanted to know if the County had any objection to this action.

Moved that the County of Beaver has no objection to the disposition of the Pine Community Property.

A copy of a proposal for a completely new County which had been submitted to the Boundaries Commission by the Town of Vegreville was discussed at this time. A copy which was enclosed with the submission, showed that this new County would take in approximately half of the County of Beaver. A letter from the County of Minburn, and the submission that they made to the Boundaries Commission was also discussed. Strong opposition had been expressed by the Counties concerned, which are, Counties of Minburn, Lamont and Two Hills.

Moved that we express strong opposition to the proposal for a new County as submitted by the Town of Vegreville.

Moved that a request for approval for a subdivision in the S.E. 31-19-W4th be approved subject to the restrictions regarding roads.

Moved that a request for a subdivision in the S.E. 3-47-16-W 4th be approved subject to the road dedication.

Moved that a request for a subdivision in the S.E. 9-50-20-W 4th be refused due to the size of the subdivision parcels not meeting the County policy.

A presentation by C.S. Woods Sales Ltd. for the construction of a metal Public Works Repair Shop was presented to Council at this time. The Council felt that a new building was absolutely necessary due to the equipment which we have at the present time. The old building was adequate when we were using only Cats and Scrapers, but with the Earthils and the number of Road Graders we have now, the old building is not adequate. It does not leave room for winter repairs, while road graders are in demand for removal of snow. The financing of a building was discussed and the Secretary-Treasurer advised that under the Municipal Government Act the County Council can authorize a loan for three years, providing the repayment per year does not exceed over a five mills.

Cr. McIntosh requested he be excused from voting on a motion for the construction of a new grader shed. He has not been involved in previous discussion on this matter and he does not feel that he should vote on it.

Moved that Cr. McIntosh be excused from voting on the construction of a Public Works building.

Moved that the County Council construct a new Public Works Shop.

Moved that we accept the plan as presented by C.S. Woods Ltd., including provision for a twin post lintel.

Moved that the Shop Committee proceed with the necessary plans and arrangements for the acquisition of land for the Public Works building.

There are some discussion on the matter of changing some of the yield signs to stop signs in the County. Moved that this matter be tabled to the September meeting.

A request from Brian Campbell of Kinsella requested information regarding the operation of a gas fitting and plumbing business in Kinsella. At one of the requirements was that approval had to be given by the County Council it was.

Moved that the Council has no objections to the operation of a gas fitting and plumbing business in Kinsella.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that Douglas Lehman had resigned as Administrative Assistant, to take a position elsewhere. He stated that he had discussed the matter of a reorganization in the County Administrative positions with the Superintendent of Schools and had also discussed it with the Reeve of the County, Cr. Knowlton and the Vice-Chairman of the School Committees, Harry Wilde. As an outcome of the discussion was that we halt a better arrangement would be to appoint Ronald Pepper as Asst. Secretary-Treasurer, and advertise for an Accountant to look after the Payroll, Accounts Payable and other related duties. This had been agreed to by the above-mentioned people. As a result of this discussion, advertising had gone out for the position of an Accountant for the County of Beaver.

Moved that the Council concur in the advertising for an Accountant and to appoint Ronald Pepper as Asst. Secretary-Treasurer.

Cr. Armitage advised that Gordon Beaton was [illegible] in keeping a Pound in the N.E. 20-46-11-W 4th.

Moved that we appoint Gordon Beaton as Pound Keeper for the County of Beaver.

Cr. Armitage said she had been approached by Gordon Beaton to see if the County Council would be interested in leasing an area of his land for a gravel site.

Moved that this matter be tabled to the next meeting.

Laurie Weatherill, Agricultural Fieldman, together with the Weed Inspectors, George Hanchuk, Peter Gardocki and Alex Warner attended the meeting at this time to discuss the weed progrme up to the present time. Mr. Weatherill advised that the spraying of Maywood on road allowances is still in progress and it should be completed shortly. With the program that is in effect now all of the roads in the County of Beaver should be sprayed and Maywood completely irradicated within three to four years. Mr. Weatherill discussed the irradication of Maywood in crop land. He said he has checked out Maywood, where it is growing in crops, and found that the Maywood has not matured, indicating that it will not compete in crops. It appears that the only effective way to get rid of this weed in crop land is by intensive cultivation, as there is no effective way of spraying it.

As we have spent about $50,000.00 this year on the spraying of Maywood on road allowances, it is important that, in order to not have more weeds spread, that we do our best to eliminate this weed adjacent to the road allowances. Mr. Weatherill said that he had also loaned a new weed, Sandshill, in the County. This is restricted to one farm and covers about 30 acres. Also there is getting to be an infestation of Nodi. He intends to have a meeting of the farmers who have these new weeds, together with representatives of the Department of Agriculture to see if there's some method they can derive to control it. He discussed the matter of hauling grain on County roads and intends to enforce the law regarding the covering of truck boxes so try and keep from spreading weed seeds on the road allowances.

Mr. Weatherill advised that he had only loaned four or five metres to farmers this summer, but finds that these metres should be returned, otherwise there is no point in loaning them. This was supported by the County Council.

Mr. Hanchuk brought up the matter of weeds in gravel pits. He indicated that the worst pit in his inkmed is the C.N.R. pit at Ilkinells. He was advised by the County Council that he should contact the Roadmaster, Lls., at Flath, and investigate this matter to see if there is some way that these weeds can be destroyed.

Mr. Weatherill asked the Council if there would be any possibility of winter work for some of the Weed Inspectors, in Weed Cntr. He would like to be able to find some work for these men so that he would have them again next year. The Council stated that they would keep this matter in mind, to see if there's some work that these people could do during the winter.

As there was no further business it was moved that the meeting adjourn.

Tree harvesting is underway at the PFRA Tree Nursery at Indian Head, Saskatchewan. In the foreground is an automatic tree lifting machine which feeds the young trees by conveyor belt into storage bins. Behind, a machine developed at the nursery waits to pick up the filled bins and deliver the empty ones. This year the nursery shipped five million trees for shelterbelt use in the three Prairie Provinces.

NOMINATION NOTICE

Town of Tofield

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that I will attend at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer in Tofield, Alberta, the 26th day of September, 1975 from ten o'clock in the forenoon until 12 o'clock noon for the purpose of receiving nominations of candidates for the office of councillor for the next ensuing two years.

Given under my hand at Tofield, Alberta, this 9th day of September, 1975.

Tree Distribution System Improved

Delivery problems in the shipment of trees from the PFRA Tree Nursery at Indian Head, Saskatchewan, have been overcome thanks to co-operation by officials of the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

As a result all tree material for 1976 plantings will be packed and shipped in bulk to the Alberta Tree Nursery at Oliver next spring. Provincials supplied materials will be included with orders, which will then be forwarded to the planters.

This year PFRA, a DREE agency, provided 807,300 trees for shelterbelt planting, without charge other than shipping costs, to Alberta.

A bulk load of 375,000 caragana seedlings was shipped to the Alberta Wildlife Service for redistribution and planting.

In addition, almost 86,000 plants of 13 tree and shrub species, including 14,000 conifers were supplied to 200 individual farmers for field, roadside and farmstead shelterbelts.

COVERING GRAIN IN TRANSIT PAYS

Do you use a tarpaulin when you haul your grain? Research studies have shown that at today's grain prices you can save enough wheat in a three-ton load to pay for the tarpaulin.

For example, the Department of Agriculture reports that 17 bushels of wheat were lost from an uncovered three-ton truck travelling at 30 miles an hour over eight miles in an 18-mile an hour wind. At today's wheat prices this represents a loss of $70.55.

Here's one spring job you can finish this fall.

It's your wild oat herbicide treatment. With Avadex*BW granular herbicide by Monsanto, it's no longer necessary to put down your herbicide right in the middle of the busy spring planting season. Avadex*BW granules can go in anytime between October 1 and soil freeze-up. They'll remain locked in the soil through the winter, then automatically go to work on your wild oats following next spring's final thaw.

Check into fall-applied Avadex*BW . . . a time-saving idea.

Always read and carefully follow the Avadex*BW label instructions.

Mrs. Jim Roddick

Mr. and Mrs. George Kleinschroth, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kleinschroth, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kleinschroth attended the wedding and reception of Leonard Kleinschroth and his bride at Morrin last Saturday. They stayed overnight and spent Sunday visiting relatives and friends in the area. Joan met Clara Stroch, a sister of a girl she attended Farm Peoples Week with many years ago.

This Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. George [illegible] attended the wedding and dance of Miss Cathy Zlosman and Harvey Grabelle of Leduc, at Metropolitan United Church and Beaumont Community Hall respectively.

Natural gas has come into many homes in the last week, and more will be hooked up this coming week.

Glenn Ferguson was busy on the weekend giving the United Church a badly needed undercoat of paint.

Miss Theresa Regier and Mrs. Vernon Sears received the news, on the weekend, that their aunt, Madame Martha Rouyer was taken to Misericordia Hospital.

As the Hall was having some work done to it's interior, the September Ladies Club meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Davenport.

Roll Call was answered by a funny story. As secretary, Mrs. Pat Peterson could not be in attendance, Mrs. Jim Roddick took over her duties and Mrs. Keith Williams acted as president. Ten members and three guests were present.

Mrs. Andrew Ferguson was once again chosen as convenor of the annual bazaar to be held on November 7th.

She is to give [illegible] to all [illegible] will be in charge of tables that evening. Mrs. Albert Horvicks and Mrs. Diane Fenske offered their services in the kitchen. A September birthday was enjoyed by Mrs. Andrew Ferguson, and a birthday card presented to her. A birthday cake made by hostess, Mrs. Joe Davenport, was carried in to the room by Doris Davenport while the ladies sang "Happy Birthday". Other lunch hostess were Mrs. S. George.

The September Community League meeting was held in the hall on Wednesday evening, and although those in attendance were dressed warmly, a building that has no heat installed can become very cold. However, hot coffee served by Mrs. Albert Horvicks and Mrs. Theresa Regier helped warm up members.

Hall rentals were discussed, also the repair of the rink and goal nets. Results of the County Fair were discussed at full length, with improvements suggested for next year.

Keep fit classes sponsored by the league commence Nov. 6th with Mrs. Joan Dunham as instructress.

THE HUNTER RETURNS:

Home is the hunter . . . home from the hills. Yes, he's back . . . that man of the house who every year, treks through the bush, slushes through the sloughs and crawls over the rocks just to get a shot at, and with any luck, kill some type of wild game

Does all of that remind you that hunting season is open again? No doubt, the mighty hunter is expecting you to take his prize and turn it into a gourmet treat. For most of us, this presents a problem. Wild game and game birds require different handling and cooking techniques.

A booklet from Northwestern Utilities tells us that the "gaminess" so often objected to in wild game is simply spoiled or tainted meat, caused by neglect or lack of knowledge on the hunter's part. Their publication "Game from Field to Table" tells exactly what the hunter should do to field dress the meat. It details butchering and has some interesting recipe ideas. Call or write our office for your copy of "Game from Field to Table".

Another publication available is "The Care and Cooking of Alberta Wild Game". This booklet has many more cooking ideas. This, too, is available from our office.

I also have a few recipes for using beaver, muskrat, prairie chicken, etc. if you have need of them

TRY THIS RECIPE:

WILD DUCK A L'ORANGE

2 wild ducks
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon butter
2 cooking onions
1 orange, juice and grated rind
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup dry white wine

1. Pluck and draw ducks, wash thoroughly and pat dry.
2. Dredge ducks with flour, salt and pepper, then dot with butter.
3. Place an onion in the cavity, then wrap ducks individually in heavy foil. Seal well.
4. Place in very hot oven (500 degree F) for 20 to 25 minutes, depending on the size of the duck.
5. Combine juice and rind, cinnamon nutmeg and wine and bring to a boil.
6. Five minutes before roasting time is up, peel back the foil from the duck breasts and baste with 2 tablespoons of the sauce
7. When done, remove ducks from foil, place on serving dish and pour remainder of sauce over them. Serves 4.

News from Ministik and district

[illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. George Kleinschroth, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kleinschroth, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kleinschroth attended the wedding and reception of Leonard Kleinschroth and his bride at Morris last Saturday. They stayed overnight and spent Sunday visiting relatives and friends in the area. Joan met Clara Strauch, a sister of a girl she attended Farm Peoples Week with many years ago.

This Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Paterson and Mr. and Mrs. George [illegible] attended the wedding and dance of Miss Cathy Zieman and Harvey G[illegible] of Leduc, at Metropolitan [illegible] Church and Beaumont Community Hall respectively.

Natural gas has come into many homes in the last week, and more will be hooked up this coming week.

Glenn Ferguson was busy on the weekend giving the United Church a badly needed undercoat of paint.

Miss Theresa Bagler and Mrs. Verdon Sears received the news, on the weekend, that their aunt, Madame Martha Rouyer was taken to Misericordia Hospital.

As the Hall was having some work done to it's interior, the September Ladies Club meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Davenport.

Roll Call was answered by a funny story. As secretary, Mrs. Pat Paterson could not be in attendance, Mrs. Jim Roddick took over her duties and Mrs. Keith Williams acted as president. Ten members and three guests were present.

Mrs. Andrew Ferguson was once again chosen as convenor of the annual bazaar to be held on November 7th.

She is to give duties to all who will be in charge of tables that evening. Mrs. Albert Herricks and Mrs. Diane Fenske offered their services in the kitchen. A September birthday was enjoyed by Mrs. Andrew Ferguson, and a birthday card presented to her. A birthday cake made by hostess, Mrs. Joe Davenport, was carried in to the room by Doris Davenport while the ladies sang "Happy Birthday". Other lunch hostess were Mrs. S. George.

The September Community League meeting was held in the hall on Wednesday evening, and although those in attendance were dressed warmly, a building that has no heat installed can become very cold. However, hot [illegible] served by Mrs. Albert Herricks and Mrs. Theresa Bagler helped warm up members.

Hall rentals were discussed, also the repair of the rink and goal nets. Results of the County Fair were discussed at full length, with improvements suggested for next year.

Keep fit classes sponsored by the league commence Nov. 6th with Mrs. Joan Dunham as instructress.

THE HUNTER RETURNS:

Home is the hunter . . . home from the hills. Yes, he's back . . . that man of the house who every year, treks through the bush, sloshes through the sloughs and crawls over the rocks just to get a shot at, and with any luck, kill some type of wild game.

Does all of that remind you that hunting season is open again? No doubt, the mighty hunter is expecting you to take his prize and turn it into a gourmet treat. For most of us, this presents a problem. Wild game and game birds require different handling and cooking techniques.

A booklet from Northwestern Utilities tells us that the "gaminess" so often objected to in wild game is simply spoiled or tainted meat, caused by neglect or lack of knowledge on the hunter's part. Their publication "Game from Field to Table" tells exactly what the hunter should do to field dress the meat. It details butchering and has some interesting recipe ideas. Call or write our office for your copy of "Game from Field to Table".

Another publication available is "The Care and Cooking of Alberta Wild Game". This booklet has many more cooking ideas. This, too, is available from our office.

I also have a few recipes for using beaver, muskrat, prairie chicken, etc. if you have need of them.

TRY THIS RECIPE:
WILD DUCK A L'ORANGE

2 wild ducks
½ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon butter
2 cooking onions
1 orange, juice and grated rind
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup dry white wine

1. Pluck and draw ducks, wash thoroughly and pat dry.
2. Dredge ducks with flour, salt and pepper, then dot with butter.
3. Place an onion in the cavity, then wrap ducks individually in heavy foil. Seal well.
4. Place in very hot oven (500 degree F) for 20 to 25 minutes, depending on the size of the duck.
5. Combine juice and rind, cinnamon nutmeg and wine and bring to a boil.
6. Five minutes before roasting time is up, peel back the foil from the duck breasts and baste with 2 tablespoons of the sauce.
7. When done, remove ducks from foil, place on serving dish and pour remainder of sauce over them. Serves 4.

by Grace Phillips

Twenty-one graduates of the Tofield High School received their Grade twelve diplomas in the annual graduation exercises, held in the Tofield Community Centre on Saturday.

Arrangements for the graduation banquet and for the exercises which followed were in charge of I.C. Lamplit, vice-principal of the Tofield School. He was assisted by Debbie Walker and Rosemary Shewchuk. Debbie and Rosemary had placed the theme of the grad class "We believe in Tomorrow" in silver letters above a simulated orange and yellow sunset which symbolized the close of the high school days of the grads.

Ron K Taylor, chairman, called on Mrs. Dorothy Clark for the grace preceding the delicious banquet, served by the ladies of the C.W.L. The newly-organized school band, directed by Everett Norris, provided musical numbers during the banquet.

Following the banquet, Robert Garmana proposed the toast to the Queen Mrs. Thelma Erickson, in her toast to the graduates said that she hoped that the parents had been able to give help to their children during their formative years so that now the big decisions which now must be made would lead the grads to success in a bright future.

In reply to her mother's toast, Laurel Erickson thanked all the parents and teachers who helped the grads to reach this point in life.

Carol Ann Francis also thanked the parents of the grads as she proposed a toast to them. On behalf of the parents. Ronald Collins, accepted the toast and wished success for the grads.

Susan Sorken proposed the toast to the school, voicing her appreciation for the help given during the past twelve years by the school officials and staff

Charlie Sears, chairman of the School Committee, accepted Susan's toast saying that it had always been the aim of the School Committee to supply the best possible school and staff for the students of the County.

Randy Jones, in his toast to the teachers, emphasized that as well as teaching school subjects the teachers had encouraged each student to develop his individuality and thus become useful members of society

Mrs. Anne Taylor, accepting Randy's toast, wished the grads a happy and full life. She hoped that they would feel on many future occasions the pride and happiness so evident on this memorable evening.

CHICKEN ON THE WAY

Chicken is a universal favourite. It combines well with other foods and is a great favourite for casseroles. A chicken dish often signifies a special occasion

Chicken is a source of high quality protein, niacin and iron. It has the advantage of containing little fat than most meats, especially when the skin and outer fat are removed.

Chicken may be purchased whole or cut up. If whole chickens are lower in price per pound, buy these and cut them up yourself. Equip yourself with a sharp knife and you are ready to start

1) TO REMOVE A WING Pull the wing out from the body and slash the skin between them Cut around the shoulder joint to separate the wing from the breast, leaving as much white meat on the breast as possible If desired, cut off the wing tips.

2) TO REMOVE LEG (DRUM STICK AND THIGH) Slash the skin between the body and the thigh, then press down and out on the leg until the hip joint pushes out of its socket. Cut through the hip joint, separating the thigh from the body of the bird. If desired, cut the drumstick away from the thigh through the knee joint

3) TO REMOVE THE NECK AND BACKBONE. Starting at the tail, cut through the ribs slightly to the right of the backbone all the way to the neck Repeat on the left side of the backbone Remove the backbone and neck in one piece by cutting the skin around the neck

4. TO SEPARATE BREAST FROM BACK Insert the knife in wing socket and cut through the rib joints to the back of the bird This separates the back from the breast, leaving part of the ribs on each.

5. TO DIVIDE BREAST Spread the bird open and cut the pearl - like cartilage on either side of the keel bone in the neck region Hold the bird firmly and press from underneath, forcing the keel bone to spring up so that it can be easily removed Cut the breast in half lengthwise

I tried this Carried Fruit Chicken recipe recently and found it delicious. Serve it with rice and condiments for an Indian-style dinner

CURRIED FRUIT CHICKEN

1 cut-up chicken broiler (about 4 pounds)
¼ cup fat
½ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon curry powder
1 tablespoon flour
¼ cup melted fat
2 peaches, peeled, pitted and cubed
2 pears peeled, cored & cubed
2 plums, pitted and cubed

Brown chicken in ¼ cup fat Arrange chicken skin side up in baking dish Combine sugar, curry powder, flour and ¼ cup melted fat. Stir into fruit. Let stand 15 minutes, mixing occasionally. Spread fruit over chicken Cover and bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees F Uncover and continue baking until chicken is tender, (about 50 minutes more) 6 servings.

keeper can parents be responsible, the young people are on their own.

Dr Ned Gamson, Superintendent of Schools, also reminded the grads that parental responsibility was now a thing of the past and the grads must now accept responsibility for their own lives which will be what they make them. How important decisions must be their own concern and must be given due consideration. Dr. Gamson, on behalf of the administrative staff of the County of Beaver, wished the grads the ability to make the world a better place.

The graduation exercises were also chaired by Mr. Taylor who called on Charlene Good to play the processional music as the grads entered, and "O Canada."

Joan Clark, giving the Salutatorian address, welcomed all present on behalf of the grads. She expressed appreciation for the help given grads by the teachers, the love and support always supplied by their parents. She felt that some things such as friendship remain steadfast. Good times and bad, shared laughter and anxiety have welded the undisplaced grads into a cohesive class.

On behalf of the School Committee, in honor of the Class of '75, Charlie Sears presented A.R. Pollock, principal of the Tofield School, with a painting of Malagne Lake by Canadian artist, Lawren Harris.

Heather Sware, valedictorian for the Class of '75, began her remarks by thanking R.R Eastlick, of Okotoks former principal of Tofield School, for returning to be guest speaker for the occasion. Through this was a happy occasion, Heather felt there was also an undertone of sadness as this was the last time the grads reminisced about some of the amusing and serious incidents which had occurred in the history of this class.

To their teachers and parents, the grads owed a debt of gratitude which she was happy to acknowledge. This debt, Heather felt, was as much in honor of the parents as it was in honor of the grads. It was a celebration of shared success.

Heather said the future was just opening up for the grads. In it, they would retain fond memories of their school days. She hoped that the class of '76 would be equally fortunate in their school experiences and would go out into the world as this class is going, each in his separate way, with his separate ambition, believing that tomorrow can be made better.

Floyd Irwin, president of the Tofield sub-local, acting for the Beaver Local of the Alberta Teachers' Association, presented Heather with a scholarship of $50 in recognition of her achievement of securing the highest marks in Tofield in the June examinations.

The guest speaker Ken Eastlick, introduced by Mr Taylor, said he and Mrs. Eastlick were very happy to renew acquaintances in the town where they had lived so long. He was honored to be asked to be part of the graduation of the class who had shared much of their lives with him.

Mr. Eastlick marveled at the class's choice of theme. He felt that, for a generation exposed to violence, crime and wars on TV, as well as in real life, this choice indicated great belief in the future of mankind. He referred to prophecies made by Rachel Carson in "Silent Spring" and to Dr. Erlich's concern for our "plundered planet".

Mr. Eastlick felt that these young grads had learned to separate fact from fancy and to evaluate the worth of the prophecies of gloom and doom. The problem of the world is not production of food, but its distribution to all people. Conditions which man has brought about can also be reversed by man who can conquer disease and hunger.

Mr Eastlick advised the grads to believe in the virtue of earning their success rather than to ask, "How much can I get for how little?" A positive attitude would help them to remain kind and considerate as they became their brother's keeper He hoped that of the grad class, it would be said that the world was better because they had lived.

Mr. Pollock, at this point, congratulated Heather on her scholarship, and announced that Joan Clark too was a scholarship winner Though she would not be using them for a year Joan had won the Alberta Hostelmen's Scholarship and one from the Rebecca's and Oddfellow's Lodges. Mr Pollock also expressed regret that some members of the class had not earned quite enough credits to graduate, he wished all the class could have graduated.

Speaking to the grads, Mr. Pollock hoped that one of the marks of their new maturity would be stronger, more understanding familial relationships.

He urged the students to find vocations which will be fulfilling.

Mr. Pollock reminded the class that one very important task awaited them when they become parents. He said that the neurotic, psychotic and criminal elements of society will outnumber the stable elements unless more attention is paid to instilling ideas into children.

Rather than wishing the grads luck, Mr. Pollock wished them the ability to work hard and to apply common sense to their problems.

With the help of Mr. Lamport and Richard Pirtet, newly-elected president of the T.S.U., diplomas and pins were presented to the grads who then lined up to receive the congratulations and good wishes of their parents and friends.

"THE HAWAIIANS"
One of his voice teachers once told him "Mark, you could one day become one of the world's greatest tenors. No you could be the greatest tenor who ever lived." Only God knows if that prediction could have come true, but Mark gave up a potential career in opera, to become, with his wife, Diane, one of America's most popular husband-wife singing teams.
Here Mark tells The Hawaiians own story with a little help from Diane, their adopted son, Fred, and their nanny, Ruby.

Good news and bad

One of the most heartening signs we've seen in a considerable period is the announcement from Premier Lougheed's office last week that increases in spending in practically every government-associated operation in Alberta are not to exceed eleven percent next year. And tough guidelines are imposed, too, limiting real growth to three percent, with various levels for other cost inputs.

Granted, it will not be good news for some, who had been counting on continued escalation in the order of last year, but for most citizens it will be considered as a welcome move. And they'll only wish it could come lower still, so the rate of escalation might be contained slightly.

Regardless of how prosperous Alberta seems to be at the moment, it seems plain that those in the seats of the mighty, at least in Alberta, can see portents of problems on the horizon, and feel it's time to take a tuck in the slack. The economic woes being faced in British Columbia, partly as a result of wages being forced out of sight, can hardly be missed or misunderstood by anyone living in this province. Granted, a large proportion of their troubles seem also based on government ineptitude, but the super-heated economy must stand its full share of responsibility, and we applaud Premier Lougheed for having the conviction and the courage to try to defuse the explosive situation, at least insofar as the Province is able to.

Liberal Leader Nick Taylor seemed less than responsible in his suggestion that Lougheed was making a fine attempt at grandstanding, but that it was futile, and in a very short time would prove to be ineffectual and valueless. Surely every attempt to build up the dikes is worthwhile in trying to stem the tide. . .it is the running ahead of the tide that is futile.

Lougheed has set a tough and difficult task for his ministers and members, and they'll be forced to say "no" more often than they're used to, or would like to. But surely they'll gain the support of more people, who are aware of who actually pays the bills, than will be alienated. Surely anyone who has even slowed down momentarily to watch the huge amounts of material and money being poured into the new spillway on Mirror Lake, just as one immediate instance, must wonder if there were any reins on government spending in the past, and feel it's past time for controls to be imposed, and for sights to be lowered.

The watchword is vigilance

Probably only a small fraction of crimes committed are caught, and only a small proportion of them are prosecuted, but consumers across the nation will be interested to know that 31 Canadian firms were convicted in the second quarter of this year, for 63 offences against the Food and Drugs, Weights and Measures, and Precious Metals Marking Acts. 90 other cases are in progress even now.

Many of the offences were related to the sale of meat and milk, with short volume and substitution or adulteration as the main problems.

But it's highly interesting in a farming community to note that six charges, with penalties of $500 each, involved one Alberta grain firm, convicted of using inaccurate scales in grain elevators, all a [illegible]

This incident even drew comment from Consumer and Corporate Affairs Minister Andre Ouellet, who said "It is important that correct measure as a basis for payment to farmers be given if we are to maintain a healthy agricultural industry in Canada."

A dozen of the cases, ranging from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia, involved tampering with the odometers in cars, or in other words, turning back the mileage.

As we said, by no means all offences are discovered, and, of course, by no means all offences are contrived on purpose . . . some - are accidental. Nonetheless, an army of inspectors ranging from one end of the country to another constantly checking transactions, manages to give the Canadian consumer one of the safest market places in the world insofar as meeting standards is concerned.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SP) — At a seminar with third world representatives at the University of Western Ontario, visiting journalists were handed something of a surprise. Jamaica's Minister of Industry, Trade, and Tourism, P. J. Patterson, claimed that resentment against Canada among the developing nations is still at a fairly high level because of actions the government took in 1970.

Remember the low world wheat prices of that time? Remember how Ottawa paid Western Farmers not to grow wheat? In Canadian eyes there was some justification for the payments for each acre taken out of production. Grain was jamming every available storage space. World prices were down, and international sales were slow.

But Patterson, portraying the wheat situation from the point of view of a customer, reminded us that following Canadian and American actions to reduce production, wheat on the international market rose from $65 a ton to more than $300 a ton in six months. He said, bitterly, that while wheat prices went up because of deliberate manipulation of supply, people in many countries were starving.

The wheat price hike, Patterson hinted, was one of the reasons that the oil producing nations of the developing world formed the Organization of Oil Producing and Exporting Countries. Remember, it was the year after wheat prices climbed out of sight that OPEC began the campaign for higher oil prices.

In the eyes of a third world country, what is the difference between manipulating the price of grain into threefold increases, and doing the same thing with oil? Patterson claimed, with some justification, that there was more moral righteousness in boosting energy prices than in pricing food beyond the reach of starving people.

Patterson issued a warning to the West, that unless trade injustices ended, commodity cartels of equal power with OPEC would be formed, and confrontation would be the new international order of the day.

Fair prices must be paid for the products of the developing nations, and those prices must be indexed to inflation, so the buying power of the developing world is not unfairly eroded.

Canada has some lessons to learn in that area.

Dear Sir

I was very pleased to see "Oldtimers" letter in last week's Mercury paying a richly deserved tribute to the pioneers and their Agricultural Fairs. They were easily the highlight of the year, and present day members, with all their labor saving devices will do well if they equal the results of the early endeavors.

Oldtimer's mention of the skating rink brought an overwhelming [illegible] the first feeble stumbling efforts of the "first time on Ice" the glories of the Carnivals with the beautiful costumes, each year just a little more "grown up" than the year before the comradeship of having all ages on the ice at the same time the magic of the echoes reverberating in the rafters as skaters called back and forth in their pleasure not to mention the hockey games, years and years of them.

The west end of the rink, high above the ice was set aside for spectators, tiers of benches reached nearly to the roof, and were reached by a wooden stairway the joy of young hearts.

Oldtimer could have mentioned that on the north side of the rink, a lean-to had been built running the full length of the rink and housing two sheets of perfect curling ice. Here Tofield's first curlers ruled supreme, and held bonspiels as do the present players. Many of the early curlers reached province wide prominence.

Dear Sir

I thoroughly enjoyed the recent letter about Tofield's first Agricultural Fair, in 1909 and after.

I might also add that in addition to all the classes listed in that letter, was a complete coverage of school work classes such as writing, drawing, maps, composition etc. Also, after these fairs were discontinued, we had for many years what were known as School Fairs, free seeds, flowers and vegetables were distributed to the pupils in the spring and they after tending their gardens themselves exhibited the results in the fall, to be awarded prizes (cash I think) with the grand winner given a free week at some chosen Agriculture school or camp.

All power to the new Fair society but remember they are not "the first".

AGRICULTURE WEEK — October 6 - 10.

Agriculture has written the history of Alberta: in vegetable plots cleared from the wilderness at fur trading posts, in the dedication and labor of hard-won family farms, and in today's flourishing province - wide industry.

In Alberta, about one of every seven families is a farm or ranch family, producing food for Albertans, other Canadians and the rest of the world. Each farm in Alberta produces enough food for 67 other people, and this means Alberta farms are among the world's most productive.

One of every two Albertans in the work force is employed in an agriculture - related industry. More than half of Albertas' gross provincial product is directly or indirectly based on agricultural productions. With only 8 per cent of Canada's population, Alberta produces more than 20 per cent of the country's food supply.

Agriculture week is designed to create public understanding of the relationship between all aspects of Agriculture. It is a time to "Grow together" - for rural and urban people to understand each others worths, needs and desires. The family farm is the mainstay of the system. 60,000 Alberta families still make farming or ranching their way of life, and keep quality foods on our tables.

AGRICULTURE WEEK — October 6 - 10.

Agriculture has written the history of Alberta: in vegetable plots cleared from the wilderness at fur trading posts, in the dedication and labor of hard-won family farms, and in today's flourishing province - wide industry.

In Alberta, about one of every seven families is a farm or ranch family, producing food for Albertans, other Canadians and the rest of the world. Each farm in Alberta produces enough food for 67 other people, and this means Alberta farms are among the world's most productive.

One of every two Albertans in the work force is employed in an agriculture - related industry. More than half of Alberta's gross provincial product is directly or indirectly based on agricultural productions. With only 8 per cent of Canada's population, Alberta produces more than 20 per cent of the country's food supply.

Agriculture week is designed to create public understanding of the relationship between all aspects of Agriculture. It is a time to "Grow together" - for rural and urban people to understand each others worths, needs and desires. The family farm is the mainstay of the system. 60,000 Alberta families still make farming or ranching their way of life, and keep quality foods on our tables.

A TASTE OF ALBERTA

One of Alberta's quality products is honey. Try some of these ideas.

1. For a delicious topping on French toast or pancakes combine
¼ cup honey
1 cup applesauce
1 tablespoon butter.

2. Try Honey Cinnamon Toast:
Blend cinnamon to taste into creamed honey. Butter slices of bread, thickly spread with cinnamon flavored honey. Broil until hot, watching carefully.

PORK CHOPS SUPREME
6 pork chops about ½ inches thick
1 cup ketchup - heated
6 tablespoons honey
1 large lemon, sliced.

Blend ketchup and honey. Pour over pork chops. Top each chop with a slice of lemon. Bake in uncovered pan at 325 degrees for about 1 hour or until done.

(This same sauce may be used with chicken pieces).

Area pioneer-author passes September 19

Mrs. Irene Magdalene Haley Williams, aged 81, passed away September 19, 1975.

Prayers were Monday evening at Connelly - McKinley. Mass of The Resurrection was held in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Sherwood Park on Tuesday, September 23, with interment in the family plot in [redacted]

Reverend James Carswell officiated with Mrs. Williams' grandsons, De and Kevin, serving as altar boys he soloist was Mrs. P. Bohnen and the organist was Mrs. M. Kerley.

Pallbearers were Messrs. Bob Bacheldor, Bill George, Niels Mortensen, John Ripplinger, Art Rowland, and Frank Swabey. Honorary pallbearers were Messrs. Vince Bates, Loren Cornell, Frank Elliot, Tony O'Riordan, Bill Usher, and Dave Wright.

Irene Magdalene Haley Williams was born on March 15, 1894, of Canadian parents in Perry, Oklahoma, U.S.A. In 1906, her father, John Patrick Haley, left his work in the powder mills out of Joplin, Missouri and brought his family to Alberta. For a man who had ridden scout on the wagon trains across the plains of Kansas, homesteading a raw half-section of land at Cooking Lake was a challenge he welcomed even at the age of 71.

Irene Haley also inherited her love of nature from her father who taught her woodlore and the understanding of animal ways. He told her tales of Jesse James, Wyatt Earp and other men of the American West, men he had known personally. She was to use much of this knowledge in her writing career in later years.

In 1911, she married Herbert Ernest Williams. She spent the next 43 years living a pioneer life on a homestead close to Ministik Lake Bird Sanctuary. It was there her four children, three sons and a daughter, were born. During that time, Bert Williams became a game guardian of the Ministik Bird Sanctuary for the Federal Government. Later he worked for the Provincial Government as an Inspector of Fisheries, a position [redacted] Her three sons became Naturalists, sharing her interest in wildlife.

Showing the same hardiness as her pioneering parents, at the age of 63 she took part in a pack trip by horseback from Medicine Lake over the Tonquin Pass to research an article.

In 1958, at the age of 64, Irene Williams moved to Edmonton. She studied Creative Writing, earning an honorable mention and first prize in course-end competitions. She later received the Dr. W. G. Hardy Award.

Her work appeared in such well known magazines as The Canadian Geographical Journal, The Country Guide, The Cattleman, St. Anne de Beaupre, Rod [redacted] textbooks and in other publications. Some of her work [redacted]

Her talks, radio plays and [redacted] over C.B.C. and C.K.U.A. radio. A portion of her work has been republished in the Tofield Centennial Project Book Tales of Tofield and in both publications of Strathcona Harvest.

Mrs. Williams was a member of the Historical Society of Alberta, [redacted] and of the Writing Group at Strathcona Place. She was a charter member and past president of the Gateway Writers Workshop and a National Member of the [redacted]

Surviving are her children, Mrs. Archie (Dorothy) Dick of Ed[redacted] Tofield; eight grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

She was pre-deceased by her husband, Herbert Williams of Ministik, in 1941, her sons, Fred in 1936, and Francis in 1955.

Plan Scout jamboree from Sylvan to Iran

Wildrose District Council met at Hay Lakes, September 22. Thirteen people were present - not bad considering the beautiful harvest evening. Group Committees are just getting organized. Forintosh reports having registered 6 Scouts; 4 Beavers and 11 Cubs. Other groups will be registering in the near future.

The lists of names to receive Honors and Awards must be in to Marilyn Andresen by the next meeting. Also wanted at the next meeting is a complete list of all leaders, their addresses and phone numbers.

District Commissioner, Walter Busenius, reports a fantastic Jamboree in Lillehammer, Norway. The provincial president, Reverend Henry Haugen of Camrose visited the Jamboree, as did Leo Funkhousel. We are looking for a newspaper story from our 6 Camrose Scouts who attended.

Walter Busenius is willing to show World Jamboree slides to any group after October, provided the group will take a silver collection to help in the construction of the new Scout building in Red Deer.

Deputy District Commissioner Jules Hall reported a successful Cuboree although registration is dropping because of lack of willing helpers. Highlights were the appearance of "The Viking", Mr. Udo Johannsen, and the Smorgasbord.

There is to be an Alberta Jamboree at Sylvan Lake, July 24 - 31, 1976. Walter Busenius is planning to take a troop. Registrations and $40 should be sent to Walter as soon as possible. The remaining $40 is to be paid by March 30. The first 2000 boys are accepted and many Americans are already registered.

Coming Jamborees are as follows.
1977 - - -All Canadian - - -Prince Edward Island.
1978 - - -National - - -New Zealand.
1979 - - -World - - -Iran.

The next meeting will be in New Norway, October 20.

Mrs. Jim Roddick

Funeral services were held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church at Sherwood Park on September 23, for the late Mrs. Irene Magdalene Williams, who passed away on September 19, at the age of 81 years.

Mrs. Williams was born in Perry, Oklahoma on March 15, 1894. She came to Canada in April, 1906 and with her parents, Mr and Mrs. John Patrick Haley, and brother, Eddie, settled on a homestead in the Cooking Lake area.

In June, 1911, she was united in marriage with Herbert (Bert) Williams and came to live with him on his homestead in the [illegible]

They had three sons, Francis, Fred, and Keith and one daughter, Dorothy.

She had been interested in writing, and after taking a creative writing course at Victoria Composite High School, made this her career. Many of the local and farm papers carried articles written by "Irene Haley Williams."

She was predeceased by her husband in 1941, her son, Fred in 1936, and son, Francis in 1955.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Archie (Dorothy) Dick, and son, Keith who with his wife, Betty and family reside on the original homestead, also 8 grandchildren; and 7 great-grandchildren.

Interment was in the family plot in Tofield cemetery beside her son, Francis with Connelly and McKinley acting as Funeral directors.

On Sunday, several from the Ministik United Church joined the South Cooking Lake congregation in their 50th anniversary [illegible] members who have passed on were remembered and a [illegible] of student ministers on this field in the last 50 years was dedicated and will be hung in the church. The U.C.W. served a lovely turkey dinner to the many who came to take part in this special service.

Several from the community attended the [illegible] 25th anniversary open house at Sherwood Park on Sunday afternoon. Among those attending were Mr and Mrs. George Kleinschroth, Mr and Mrs. Bill Roddick, Mr and Mrs. Pat Paterson and Mr and Mrs. Alex Kleinschroth.

Nature lovers must be aware of surroundings these days of multi-colored leaves on trees and foliage, the moving of ducks and geese from one local lake to another certainly making autumn the most beautiful season of the year.

With the last dry spell in weather farmers have been able to complete their combining and the odds and ends of bales of hay and straw. It also has given the Department of Highways who have had a real struggle with road construction, to get their finishing jobs completed in this area.

Recreation planning for fall and winter

A re-organization meeting of the Ryley Junior Sports Association is to be held at the Haight two-room school, in Ryley, at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 7. At this meeting, it is hoped that a new executive will be formed. Also, plans for the up-coming minor hockey season will be discussed and finalized.

The Junior Sports Association has found parent participation to be lacking in the past, and it is hoped that this meeting will have a good turn-out. It is important that all parents who have boys and girls participating in minor sports help decide the future of the Junior Sports Association in Ryley.

Here's one spring job you can finish this fall.

Why wait till the busiest time of the year to put on your wild oat herbicide? You can apply Avadex® BW granular herbicide by Monsanto this fall. Avadex® BW remains dormant through the winter, then automatically goes to work on your wild oats next spring.

Always read and carefully follow the Avadex® BW label instructions.

The most recent meeting of the Tofield Womens' Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. Lillian Berreclouh.

Les and Lorraine Willey had Lorraine's mother, Mrs. Dalmer of Edmonton, as a guest for a few days.

The Hastings Lake Ladies' Group met at the home of Mrs. L. Willey recently and finalized plans for the annual Thanksgiving dinner. The dinner will be held at the hall on October 11 between 5:30 and 8 p.m.

Mrs. Donna Muir is presently in the Tofield Hospital.

Katherine, Ray, Holly, and Karen Peterson, Mrs. E. Peterson, and Mr. Denham attended the recent White Heather Concert in Edmonton. Ray's brother, Ernie, and family of Camrose, visited the Petersons at the weekend.

Lakeshore-McKenzie

Mrs. Ellen Eaton

Miss Kay Wood, teacher at the Vermilion Agricultural college, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, John and Mary Wood of the Lakeshore district.

Sunday visitors at the home of John and Mary Wood were their daughter, Mrs. Lorene Francis of Viking, and John's sister, Esther and Joe Maskey, of Edmonton.

Morris Van Buskirk of Ross Creek was a vistor at the home of Howard and Mae Ferguson on Monday.

Sorry, I haven't been able to contact everyone but, with farmers busy in the fields, there is very little news at present.

Charlie and Mickey Nietzetz were Sunday visitors at the home of Mickey's sister, Emily and Ernie Roberge in Edmonton. While there, they accompanied the Roberges to visit a couple of their sons who live on acreages west of the city

Weather once again has cleared up and seething and combining is once again starting up after a couple of showery days last week. Farmers who were hoping for an early wind-up of harvesting were delayed with spotty rain showers that hit harder in different parts of the district and some places, it still still be a day or two before the swaths are dry.

Rural residents to receive natural gas

Over 500 rural residents, members of the Beaverhill Gas Co-op, will be enjoying natural gas heat for the first time this winter as Northwestern Utilities is putting the final touches on a natural gas distribution system to serve this 600 square mile area. The gas company anticipates that natural gas will be flowing into the system by the end of October.

The picture above shows the line of trenching, piping and backfilling equipment used by Northwestern as the new line is buried into the ground in the Beaverhills district, while alongside is shown a huge spool of the two-inch high pressure aluminum natural gas transmission pipe being used in the installation. The pictures were taken of an installation parallel to Highway 21, which is just one of many mains being laid as the service jogs back and forth to service each area involved.

From the Ervick Junction, the line runs north along Highway 21 to about Armena, then runs north, but east of Hay Lakes, jogs over to Miquelon Lake, and then reaches north to about the Elk Island Park area, and reaching east to about the community of Ryley.

Because of its size and the fact that it straddles three Northwestern Utilities service districts, the Co-op will be jointly operated from Holden and Camrose under district agents Dennis Cooper and Gus Mireault, respectively, as well as Edmonton.

Northwestern Utilities says that natural gas will be turned on by the end of October. The company anticipates that about half of the 1,000 potential natural gas users in the area will be supplied natural gas by the end of the year.

Tofield ATA Local holds 1st meeting

by Grace Phillips

President Floyd Irwin chaired the first 1975-76 meeting of the Tofield sub-local of the Alberta Teachers' Association on Wednesday, September 24, with fifteen members present.

Because the Tofield staff has the largest number of beginning teachers in the county this year, the induction ceremony will be held in Tofield. In addition to the induction of the new teachers, there will be plaques presented to Jack Roddick and Bill Johnstone, two retired trustees in appreciation of their many years of service to the County of Beaver. Mrs. Anne Taylor, Mrs. Gwen Petersen, Mrs. Caroline Wiest and Blaine Greenwood were appointed to set the date and make the arrangements for the induction ceremony.

The social committee of the Tofield sub-local consists of Brian Aubrey, Vivian Carlson, Mrs. Judy Fairweather and Bruce Fleming.

Members of the program committee are Linda Lyons, Elaine Zimmerman, Curtis Hastings and Al Yarmoloy.

Blaine Greenwood is beginning his second year as ARA representative. Mrs. Yvonne Allan and Bob Garneau are Tofield's representatives on the economic policy committee of the Beaver local; John Blades is the representative on the professional development committee. Ron Taylor is vice-president of the sub-local and a member of the better government committee. Mrs. Gwen Petersen is secretary-treasurer of the sub-local.

After the routine business was completed, Dick Harris of Viking, president of the Beaver local was introduced and welcomed. He reviewed the recent meeting of the Beaver Local and the ATA conference held at Olds. Mr. Harris stressed the need of continuing communication between members of the teaching profession and the public.

Whale of a tale

Unusual potatoes are often seen these days as farmers harvest their crops. Mrs. George Lee of the Spilstead District, near Tofield, had one that resembles a whale with its mouth open.

Tofield proposals valued at $190,000

Tofield presented proposals, valued at approximately $190,000 for consideration, at the regular meeting of the Beaver Regional Recreation Board held in Ryley on September 24th.

The proposals were initiated under the Major Capital Facilities Grant and would include seven different projects in Tofield, as follows: Museum-proposed by the Historical Society, Arts and Crafts Center-proposed by the Agricultural Society; a camp shelter to be built on the Fairgrounds, additions to the Community Hall; two churches plan improvements; and renovations to the curling rink.

As well, it is proposed that the theatre in Holden might be used as a multi-purpose structure, under the same plan. The matter was left in the hands of the Recreation Director, George Baker.

It was suggested that a school bus might be purchased for use by the recreation department with the purchase to be a joint venture with the school committee. The [illegible] meeting for more information.

Members were told that the West Hockey League was becoming too technical which was taking the fun out of the sport for the players involved. As a result, members were told that Tofield might rejoin the Hi-Way League next year.

Reports on activities in the different communities in the county were given by the different representatives.

Al Willmer was named as a Viking representative on the Board, to replace Jack McArthur who passed away recently.

Information for this news story was taken from the unapproved minutes of the meeting.

Lions plan a calendar

Tofield Lions are organizing and selling a community calendar to fund various community projects.

The calendar will display advertisements for business firms serving the Tofield Area. As well, the calendar will contain birth dates and anniversary dates for all those who purchase a calendar.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, members of the Lions Club will conduct a door-to-door canvass in the Town of Tofield. Residents who purchase a calendar will be asked to supply birth and anniversary dates of all family members for inclusion in the calendar.

Rural residents or persons from neighbouring communities are also invited to purchase calendars and may do so by filling in the form contained in the Lions' ad in this issue of The Mercury. Deadline is October 21st.

Calendars will be delivered to purchasers by members of the Lions Club.

Mackay becomes Ryley councillor

James Mackay was sworn in as a new councillor in the Village of Ryley, when the council held its regular meeting on September 10th.

Council was told that Mr. Mackay's was the only nomination and that he was elected to office by acclamation. His term of office will expire in 1977.

On behalf of the County of Beaver, Bob Cross attended the meeting to outline the county's proposal for a regional land fill site (garbage disposal). Councillors expressed interest and asked that the county conduct further investigations into the proposal.

Ed Albrecht attended the meeting to present council with hospital reports as well as a report on Vialta Lodge in Viking.

Council was told that the Regional Development Board had planned to meet in Ryley (Note, this meeting was held on September 25th).

Council agreed that the price of serviced lots in Ryley would be forty dollars per front foot as of October 1st. Council also determined that a deposit of 50 percent of the total cost of the lot must accompany the application to purchase, and that the balance due must be paid in full before any construction takes place.

A total of ten sales of lots were approved at the meeting. A number of other applications were deferred to the next regular meeting.

Mayor Baker chaired the meeting which was attended by councillors Mackay, Brown, and Burton, along with secretary-treasurer, Ray Hovland.

Information for this story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of the September meeting.

Grade 7's initiated

by Grace Phillips

The Grade Seven students of the Tofield Junior High were initiated and welcomed into Junior High on Friday. The Grade Nines were responsible for the initiation activities while the Grade Eights welcomed the Sevens with a banner containing the names of all the Grade Seven students and served lunch to all the students and teachers in Junior High.

Dressed in baby costumes, the Grade Sevens worked for their "slave owners" for fifteen minutes before school with the staff supervising. The slave owners then paraded their slaves through the primary wing of the school and into the gym where a Kangaroo Court was conducted by president Melody Hearthsen assisted by Darren Fisch. The Kangaroo Court involved stunts prepared by special convenor Lori Jorgens assisted by Kim Price, Donna Haugen and Debbie Price.

In relays, the students enjoyed the hot dogs, pop, and doughnuts provided by the Big 3 and served under the supervision of Nancy Neufeld and her assistants.

French class to commence

The Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Department is sponsoring a conversational French class in Ryley.

The class will begin on Wednesday in the Ryley School and will run for one night a week for a ten-week period. The course will be held each Wednesday starting at 7:30 pm.

Registration fee for the course is ten dollars and all registrations should be forwarded to the Recreation Office prior to the start of the course.

Recreation notes

The Beaver Regional [illegible] is working closely with the Government of Alberta, Alberta Culture, Visual Arts Branch, to bring weaving course.

It is the only course we have been able to receive approval for, out of about six requests for Craft Courses. Also, it will be the last of such courses under the old system of each community being able to request them, and also, courses will not likely be available, again, under provincial sponsorship, until late fall of 1976.

After the Visual Arts Branch has completed their studies and results are formulated, courses will only be offered on a provincial regional basis, which takes in a large area. For instance, the County of Beaver is in an area that is bounded on the west by the County of Strathcona, east by Saskatchewan Border, north to about Two Hills, south to Beaver boundary, includes Wainwright and District.

Provincial Courses are made available to those people mainly who will be passing on what they learn, to others in their communities, through courses sponsored by groups or agencies, such as your local recreation boards or departments.

WEAVING — BASIC COURSE

This course concerns itself with the four - - harness loom, (assembly, preparation, beaming, threading, sleying, and finally, the weaving of the warp.) It is intended for beginners, and, consequently, covers the basics of weaving in considerable detail. More experienced weavers may find the course a good refresher, and would indeed, pick up several new ideas.

The Weaving Course Schedule is five days, with an afternoon and evening class each day, 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. and 7:00 to 10:00 p.m., November 17, 18, 19, 20, 21.

There must be a m[illegible] and a maximum of 12 students, in order to give the course.

It is a single five day course to be attended by the same twelve students all week. It will start with the basics and proceed from there. At the end of five days, all students should have a good understanding of the craft.

All cheques, money-orders, etc. are to be made out to: The Provincial Treasurer, attached to your application and returned to us at, Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Department, County of Beaver No. 9 Box 5, Ryley, Alberta, T0B 4A0, by the deadline date of November 3rd.

FEE: $17.50 per person for the full week. All yarns, equipment, related materials will be fully supplied for this cost. You bring your own pencil and notebooks.

INSTRUCTOR: Pirkko Karvonen will instruct the course, an extremely fine weaver, who has taught for several years. She has her own studio in Edmonton, and produces a great deal of beautifully designed fabric yearly.

She has several exhibitions of her work, one was this summer in Calgary, at the Rubyatte Gallery of Weaving.

These courses are basically for leadership training for those who would like to pass it on in the communities.

Please indicate if you would be willing to instruct weaving at the completion of the course.

There is some financial assistance available to those wishing to take the course, then instruct afterwards. This would be under the regional recreation leadership development program. Inquiries will be most welcome.

Croc in the tub?

If you scratch a crocodile on the top of its head, it falls into a trance. The Financial Post brings you this information so that Canadians will know what to do when attacked by a charging croc. But they admit it's rather hard to verify. However, the burgeoning tribe of crocodile farmers in the coastal swamps of Papua New Guinea should be able to help us soon. There are more than 500 farms, and another 200 are being established - a 2,000-head farm can net up to US $40,000 a year. Papua New Guinea is just getting independence from Australia. PNG has hordes of both sea - and freshwater crocodiles. It supplies about 10 per cent of the fashion world's consumption of 250,000-300,000 crocodiles annually. But everywhere else the reptiles are just hunted. It's fairly easy to grow a crocodile. Fifty pounds of fish a day will fill a dozen yearlings, which then spend the rest of the day happily asleep. At a year old, their belly skin is worth about $2, but at two it's $10, and at three $40. Crocodiles keep on expanding for years, ultimately reaching an appalling size. So the trick is to keep shovelling fish into them as long as you can. They are reported to be charming beasts, perfectly docile if fed regularly, just in case anyone feels like keeping one in the tub.

Where next, John?

Guessing where John Turner will turn up next has been a popular game ever since he turned in his resignation as Minister of Finance in the Trudeau government, and it took only a few minutes for some of the experts to see him switching parties and running for the leader's mantle in the Conservatives next [illegible]

Despite his own disavowals, (not to be believed in a politician) and the seeming incongruity of a leading and ardent Grit being accepted by the Tories in the rank of leader, the suggestions still persist.

But an altogether new speculation was thrown into the ring the other day by a fairly intelligent observer in the East, with a good deal of experience behind him, and we found it fascinating in its simplicity and its logic.

Mr. Turner is well known as a keen Liberal and not likely to switch. But in the recent Ontario election, despite the fact that the Liberals showed a higher rate of gain in votes than any other party, Leader Robert Nixon placed third insofar as number of members elected is concerned. And since it's members and not votes that count in the end, Mr. Nixon's resignation is expected.

What more natural in this situation than for Mr. Turner, who just happens to be available at the moment, to step into the leadership of the Ontario party? It could be only a short time before Premier Davis is forced to resign because of inability to get anywhere with his weak government, giving Mr. Turner a glorious opportunity to lead the Liberals of Ontario to their first victory in some 35 years.

Just imagine! What stronger power base could he have to contest the leadership of the national Liberals than to move in as the successful Liberal premier of Ontario?

It's so logical and so simple its fascinating.

All the same, the grapevine reports the Tories in Calgary don't see it that way. They're convinced Premier Lougheed means it when he says he'll refuse any draft, and they're busy now counting the number of Liberals who would vote for Turner if they could draft him into the role now held by Stanfield. It's tricky business in estimating, for while Turner carries a great deal of prestige and admiration among Liberals who might vote for him in any party, there are almost equally many voters who dislike a turncoat. The party backroom group had better try to estimate the number of Conservatives who would vote in protest against a Tory party led by Turner.

High prices?

Sitting on top of the biggest oil reserves in the country, and right next to the refineries, it's a little disturbing to be paying among the highest prices for gasoline in the country.

Driving down Ontario's highways during a brief trip last weekend, we were told no-one expects to find bargain prices on Highway 401, but further back the prices tend to drop. Nonetheless, there were many service stations advertising regular grade gasoline at 70.9 cents per gallon, many with posters advertising 69.9, and not a few listing 68.9.

It could easily be assumed, of course, that Premier Davis had had the desired effect of keeping prices low by extending the gas-price freeze in the province, and that Ontarioans were decidedly benefitting by the cheaper energy policy.

But wait. . .on Portage Avenue in Winnipeg, we still found signs blazoning the price at 68.9. And Premier Schreyer didn't oblige with the gas-price freeze to achieve that.

What a jolt to come home to Alberta, and find that 75.9 cents per gallon of regular gasoline is something of a bargain. We can stop bragging about the absence of any sales tax here.

Cleaning up street signs

PERHAPS IT HAD TO HAPPEN

According to the publication Safety Canada, a national body which sets standards for road signs, signals and markings, has taken the "first step towards the elimination of discrimination in traffic signs".

Figures on new signs will not bear any resemblance to men or women, and will rely almost exclusively on symbols, says the report, which is headed "Sexist Street Signs"

It must be a matter of constant [illegible] those who guard our standards that people generally fall into one of two categories . . . males and females. Their only way out of this dilemma is, it seems, to design figures which are not only sexless [illegible].

Isn't there another alternative? Couldn't pedestrian crossing lights for example indicate a male figure in some instances and a female figure in others? Is either the male or the female ego really so sensitive that it can't bear to see the opposite sex ever "put up in lights"?

Canadian comment

Ottawa—In the bustle of Labor Day weekend, a news item of major importance occurred that received scant attention. As officials from the Departments of External Affairs and Defence began to scurry to get away from the holiday week-end a call came in from the RCMP at Resolute [illegible]

A Polish research vessel, a motorized schooner, Gedania, had arrived at Resolute, Canada's major base in the Arctic. The ship arrived unannounced and unexpected, having sailed for perhaps a week undetected through Canadian waters.

Poland had asked permission for Gedania to transit the Northwest Passage during a two-and-a-half year oceanographic research cruise around the world, but Canada had said no. She warned the Gedania to stay south and east of a point in Baffin Bay. Resolute Bay is 350 miles west of that point.

At the time Defence was conducting a secret exercise just west of Resolute so Ottawa was upset when the RCMP inspector of Resolute called to say that the Polish crew had come ashore wanting to buy groceries.

The ship was allowed to buy supplies and ordered to leave Canadian waters, following the wake of an Esso tanker which had been on a resupply mission in the Arctic. There was fairly heavy ice and a snowstorm blowing. Once clear of the ice, the tanker speeded up and left Gedania behind. The Defence Department, assigned to keep in touch with the Polish ship until she cleared Canadian waters, lost her.

The incident points up the vital need for a new and better equipped long-range patrol aircraft, a decision which has been delayed three times by the cabinet. Present aircraft don't have the equipment, and Defence is in such a budgetary grind that the admiral has to check fuel stocks before driving to the [illegible]

The important question, though, is whether or not the Gedania incident throws a cloud on Canadian claims to sovereignty in the Arctic. Can we expect sovereignty claims to be respected when we can't monitor those using our waters and we can't even keep an eye on intruders once we've found them until they leave our territory?

Carlisle - Waddington vows are exchanged

On August 29th, Debbie Waddington of Edmonton and Rick Carlisle, formerly of Tofield, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's grandparents, with relatives attending.

The bridesmaid was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Belinda Waddington. Best man was Keith Carlisle, brother of the groom. After the wedding, a delicious dinner was served to those present.

The bride's gown, bridesmaid's gown, and wedding cake were all made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Waddington. John B. Post performed the ceremony.

Later on in the afternoon, the newlyweds boarded a plane for London, England where the relatives of the bride held a reception for them. They spent a very enjoyable two weeks visiting. Upon their return, open house was held in their home at Winterburn.

On Friday evening, a lovely shower was held at the home of Mrs. Opal McGinitie, assisted by Mrs. Annie McGinitie and Mrs. Barbara Peterson, for Mrs. Debbie Carlisle. Mrs. Jeannie Sears presented the bride with the gifts. Assisting the bride with the opening of the gifts were Mrs. Linda Carlisle and Miss Pat Bordeau.

The bride thanked everyone after which a delicious lunch was served by the ladies of the district.

Health, fitness for Canadians

Most Canadians by now are painfully aware of the fact that they are far less physically fit than the average Swede of twice their age, and that our sedentary lifestyle has contributed to a steadily decreasing level of fitness across the country. Although recognizing that Canadians for the most part are unfit, many people will be surprised to know that a recent Saskatchewan study showed that we are not only below Scandinavian norms but even below norms set by the American Heart Association. Forty percent of men and forty-seven percent of women had fitness levels which could be classified only as fair or low, and women, according to the study, are less fit than men with teenage and twenty to twenty-nine year old women rated the lowest. Another study of leisure time activity showed that only twenty percent of the population engage in some form of physical activity such as walking for pleasure, jogging, hiking, or other exercise.

To assist those Canadians interested in improving their level of fitness, the Department of National Health and Welfare has produced a booklet entitled "Health and Fitness", originally published in Swedish by a nationally recognized physiologist, Dr. Per-Olof Astrand. The publication outlines the numerous reasons for inactiveness which plagues our society and offers a training program for Canadians concerned about their health and fitness level. It contains suggestions for a program for untrained or elderly persons as well as a program for persons in good physical condition.

The booklet is available, free of charge, by writing

Phyllis, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs. George Lee, was among the 21 graduates to receive her diploma at the Tofield graduation banquet and ceremony recently. She is continuing her studies at NAIT where she is taking a course in Medical Laboratory Technology.

Phyllis Lee had, as her guests at her graduation, Donald Oliver, son of Kenneth and Anne Oliver formerly of Tofield. Also present were Phyllis sister and brother-in-law, Audrey and Donald Schmidt of Edmonton.

Guests of Gus and Mary Schmidt on Saturday afternoon were Dan and Marlene Machet of Wetaskiwin.

Mary Schmidt was surprised one Saturday recently when 4 of her childhood girlfriends dropped in to say hello. Mary had not seen these girls for over 30 years. These friends were Irene (Souther) Neff, Tweson, B.C., Helen (Souther) Compton, Chemainus B.C. Grace (Poole) Adam, Edmonton, and Gertrude (Stackhouse) Mohl, Edmonton. The Souther family lived on what is now known as the Bob Berreteloth farm. The Stackhouse family lived in the Minnesota area where they were old time residents. These people also visited George Druce and reserved old memories where they used to visit with their parents years ago. They tried to find their old homes which have rotted or been moved away. They did find some old trails where they used to drive by horse and buggy. There was no oiled or paved roads in those days.

Deadlines set for Christmas mail

Christmas mailing deadlines for Alberta residents are approaching fast. The Canada Post Office reminds users they should mail at their earliest convenience to ensure on-time delivery, especially if the sender is using third class letter or parcel post service.

The Post Office gives top priority to all mail bearing first class postage and mail bearing third class postage is handled only when first class has been cleared.

Although the Post Office announced earlier that Christmas cards sent within Canada at the third class rate should be sealed, cards sent third class to foreign destinations must be in unsealed envelopes to comply with international postal regulations.

The most immediate deadline date is that of October 6 for any mail travelling via surface carrier to Cuba.

Though parcels can always be sent by air, the cheapest way is still by surface. However, customers must meet mailing deadlines for their mail to reach its destination on time.

Unsealed cards to foreign countries can be sent air mail at the rate of 12 cents up to one ounce, or surface at the rate of 6 cents up to one ounce.

Cards sent at the surface rate may still be air-lifted all or part way to the destination, depending on the availability of space in the aircraft.

Air mail rate to the United States is 10 cents each ounce.

Finally, the deadline dates for Christmas mailings for Canadian destinations is December 13 for out-of-town localities and December 17 for in-town addresses. Deadlines for U.S. points are December 10 for surface mail and December 15 for air mail.

Christmas cards can be sent to international destinations at three different rates. Cards under sealed cover must travel first class, at the rate of 15 cents up to one ounce, which means automatic air mail service. The department recommends users affix the "Air Mail" labels on envelopes.

THANKSGIVING:

I like to think that Thanksgiving is a time for reflection. Harvesting is usually completed. The tree leaves have turned their magical colours. The world seems at peace . . . at rest. Thus it is that this week I'd like you to reflect on

THE IDEAL LIFE

To be glad of life because it gives you a chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars;

To be satisfied with your possessions and not content yourself until you have made the most of them;

To despise nothing in the world but falsehood and meanness; and to fear nothing except cowardice;

To be governed by your admirations rather than by your disgusts.

To covet nothing of your neighbour's except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manner;

To think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends and every day of Christ.

— Henry Van Dyke.

We, at ALBERTA AGRICULTURE, hope that this Thanksgiving is a special time for you and your family. We have so much to be thankful for.

Give thanks.

District Home Economist,

THE GREAT HEAT ROBBERY

takes place when furnace filters are dirty.

1 Forced air heating system filters are designed to prevent dust and lint in the air from being drawn through the furnace.

2 When filters become clogged with accumulated dust the flow of air is restricted reducing heating efficiency.

3 Most furnace filters are the glass fibre disposable type. These should normally be cleaned monthly and replaced twice a year.

4 Permanent type metallic filters should be cleaned and re-oiled as required. Most hardware and department stores carry various size filters.

5 In addition to a regular check to ensure filters are clean, be sure your furnace motor and fan bearings are lubricated according to the manufacturer's instructions. Registers should be cleaned of dust and foreign objects. Furniture should be placed so that hot and cold air registers are not obstructed.

Attention to your heating system will help you to get all the heat you pay for this winter.

Activity Day held in Tofield School

by Grace Phillips

Under the direction of Larry Watson, physical education instructor, assisted by Erwin Wiens and Brian Aubrey, the Tofield School was engaged in an "activity day" program. Beginning in the afternoon, the intramural program was introduced and the captains and "houses" assigned.

Immediately following this introduction cross-country running was held for students, Kindergarten through grade 6. Students in K - 3 received participation ribbons and those in 4 - 6 received points towards their "houses" in their own intramural program. Place finishers in the different grades received ribbons signifying first to fifth place.

Grades 1 - 3 held competitions between the two sections of each grade in which the class with the lowest number of points received first place ribbons for the class. The other section of the grade received a second place ribbon. The lower number of points indicated more firsts, seconds, thirds, etc.

The Junior - Senior High School students were actively involved in a tug-of-war competition which secured points for the winning houses in the intramural program. The participation was 100 percent.

Results were:

House A: Captains, Rich Neufeld, and Belinda Baker, participation points 64, winning points 18 for a total of 82 and first place in the competition.

House D: Captains, Ilene Francis and Doug Epp. Participation points 62, winning points 18 for a total of 80 and second place.

House B: Captain Dave Sears and Janet Schacher. Participation points 61; winning points 11 for a total of 72 and third place.

House C: Captains Berry Jones and Darlene Rude. Participation points 55; winning points 8 for a total of 63 points and fourth place.

In the County of Beaver Flag Football League, the following are the team standings.

Standings	W	L	Pts.
Ryley	5	0	10
Viking	4	1	8
Tofield	1	4	2
Holden	0	5	0

Recent games in which the Tofield Titans have been involved were held on September 24 with Holden at Tofield with Tofield winning by a 15-14 score; on September 29 with Tofield at Viking with Tofield losing 8 to 39; on October 1 with Ryley at Tofield where Ryley won by 45 to 25.

Mrs. G. H. Taylor

A pioneer farming resident of the Bruce district, Louis Holden, has purchased twelve head of buffalo which were delivered a week ago. He has four bulls and eight heifers in the herd. The buffalo bought in Westlock were originally from Blackhills, South Dakota, and are two and a half years old, weighing from eight hundred to twelve hundred pounds. Some years ago he raised a number of mules, and these are some of the mules used at Alberta Game Farm for their "Mule Train".

Sunday afternoon callers with Mr. and Mrs. G.H. Taylor were their son and family, Mr and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Viking, Merle's father, Chester Lund of the Viking Nursing Home, and her brother, Dudley of Edmonton, who is staying with his sister and family for a few days, helping on the farm.

Recent Sunday visitors with Mrs. Anna Christensen at Parkland Nursing Home, Viking, were Noreen, Alison, and Tara Christensen of Holden. Their aunt, Mrs. Kennie McLennan is still a patient in Viking Hospital.

Ryley grads feted during ceremonies

by Sherry Wickstrom

The Ryley Graduation, held on Saturday, Sept. 27th, was a great success.

The theme was "Beyond the Horizon!"

In honor of the "Class of '75" a banquet was held in the Ryley Community Hall with Craig Solberg as the Master of Ceremonies. Distinguished guests included Dr and Mrs. Walter Buck, Dr. and Mrs. Ned Gannon, and Mrs. Harriet Ruddy. Miss Sherry Wickstrom sang "Go Gently Through the Years" in honor of the graduates.

Promptly following the banquet, the graduation Exercises held at the Ryley School Auditorium began with the processional of the graduates. Mrs. M.E. Ruddy, Mistress of Ceremonies, expressed a warm welcome to all graduates. Following the presentation of the opening remarks by George Baker, mayor of Ryley, was the invocation by D. Manderson. Some interesting anecdotes, described by Miss Marlene Magnuson, had the whole graduating class blushing.

"May You Always" was the selection done by Miss Vanna Maureen and she was accompanied by her sister, Sharon.

A speech given by the valedictorian, Miss Cheryl Magnuson, followed this musical interlude. She gratefully thanked the staff of Ryley School and the many parents who made this occasion possible. She also wished for the best in the future for her fellow graduates, or, as she said in her own words, "The future — Beyond the Horizon."

The Junior High Band, led by Everett Norris, favored the gathering with the band arrangement of the "Theme From Love Story".

Dr. Walter Buck, M.L.A. for Clover Bar, was the guest speaker and in his talk he discussed what the future may hold for each graduate. He compared life to a football game; the graduates now being the "quarterbacks."

To conclude the program, Everett Norris, directing the High School Band this time, conducted them as they played their renditions of "Missouri Waltz", "Jobis Polka", and "I Can't Stop Lovin' You."

Residents of the Round Hill Area heard a surprise announcement from Camrose County Reeve Vern Gruendberg in Round Hill on Wednesday night.

The meeting had been called to discuss two townships in the Round Hill area leaving the County of Camrose to join with the County of Beaver, in a protest over what ratepayers in the region feel is poor treatment from the County of Camrose.

Canadian comment

OTTAWA— (SP) — John Turner's departure from the Trudeau government leaves a hole in the cabinet that cannot be filled. Turner has been talking about resignation internally for nearly a year, and in spite of what you may hear to the contrary, he resigned for political reasons.

As Minister of Finance, he was in the hot spot because of Canadian economic performance, but under the Trudeau cabinet system, he had less actual control of the policies which govern the nation's economy than any previous finance minister.

He collected the blame for failure but didn't have a free hand in correcting faults.

John Turner is not ambitious for money, so rule out that motive for leaving the government. John Turner is more of a political animal than any other national public figure, and he knows the party rule — knock the Liberals, leave the Liberals and you're finished. Turner's ambition from youth has been to become Prime Minister and, frankly, I can't think of anyone better fitted, but . . .

He asked Prime Minister Trudeau to move him to external affairs, and was turned down. Trudeau wanted him to stay in Finance because Canada's business community would place its confidence in no other cabinet minister at the helm of the Finance Department. All signs point to tougher economic times ahead and politically Turner felt he could not survive as the heir apparent, tarred with the blame for economic disaster.

The way he's done it, he's out from under, but still a solid party [illegible] Mr. Trudeau will face an enraged electorate when the next election comes and, if he loses, he would likely leave politics.

That would leave the way open for John Turner's return as savior of the party. If all this sounds farfetched to you, ask someone who knows Mr. Turner. He's a politician dedicated to winning that top job and he thinks ahead even more than the Prime [illegible].

Widsom from the young

It's highly re-assuring, during Agriculture Week, to have the federal minister responsible for the Wheat Board, Hon. Otto Lang tell an Edmonton audience there is no danger of the Canadian Wheat Board being disbanded . . . it is a permanent institution, even though there may be changes from time to time in the make-up of its members.

Mr. Lang underscored the fact by pointing to the excellent job the board is doing of selling Canadian grain in world markets, even right at the moment.

Western Canadian farmers will surely be grateful to hear the minister repudiate any suggestions which have been attributed to him that the future of the Wheat Board was in doubt. There have been many times when the things Mr. Lang seemed to be saying seemed to suggest his interest in eliminating this restraint on the free marketing system, and farmers who can remember the "good ol' days" are all too well aware of the beating the farmer took in trying to market his grain when the prices were highest, only to find they had dropped to [illegible] levels only days, or even minutes before he pulled up. The Pools helped a lot to balance the odds against the farmer, but it took the Wheat Board to really put him in an equal position.

Mr. Lang's reassurance is the best news in Agriculture Week.

Windows on the world with six raised dots

Six raised dots – that's all they are, but they can be a page of print, a sheet of music, a geometric theorem or a grocery list. The six dots form a method reading and writing known as the Braille system, now celebrating its 150th anniversary.

If you have not read the fascinating story of Louis Braille's invention of his struggle for recognition from the French Academy, you have missed a compelling chapter in history. But perhaps even more compelling is the acceptance of the system by blind persons all over the world. They can write it as well as read it and that fact alone puts Braille miles ahead of any other method.

A blind person can write down his favourite phone numbers, a recipe for a cheese souffle, office reminders for tomorrow's duties, women's lib jokes or any other data that comes into the head.

On the reading side, you read at your own pace and soon find, at your fingertips, all types of fiction and non-fiction to tempt your taste. If you're a student you can have your text books brailled in advance (particularly if you request early) and so read along with the class, no matter what the subject is.

Braille was the forerunner to many services such as the recorded book and the optacon. Braille gave the blind person communications, the ability to keep his own filing system and a means of identifying hundreds of household articles such as records and soup cans. Braille opens the door to higher learning and permits the blind student to write the same examinations, brailled in advance, as the sighted student. The system has given volunteers a challenging work to do. They learn the dot formations in CNIB classes across the country and in other cities around the world and transcribe hundreds of printed books for university students and other readers. Over the past ten years these dedicated people have spent thousands of hours so that hundred of university students could complete their courses.

In short, Braille is so useful in class, on the job, at home, wherever blind people gather, think and talk, that the system has truly provided a place to stand.

Misdirected protest

In early August a teen-ager was asked to record what he would remember most about his summer camp experience. His comment was arresting: "I learned," he said, "that justice doesn't mean 'just us'."

Those are good words to remember on Thanksgiving Day. Nobody likes strikes; they are disruptive and frustrating to everyone, but every purchaser of groceries for a growing family feels the impact of inflation where it hurts. The postman or factory worker has to feed his children just as the banker or civil servant, and a dollar will stretch only so far, whatever our stations.

There are five million people in Canada today living below the poverty level and two thirds of them are the working poor. A good deal of talk and experimentation with the concept of a guaranteed annual income is going on - - a scheme that would help these minimum wage earners enormously. It's worth examining, rather than hotly rejecting it out of hand.

While it's true that pensioners and others on fixed incomes from investment are also caught in the ever-escalating squeeze, not many scream when interest rates rise and owned houses double in value.

In short, we are all in this financial spiral together and until someone, somewhere finds a way out of the frightening maze, patience and a willingness to examine facts are something each of us can contribute to an admittedly frightening economy. The youngster's comment is pertinent. Justice is not 'just us'.

His investigation revealed that only eleven students resided in the area, with only six being willing to go to school in Round Hill. As a result, Mr. Von Tettenborn did not feel such a move would be a great boon to the school in Round Hill as more students would still be needed.

Mr. Von Tettenborn had opened the meeting by outlining the steps already taken to see if a transfer to the County of Beaver were possible. He said that preliminary contacts had been made with the Alberta School Boundaries Commission and he felt that the move had received a favourable response.

proposal when the County of Camrose School Committee closed the high school portion of the Round Hill School.

As well, the meeting chairman indicated that area residents were totally unhappy with the road conditions in their Division and many felt there was a danger that the remainder of their school might be closed in the near future.

In response to the latter, Mr. Grundberg told the meeting that, if conditions warranted the further closure of schools, the School Committee would likely follow the recommendation of the Hay Report, which would mean the next school closures would be in Kingman and Meeting Creek.

Alberta's hidden heroes

On a tour of the Calgary Herald are this year's winners (in alphabetical order) Lance Befus, Cathy Bolin, Shawn Heavy Runner, Dean Knowles, Marcell Kultgen, Randy Larocque, Judith MacDonald, Kenneth Michaels, Tracy Peters, Brenda Schmidt, Bernard Starman, Ronnie Wilson and Debra Sapiuk, Conservation Award winner

Presenting the 1975
Alberta Junior Citizens of the Year

There are many "hidden heroes" in Alberta — fine young people who, through acts of bravery, initiative, selflessness or social responsibility, are quietly making their contributions in our province. Each year, with the help of proud Albertans and the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association, we select several of these youths to receive Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Awards. In 1975, as always, there were many deserving candidates. We salute them all and welcome the winners to our Honor Roll. Their example proves that the spirit and values that built our province still exist — both today and for our future.

Use this calculator to measure the efficiency of your oil or gas furnace. The book explains everything that you and your serviceman should do to save fuel and money. Both free when you send in the coupon below.

How much of your heating dollar is going up in smoke?

Get your furnace in shape for winter—so you can be both warm and a little richer. You'll cut your fuel bill by as much as 25%, and help to conserve Canada's fast-dwindling energy reserves:

AS A NATION we waste more energy than some countries consume in total. We're on an energy binge that we can no longer afford. Modest cut-backs now will be easier to face than shortages and even higher prices in a few years time.

For every $100 you spend on energy at home, more than half of it goes into heating. So your furnace is a great place to start saving.

Check the efficiency of your oil furnace.

Is your oil furnace working at top efficiency? Find out:

Look for a dirty flame. Lift the flap that covers the small hole on the front of your furnace. If you see black smoke coming from the tip of the flame, your burner needs adjustment. Call the serviceman.

Inspect for soot. Shut the furnace off and poke a flashlight inside the box. An accumulation of soot means it's time for a service call.

Check the barometric damper. This valve between the furnace and chimney bumps open and shut as the wind blows and as the furnace cuts in and out. If it sticks in any position, you're wasting energy.

Put your serviceman to work twice a year.

A thorough oil furnace check-up in summer and mid-winter can cut as much as 25% from your fuel bill. (If you have a gas furnace it should be checked once a year.)

Remember, it will take your serviceman about two hours to do a good job on an oil furnace (somewhat less on gas).

He should remove soot from the firepot, heat exchanger and pipes; check the stack temperature; perhaps try an oil nozzle 10% to 20% smaller (or the lowest firing rate recommended for your furnace).

If you're paying for a complete check of the furnace and heating system, make sure you get it. Start by reading The Billpayer's Guide to Furnace Servicing.

This free book explains everything that you and your serviceman should do to save fuel and money. (See coupon below.) It has a complete oil and gas furnace checklist, and a calculator for determining overall furnace efficiency.

Lower your thermostat.

Dropping your setting from 72 to 68°F will save about 10%. If each of us saves 10%, Canada will conserve 8 million barrels of oil and 24 million cubic feet of natural gas each year.

It's time to pay the piper.

We can't live in the future as we do now. The resources simply won't be available. Here are two facts to ponder:

- If we continue to consume at our present rate of increase, Canada will need twice as much energy in 12 years.
- The capital costs of developing new sources of energy will soar to $110 billion over the next 10 years—an investment of about $20,000 for each Canadian family.

It's no longer a matter of choice. We must save energy to save ourselves.

Free information to help us all.

TWO FREE BOOKS: The Billpayer's Guide to Furnace Servicing shows you how to save fuel by proper furnace servicing. It explains what you can do, and what your serviceman should do. Free when you send in the coupon.

100 Ways to Save Energy and Money in the Home has 160 pages—80 of them to help you get the most heating efficiency at the lowest cost.

the closure of the shop at Edberg School.

Oscar Paulsen of Calgary, a member of the Boundaries Committee, attended Wednesday's meeting to answer questions. Mr. Paulsen said the committee would likely hold meetings with the two counties to discuss the proposal to withdraw from the County of Camrose.

Mr. Van Tettenborn said that the City of Camrose should be pushing the County of Camrose to build better roads in the Round Hill area so that the people would conduct their business in the city rather than take the better roads north to give their business to other centers.

A petition requesting that two townships in the County of Camrose be moved to within the boundaries of the County of Beaver is being circulated and will likely be presented to the Boundaries Committee.

However, Mr. Van Tettenborn indicated that, unless a majority of the area residents were in favour of such a move, the subject would be dropped, as far as he was concerned.

People attending the meeting were asked to sign a form which would indicate their preference either to move to the County of Beaver or remain in the County of Camrose.

Mr. Van Tettenborn indicated that he would prefer a majority of over sixty-five per cent of the residents involved to want a move to the County of Beaver before he would be willing to continue any efforts on the project.

Harvest Jamboree is a big success

by Mrs. N. Willson

In spite of disagreeable weather, the Harvest Jamboree, held at the Beaverhill Hall, 7 miles west and 4 miles north of Tofield, on Saturday, was a pleasing success.

Auctioneer, George Lee, entertained an enthusiastic audience for over three hours. Variety was the topic for the day. Donations for the auction included: garden produce, large and small appliances, dry goods, animal feed, vouchers, ornaments, and many other items.

Other donations came from the following Tofield merchants: Bert Everitt's, Link Hardware, Robinson's Stores, D's Beauty Salon, Don's Carpet Service, Tofield Feed Mill, Tofield Pharmacy, Tofield Cleaners, Co-op Store, and Dykeman's Confectionery.

A bake sale was held in conjunction with the auction sale. A good assortment of baking and canned goods was on hand most of the time.

The children, 12 and under, enjoyed games, including a fish pond and a jelly bean contest under the organization and leadership of Mrs. G. Willson of Edmonton. Ross Filipulo won a large jar of jelly-beans for the closest guess of 500 in the jar of 490 candies.

For the adults, a button guessing contest brought much excitement. Norman Kelly came up with the exact number of buttons in the jar, to win an Olympic Lottery ticket donated by Tofield Appliance and Refrigeration Service.

Some interesting looking pumpkins were on display throughout the day. They were judged by Mrs. G. Lee.

Children 6 and under: 1st - Gilbert Willson; 2nd - Cynthia Willson; 3rd - Joanna Tiedemann; 4th - Mark Tiedemann.

Children 6 - 12 years: 1st - Sandra Tiedemann; 2nd - Sheila Tiedemann; 3rd - Joanna Goubeault; 4th - Kathy Goubeault.

Proceeds from the day will go towards improvements, such as the much needed gravel and the restoring of this 33-year old hall.

The hall association plans on holding children's parties, bingo's, dances, whist drives, and craft classes throughout the coming months.

Ministers to speak

Lyle Simons and Wayne Wyman, associates of internationally known commentator Garner Ted Armstrong, will be speaking at the Tofield Canadian Legion at 7:30 p.m. on October [illegible].

They will be discussing today's world problems and conditions in the light of Bible prophecy. They will also be talking about the Incredible Human Potential as revealed by God's master plan.

Both are ministers of the Worldwide Church of God. Mr Simons is currently the resident pastor of the Edmonton East Church.

These lectures are sponsored by the local Worldwide Church of God, in Edmonton. The church, as its name indicates, is comprised of members from around the world, but the largest numbers are in the United States and Canada. The Canadian office is located in Vancouver, B.C.

Kallal's opening a success

Kallal Motors (1975) Ltd. were overwhelmed at their grand opening in Tofield on Saturday.

Well over two thousand people turned up for the day-long official opening at the new premises.

Jim and Jerry Kallal had prepared for a reasonably good turnout, but, they were kind of unprepared for the response they got.

Over fifty dozens of donuts were consumed by people dropping in and it took more than ten pounds of coffee to keep the pot boiling. And the kids weren't forgotten either as one thousand balloons were handed out.

Door prizes were given out every hour and discounts and special prices were featured for the big opening day.

Sports programs are going strong

by Grace Phillips

In series B, (Tofield at Viking), the score was Viking, 14 and Tofield 2.

The finals were to be played Monday, October 20 and Wednesday, October 22. It is a two-game, total points series between Ryley and Viking.

On Oct. 17, the senior volleyball games were scheduled with Viking at Holden and Ryley at Tofield. The Tofield boys' team defaulted due to team discipline. The girls' results in a best three out of five-game series gave Ryley the victory with scores of 15-6, 15-9, and 15-3.

They will be held every consecutive Monday and Wednesday from 9:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m. Anyone interested in playing Senior Men's basketball please contact Larry Watson at 662-3240 or the Tofield School at 662-3133.

Bill Dary donated $100. of his winnings to the Holden Agricultural Society.

Satellites plan for a new season

Tofield Satellites, champions of the Beaverhill Hockey League last season, opened the 1975-76 season with a team organization meeting last Wednesday, October 15.

The meeting was well attended and several points of business were taken care of.

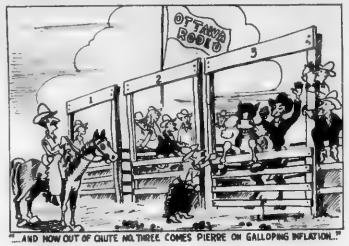
The first order of business was to elect the team officials. Leonard Stauffer was elected by the team as general manager for the second year. Ross Conway was elected as assistant general manager and along with Leonard, will give the Satellites a strong voice at the league meetings this winter.

Leo Rurka accepted the offer to return as coach of the team and will attempt to lead his team to another championship. Earl Jones was also asked by the team to repeat as assistant coach, and he accepted. Finally, Francis Damberger was elected as secretary-treasurer of the team for this season.

Perhaps the most interesting point of the meeting took part when the team discussed fan appreciation. The final result was that a type of Fan-Pac of tickets will be introduced this year.

This Fan-Pac will involve a book of 12 game passes sold at a substantial discount, and which can be used for any home games of the Satellites with as many tickets for any one game as needed can be used. If you are interested, contact any of the players for further details. Also discussed was the implementation of the popular game, Scoro, for between periods of Satellite home games.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the team held a practice in preparation for the opening of a new season of the B.H.L.



"...AND NOW OUT OF CHUTE NO. THREE COMES PIERRE ON GALLOPING INFLATION..."

Scoff no more

Pierre Trudeau scoffed a year and a half ago when Stanfield led the Tory election campaign on a policy of price and income controls, and so did the majority of voters. Well, Trudeau is scoffing no more. ..In fact, on Monday night he announced a program of controls that was probably far tougher than Stanfield indicated. One wonders how far the voters would back the policy at this time.

The situation, of course, is far more out of hand now than even as recently as when Stanfield was running on the control ticket. Which means that Trudeau must apply the controls for a longer period, or make them far more stringent, to be really effective. Some of the opposition members are unhappy because no duration period has been defined, but surely it's not realistic to forecast how long it will take a jaundiced economy to recover, any more than it would be to forecast precisely how long a patient with jaundice would need to recover.

The remarkable thing about Mr. Trudeau's policy is that it sets up definite controls for such a large proportion of the public, and recommends them for the balance. Included are just about all people on government payrolls, (and he is hoping the provincial governments will extend this program to their own level,) all workers in the construction trades, and all professional people. Our own quick estimate is that this must reach over a third of all workers directly, depending, possibly, on some of the interpretations of such things as professions, government payroll, and so on. We may even see a scramble to get out of the "professional" level, instead of getting into it.

The question has to be asked: was this what John Turner wanted, and was Trudeau persuaded into it only by Turner's resignation? Or has the program been shaping up for some time, and held in abeyance only long enough to get rid of Turner as a threat, and then thrust it in? Was Trudeau 'scared' into it by the rapidly deteriorating situation? Despite his election approach of last year, he must have felt there was no other way at this time, no way of putting it off any longer. And it must have been like wormwood and gall for him to have to accept the program advocated by Stanfield, even though he could claim, perhaps, the program was not justified at that time, but in the light of later events, had seemingly become inevitable.

It seems rather ludicrous, in some ways, that the top level increase of ten per cent, which only a few short months ago would have been considered highly inflationary, is now considered as being almost deflationary, something to bank the fires with.

As Trudeau declared, these are the most stringent controls imposed on the economy since the end of World War Two. They'll take an army of bureaucrats to administer, and such an army is not recruited in just a very short period.

Nor is it dismissed overnight. We'll have controls with us, at one level or another, for a long time to come.

Why in secret?

Informed last Wednesday at a meeting of ratepayers in the Round Hill area that talks had been going on since January over a possible change in the boundaries of the County of Camrose, some ratepayers present expressed surprise and indignation. The discussions started over the possibility of adding some three townships from Beaver to Camrose, supposedly to make the Round Hill school a more viable unit, although nothing was said over what the move would do to schools in Beaver.

The question obviously must be asked in this instance, as did the ratepayers, as to why such talks with the boundaries commission would be held in secret. Who authorized the talks? The whole council, or just a few of the members? And if they were never discussed in open council, did they have any validity? Were they really for school purposes, or to balance the tax revenue from a possible power plant?

Surely this is not the sort of thing which should be discussed in secret, behind closed doors, but rather right out in the open, with every chance possible for all concerned to be informed and make their input during discussions, rather than after the whole thing is cut and dried. One might even wonder, was the County of Beaver even consulted?

Powerless

Man is truly a slave of his artificial environment, as was exemplified in Monday morning's power breakdown and interruption that left most city and county of Wetaskiwin residents crippled in their work or domestic attempts at normalcy.

The adventure started shortly before eight in the morning as many weekend weary Wetaskiwinites found themselves snatching an extra few hours of sleep when electric alarm clocks failed to rouse them, as is the custom. As the somnolent citizens mulled what he had fallen into and arose with a satisfied "guilty" feeling, he attempted to turn on his radio to hear the morning news, but was met by silence. Breakfast was a missing commodity as the ionsier needed electric juice, as did the coffee pot and stove for bacon and eggs. Ah well, grab an apple from the slightly warmed refrigerator where frozen goodies began to thaw

Time to spend away from the motlit home through the streets of the city and onto the daily job. But wait, the traffic lights aren't red, amber or green and the motorist is met by four-way stops in most regularly controlled intersections. Ringing alarms are heard from the banks, warning of lack of power for these burglary systems.

Work is at a virtual standstill as machines, electric typewriters, air conditioners, lights, adding machines, copying machines and various other power eating devices lie resting, waiting for a surge of electrons to bring them to life, as employees sit and wait for their machines to become productive.

Essential services such as the hospital wait, in tense moments, for a return of power.

Homemakers find no television to entertain children in the dishes in the dishwasher sit and the clothes go unwashed. The vacuum cleaner won't work and neither will the electric mixer beat the eggs for that cake.

Just because one service is cut off for a period of time, the lives of so many people are affected. That is a lot of faith to put into an artificial commodity and it is staggering to think that such a change in the lives of local residents could alter so much by the inconvenience.

But wait a minute, life is still going on for those who do not have an electric cord and plug dangling from their arms. The bird is still sing, grass and gardens grow and produce and children laugh. Times like this when life slows down somewhat are a refreshing change from the rush of the usual Monday morning so sit down and enjoy it.

The Wetaskiwin Times.

FROZEN GRAIN IN FEEDS

Frozen wheat can be used in livestock feeds if extra fat is added to compensate for the energy lost when the grain is frozen. Tests at Agriculture Canada's Swift Current, Sask., Research Station show that frost damage reduces the amount of energy in the wheat that turkeys can use.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (CP) — The cabinet is currently in the throes of a defence decision which could cost the country more than $3 billion. These times the choice of a long range patrol aircraft (LRPA) has been postponed by the cabinet, despite our dwindling ability to police off-shore and Arctic sovereignty

That decision has now become meshed with a Defence order for new fighter planes. About $800 million for LRPAs add another $2.5 billion for fighters.

The incredible thing about this proposal to spend such a monumental sum for a fighter is that it is being considered not as a Defence need, but as a prop for the Canadian aerospace industry

The government already owns deHavilland of Canada, in Toronto. Cost - $34 million. Late this year it is expected to exercise an option to buy Canadair in Montreal from General Dynamics for $38 million. Boeing Aircraft in the U.S. has offered to buy one third interest in the two Canadian companies from the government, and one Boeing's worldwide marketing team to sell Canadair-deHavilland products - provided Boeing get's the order for an LRPA

McDonnell Douglas in the U.S. has made a competing offer - to put its subsidiary, Douglas Aircraft of Canada, into the Canadian aerospace pot in return for 45 per cent interest in the three-company package. That offer is conditional on the government buying the F-15 Eagle fighter from McDonnell Douglas, with roughly half the work done at the three Canadian plants. F-15 Eagles sell for $18 million a copy, counting spares, and Canada's sarmen want 125 of them.

Is the dreadful threat of a manned bomber attack over the north pole really so severe that the Trudeau government is ready to spend us into the defence poorhouse to counter it?

Even if the Defence budget were boosted by $800 million annually for the next six years, we still wouldn't have enough funds left to buy sonfotu buttons, much less the urgently needed equipment to police our Arctic and offshore sovereignty.

(Intended for Last Week)

FLOWER POWER:

Barbara Cranagan, D.M.E., at Wainwright sent the following article.

The blaze of autumn colours - russet, scarlet and gold - can be preserved for future decorating in your home - and now is the time to gather your material. Colours are more subtle and softer than fresh flowers and strong lines and bold shapes can make striking indoor displays.

PICK IN THEIR PRIME.

When picking flowers, grasses or weeds for drying, choose stalks that have interesting line and form. Leafy or brightly coloured material should be picked at the peak of colour. Pick golden rod just as it is beginning to unfurl, fern fronds not completely unfurled.

Weeds and grasses can be picked after they have dried naturally along the roadside or in the field. If they are not dry and you wish to preserve their straight lines, hang them in small bunches with their heads down. To make the stems curve, place them loosely in a container allowing the stems to bend gently over the edge of the container. Dry in a warm attic or closet where you can leave them undisturbed. You need dry heat to preserve flowers rapidly for best results.

PRESERVING TREATMENTS:

There are a number of preserving treatments which give good results. Silicon Gel - is a light weight drying crystal that gives spectacular results in preserving roses, pansies, zinnias and marigolds. The colour stays amazingly true and bright. This material is available from florists and some drug stores. It is fairly expensive but can be reused indefinitely. Flowers are placed, face down in the powder and covered completely. Preserving will take seven days. Geranium and pom pom dahlias are also dried in this way. Soapdragon should have some unopened buds and should have the leaves removed.

Glycerin - Autumn leaves can be preserved in a pliable state if they are immediately placed in a mixture of 1 part glycerin to 2 parts water. Pound the stems for an inch or two to ensure that they will draw up the glycerin. Choose well-formed leaves-wrinkled leaves turn black in the processing, immature leaves are too wet to preserve. Wipe the surface of the leaves with glycerin, as well.

Dip berried branches into undiluted glycerin before hanging them upside down to dry.

Sand and Borax - This method is the same as the silica gel method. Use half corn meal or sand with half powdered borax by-us. Some flowers such as roses, and loose petaled flowers such as pansies, large marigolds and zinnias may lose petals in this process. To prevent this, glue petals to the calyx with a drop of glue or melted wax. Allow to dry and then proceed. Flowers may take up to three weeks to dry but this will vary with the flower.

Shelter - Camels should be picked green and dipped in white shellac or melted paraffin to prevent shattering.

Pressing - Flat pressing is the best way to preserve ferns and leaves. Place between several layers of newspaper or the leaves of a magazine with no overlapping and weight down. Leave about three weeks. You may then press them between two layers of wax paper with a warm iron.

Averaging - When it comes time to arrange your summer collection, remember this material is fragile and must be handled with care. They may also be enhanced by a touch of colour or form of a few commercially dried pieces purchased from your florist.

Mrs. G. H. Taylor

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, Aaron and Saylor of Viking, were Sunday evening visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G.H. Taylor.

Mrs. Beth Campbell entertained a number of neighbours at a coffee party, Monday afternoon, the guest of honor being Mrs. Tekla Sroka who recently celebrated her 90th birthday and who is still active keeping house for herself and son, Sam, who makes his home with her since his retirement and works in her garden in the summer time. Those attending were Mrs. Tekla Sroka, Mrs. Sophie Chaplin, Mrs. Lena Dranaiuk, Mrs. Josie Mikmaka, Mrs. Kiebich, Mrs. Stanley Wocziechoski, Mrs. Annie Leskoski, Mrs. Carrie Olsen, Mrs. Bertha Stanwaud, Mrs. Edith Carlson, and Mrs. Rena Taylor. Miss Ethel Brown stopped in for lunch after school and took pictures.

An unfortunate accident happened Friday morning at the house-trailer home of Fritz Nordstrom, north-east of Holden, when, on striking a match in the morning to light the stove, an explosion occurred. Apparently there had been a small leak from the propane gas tank. Doors and windows were blown out and gas shells in the place went off. Luckily, Mr. Nordstrom escaped injury.

So little in return

The farmer is on his land; the fishermen are busy on the Great Lakes, the lumbermen (who reap their meagre harvest of gigantic pleats in winter) are floating their logs to the mills. The work of digging beauty and comfort and luxury out of the earth or whisking it off the surface of the earth is in full swing.

For that is what it all amounts to; beauty and comfort and luxury are the echoes of every stroke of the woodsman's axe or the miner's pick. From the soil and the sea and from the thin skin of world covering which man has probed with his drills and his implements of exploration, the things which he prizes most are wrested with unremitting toil.

It would seem, then, that among the greatest servants of mankind are the men and women whose daily work it is to get from the sea or soil the things which enable man to live as man have never lived before.

The farmer who feeds and helps to clothe the world, the miner whose metals, whose gems and whose fuels are of such supreme importance, the lumberman and the quarryman whose labours make possible the building and furnishing of great business and commercial places.

The trapper whose furs are of such delightful softness and warmth - all these primary producers and the primary producers who bring food also from the sea, are, it would appear, among the greatest benefactors of man. Too little of their benefactions do they themselves enjoy!

They are among the world's hardest toilers, but others enjoy the fruits of their labours. The finest shoes that are made from the hides he markets, the finest clothes that are woven from the sheep's wool, the farmer never wears.

The miner's wife does not deck herself with jewels. The quarryman do not live in marble halls. The lumberman's logs do not come back to them in lovely furniture. The men who produces coal or oil knows nothing of the great luxury liners which use it.

The primary producers have perforce to construct themselves with a very meagre share of that which they sweat from the land and its rocks and its waters.

The best of what they produce goes to the great cities; the greater the city, the greater the luxury it can show. The finest marbles, the most glorious jewels, the daintiest foods, the most beautiful clothing - these things seem to be drawn to the great cities as by a magnet.

The farmers here, even the here of which he is proudest, is a thing of no account at all beside the marbled magnificence where the city money-changers dwell.

Is world's climate really changing?

The past few years, it seems, have been particularly prone to unexpected climatic extremes. There have been droughts in some areas, floods in others, frosts in summer, late winter snows, unexpected winds.

Do these extremes indicate a long-term trend? Are they likely to have a measurable depressing effect on crop production?

The area of snowcover and pack-ice in the Northern Hemisphere surviving at the end of the summer increased by 12 percent between 1971 and 1972. Since that time it has remained at the higher level, leading to a significant decrease in absorbed solar radiation at the surface.

1972 and 1973 were extremely heavy ice years in the channels of the Canadian Arctic. Since 1951 the surface temperature of the North Atlantic has declined about one eighth of the difference between recent temperatures and full glacial temperature conditions, and the Gulf Stream has shifted southward. As a result the growing season in England has diminished by two weeks.

The Sahelian area of Africa is in its seventh year of drought, caused by the failure of the monsoons. In Asia, the frequency of droughts in northwest India has begun to increase, the monsoon has withdrawn southward in Japan; typhoon patterns have swung widely in the Philippines.

The average temperature of the northern hemisphere has declined nearly as much as it rose in the last 70 years.

Late summer frosts have returned within Canada and the upper midwest in the U.S., and across Japan the prevailing location of westerlies has shifted southward. There has also been a southward shift of westerlies, so that in the winter the westerlies now lie across the Gulf instead of further north.

In summary, the globe is colder, weather is more erratic and there have been major shifts in what we have assumed as normal temperatures, normal rainfall amounts, and normal rainfall and temperature distributions.

The average temperature of the northern hemisphere has been declining since about 1945. Prior to that time the temperature had been rising, especially since 1920. To a certain extent this atmospheric cooling was concealed by the temperature of the oceans. Now the oceans appear to have cooled and the overall cooling has become more obvious.

What does all this hold for the future?

The statistical evidence favors a persistence of the cooler period. Expect this pattern for at least the next decade because of the cooler ocean temperatures and because of the lag effect on ocean temperature changes. Here are general predictions:

Greater variability of climate from year to year and perhaps decade to decade in middle latitudes.

Greater extremes of wet and dry, hot and cold.

Reduced rainfall in the poleward portions of the monsoon regions (the Sahel of West Africa, Northern India, interior China and possibly parts of Mexico) and less reliable monsoons in general.

Cooler summers in general in high latitudes (Canada, northern Europe, all of the USSR, northern Japan) with shortened growing seasons.

Increased summer frosts in Canada, the northern U.S., and Russia.

Awkward springs in Ontario, the central U.S. and Europe, with very early budding of perennials followed by cold, wet springs, cooler summers and generally spring-type weather patterns in midsummer.

More industry under compensation act

...next January 1st

The Workers' Compensation Act will be extended to workers in more Alberta industries on January 1 1976 according to an [illegible] today by the Workers' Compensation Board.

Among the industries affected by the new regulation are auction houses, barber shops and beauty salons, rural electrification and mutual telephone systems. 73 types of employers are listed in an advertisement in this issue of The Canadian.

An employer in any of the industries listed who has not received an application form by October 1 1975, should check with any of the Board's branch offices or the head office in Edmonton to clarify his status.

Workers in the new industries being brought under The Act are entitled to compensation for injuries received as a result of an accident arising out of, or in the course of, employment on or after January 1, 1976.

Failure of the employer to establish an account with the Workers' Compensation Board may result in delay of compensation payments for injured workers. It could also be an expensive oversight by the employer. Section 77 of The Act permits a direct assessment on a delinquent employer of half the compensation payable to an injured worker up to a maximum of $500.00. Other penalties may be levied upon an employer who ignores any notification sent to him by the Board.

Growing hyacinth bulbs in pebbles

Have you ever tried growing hyacinth bulbs in pebbles? This is the time to plant them if you would like them to bloom in late January or early February.

The main advantage of growing the bulbs in pebbles and water is that you do not have to get a special soil mixture and you can use any type and shape of container that will hold the small stones and the bulb or bulbs.

P.D. McCalla, head of the Alberta department of agriculture's horticulture branch, recommends buying only high quality bulbs that are properly labelled regarding variety and color. The following varieties are suggested for forcing: Edelweiss and L'Innocence (white); Ann Mary, Pink Pearl and Princess Irene (pink); and Delft Blue, Myosotis, Ostara and Bismarck (blue).

It is a good idea to plant a number of containers with bulbs so that you can have them blooming over a number of weeks. This sequence in blooming can be achieved in three ways: by staggering the plantings, by extending the storage period or by planting varieties that require different growing periods. Best results with forced flowering bulbs are achieved as they approach their natural blooming period.

The following method is suggested for planting hyacinth bulbs in pebbles.

Put several pieces of charcoal in the bottom of the container and then half fill it with pebbles. Put the bulb, or bulbs, on the pebbles, allowing about half an inch between each bulb, and add more pebbles until the bottom third of the bulbs are imbedded in the stones. Now add water until it reaches to the bottom of the bulbs. The water should be kept at this level because the bulbs will not flower if the stones dry out. On the other hand, if the water level is higher than the base of the bulbs, they will rot.

Next put the containers in a [illegible] dark location where the temperature is between 40 and 50 degrees F. Leave them there until their shoots are half an inch long and have put down roots. For the bulbs to reach this stage of growth may take up to 10 weeks. Now put them in as much light as possible at a temperature of 50 degrees F for about three weeks to stimulate the growth; put them in a sunny window in your living room. The ideal temperature during the blooming period is between 60 and 65 degrees F.

You can get the blooms to stand above the foliage by wrapping paper, in the shape of a cone (four inch diameter at the top) around the pot. This technique causes the stem to become elongated as it reaches up towards the light.

If you do not have anywhere that is cool enough to keep your hyacinths during the growing period, you can buy bulbs from the florist that are in bud and ready to [illegible] into soil or pebbles.

Save your big game hides this fall

Did you know that approximately 100,000 big game animals are shot in Alberta and British Columbia every year and that less than 20,000 of these hides are actually used. The rest are either left in the bush or end up on garbage dumps.

Alberta Agriculture points out that you can do your part in conserving a valuable natural resource, now being wasted, by saving your big game hides. Indian craftsmen depend upon big game hunters to supply the hides from which they get the leather to make clothing, footwear and various other products. At the present time the demand for hides far outstrips the supply.

The Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development (craft section) will pay for raw elk, moose, deer, caribou, mule deer and antelope hides. All you have to do is ship your hide (frozen or salted) 'freight collect' to the Indian Craft Training Center, 10416 - 105 Avenue, Edmonton. If you live in Edmonton just drop it off there (downstairs in the building).

For further information call (collect) A. Bromfield at the Craft Training Center or C.A. Moore at the Indian Affairs regional office in Edmonton. Mr. Bromfield's telephone number is 426-2232 and Mr. Moore's number is 425-7179.

Bilingualism going too far

We, like most of the Canadians we know have tolerated the "bilingualism, bi-culturalism" bit for the past decade or so, not necessarily because we agree that the principle is good, but more likely for the simple reason that since it was rammed down our throats by the federal government, we would rather go quietly along with it than risk the chance of being branded "subversive-type" citizens.

Perhaps too many people have accepted the idea that government is God, and if the government introduces it, it must be good and it must be right.

Many of these people, however, became more than a little rankled a couple of years ago when, after the rest of Canada had accepted the idea of bi-lingualism, the government of Quebec decided to go a hundred per cent French in such areas as road signs and in their schools.

But the promoters of bilingualism have really taken it in on the chin in recent weeks, as the Quebec government began agitations to have the French language used by all pilots when conversing with the air controllers at Quebec airports.

That tears it!

English is the language used all over the world for pilots and airport control towers. Why should the little province of Quebec be treated any differently? Just because it has been the privileged province, the catered-to-province in Canada, does not mean the rest of the world should cater to it as well.

At the risk of being branded bigots, we would suggest that perhaps it's about time we got a little bit realistic about bi-lingualism and bi-culturalism. After all, we are a multi-cultured people, we Canadians. We would be willing to bet that about a third of the people living in Taber are bi-lingual — but this doesn't count with the federal government, because their second language isn't French. That's a lot of bunk!

The mightiest nation in the world today — the U.S.A. — got to be that way without bi-lingualism and bi-culturalism, and certainly the U.S. had its French minority, the same as Canada, and a Spanish minority as well. Yet they were not catered to, nor were they allowed to have a second "official language" as the French in Canada are privileged to have.

Why, in all fairness, do we Canadians not give other minority groups their right to their official language, too, and become the multi-lingual, multi-cultural nation which we — in all truth — are?

The reason, of course, is that it would be unwieldy, unmanageable and impractical.

And for these same reasons, we suggest, we Canadians already have gone too far.

Why do we have to be "bi-and-[illegible]"?

Why do we have to be English speaking and - or French-speaking [illegible]?

Why can't we just be [illegible]

COUNTY OF BEAVER COUNCIL MEETINGS
SEPT. 11th - 75.

Present were: Crs. Armitage, Brimacombe, Hwozick, Knudsiten, Krupelnicki, McIntosh and Sears.

The meeting was called to order by the Reeve, Cr. Knudsiten at 9:00 a.m.

Moved that the Minutes of the meetings of August 14th and 19th, be accepted.

Cr. Sears advised that the new subdivision ordered by the Tofield Hospital District had arrived. He also advised that an additional [illegible] be added to the Tofield Hospital Board.

Cr Brimacombe mentioned that they had had a meeting with the medical staff of the Viking Hospital in regard to a new facility. The doctors were to draw up their plans and ideas of what they would like to have included in a new hospital. Moved that the Hospital reports be accepted.

Laura Weatherall, Fieldman attended the meeting and discussed certain Maywood problems and other spraying problems to date. From comments made by the councillors, it appeared that there is still some spot spraying to be done, however, Mr. Weatherall advised that all of the money which had been allocated to this program had been spent. Moved that Laura Weatherall be authorized to do whatever is necessary for Maywood control for the balance of the season.

As had been requested by the Council, at the previous meeting, the Secretary-Treasurer advised that he had written to the Towns and Villages in regard to the concept of a Regional Land Fill Site. At this time, the Town of Tofield advised that they would like further information on this concept and had requested the Secretary-Treasurer attend their next council meeting.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that he had discussed the problem of damage in ditches caused by drilling contractors with a representative of the Department of Environment. He had been advised that if we would contact the Reclamation Council, these matters would be looked into and ordered cleaned up. Cr. Krupelnicki advised that he and Fl. Ewanek had taken a tour with a representative of Voyageur Petroleum to some of the drilling sites in this area. The representative from Voyageur admitted that some of the sites were a problem. They felt that part of the cause was that the land was too wet to look after properly. Moved that the Council request approval for applying a performance bond on drilling contractors until all drilling sites are cleaned up.

The possibility of leasing a Gravel Pit from Gordon Beaton in the S.W. 20 and N.E. 20-46-11-W4th was discussed. It was noted that we still have the Arkansdl Pit under lease, however it appears that the gravel from this lease was pretty well depleted. Moved that we discontinue the lease on the Arkansdl Pit.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that the By-Law which we had passed at the last meeting to control Absenthe had been approved by the Minister of Agriculture.

A letter from the Department of Environment, Water Resources Division, in response to our projects which had been submitted from the last meeting, had been distributed to the Council. The letter indicated that three sites were under investigation.

Correspondence from the Alberta Hospital Services Commission, together with an order in Council, advised that the Viking General Hospital and Hardisty Home District No. 10 is now incorporated.

A letter from the Provincial Planning Board advised that the subdivision in the N.W. 21-51-19 had been refused as well as the subdivision in the S.E. 34-48-16.

Copies of the 1975 Agricultural Service Board Conference resolution and the replies from the Government were presented. Moved that this information be received and that copies be made available to the Councillors.

Information received from the Railway Transport Committee advised that a section of the Canadian National Railways Line in the Kingman Subdivision had been abandoned. Also a portion of the Haight Subdivision was also ordered abandoned.

A copy of a letter from the Holden and District Chamber of Commerce to the Minister of Transportation indicating that they wish to have the secondary road from Daysland, north to Holden paved was presented.

An order of the Local Authorities Board authorized the annexation by the Village of

A request from the County of Beaver Seed Cleaning Plant to assist in the installation of water and sewer into the Seed Cleaning Plant was submitted. The request was for a grant of $1,000, towards the total cost of $3,000 of this project. There was some discussion on whether the County of Beaver should contribute to this, as the plant has been in operation for several years and should be able to finance it's own capital expenditures. Moved that this request be tabled for further information.

A letter from Costello Equipment Ltd. advised that they have some snow plows to be mounted on trucks in stock at the present time. In a previous Council meeting it had been suggested that a second truck-mounted snow plow be used for oiled roads in the east end of the County, as one truck-mounted plow is not adequate to cover the whole County. Moved that we purchase a plow to be mounted on one of our trucks for the sum of $3,380.00 from C -stello Equipment Ltd.

The Department of Agriculture District Extension Office advised that they are planning on holding two welding clinics in the area in the period of November 1975 to March 1976, and requested a room in the shop for this purpose. After considerable discussion it was decided that we do not have any room in our shop at the present time for this activity, however after the construction of the new shop, possibly space can be made available in the old shop for this purpose.

A request from Calgary Power Ltd. for approval of a Line Extension in the N.E. 24-48-16 was presented. Moved that this request be approved on the condition that allowance be made for a 100 foot road allowance on the east side of the N.E. 24-48-16-W4th.

Mrs. Marilyn Hilliard of the Provincial Planning Branch attended the meeting and went over a proposed By-Law which they had drawn up for our use. The By-Law was gone through very carefully and questions asked by the Council. In regard to an area in the west end of the County, the Cooking Lake study was going to be released, which may have some impact on the subdivisions in that area. The Council, after discussing the By-Law decided to do some further study on it on their own and await the results of the study on the Cooking Lake area before proceeding with the first reading of this By-Law.

[illegible] MEETING

COUNTY OF BEAVER COUNCIL MEETING
SEPT. 16th - 75.

Present were: Crs. Armitage, Brissard, Evenish, Knudsiten, Krogsdanski, McIntosh and Sears.

The meeting was called to order by the Reeve, Cr. Knudsiten at 9:00 a.m.

Moved that the Minutes of the meetings of August 14th and 19th, be accepted.

Cr. Sears advised that the new ambulance ordered by the Tofield Hospital District had arrived. He also advised that an additional doctor will be added to the Tofield Memorial Staff.

Cr Brissard mentioned that they had had a meeting with the medical staff of the Viking Hospital in regard to a new facility The doctors were to draw up their plans and ideas of what they would like to have included in a new hospital. Moved that the Hospital reports be accepted.

Laurie Weatherill, Fieldman, attended the meeting and discussed certain Maywood problems and other spraying problems to date. From comments made by the councillors, it appeared that there is still some spot spraying to be done, however, Mr. Weatherill advised that all of the money which had been allocated to this program had been spent. Moved that Laurie Weatherill be authorized to do whatever is necessary for Maywood control for the balance of the season.

As had been requested by the Council, at the previous meeting, the Secretary-Treasurer advised that he had written to the Towns and Villages in regard to the concept of a Regional Land Fill Site. At this time, the Town of Tofield advised that they would like further information on this concept and had requested the Secretary-Treasurer attend their next council meeting.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that he had discussed the problem of damage to ditches caused by drilling contractors with a representative of the Department of Environment. He had been advised that if we would contact the Reclamation Council, [illegible] would be hesitant to and ordered cleaned up. Cr. Knudsiten advised that he and Cr. Evenish had taken a tour with a representative of Voyageur Petroleum to some of the drilling sites in this area. The representative from Voyageur admitted that some of the sites were a problem. They felt that part of the cause was that the land was too wet to look after properly. Moved that the Council request approval for applying a performance bond on drilling contractors until all drilling sites are cleaned up.

The possibility of leasing a Gravel Pit from Gordon Beaton in the S.W. 20 and N.E. 20-49-11-W4th was discussed. It was noted that we still have the Arkinstall Pit under lease, however it appears that the gravel from this lease was pretty well depleted. Moved that we discontinue the lease on the Arkinstall Pit.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that the By-Law which we had passed at the last meeting to control Absenthe had been approved by the Minister of Agriculture

A letter from the Department of Environment, Water Resources Division, in response to our projects which had been submitted from the last meeting had been [illegible] to the Council. The letter indicated that these sites were under investigation.

A request from the County of Beaver Seed Cleaning Plant to assist in the installation of water and sewer into the Seed Cleaning Plant was submitted. The request was for a grant of $1,800, towards the total cost of $3,000 of this project. There was some discussion on whether the County of Beaver should contribute to this, as the plant has been in operation for several years and should be able to finance it's own capital expenditures. Moved that this request be tabled for further information.

A letter from Costello Equipment Ltd. advised that they have some snow plows to be mounted on trucks in stock at the present time. In a previous Council meeting it had been suggested that a second truck-mounted snow plow be used for oiled roads in the east end of the County, as one truck-mounted plow is not adequate to cover the whole County. Moved that we purchase a plow to be mounted on one of our trucks for the sum of $3,300.00 from Costello Equipment Ltd.

The Department of Agriculture District Extension Office advised that they are planning on holding two welding clinics in the area in the period of November 1975 to March 1976, and requested a room in the shop for this purpose. After considerable discussion it was decided that we do not have any room in our shop at the present time for this activity, however after the construction of the new shop, possibly space can be made available in the old shop for this purpose.

A request from Calgary Power Ltd. for approval of a Line Extension in the N.E. 24-48-16 was presented. Moved that this request be approved on the condition that allowance be made for a 100 foot road allowance on the east side of the N.E. 24-48-16-W4th.

A request for an extension of a power line in the N.E. 25-52-18-W4th was received. Moved that this request be approved.

A request for approval of a replacement of a 6-inch high pressure gas line by Northwestern Utilities Ltd. was presented. Moved that we advise Northwestern Utilities that we have no objection.

Moved that the third reading be given at this time. Third Reading Billiard

A request by Alberta Gas Trunk Line Co. Ltd. for approval of a gas line from the S.E. 4-50-13 to the S.W. 36-49-14 was presented. It was noted that this gas line crosses two road allowances. closing of a road allowance between Sections 22 and 15-47-11-W4th. This road allowance is unused except by the University Ranch, and there appears to be no good reasons why it should not be issued. Moved that we issue the road allowance between Sections 22 and 15-47-11-W4th to the University of Alberta Ranch.

Jerry Allott, Road Foreman, attended the meeting at this time and discussed the road oiling and construction up to the present time. He also provided the costs of the oiling of the roads which had been done to-date. It appeared that from the information he had gathered that our formula for oiling and re-oiling of roads was considerably lower than actual cost by using government rates. However it was agreed that we would use the formula for the balance of this year and use the actual costs as an indication for a formula for the following year.

Be knew, was no further business it was moved that the meeting adjourn at 6:00 p.m.

PECTIN EXTRACTS

Are you one of those caught in the middle of your jam and jelly making with no commercial pectin to be found. You have two choices. You can make only cooked-down jellies ? jams where you combine low and high pectin fruits or you can make your own pectin extracts. Candace Long, D.H.E. at Barrhead, sent the following information:

HOME MADE PECTIN EXTRACTS: These may be made at home from skins, cores and pulp of apples, or from the white peel of oranges and lemons all of which contain plenty of pectin. These extracts will be less concentrated than the commercial pectins, so you have to use more of them in a recipe. They must be processed if they are to be held for later use.

Orange or lemon pectin extract. Select fruit with thick skins. Wash and cut off the coloured rind. Remove the thick white peel. For each pound of fresh white peel, use 2 quarts water and 1 tablespoon tartaric acid crystals. Add the acid to the water and stir until dissolved. Coarsely grind the fresh peel and place it in a large pan to permit rapid boiling (as for the jam and jelly itself). Cover with the acid solution and allow to stand an hour or two. With a ruler, measure the depth of the mixture in the pan. Boil rapidly and stir constantly until the volume is reduced to half. Strain through 4 thicknesses of cheese cloth. Do two more extractions in the same way, adding 2 quarts water and 1 tablespoon tartaric acid to the same peels each time. (They do not have to stand again for the second and third extractions, however.) Combine the three extractions. You should end up with about 2½ pints of extract for each pound of peel you began with. Be sure to process it in a boiling water bath if you won't be using it all within the day. To do this, pour the hot extract into hot sterilized half-pint jars, seal, and process on a rack in the boiling water bath for 20 minutes. Store in a cool, dry place. Once opened, the extract must be used immediately, as it will not keep.

APPROXIMATE AMOUNT TO USE: For every two cups of fruit or juice you measure in a recipe, use 2 cups sugar and ¾ cup of your home-made pectin.

Helen Hrabec sent the following

WILD DUCK (HELEN'S STYLE)

After removing feathers, cut skin down middle and remove breast meat, leg and thigh. Remove heart and ends of giblet.

Rinse meat in cold water removing as much of top blood clot as possible. Pour half gallon of water in gallon ice cream pail, add 2 tbsps. salt. Stir and dissolve. Put duck meat in and let soak over night. Rinse in clean water. Drain. Put in plastic bag and freeze, or —

Put meat in pot and cover with cold water. Leave uncovered.

Add 1 carrot, diced, and one onion, chopped. Simmer uncovered until meat is tender about half hour if duck is young and one hour or more if duck is old. (You can tell by looking at the skin and fat. If it is very yellow it's old. Is fat is lighter than butter it is young).

In frying pan - chop 1 medium sized onion. Add about one half to three quarters cups of cream, add boiled duck. Fry until cream thickens and onion is not raw. Turn meat to coat with cream and onions. Serve hot.

He Once Stole Securities by Telephone.

Los Angeles

Teaching businesses how to avoid computer fraud is a job that, for Jerry Schneider, grew out of stealing $1 million worth of telephone equipment — by computer.

Mr. Schneider staged his massive theft in 1971 and 1972, when he was operating his own telecommunications supply firm, Pacific Telephone Company was the victim.

Why would a successful young businessman turn to theft?

"It was the challenge of the computer system," he said. "I kind of saw it as a chess game. I really didn't understand the law when I was very young."

To gain knowledge of computers, he posed as a journalist and visited Western Electric Company, where he was given demonstrations, and obtained manuals from International Business Machines Corporation.

Then he visited Pacific Telephone as a supposed freelance writer and observed on a computer the call number of its order system.

Just a phone call

It was simple, he said, to dial that number on his own telephone and place orders for equipment.

Mr. Schneider abandoned his scheme and surrendered to the district attorney's office Feb. 8, 1972.

"I felt guilty", he says. "I realized I had gone wrong."

He was charged with grand theft, burglary, and receiving stolen property. He pleaded guilty of grand theft and was sentenced to 60 days in jail and placed on probation for three years.

Mr. Schneider has since formed a computer security company and recently conducted a three-day seminar for corporate computer users.

Hold-ups 'obsolete'

"Time and again you have read newspaper stories about gunmen sticking up a bank or brokerage house messenger, and stealing hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of negotiable securities," Mr. Schneider says. "That type of crime is rapidly becoming obsolete."

In its modern-day equivalent, he says newspaper reports will tell about a single man accomplishing the same type of theft by penetrating a computer system through a computer terminal located in the comfort of his home.

"Same crime, different tools," he says.

"No computer system is totally secure from penetration," he says.

The massive Equity Funding Corporation of America fraud points up the ease with which computers can be harnessed. Executives and employees of the Los Angeles-based insurance and mutual funds conglomerate used a computer to turn out about 60,000 bogus insurance policies. The scheme was uncovered only when a fired employee talked.

Mr. Schneider says some people, working under relatively rigid systems, have the feeling that management is pressuring them every minute of the day "Beating the system"

This, he contended, develops into a need to beat the system.

"Have you ever folded, spindled, or stapled a computer-packed invoice, attached your check and mailed in your payment?" he asks.

"In your own little way, you were fighting the system. You were telling the computer that it wasn't infallible and that you're a person, not another computer with which it has been interfaced.

"Many believe it is this compulsion to 'beat the system' that is almost as important as the actual financial gain which is inspiring many computer penetrations."

Mr. Schneider says too often management, having invested enormous sums in a computer system, sits back and presumes the machine will handle everything securely.

"Absolutely not, he says.

Mr. Schneider gives this advice to his clients.

"Computer systems should be reviewed for possible holes constantly. When a hole is found, don't make the mistake of thinking that there is little possibility of someone else spotting it. Plug it."

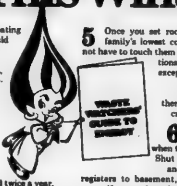
Ways to Get all the Heat You Pay for This Winter.



1 No matter what kind of heating system you have, you should check it periodically to ensure that it is safe, efficient, working order. Check that your vents, ducts or radiators are not restricted by furniture or carpets and are free of dust and lint which can reduce efficiency.

2 Don't reduce the air circulation through your furnace because of a dust-clogged filter. Disposable (glass fibre) filters should normally be cleaned monthly and replaced twice a year. Permanent type filters should be cleaned and oil-sprayed periodically (ask your heating contractor for servicing information if in doubt).

3 A humidifier, if you don't already have one, can save fuel by controlling the relative humidity. You will feel more comfortable at a lower temperature if the relative humidity is reasonably high.

4 If you use a garage heater install adequate insulation in the garage if you wish to use it for a workshop or other than car storage. Adjust the heater for minimum levels when the garage is used for vehicle storage only.

5 Once you set room thermostats at your family's lowest comfort level, you should not have to touch them again regardless of variations in outdoor temperatures except to reduce the temperature at night for sleeping comfort. In fact, moving thermostats up and down increases your heating costs.

6 If you have a fireplace keep the damper closed when the fireplace is not in use. Shut off heat to unused rooms and keep door closed. Close registers to basement, rumpus or recreation rooms if not used regularly. Draw drapes at night to cut heat loss and open them in the day to let sun warm your rooms. Even a winter sun helps keep your home warm.

7 Proper insulation can be your single biggest money and energy saver. Areas to check are attic and outside walls. We recommend a minimum of three inches in ceiling and two inches in walls. If you are uncertain about insulation, have an expert check it.

8 Check the weather stripping on doors and windows. This can be especially important if you live in an older home. Add storm windows and doors where necessary. Avoid drafts, but do not plug up small air inlets — making your home "airtight." Gas appliances, like you, need fresh air.

Ryley pool complex nearing completion

The Ryley Swimming Pool complex is steadily progressing.

The nearer of the building is nearing completion. The pool itself has been cemented in, and is awaiting the finishing coat. The change-room, showers, etc., are now areas for concentrated effort. Much of the plumbing heating and wiring has been completed.

Misdirected protest

We were frankly amazed a short time ago at the scale and the breadth of the protest levelled by many nations against Spain when that country inflicted the death penalty on five foreign guerilla terrorists. The storm of protest over the death sentence, from government levels, seems to us to have been highly misplaced, and an unwarranted form of pressure on another sovereign governmeat.

In addition to that, we cannot for the life of us see why this action on the part of Spain should be widely castigated, when so many other countries using far more violence, in a far less responsible manner, draw barely a murmer of criticism.

The world seethes with concern over the Irish situation, yet we cannot recall having heard one nation, as such, speak out from the governmental level. The world deplores the loss of freedom which has taken place in India in only recent weeks, yet the news of opponents of the regime being destroyed is blacked out and we choose to look the other way. In Ethiopia, the military junta breaks up families, spirits some members of the community away like the Nazis of old, and the world accepts it. General Idi Amin eliminates opposition to his regime, and the world tut tuts, but stops there. Readers know that the list goes on, but why is it only in Spain that the inflicting of the death penalty should draw such widespread protest?

In an entirely different context, but just as fitting today as when it was written several months ago, the U.S. News and World Report had this comment: "The terrorists like to be known as 'Palestinian guerillas' or 'commandos' or 'freedom fighters'... all honorable titles for militant dedication to a patriotic goal. They are none of these things. They are plain, ordinary, killers working for a living at the atrocity racket."

It's hard to say it better.

The energy bind

Right across the world these days comes the clarion call for conservation of energy, as suddenly the demands for greater and greater output of energy are met face to face with increasingly difficult supply situations, coupled with more obvious depletion of known energy sources.

It's a situation which has been predicted for some time by a few of the more thoughtful and far-seeing experts, but in more recent years it hasn't been all that hard to guess.

What does come as something of a jolt, then, is the sudden discovery by the auto makers that cars can get substantially more mileage from a gallon of gas than they have been able to for half a century. Gasolines are being reconstituted, engines are being differently tuned, minor adaptations are being added, and presto, fuel economy is achieved in substantial measure, even while engine performance is improved.

Skeptical consumers can't help wondering where was all this technology last year and the year before. It can hardly be plausible that the fuel shortage was the mother of invention which prompted the discoveries being built into engines. Nor does it seem logical that during all the years of experimenting with fuel stretching, no idea was advanced which would even slightly stretch capability, but that a significant breakthrough remained to be found after clean-fuel requirements were instituted, and world oil supplies appeared to be in danger of running out.

It cannot be forgotten this close to Winnipeg that some forty years ago a Winnipeg inventor developed the famous Pogue carburetor, which demonstrated in tests that 200 miles per gallon was not an unreasonable expectation. Of course, cars in those days were much lighter and speeds were rather slower, both of which would yield better performance.

Can it be true, as some people suspect, that the market has been rigged all these years to promote the sale of more gas and oil, and that now there are severe shortages looming, technology is being allowed to be applied in order to keep the multi-billion dollar automobile business booming?

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (CP) — It's not very fashionable in the Penn Gallery to be schmaltzy and publicly patriotic, but a surprising number of us do harbor such sentiments, carefully screened from our peers.

Not too long ago I was invited to Government House to watch Governor General Jules Leger present bravery awards to 33 Canadians, and posthumous awards to two relatives.

Most of those receiving the awards had never been to Ottawa before, much less in the carpeted ballroom in the Governor General's residence. A string orchestra played in the lobby, dress uniforms clinked with medals, and gilded chairs flashed in the television lights. The people there to receive their awards were ordinary people, most of them civilians, and most of them highly nervous.

There were two British Columbia tug boat captains with two crew members, there to receive four Star of Courage awards for risking their lives in January, 1974. They'd put a tow line on a blazing barge load of diesel oil, and pulled it, flames shooting 200 feet high, clear of a second barge laden with gasoline and diesel oil. A factory sweeper from Fort Erie Ontario picked up a brewery medal for pulling two men out of a tank full of poisonous fumes.

A 16-year-old Lachute, Quebec, girl won the Star of Courage for pulling her three-year-old niece from a blazing home. Three RCMP officers also won the medal of bravery for capturing a pair of baddys men without guns in a crowded shopping centre. There were countless awards for people who had risked icy water to rescue others in danger of drowning, and even one medal for a woman employee of External Affairs who had done the icy water rescue trick in Peking, saving a small Chinese child who had gone through the ice.

After the ceremony, there was a receiving line, and then dinner at circular tables for eight. The Governor General had his table jammed with a variety of award winners. At the next table, Defence Minister James Richardson chatted with an award-winning corporal.

It was one of those occasions to bring out the schmaltz and patriotism in even a journalist.

I can remember being quite skeptical when those new Canadian medals were first introduced, but I'm now a convert now. That day made me feel extremely proud.

A change in the tune

When Mike was three he wanted a sandbox and his father said, "There goes the yard. We'll have kids over here day and night and they'll throw sand into the flower beds and cats will make a mess in it and it'll kill the grass for sure."

And Mike's mother said, "It'll come back."

When Mike was five, he wanted a jungle gym set with swings that would take his breath away and bars to take him to the summit and his father said, "Good grief. I've seen those things in backyards and do you know what they look like? Mud holes in a pasture. Kids digging their gym shoes in the ground. It'll kill the grass."

And Mike's mother said, "It'll come back."

Between breaths when Daddy was blowing up the plastic swimming pool, he warned, "You know what they're going to do to this place? They're going to condemn it and use it for a missile site. I hope you know what you're doing. They'll truck water everywhere and you'll have a million water fights and you won't be able to take out the garbage without stepping in mud up to your neck and when we take this down we'll have the only brown lawn on the block."

"It'll come back," smiled Mike's mother.

When Mike was 12, he volunteered his yard for a camp-out. As they hoisted the tents and drove in the spikes, his father stood at the window and observed, "Why don't I just put the grass seed out in cereal bowls for the birds and save myself the trouble of spreading it around. You know for a fact that those tents and all those big feet are going to trample down every single blade of grass, don't you? Don't bother to answer," he said. "I know what you're going to say — 'It'll come back.'"

The basketball hoop on the side of the garage attracted more crowds than the Winter Olympics. And a small patch of lawn that started out with a barren spot the size of a garbage-can lid soon grew to encompass the entire side yard. Just when it looked like the new seed might take root, the winter came and the sled runners beat it into ridges and Mike's father shook his head and said, "I never asked for much in this life — only a patch of grass."

And his wife smiled and said, "It'll come back."

The lawn this fall was beautiful. It was green and . . . olive and rolled out like a sponge carpet along the drive where gym shoes had trod, along the garbage where bicycles used to fall and around the flower beds where little boys used to dig with their tea spoons.

But Mike's father never saw it. He anxiously looked beyond the yard and asked with a catch in his voice, "He will come back, won't he?"

O war, I hate you most of all for this, that you lay your hands on the noblest elements in human character, with which we might make a heaven on earth, and you use them to make a hell on earth instead. You take our science, our loyalty, our unselfishness, with which we might make the earth beautiful, and, using those our finest qualities, you make death fall from the sky . . . and you so bedevil the world that 15 years after the armistice we cannot be sure who won the war, so rank in disaster are victors and vanquished alike . . . I renounce war and never again, directly or indirectly, will I support another

Gust elected tourist prexy

John Gust from Bashaw was elected President of the Battle River Tourist Association at a supper meeting in Camrose on Friday evening.

He is supported by vice-president, Edna Palmer of Killam, and second vice-president, Bob Ruttan from Provost. Ken Ince from Stettler becomes Past President.

A count of those present was 164, up from 106 last year. Most towns in zone 5 were represented. A report of the membership shows individual memberships 417; counties 2; cities, towns and villages, 36.

During the business part of the meeting, reports were received from treasurer Sylvia Clemens, she also presented the minutes of the 1974 meeting, the president Ken Ince, manager, S.E. Clemens and the nominating committee, headed by Len D'Albertanson of Wainwright.

An auditors' statement showed total revenue of $41,311.59 plus a cash balance from the previous year of $6,941.15. Expenditures of the current year were $39,501.77 leaving a cash balance on August 31, 1975 of $8,750.97.

Praying for problems

If you don't have problems, you're in trouble.

Indeed, you should go to your room, get down on your knees and pray to God to give you some problems.

That's how positive Norman Vincent Peale can get in his thinking. Speaking at the recent annual meeting of Far-Mar-Co, he said he could point you to an area of New York City where 130,000 people have no problems - Woodlawn Cemetery.

Problems, the famed New York minister says, represent challenges that bring out the best in people.

Dr. Peale has been making such remarks for several decades. In that time there's never been a shortage of problems. Today there are problems sufficient to frustrate the sharpest Solomons in the highest places.

Dr. Peale's audience had no problem identifying with problems. No one felt the need to pray for more of them. On the farming level alone, there are plenty to go around: the energy problem, the livestock problem, the cost-price problem.

Wheat prices dropped several cents while Dr. Peale was speaking and faltered 27 cents in the course of the 2-day Far-Mar-Co meeting.

Still, co-op people are no strangers to problems. Co-ops came to pass because of problems. And what better definition of a co-op is there than this: People working together to solve their problems.

"Call to Discipleship"
Juan Carlos Ortiz
Juan Carlos Ortiz has his opponents. Some see him as a man like Watchman Nee Many ask, is his message too controversial? Too inflammatory? Too idealistic? Impossible?
Some critics think so - in fact it's very difficult to find anyone who agrees with everything this still-young Argentine urges upon the body of Christ.
Now at last, his crossing words are in black and white so that you can sift and decide for yourself.

COUNTY OF BEAVER

School & School Bus Operators During Storms

1. Schools in the County of Beaver will operate on all regular school days. Should school buses not operate due to hazardous road conditions, teachers, town pupils, and rural pupils who can be transported safely to school by their parents will be expected to attend.

2. Should an over-night storm cause blocked roads or the serious danger of blocked roads, school bus runs will be cancelled. Radio messages prior to 7:00 a.m. and thereafter will inform parents of the cancellation. Radio stations CFCW (Camrose) and CICA (Edmonton) will broadcast messages.

3. Should it be necessary to send pupils home by school bus at some time during the school day because of stormy conditions, these procedures will be followed:
   A. The principal of the school has authority to send school buses home at any time during the school day.
   B. Radio stations CFCW and CJCA will broadcast messages that rural pupils are enroute home.
   C. Parents, school bus driverss and others who are informed on road conditions are asked to telephone the principal, the County Councilor or the County Office at Ryley should they suspect that stormy conditions will block roads.

4. Road and weather conditions vary considerably throughout the County. For this reason, each school will operate independently under this procedure. It is possible that morning runs may be cancelled at some schools and not at others. Similarly, buses may be routed home during the school day at some schools and not at others.

5. Parents are reminded that it is their right to decide whether or not their children will be on the bus in the morning should conditions be stormy or hazardous.

6. Please be certain that all pupils are dressed adequately when each day. A school bus can become stranded on any given day due to road conditions or mechanical breakdown.

Superintendent of Schools

VEGETABLES WITH A DIFFERENCE:

Many of you had excellent vegetable gardens. The tomato, cabbage, carrots and turnips crop was really productive. Here are some different ideas for using these vegetables.

VEGETABLES MEDLEY

Mix two cups of each of peeled and finely shredded carrots and turnips. Place them in top of double boiler. Add two thirds cup cream or rich hot milk and cook from 15 - 20 minutes. Season with salt and butter.

TOASTED CARROTS

Roll whole cooked carrots in cooking oil. Then in crushed corn flakes seasoned with salt, pepper and paprika. Place under broiler flame occasionally with oil. Turn frequently till crisp and brown.

SOUR CREAM TOMATOES

6 med. tomatoes
3 tbsp. flour
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ tsp. thyme
2 tbsp. butter
2 tbsp. chopped green onion
1 cup dairy sour cream
Paprika

Trim thin slices from ends of tomatoes and chop fine; cut tomatoes in halves. Mix flour, salt, pepper and thyme. Dip tomato halves in seasoned flour and saute in butter until golden brown (2 to 3 minutes each side).

Remove from pan and keep hot. Add green onion and chopped tomato ends to pan drippings; saute 1 to 2 minutes. Stir in remaining flour, then gradually add sour cream. Stir and cook until smooth. Pour over tomatoes and sprinkle with paprika. 6 servings.

GLAZED TURNIPS (WHITE OR RUTABAGA)

1 med. turnip, cut in fingers and cooked
3 tbs. butter
3 tbsp. brown sugar
one-eighth tsp. nutmeg
1 tbsp. lemon juice

Drain turnip well. Combine butter, sugar and seasonings in frypan. Add turnip and cook uncovered until glazed (6 to 8 minutes), turning frequently. 6 servings. HONEY GLAZED TURNIPS - use 3 tbsp. honey in place of brown sugar and continue as above.

PLEASE NOTE

There is a change of dates for the Christmas Ideas and Foods Course in Tofield. They will be November 25th and December 9th in the meeting room of the Community Hall from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Tofield Auto Body celebrates birthday

Tofield Auto Body will celebrate its first anniversary next week

The business is owned and operated by Wayne Lysons and Doug Morris, both of whom reside in Tofield

Wayne has five years of experience in the trade while has amassed a total of eight years with both having served a four-year apprenticeship at NAIT

Since opening, the shop has been busy to such an extent that it was not until this fall that the men were able to find the necessary time to complete their building

The shop is well equipped with the latest equipment and has a factory engineered spray booth. The work area covers 2,600 square feet while office space occupies another 144 square feet

The business now employs two full-time 1st year auto body mechanic apprentices and one student from the Tofield High School under a work-experience program. Work in the shop covers collision work, painting, frame straightening, auto glass and radiator repairs. The wives of the owners help with the bookkeeping.

Ryley holds council meet

Councillors dealt mainly with routine business matters at the Village of Ryley regular council meeting on October 6th.

Building permits were approved for Ed Brennan, Ole Haugen, and Gary Pepper provided the applications are completed in accordance with the zoning by-law.

Council was told that Ryley would be saluted on CFCW on November 15th, and the secretary-treasurer was authorized to provide the station with the necessary information.

Council concurred with the action taken by the secretary-treasurer in signing an agreement with Northwestern Utilities for providing gas service to residents in Block 9.

New rental rates for the Community Hall were approved.

Information for this news story was taken from the unapproved minutes.

Ryley High boys get flag football crown

By Grace Phillips

The high school flag football season came to an end with a convincing victory for Ryley senior boys who defeated Viking in a two-game, total-points series.

Ryley won at Viking 25-7 and at Ryley 55-22 for a total-points score of 80 to 29.

Senior volleyball season is now underway. Tofield boys' and girls' team visited Viking on October 22, losing both games. Tofield home games will be on Friday, Nov. 7 with Viking visiting, and on Monday, Nov. 10 with Holden visiting.

The Junior High volleyball tournament held on Sat., Oct. 25, in Holden, resulted in Holden being the champions in both boys' and girls' events. The Tofield girls won 6 and lost 2; the Tofield boys won 4 and lost 4.

Starting Nov. 3, basketball practices will be underway.

Senior men's basketball will start on Monday.

On October 11, nine members of the Tofield Figure Skating group journeyed to Ponoka to attend the Figure Skating and Power Skating Coaches' Clinic, conducted by Janie Bako, director for Alberta and B.N.W.T. and Marjorie Coney, assistant director.

The Tofield participants in the coaches' clinic were: Brenda Williams, Kelley Heigh, Heather Allan, Nancy Neufeld, Rhonda Wiens, Ed Donnan, Doug Nachtigal, Laura MacNutt and Linda Jensen. They were driven by Mrs. Hope Heigh, Mrs. M. Crystal, and Elwood MacNutt.

The trip was highly successful in that all the Tofield participants received their amateur coaches' badges. Nancy Neufeld may now coach up to Test 5, Rhonda Wiens to Test 9, and all the rest to Test 12.

On October 18, Mrs. MacNutt and Wendy attended a similar clinic at Lloydminster. Mrs. MacNutt, a supervisory coach, obtained 16 points out of a possible 19; Wendy received 17 points out of 19. Wendy may now coach students in figure skating for the full number of tests.

Four girls compete for Holden crown

The Fall Carnival, sponsored by the Holden and District Agricultural Society will be held on November 15 and 16, in the Community Hall.

Plans are taking shape, and the committees, headed by Joe Fornal, are busily preparing for the gala event.

The festivities will begin on Friday, November 14, with a supper, beginning at 6:00 p.m. followed by games of chance, bingo, and games for the children.

Advance tickets for the supper will be sold, with a lucky ticket holder receiving a door prize. Admission tickets will also be sold at the door. The Agricultural Society would greatly appreciate donations of a pie for the supper, from the Holden and district ladies. Also ladies who are willing to help with the supper, please contact Ethel Fleming at 688-2465.

Four young ladies are competing for the honor of being crowned "Carnival Queen". They are: Dawn Fleming, May Flynn, Debbie Grinde, and Debbie Pooke. All are from the Holden and Bruce districts, and are presently attending Holden High School.

On Saturday, November 15, an evening of dancing will be enjoyed, with the crowning of the Queen to be the highlight of the evening.

All proceeds of the carnival will go towards completion of the Complex.

Omitted from the list of Bonanza Club winners printed last week, was a donation of $100 to the Agricultural Society by Jim Giebelhaus, who was a $500 winner in the October draw.

Hockey teams start "exhibition" season

The Tofield Satellites, last year's Beaverhill Hockey League champions, commence a new season with three exhibition hockey games, starting this Saturday against a fast skating aggregation, the Beverly Optimists.

Most of last season players are back along with some newcomers, so a strong should again be iced this year. Leo Rurka is the coach again this winter.

This year, two types of advance tickets will be on sale. The season pass, which gives the fan a reserved seat as well as membership in the Satellite Hockey Club. Along with this a fan-pack of tickets will be available. These come in books of ten and can be used at will for any exibition or regular season game. Tickets may be picked up at the Arena or from any member of the Satellite Hockey Club.

The Tofield Oldtimers Hockey Club got off to a fine start on Friday night.

Backed by fine goal-tending by Stan Voltner, they defeated the Oldtimers from Montrose 3 to 1. Keith Williams, Owen Jones and Joe Davenport scored Tofield's goals.

The Oldtimers will once again be playing every Friday night this season. Their opposition this week is a team from the Mercantile League.

Strikes and strife

Prime Minister Trudeau could hardly have picked a better time for his suggested price and wage controls to run into trouble than right now, with so many labor contracts either already expired, or coming up shortly. And in the fashion that has become so familiar, many of those which had expired had not been renewed by the end of the contract, but were in some stage of difficulty in resolution.

Naturally, it's the people whose contract still has to "catch up" who are causing the greatest clamor over controls, and they're making an almighty noise about their dissatisfaction. But, then, every contract has to catch up to something else.

Nonetheless, we feel the largest proportion of people welcome the controls, and despite the fact they're not altogether in agreement that the controls were the right thing, they're almost universally agreed that something had to be done, and even controls were better than nothing.

Probably the attempt to limit what was looking like runaway inflation is most welcomed by that diminishing group of our population who can recall the tragic aspects of the heedless kind of inflation which utterly ruined Germany after the First World War. When rampant inflation grew so completely out of hand that it took several millions of deutschmarks simply to mail a letter, and the price for something as basic as a loaf of bread rose into astronomical proportions.

Who says it can't happen here? Why can't it? It's increasingly obvious that the lessons of history repeat themselves, and apparently, we are reluctant to learn from them. All too often, we even refuse to learn from them.

What's to be done? Well, Premier Barrett has won more votes in B.C. by suggesting he felt the prime minister has not gone far enough, and set flat controls on many of the basic commodities. He'll have trouble in enforcing his program, just as Mr. Trudeau will, but at least you've got to give them credit for trying to do something about the situation, not just sitting.

Both men argue that the basic problem is to break the expectation of annual increases, as well as the expectation of increases which bear no relationship to productivity. It's only a few years ago that an increase of two or three percent was considered a great thing, and there was no indication it should even be looked for on an annual basis. Today, some elements are trying to "keep up" by pumping out increases unbelievably larger than this, and some even on a basis of more than once a year.

So, even more basic than the money involved, is a reshaping of the way we think, and the kind of expectations we can reasonably expect without endangering the bubble that seems perilously close to the breaking point. And surely we near the breaking point when we push our wages higher than those of the United States for the first time in history, when we reduce our output even faster than American workers have done, and when we "enjoy" the second highest level of strikes in the world, only slightly behind the volatile [illegible].

Portraits and politics

One of the sorriest comments about politics we've heard in a long time is the revelation that only last week was the portrait of the late Hon. J. C. Bowen hung in the Legislature, marking his role as Alberta's Lieutenant Governor from 1937 to 1950. Early in his "reign" he crossed up the rather recently elected Social Credit government, by refusing to sign three highly controversial bills, and referring them to Ottawa, where the supreme court ruled them ultra vires, beyond the province's authority.

We can well believe that Premier Aberhart would be outraged and spiteful enough to see the portrait did not hang, but then, it was not Mr. Aberhart's action, since Mr. Bowen continued in office long after Mr. Aberhart. No, it was Premier Manning who "overlooked" the matter for twenty years. Really, we had thought that the time for spite would have long since passed, and the time for completing the record would have arrived. However, three other portraits are still missing, and now in a period of preparation, ordered by the Conservative government. And all predate the most recent past queen's representative, Dr. J. Grant MacEwan, so there's been lots of time to arrange for them, too.

But then, it can't all be charged to the Manning administration. After all, there were at least some members of the Opposition during all those years. Where were the voices of the Opposition members, who might have been counted on to embarass the government into accepting its responsibilities?

Why did grain die?

No one actually intended to destroy the industry. Some of those involved actually liked it and thought Canada should have a grain industry. Most of them simply presumed it would go on pretty much as before regardless of what they did.

The labor unions got most of the blame for killing grain, but the funny thing is that most of them didn't have much to do with wheat or rapeseed. They were just looking for leverage, and grain was easy to stop cold because so many unions had a part in it. The unions which were employed by [illegible] government [illegible] grain a perfect target because they could close down a whole industry without losing regular pay for most of the union members.

The railways took some blame too. They had always been closely tied up with grain movement of course. It was only in the last twenty years or so that other cargo got profitable enough that the railways felt secure enough to put the pressure on grain. By being behind in car supply all the time, and by failing to run trains on difficult, less profitable lines, the railroads could force grain people to make all the adjustments the railways needed, or suffer. The railways knew that grain couldn't stand large tariff increases but the railways couldn't run a business on break-even operations either.

The government got lambasted when everybody realized that grain was a goner. It had taken a beating locally even before, but the Western plains were a long way from Ottawa, and members from the government side knew or cared little for grain. Votes were won and lost in central Canada anyway. The opposition members knew more about grain but it seemed like a poor issue for them compared with provincial rights.

The government had given civil servants the right to strike and to be spoken for in labor negotiations by unions. No one thought of requiring a cooling-off period or of protecting sensitive industries then. Besides, grain has always come back after a period of distress; it should be able to do so again.

Some people blamed the grain producer himself or his organizations. They said people had lost the will to take an active part in governing the country. Others said farmers had lost faith in governments elected in the East and run by mandarins. The farm organizations did scream for action but city newspapers said this was just vested interest hollering for more profit. Others said it was socialist propaganda. Anyway the people just felt cheated and didn't do anything themselves.

The grain industry was killed in its prime, you know. It had just experienced its best year ever in dollars earned. You would think it would have been cherished and protected by everyone connected with it.

— Wheat Pool Budget

Where would we be without computers

Without the dial telephone all the women of North America would be needed to handle the calls that are now made daily, writes Robert Jamieson, in a special FP report on business systems. Billions of financial transactions are now made and computed by machines: without the machines, the number of clerks would by now have been so fantastically large that we would have been short of manpower to handle the system. And the banks of course, are moving, all at their own speed and by their own routes, to total computerization of their whole system, apart from the transaction operations. We have seen how much we suffered when a part of the world's energy was shut off. We all know we would come to a stop if all of it were closed off for more than a few weeks. Probably damage of the same order of magnitude would occur if our computer facilities were all knocked out by some miraculous vengeance. Certainly the changes we would have to make to our lives if we lost the computer would be dramatic. They say, for instance, there's no way our airline traffic could have grown as it has done without the computer reservation system. Without computers, we would have an industry a fraction of its size today. If all industry and all government lost their computers all of a sudden, we would really be hard pressed to survive the shock.

Ryley

Monica Knudslien was in Athens, Greece when she phoned home on Sunday Oct. 26.

Henry Yoder passed away in Edmonton on Monday. Funeral was held Thursday at the Salem Mennonite Church. Hoveland Funeral Home was in charge.

It was a smashing success at the Ryley School on October 30 at the kindergarten class, proudly parading for their Mom's and Dad's in a variety of colourful costumes. Mr Ellsworth, principal of Ryley School, also attended the party held in the kindergarten classroom.

Mrs Berke, the teacher, assisted by Cheryl Lyons on the piano, led the kiddies in a series of songs. The children performed very well and the party concluded with a delicious lunch served by a few of the mothers.

A fire on Monday destroyed the barn and contents on the farm of Rudy Mizera.

Much progress has been made by Bob and Anne Crump in restoring the hardware building formerly owned by Dick and Mabel Lougheed. The building had been empty for over a year.

Ethel Walters says in her joyous spiritual autobiography

"To Me It's Wonderful"

She tells how, in 1957, at a Billy Graham Crusade she found again the love of Jesus she had lost as a child. What this has meant for her ever since is told with charm, honesty, love, and above all, soul. Here is the real story—wonderful because it's all true—of a dynamic entertainer and witness for Christ, a woman whose life went from ghetto to glamour, and who finally achieves the everlasting riches of the glory of God. Ethel Walters no longer just sings soul, now she lives it.

Tofield Lions regular meeting

The regular meeting of the Tofield Lions Club was held on Oct. 28.

The 11 members, 3 guests and 5 visiting Lions from the Ardrossan Club met at the Diamond Cafe for supper. Following supper the group then moved to the Court Room at the Community Hall for the business meeting.

President Al Pollock was in the chair and welcomed the visitors. The minutes were read, and discussions on new and old business took place.

There was much discussion regarding the club's community calender. Committee chairman Rich Strang informed the club that, due to the steel strike and printing production problems, the calenders would be delayed until mid January.

Santa Claus day for the Tofield and area children was discussed and agreed that Saturday, Dec. 13, is a good day. The day will be a picture show, ending with candy bags distributed by Santa.

The Tofield Lions gave past District Governor Chester Williams of Ardrossan a token of their gratitude in the form of an inscribed trophy for his fine work in the rebuilding of the Tofield Lions Club.

A change in the Lions' meeting night was discussed by the members and resolved as the following. The second Tuesday of the month meeting will be a coffee meeting rather than a supper meeting and will commence at 7.30 p.m.

The fourth Tuesday meeting of the month will be a supper meeting and commence at 6.30 p.m. All meetings will be in the Old Library Room located in the Community Hall.

Next Lions' meeting (coffee meeting) will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 12, at 7.30 p.m. change of day is due to the Armistice Day on Nov. 11th.

FIRE! FIRE!

FRightening words . . . Do you know what to do if a fire breaks out? Do you know the telephone number of your local fire department? What will you do if a fire breaks out?

At a recent meeting I attended, concern about rural fire protection was raised. The main problem seems to be that people are not ready for a fire. A little bit of planning could have prevented many fires and reduced the loss in others!

Laurie Weatherill, Agricultural fieldman for the County of Beaver gave me the following information. Did you know that the County of Beaver has a fire truck in every town, village or hamlet in the County? They also have agreements with surrounding Counties to provide assistance when necessary. That sounds good, doesn't it?

Do you realize that the people manning this brigade are volunteers? Are you doing your share? There are rural captains throughout the County who arrange for or train the volunteer brigade. Do you know who your captain is? You can find out by contacting your local fire chief or the County office. Offer your assistance and get some information about your area's brigade. If you are a new resident to the area, let your captain know exactly where you live. Often in the excitement of the fire, directions may be wrongly given. If your captain knows where you live this problem is eliminated. Remember too, the farther away you are from a town, village or hamlet the greater should be your fire conscientiousness. It takes time for the trucks to reach you.

If you do spot a fire, call the fire department immediately. Many small fires are out of control before the fire department is notified. Try to contain the fire at its original source. Close doors and windows if possible, to keep the oxygen supply as low as possible. Never enter a burning building. This is extremely dangerous.

Have you read your fire insurance policy? Is it adequate for today's values? Does your policy include coverage for smoke or water damage? Some fire insurance is invalid if it can be proved that a faulty furnace was the cause of the fire. Know what your policy covers. Do you have an up to date household inventory, preferably in your safety deposit box? This can assist you greatly when claiming for fire damage.

Next week we will look at fire preventors. Be fire conscious.

PLEASE NOTE: Christmas Ideas and Foods Course will be held in Holden on November 24th and December 21st in the Holden school from 7.30 - 9.30 p.m.

Same course will be held in Tofield on November 25th and December 9th in the meeting room of the Community Hall from 7.30 to 9.30 p.m.

Take TIME
for Home Heating SAFETY.

Northwestern Utilities carries out safety procedures the year round to protect its customers and help insure uninterrupted service. But once natural gas has arrived in your home it's up to you to continue the safety program.

Before winter sets in take a few moments to make sure your heating system is in proper working order. Venting is particularly important. Be sure the vent pipes connecting your furnace and gas appliances to the chimney are clear, and properly secured and they are not corroded, also check to insure that the chimney is not clogged with debris. It's time well spent protecting your family against the possibility of a home heating accident. Since an efficient, trouble free system also uses less energy, you'll be getting all the heat you pay for this winter.

The pamphlet "Take Time for Home Heating Safety" contains more safety tips. Copies are available at your nearest Northwestern Utilities Limited office.

COUNTY OF BEAVER

School & School Bus Operators During Storms

1. Schools in the County of Beaver will operate on all regular school days. Should school buses not operate due to hazardous road conditions, teachers, town pupils, and rural pupils who can be transported safely to school by their parents will be expected to attend.

2. Should an over-night storm cause blocked roads or the serious danger of blocked roads, school bus runs will be cancelled. Radio messages prior to 7:00 a.m. and thereafter will inform parents of the cancellation. Radio stations CFCW (Camrose) and CJCA (Edmonton) will broadcast messages.

3. Should it be necessary to send pupils home by school bus at some time during the school day because of stormy conditions, these procedures will be followed:

A. The principal of the school has authority to send school buses home at any time during the school day.

B. Radio stations CFCW and CJCA will broadcast messages that rural pupils are enroute home.

C. Parents, school bus drivers and others who are informed on road conditions are asked to telephone the principal, the County Councillor or the County Office at Ryley should they suspect that stormy conditions will block roads.

4. Road and weather conditions vary considerably throughout the County. For this reason, each school will operate independently under this procedure. It is possible that morning runs may be cancelled at some schools and not at others. Similarly, buses may be routed home during the school day at some schools and not at others.

5. Parents are reminded that it is their right to decide whether or not their children will be on the bus in the morning should conditions be stormy or hazardous.

6. Please be certain that all pupils are dressed adequately warm each day. A school bus can become stranded on any given day due to road conditions or mechanical breakdown.

Superintendent of Schools

ATTENTION
Cattle Owners In The County of Beaver

In recent months, many cattlemen in this county have been concerned about the number of outbreaks of Brucellosis in Western Canada. In response to this concern, the County of Beaver will be organizing a voluntary vaccination program of replacement females between the age of three and six months.

Because the County of Beaver is co-ordinating this program, it does not mean that the County is endorsing or encouraging the vaccinating of female replacements. Simply, the County of Beaver has left the decision completely to the cattlemen, but will help to organize the vaccinations for those who wish them.

All costs will be borne by the cattlemen, except for the cost incurred by the County staff. All fees are to be paid directly to the veterinarian at the time of vaccination. All cattle to be vaccinated must be confined at the time requested. the costs are as follows:

less than 10 head—$1.50 each
more than 10 head—$1.30 each

More information or vaccination bookings can be obtained from the Agricultural Fieldman, County of Beaver #9, Box 140, Ryley, phone 663-3730.

Frances Schultz is honored at shower

Miss Frances Schultz, R.N., was feted to a miscellaneous shower on October 4th in the Tofield United Church Hall.

Frances was seated at the table which was decorated in fall colors of orange and gold. Theone Jones made all the lovely corsages and a beautiful floral arrangement of flowers from her own garden, for the table centerpiece.

Evelyn Moore and Florence Ingram very capably entertained the many ladies present with a hilarious skit, entitled "Miss Schultz's reception room."

On behalf of those present, Dorothy Whillans presented the many lovely and useful gifts to the bride-to-be, who was assisted with the opening of these by her sister, Betty-Ann Gallinger and Ruth Ellen Newman of Toronto, also Dana Gallinger niece of the bride.

Frances very graciously thanked all present for the gifts and good wishes presented to her, and invited anyone coming Fort McMurray way to drop in, as this will be home to her and Gary for awhile. A delicous lunch was served by neighbors and friends, which brought the evening to a close.

Mrs. Hazel Dyer of Edmonton was hostess at her home the following week with a shower also for Frances who is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schultz of Tofield.

Holden Pioneers meet Thursday

Mrs. G.H. Taylor

The Pioneer Group held their regular meeting on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 6th at the home of Mrs. Bertha Steinwand. Mrs. Kate Nichols, in charge of devotions, opened the meeting with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. The minutes of the previous meeting, held October 2nd, at the home of Mrs. Beth Campbell, were read and approved. The letter of appreciation sent to Roy Nichols was read and the ladies were advised that a pot-luck supper was to be held Friday evening, Nov. 7th, in the church basement with finances of the church to be discussed and a fellowship hour enjoyed. They were also told that the U.C.W. were planing to hold a turkey supper on December 6th in the Holden Community Hall. A lovely poem was also read by Mrs. Campbell, "The Voice in the Twilight". The next meeting, December 4th, will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Hardy with Mrs. Hardy also in charge of the devotions. The meeting closed with a hymn and The Benediction, the hostess, Mrs. Steinwand served lunch and an hour of fellowship was enjoyed.

Reunion of WMF leaders held

An unusual reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Ellen Foster in Edmonton on Nov. 6th, when a dozen women gathered to reminisce about the early days in the WMF, now known as the LCW of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada. The ladies, almost all of them between 60 and 80 years of age, had held office in the national organization, some of them as long as 34 years ago, and all were representatives of the Edmonton-Camrose area of the [illegible].

Present were Mrs. Magda Hendrickson, Mrs. Iaanda Hoyme, Mrs. Astrid Holte, Mrs. Dorothy Lyseng, all of Camrose, Mrs. Peter Blornson of Tofield, Mrs. Fred Gotheridge of Round Hill, Mrs. Doris Liknes and Mrs. Irene Fluevog of Irma, Mrs. Myrtle Mehnes, Mrs. Robert (Iva) Hansen, and Mrs. Evelyn Marzolf, all of Edmonton. Unable to be present was Mrs. Lil Bohmer of [illegible].

Two former Canada District presidents were Mrs. Hendrickson, from 1941 to 1947, and Mrs. Hoyme, from 1955 to 1960. Mrs. Hoyme also was treasurer and Mrs. Foster was secretary during Mrs. Hendrickson's chairmanship.

Mrs. Marzolf, the youngest in the group, is now national president, and Mrs. Astrid Holte is president of the Central Alberta Conference. Other guests of honor had served as national vice-presidents or department secretaries, and as Circuit presidents.

After a noon luncheon served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Maxine Woodward, numerous photos were taken and the afternoon was spent in visiting, reminiscing, and in fellowship. Mrs. Hendrickson related some of the humble beginnings of the WMF 50 years ago when she served ten years as president in the Camrose area. She told of the help given Canada District by headquarters in Minneapolis, and recalled humorous incidents that occurred during her years of service.

Special tribute was paid to Mrs. S D. Brun, one of the first national presidents, whose energetic leadership for at least 15 years in the twenties and thirties contributed most of all to the earlier progress of the WMF in Canada.

Councillor

At a recent election in Tofield, Warren Watson was elected as a member of Town Council. Mr. Watson is associated with Watson (Tofield) Ltd., is married with four children. He is the current president of the Tofield Curling Club, and is an ardent fisherman and hunter.

GEE, NOW THAT WE HAVE A NEW BROTHER, WE'LL BE ABLE TO HEAR POP TELL ALL THOSE GREAT BEDTIME STORIES AGAIN ABOUT HOW HE WRESTLED OLD UGLY INFLATION TO THE GROUND!
DONATO

Off balance?

B.C.'s Premier Dave Barrett must have caught just about everybody off base with his snap call for an election in that province, and his sense of timing must be considered superb. Slightly more than three years into his government's term, his popularity with the people seemed to be developing weak spots in a number of places, because of many of the programs he has introduced, and some he has not.

But then, only in recent weeks, he has taken two stands in very controversial areas which, in our view, probably did a great deal to restore flagging confidence, and also to disarm the attacks of the Opposition. First was his order to a number of striking unions and employers to get back to work and the bargaining table, or face severe impositions from government. This, in a province that was badly dislocated by labor unrest, seems to have been welcomed by thousands upon thousands of ordinary people who wanted to see things get going again. And even the big bosses, while vocally unhappy, did not dare risk the government action Barrett promised.

And secondly was his action just days ago in extending the controls introduced by Ottawa right down to the everyday side of living, like groceries. This is language which is understood by the housewife, and by most "heads of families" (if there's any difference.)

One of his early actions, the land freeze, made him extremely unpopular in many areas, and indeed it had almost exactly the opposite effect of what he intended. The Opposition won't let him forget that. Nor will they allow the people to overlook the loss of the state operated Insurance Commission of British Columbia, which reputedly will lose thirty six million dollars in insuring automobiles this year, while Social Credit leader Bennett is estimating a hundred million for next year.

Despite all this, the Opposition parties can't argue publicly with getting people back to work, nor with freezing the price of groceries, things which will have meaning for many voters.

At dissolution, Barret held more than two thirds of all the seats in the Legislature, while Social Credit held a quarter. The Liberals and Conservatives, with three between them, will probably disappear, while Social Credit will make a few gains in a public move to a stronger opposition, and away from their "protest" vote of three years ago. But Barrett will still hold more than half of all the seats, and he'll be back in Victoria again, with the public's backing for his strong-arm tactics.

Shuffle for Ford

United States President Ford's shuffle of many of his senior advisers on Monday was a particular interest to us, for it just so happened that only two weeks ago we had the privilege of listening personally to his newly promoted Secretary of Defense, Donald Rumsfeld, who had been Assistant to the President. As delegates of the weekly newspaper industry in Canada to the National Newspapers Association convention in the United States, we were just as impressed with Mr. Rumsfeld's ability as were the hundreds of American delegates who were, unknowingly, being given a previey of his capacity and breadth, and who went home with immense admiration for this young man.

Elected to Congress at the ripe old age of 30, he has gained a vast working knowledge of the field of government, statecraft, and responsible representation, and as a veteran now of 41, brings to his new job a number of qualities which are vital. He is highly perceptive and analytical, eloquent yet crystal clear in expression, open and forthright in answering questions or explaining policy, yet deft in parrying thrusts at sore spots, and possessed overall of a high degree of wit and easy good humor.

Mr. Kissinger will continue to be a central figure, of course, in the new echelon of support, but the new Defence Secretary can be counted on to be an important link in the chain.

ATTENTION
Cattle Owners In The County of Beaver
In recent months, many cattlemen in this county have been concerned about the number of outbreaks of Brucellosis in Western Canada. In response to this concern, the County of Beaver will be organizing a voluntary vaccination program of replacement females between the age of three and six months.
Because the County of Beaver is co-ordinating this program, it does not mean that the County is endorsing or encouraging the vaccinating of female replacements. Simply, the County of Beaver has left the decision completely to the cattlemen, but will help to organize the vaccinations for those who wish them.
All costs will be borne by the cattlemen, except for the cost incurred by the County staff. All fees are to be paid directly to the veterinarian at the time of vaccination. All cattle to be vaccinated must be confined at the time requested. the costs are as follows:
less than 10 head—$1.50 each
more than 10 head—$1.30 each
More information or vaccination bookings can be obtained from the Agricultural Fieldman, County of Beaver #9, Box 140, Ryley, phone 663-3730.

Recreation plans study

W. J. Pranci and Associates Limited have been hired by the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board to complete a five-year master plan study.

This is a regional study and should be completed in about six months or less by the firm hired. Details of what the study actually entailed were not contained in the unapproved minutes of a meeting held in Ryley on October 29.

Voting in favour of doing the master plan study was rather split, with six in favour, three members opposed, while another three refrained from voting.

Following approval of the study, the Board decided that all capital grant applications, from rural areas, be tabled until the study was completed while applications already received would be processed.

The Board decided to notify the Department of Energy and Natural Resources that it would like to lease an additional nine acres of land, adjacent to the Board's property at Black Nugget.

Administrator George Baker told the meeting that there was no further information on the possible purchase of a bus, jointly with the School Committee.

Tepee living tried by Tofield students

by Grace Phillips

On the weekend of October 17-19, thirty-five students in R. Garneau's social studies class in the Tofield School visited the Stoney Indian Reserve, located approximately fifty miles west of Calgary near Morley.

The group was accompanied by five teacher-supervisors lived at the Stoney Wilderness Centre, nestled in the Rocky Mountains.

The students lived in authentic tepees, twenty feet in diameter with large bonfires in the centre of each tepee to keep away the cold of the night. Needless to say, activities included fire-building and wood-chopping.

Other activities included canoeing on picturesque Hector Lake, horseback riding into the mountains, a visit to a wildlife game preserve and lectures on Indian culture by various employees of the centre.

The purpose of the visit was to culminate a two-month study of Indian culture and social problems by the social students 20 class in a situation where first-hand experience and interaction with Canadian native people were available.

Upon their return to Tofield, the many questions of the students arising from the trip were answered by Mr. E. Bellerose of the Indian Association who visited the Tofield School.

A visit is being arranged for Harold Cardinal, president of the I.A.A. to visit the Tofield School for early December

These activities are efforts to arouse concern in the students for the problems of our native Canadians and to make them aware of how they can help the Indian and white man alike to live with each other as equals.

Supervisors on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Walls, Mr. and Mrs. Blades, and R. Garneau.

Satellites win exhibition game

The Tofield Satellites Hockey team were victorious in their first exhibition hockey game last November 8. The game was played in Tofield against the Beverly Optimists, a commercial team from Edmonton. The game featured quick skating and hard hitting by both teams with Tofield finally prevailing by a score of 8-3.

Ken Francis led the Tofield attack by potting two goals. Single goals were scored by Ray Comey, Morris Letawsky, George Keen, and Floyd Taylor. Rookies Doug Nachtigal and Doug Pedersen also scored for the Satellites. Tofield goaltending was shared by Paul Halverson and John Donnan with both goalies turning in a strong performance

By time this report is published, Tofield will have played their second exhibition game against the newest team in the B.H.L., the Holden Beavers. The third exhibition game of the Satellites is scheduled this Saturday against the R.C.M.P. The first game of the regular season is on Tuesday, against Andrew Aces. The game is in Tofield.

The second good fortune to occur last week was a two hundred dollar donation to the Satellite Club by Bill Mychan, the new owner of the Tofield Hotel.

The Fan-Pac books of tickets for entrance to Satellite home games are now being sold with the saving on each ticket being 33 and one-third percent. For further information, contact any Tofield Satellite player.

Ramifications

Even with the experience of the past, it's surprising how many new twists show up in regard to the current postal strike, which were not felt, or were not as pronounced on other occasions.

One of the first is the almost complete elimination of Christmas card sales, as millions of normal users seem to feel there will be no use in their mailing cards this year. Even if the strike does end, their reasoning goes, there would be such a big backlog of mail that their cards will not likely get through. So serious is the situation that one major card firm is facing a highly serious economic situation, with anticipated sales reduced by 95 percent.

Another feature giving concern to a number of citizens is what will happen with their credit card accounts, when they are unable to receive statements. Their question is whether they will be subject to interest payments for overdue amounts, the contention being that really, they're not overdue since no statement has ever been received. Anyway it's pretty hard to pay any money to the banks, even though you know the account number but don't possess one of those punched hole do not mutilate, fold or spindle, statements which convey all the messages to the computer.

We haven't heard any official statement on the matter, either, but our own bet is that the various computers involved won't know whether the statement has been received or not. They will merely go clicking along in their job recording the passage of time, and automatically click in the additional impost for interest when the record shows the account has not been paid within the due period. Just one more mighty annoyance, repeated millions of times, perhaps, which won't even be felt until the strike is over.

Some of the annoyances are relatively minor and petty, while some are far more serious, and if the strike continues over a substantial period, it could well ruin many small businesses, possibly many larger ones. If, as was indicated, it could run until Easter, many firms would perforce have to find alternative new methods of communication ... and even though the end result might possibly be as cheap, the adjustments necessary could well prove so expensive as to be totally uneconomic.

Give back the dowry

Probably we're the last in the country to realize it, but we were distinctly surprised on Monday to learn that all the vast beds of coal in the Dodds-Round Hill area which Calgary Power wants to develop are owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Not only that, but apparently they gained the mineral rights at the time this part of the country was opened up, as part of the munificent grants of land given to them by the Dominion Government.

They sold the surface of the land to the incoming settlers, in order to provide customers for their railways. But the rights to everything below the surface they retained.

Now they, and Calgary Power, want to develop the coal rights, and to draw huge incomes in so doing. If the income can in any way be gauged by the royalties derived by the Alberta government from similar deposits near Forestburg, the income to mine owners must be huge indeed.

The point we're building up to is that all this revenue should rightfully be credited to the account of the Crowsnest Grain Rates, which the railways continually maintain are running them ways in the hole each year. Not only these revenues, but those from all the other land sales and developments deriving from the vast grants of land clear across the prairies that the railways gained.

Critics of the rates frequently scoff that of course the Crowsnest rates are out of date ... why they haven't been changed since they were written in 1888 ... and quite obviously they have to be adjusted more in light with today's costs of operations. But why is it so hard to get these people to look at the credit side of the ledger? Why can't they see that Canadians in 1888 paid dearly and in 1975 are still paying, for these "out-dated, ridiculous, uneconomic relics of a by-gone era"? If the Crow rates are so out-dated, let's also cancel all the concomitant factors, such as the coal rights at Dodds-Round Hill and other areas, the mines and smelters which hinge on other developments, and so on.

Deputy Premier Hugh Horner made an excellent, highly intelligent pitch for continuation of the Crow rates at the recent hearings of the Commission in Edmonton, yet there is reason to doubt if his well-reasoned arguments found their mark as securely as was warranted. It's surprising that anyone who has read his history would not group with other Westerners in opposition to the pressure developing under Otto Lang's inquiry for a change in the marriage contract. If the railways want to break the marriage contract, surely they should give back the dowry.

An Unusual Canadian Church

One of the most unusual churches in Canada to-day is the Community Baptist Bible Church and Christian Academy on Townline Rd., Abbotsford, B.C.

Just two years ago this church was not in existence in any man's mind but [illegible] glory since that [illegible].

A beautiful building has been [illegible] with lightning speed on a piece of land which was wooded, swampy territory just a few months before.

Twenty-four months ago two families asked Pastor and Mrs. Milton Johnson to start the Community Baptist Bible Church. The church was then started without any money, hymn books, Sunday School material, etc.

Every person you see in this church, every block, every board is a witness to the fact that God lives and works miracles to-day. At Dedication Services on January 5, 1975 the Sanctuary was overflowing with members and interested visitors.

During 1974 this Independent church saw over 200 people counselled in first salvation decisions. Over 60 people were baptized and the attendance had risen to 575, a growth rate of 80 percent.

Another unusual feature of this church is that it now owns 14 Sunday School buses, has a bus director and bus captains, each designated to cover a certain area. Passengers are brought in from as far north as Mission, as far south as Huntingdon and as far west as Langley with a vision to reach the Fraser Valley in the near future.

The Lord also provided facilities for the addition of a unique christian academy which opened last fall with an enrollment of 53 students.

The Academy of Accelerated Christian Education or ACE operates on a learning program rather than a teaching program based on christian standards.

Each student becomes an individual and can work at his own speed and capability and accelerate to his highest potentials by developing the goals he sets for himself and to attain them. Failures are eliminated and the open door is a challenge for everyone.

All students use the audio-visual controlled Reader Program, advancing as his comprehension score permits.

Teacher lectures, textbooks and work assignments are replaced by "action curriculum educators", a combination package of recorded cassette lecture, text and work-book, prepared by qualified educators.

The key to achievement is controlled program learning with built in incentive and adequate motivation academically, based on christian principals.

So little in return

The farmer is on his land, the fishermen are busy on the Great Lakes, the lumbermen (who reap their strange harvest of gigantic plants in winter) are floating their logs to the mills. The work of digging beauty and comfort and luxury out of the earth or whisking it off the surface of the earth is in full swing.

For that is what it all amounts to: beauty and comfort and luxury are the echoes of every stroke of the woodman's axe or the miner's pick. From the soil and the sea and from the thin skin of world covering which man has probed with his drills and his implements of exploration, the things which he prizes most are wrested with unremitting toil.

It would seem, then, that among the greatest servants of mankind are the men and women whose daily work it is to get from the sea or soil the things which enable man to live as men have never lived before.

The farmer who feeds and helps to clothe the world, the miner whose metals, whose gems and whose fuels are of such supreme importance, the lumbermen and the quarrymen whose labours make possible the building and furnishing of great business and commercial places.

The trapper whose furs are of such delightful softness and warmth ... all these primary producers and the primary producers who drag food also from the sea, are, it would appear, among the greatest benefactors of man. But how little of their benefactions do they themselves enjoy?

They are among the world's hardest toilers, but others enjoy the fruits of their labours. The finest [illegible] the finest clothes that are woven from the sheep's wool, the farmer never wears.

The miner's wife does not deck herself with jewels. The quarrymen do not live in marble halls. The lumberman's logs do not come back to them in lovely furniture. The man who produces coal or oil knows nothing of the great luxury liners which use it.

The primary producers have perforce to content themselves with a very meagre share of that which they wrest from the earth and its rocks and its waters.

The best of what they produce goes to the great cities: the greater the city, the greater the luxury it can show. The finest marbles, the most glorious jewels, the daintiest foods, the most beautiful clothing - these things seem to be drawn to the great cities as by a magnet.

The farmer's barn, even the barn of which he is proudest, is a thing of no account at all beside the marbled magnificence where the city money-changers dwell.

This may save a life.

Thousands of accidental poisonings are reported annually in Alberta, most of which occur in the home. Most cases are treated quickly and successfully, but the tragedy is that some cases are fatal. More than one hundred people lost their lives last year due to accidental poisoning.

The following information sheet was designed to assist you in familiarizing yourself with the prevention and emergency first aid treatment measures to be taken.

BE PREPARED!

This week we look at fire prevention

Learn to be conscious. Investigate any signs of smoke Store flammables in a safe area. Gasoline, chemicals, solvents etc should be stored away from main buildings. Check your wiring. Keep it in good repair. Do not overload circuits. Careless use of heating lamps and faulty ventilation also cause many farm fires. Keep matches in safe places and watch for the careless smoker. Have your furnace serviced yearly and change furnace filters as required. As well as preventing fires this will cut down on fuel costs. Be a good housekeeper both in the house and outside. Clean up shavings, trash, etc. Leave safe paths through buildings. Store equipment and supplies in safe places. Leave your driveway clear.

This involves planning. Good home and farmstead planning can help you control fires. Leave an adequate space between buildings. Provide easy access to any building. Do not fill up open spaces that were to be fire guards with feed and bales. They are highly flammable and can carry the fire on to the next building.

What kind of equipment should you have? There should be a fire extinguisher on each floor of major buildings. A minimum extinguisher is a 2½ lb dry chemical extinguisher. Know where it is and how to use it.

Many times when the fire trucks goes to a fire, finding a source of water is a problem. If possible locate a dugout or some large water volume in a good location on your farm. This should be readily available to all your buildings. Having a hose on a pressure system will help if another water supply is not available.

If your house, barn, etc. has more than one story-keeping a 50 ft. coil of rope in a convenient place will help you escape if necessary. Again check the rope periodically and make sure it is readily available if needed.

Laurie Weatherill mentioned that local fire chiefs have signs to tell of chemical storage. This is a protection for the fire fighters if a fire breaks out. If you are storing chemicals put a sign on the building.

He also reminded us that any fire set for a purpose other than cooking requires a permit. These are available from County Counsellors or the Agricultural Fieldman. If you are going to burn stubble or brush get a permit first.

When did your family last have a fire drill? It is a good idea to hold these regularly. Plan alternate escape routes from all points in your house. Make sure all family members know the routes and where fire equipment is kept. Inform baby sitters of fire procedures. Place the Fire Department telephone numbers on or near your phone.

Be Prepared!

AGT adds equipment

Tofield took another step in telephone communications on Tuesday.

New equipment has been installed by Alberta Government Telephones that will make it a bit faster and smoother to complete long distance calls.

Now, when someone makes a long distance direct call, the new equipment will automatically record all the necessary information, such as number making the call, time, and date.

It will no longer be necessary for a telephone operator to come on the line to list the number making the call.

This change applies only to those people with private lines. Anyone on party lines will still have the operator come on to find out who's making the call.

Originally, the change was not supposed to take effect until tomorrow (Friday), but, work progressed faster than expected, and AGT decided to make the change Tuesday after all work had been done.

Tofield Lions plan Santa Claus' visit

The regular monthly meeting of the Tofield Lions Club was held in the school library on Nov. 12th, with 14 members present and president Al Pollock, in the chair.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and the business from the minutes dealt with. It was brought to the attention of club members that our meetings will be held in different locations for Nov. as the old library room in the community centre was booked for the month. The Nov. 25th meeting will be at 6:30 p.m., supper meeting, in the basement of the United Church.

It was agreed that the potters' wheel is to be taken to the school where the club can try it out for one week, and either buy it or look for another. The community calender has progressed well although many problems had to be overcome due to the mail strike.

A club Christmas social for Lions and wives was discussed and Ed Regher to look into possibilities and report back to the next meeting.

Santa Claus day arrangements are completed and will be held on Saturday, Dec. 13 at 2 p.m. in the Community Centre, beginning with a free picture show for the children, and closing with Santa presenting those present with candy bags.

The next meeting, on Nov. 25, will be induction night, and visiting members from the Lamont Club will be present.

County council briefs

(UNAPPROVED MINUTES)

Minutes of the Regular Meeting of the Council of the County of Beaver No. 9 Thursday, October 9th, 1975.

Present were: Crs. Armitage, Brissard, Ewasiuk, Knudslien, Kropielnicki, McIntosh, and [illegible].

The meeting was called to order by the Reeve Cr. Knudslien, at 10:00 a.m.

Moved that the minutes of the regular meeting of September 11th, be approved.

Cr. Brissard advised that they require a new Director of Nursing for the Viking Hospital. He also advised that a committee had gone to Fort McMurray to look through their hospital and to get ideas on the items required in a new hospital. Moved that the Hospital Report be accepted.

Laurie Weatherill, Agricultural Fieldman, attended the meeting at this time. He distributed a paper which had been prepared by the Department of Agriculture on our Mayweed program, which is to be delivered at an International Weed Conference. Mr. Weatherill stated that he felt the main accomplishment of the program this year is in making people aware of the Mayweed problem. However, it will take two or three years before the program really shows a significant progress.

The Secretary-Treasurer advised that he had attended council meetings in the town of Tofield, the village of Ryley and had correspondence with the Council of the town of Viking and the village of Holden. All of the towns and villages, with the exception of the village of Holden, were in favour of the concept of a Regional Land Fill Site. This information had been forwarded to the Department of Environment. Once they have established the policy in regard to Regional Land Fill Sites, our request will be considered.

Correspondence from the village of Ryley in regard to the property they have purchased for a new grader shed indicates that they would prefer to have the County Council pay for a portion of the line on 51st Ave. from 49th St. rather than pay for installing the line from the main line south of our property. This would enable the village to proceed with the balance of the line from the Community Hall which would tie in with this water line. As it was no different in cost either way to the County Council it was moved that this proposal be accepted.

Correspondence from the Department of Environment, Water Resources Division, was presented in regards to Drainage Proposals, which had been requested for investigation. The investigation reports were also enclosed. These projects are the S.E. 31 and S.W. 32-49-12-W4th, N.E. 17-49-12-W4, S½ Sec 4-49-12-W4, S.E. 2-49-12-W4th. Also attached was a cost estimate of the construction of these projects. The total amount if proceeded with, is in the amount of $47,584.00. There was no indication in the correspondence that the Department of Environment would become financially involved in this program, however they advised that consent forms from the owners of the property, for the works be proceeded with, and also an application for licence would be required. Moved that we proceed to get the easement and the licence application on these drainage projects.

As no further information was received from the County of Beaver Seed Cleaning Plant, it was moved that the question of assisting in the installation of water and sewer to this plant be tabled.

A letter from the Department of Environment, Water Resources Division advised that they will inspect the request for an inspection in Township 50-18-W4th, which had been submitted subsequent to our September meeting.

Moved that the proposed Zoning By-Law be tabled until we have a time to give it further study.

A letter from H.H. Hinet, representing the residents of the Hamlet of Bruce was presented. The letter indicated that the people in Bruce feel that there is no way they can afford the installation of water under the present circumstances. However, they would like to have the sewer line put in. Moved that this information be received and that a petition in accordance with the Municipal Taxation Act, Sec. 152, be requested.

A letter from the Department of Transportation, Bridge Branch, indicated that they were going to inspect the bridges in the near future.

A letter from the Alberta Forestry Association indicated that they are proceeding with a study centre in the Islet Lake area, and that this centre will be available for Environmental Education to students in the Edmonton area.

In regard to our request to have Secondary Road 854 constructed by the Department of Transportation, in 1976, a letter had been received from the Minister of Transportation, Dr Hugh Horner, indicating that they felt that Secondary Road 834, north of Tofield, would be resurfaced next year. Also, an additional piece of road on S.R. 926 would be paved. They indicated that they would consider our request for rebuilding of 854 in 1976.

A letter from the Department of Transportation indicated that they are out of funds, and that they're cancelling some of their previous contracts. They have cancelled the contract for re-oiling Secondary Road 615 in the County of Beaver. This had been approved previously for an expenditure of $35,000.00. Moved that this correspondence be received and that we express our extreme dissatisfaction with this decision to the Minister of Transportation.

Copies of a report on Assessment and Taxation, which had been prepared by the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties, was distributed. It was suggested that this information be studied, as it would become a subject of the 1975 Municipal Convention.

Copies of replies to the resolutions from the 1975 Spring Convention of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties was distributed.

A letter from the Plant Industry Division of the Department of Agriculture indicated that a Wildlife Biologist would be available to come out and discuss problems in the flooding of roads due to beavers plugging culverts. They have designed a culvert, which cannot be plugged by beavers.

News from Ministik

Mrs. Jim Roddick

Your correspondent has faithfully sent in the news from our area but, due to the postal strike, it has been going astray. However, through the lovely lady at the Mercury office in Tofield, we hope it will come out regularly again.

A small family gathering helped celebrate the 95th birthday of Mrs. Annie Oliver, at her home, on Nov 7th.

Madame Martha Rouyer of Edmonton experienced a fall and spent a few days in the hospital this week.

Melvin George and friend, Linda Fish of Ashcroft, B.C., were Friday afternoon guests of Mrs. S. George. Mrs. Dorothy Willmore and a friend also called in.

The annual fall bazaar held on November 7th by the ladies club, was the most successful one to date. Patrons attended from Edmonton, Tofield, North Cooking Lake, Ketchamout, Lindbrook, Hastings Lake as well as a good representation from our own area.

The event was held in the new Ministik Hall for the first time. Raffle winners of the Woodwards vouchers were Mrs. Arthur Rowland and Margaret Moisan. Winners of the food hamper raffle, were Mrs. Gladys Swabey and Mrs. Bruce Patterson.

The Ladies club have a variety bingo planned for November 21 and a whist drive to be on November 28th. Lunch will be served.

Keep fit classes commenced on Nov 6th, with Mrs. Joan Dunham as instructor. Nine ladies are attending.

Several ladies attended the flea market in the Tofield Community Hall on Saturday afternoon. The Arts and Crafts centre had a table there and realized a good sum toward improvement of the centre.

Mr and Mrs. George Sears and son were weekend guests of Mr and Mrs. Verdun Sears.

The Tofield Oldtimers hockey team of which Joe Davenport and Keith Williams are members, have been on a real winning streak. A week ago, Joe and Keith each got a marker. Last Friday against the Mercantiles, Joe got 2 of the Oldtimers markers.

The November meeting of the Ministik Ladies Club was held in the new hall for the first time, on Wednesday afternoon. Plans for the variety bingo are almost completed and convenor chosen for the whist drive on November 28th. Mrs. Pat Paterson is convenor. Plans are going ahead for the Children's Christmas party with all ladies taking care of an area in the community.

Lunch hostesses were Mrs. Pat Paterson and Mrs. Ralph Leach. November birthdays were enjoyed by Lily Leach, Mrs. Pat Paterson, Mrs. Gladys Roddick, Madame Martha Rouyer, and Mrs. Jim Roddick. All received a lovely birthday card and "Happy birthday" was sung to them.

The December meeting will be the Christmas party of the club.

The annual meeting of the Ministik Hall Association was held on Wednesday evening. Several items of business concerning the hall came up, the major one being the cleaning of same. Some vandalism was reported and deep concern was shown toward this.

The Community League followed the Hall meeting. It was the annual one and new officers were elected. After many nominations, Karl Schwuchow is the new president with Dennis Fomke as vice-president. Joyce Bowerman is secretary and Theresa Rogier remains as treasurer. Mrs. Margaret Jaske was elected as social convenor and a sports convenor is still to be elected.

John Heitman as president, Mrs. Bill Roddick as social convenor and Baden Bowerman as sports committee were retiring officers. As it was the second birthday of the league, Vi Roddick made a cake complete with 2 candles for lunch instead of the traditional doughnuts.

Tickets are available for the New Year's Eve frolic, from executive or members of the league. A good financial year was reported.

Alan and Delores Robertson and Shirley and Cliff Horricks returned on Wednesday afternoon from a most enjoyable vacation to San Diego, Disneyland, and all the sight seeing sports of California and Mexico.

Stephen Horricks stayed with Grandma and Grandpa Horricks while his parents were away.

Last rites are held for L. John Wood

On October 8, 1975, Lester John Wood passed away after a lengthy illness. He was born at Glencoe, Oklahoma, the third son of Luella and Henry Wood. He came with his parents to Tofield in 1901 to live on their homestead, located on what is now the north edge of town, the farm now owned by Dennis Reil. A few years later, they moved to the Lakeshore district where John has resided continually since then, except for the time spent in the army during World War I. In 1919, he married Mary Bethel who had come to Alberta with her family the same year the Woods had arrived.

He is survived by his wife, Mary, four daughters, Mrs. (Lorene) Jimmy Francis of Viking, Mrs. (Luella) Robert Goubault of Drayton Valley, Kathleen of Vermilion, Mrs (Evelyn) Victor Hulwa of Edmonton, and one son, Johnny of Tofield, also ten grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. (Esther) Joe Majakey of Edmonton.

Funeral services were in charge of Howard and McBride, with Rev. Peter Walker officiating. Honorary pallbearers were Al Innes, T.D. Ferguson, Tod Gray, Jim McMurray, Lloyd Herbert, and Elmer Googlein. Active pallbearers were Allen Ferguson, Melvin Riley, Vic Stefiszn, Glenn Francis, Ken Vice, and Jack Gray. Burial was in the family plot in Tofield cemetery.

ATTENTION

Cattle Owners In The County of Beaver

In recent months, many cattlemen in this county have been concerned about the number of outbreaks of Brucellosis in Western Canada. In response to this concern, the County of Beaver will be organizing a voluntary vaccination program of replacement females between the age of three and six months.

Because the County of Beaver is co-ordinating this program, it does not mean that the County is endorsing or encouraging the vaccinating of female replacements. Simply, the County of Beaver has left the decision completely to the cattlemen, but will help to organize the vaccinations for those who wish them.

All costs will be borne by the cattlemen, except for the cost incurred by the County staff. All fees are to be paid directly to the veterinarian at the time of vaccination. All cattle to be vaccinated must be confined at the time requested. the costs are as follows:

less than 10 head—$1.30 each
more than 10 head—$1.30 each

More information or vaccination bookings can be obtained from the Agricultural Fieldman, County of Beaver #9, Box 140, Ryley, phone 663-3730.

Tofield's Council seeks more revenue

Members present at the meeting held on Nov. 10th were Mayor Dr. W. H. Frowbury, and Councillors Christianson, Nachtigal, Watson, Pittet, and A. G. Clark.

It was brought to council's attention that the present water rates for apartments were insufficient. After discussion it was decided to prepare a new set of rates which would become effective at a later date.

Council had previously been approached with regards to hiring a full time librarian. However they felt that they were in no position financially to do this so, the matter was referred back to the Library Board.

Due to the problem of collecting trailer taxes, it was suggested that a monthly billing system would perhaps be more effective. Council will contact A.M.M.A. for information with regards to setting up a monthly billing system.

Corp. Hildebrandt attended the meeting and gave a report on town policing. He also stated that they are very pleased with the new radar gun which the town purchased Holden and Ryley were very interested in having the gun used in their towns. After discussion, it was moved that the County of Beaver, Ryley, and Holden be offered the use of the radar gun for a rental fee of $25.00 per month.

Council felt that cost of building permits should be increased to offset the cost of paying for a building inspector. Permits therefore will be increased to $25.00 for dwellings and rentals at $10.00 for garages and additions. Each dwelling is to receive three inspections during construction, and garages and additions one.

Plumbing permits are to be submitted to the town before a water meter is installed, and installation must be done by a town employee.

There was some discussion regarding the closing of the road by the school.

A committee is to look into the costs for the construction of a new garage and Councilor Nachtigal gave a report on local and regional financing.

Information for this story was taken from the unapproved minutes of the Nov. 10th meeting.

Tofield plans bonspiel

Ryley 4-H'ers hold weigh-in

The Ryley Beef Club held the weigh-ins at the Lynn's Ranch.

The next 4-H meeting will be held on Dec. 2nd, consuncing at 7:30 pm. at the Ryley School where will be a demonstration on calf feeding and record keeping.

Heiberg family is winner in Edmonton

Area cattle raisers, led by the Heiberg Family of Tofield RR, made an excellent showing at Farm Fair '75 in Edmonton last week.

Elsa Heiberg with her Limousin Hereford steer was the Junior Championship and went on to take the Supreme Grand Championship. The animal weighed in at 1,330 pounds and was sold to Woodwards for eighty cents per pound.

Elsa's brother, Lyle, with a Maine Anjou-Angus steer, won the Senior Champion which went on to grab the Reserve Supreme Grand Champion. The animal weighed in at 1,400 pounds and was purchased by Safeway for eighty cents per pound.

Lyle Heiberg also won the carcass class with a Charolais Hereford steer that was first in live judging and remained in that position after carcass judging had been completed. In addition to his first place prize money, Lyle also received the $1,000 award from the Charolais Association.

Winning efforts by Elsa and Lyle Heiberg marked the first time that a family had won all three top steer competitions in one show, in [illegible].

Lorne and Marg Berreckth of Tofield exhibited both the grand and Reserve Grand Champions in pen of five breeder steers competition.

Following are the results by area cattlemen, in the different categories.

[illegible]

Howard Brown of Tofield was 3rd for bulls born in 1975, 5th for a bull born late in 1974, 9th for a bull born early in 1974, and 5th for a bull born in 1973. He was also 5th for a pair of bulls. In addition, he placed 8th for a female born in 1975, 12th for female born early in 1974, 10th for a female with calf born in 1973. 7th for female with 1975 calf. 7th for breeders' herd, and 6th for get of sire

Ralph Conary and Sons of Tofield were 7th and 9th for bulls born in 1975, and 13th for a female born in 1975.

Stamp out the postal union

Showing complete disregard, or perhaps even contempt, for the government of Canada and the taxpayers who pay their wages, the Lethbridge Branch of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers in a recent paid newspaper advertisement has stated: "By not using the Postal Code and stamping or writing 'Boycott the Postal Code' on your envelopes, you can be sure Postal Workers will speed up your mail."

The display of defiance will do little to endear the postal union to [illegible] of Canadians.

While it is the Lethbridge branch that has made this declaration, [illegible] seems the sentiment of all Southern Alberta will not be affected, for the bulk of the mail leaving Taber, for instance, goes through the Lethbridge Post Office. In spite of the best efforts of the postal workers in the small post offices around Lethbridge - and certainly in Taber no one has any complaints-outgoing and incoming mail will be affected if the Lethbridge postal workers carry out their not-so-veiled threat to slow down mail bearing postal codes.

Many unions these days are going too far in an effort to see their demands realized . . . demands which in many cases are unreasonable. The Lethbridge Branch of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers is a prime example. There can be little doubt that as long as unions have an attitude similar to that of the Lethbridge postal branch, most Canadians soon will come to the realization that the tail has been wagging the dog for too long.

The advertisement asks mail-users to "Stamp or write 'Boycott the postal code' on all your mail."

We cannot see too many mail users obliging.

If people are going to invest in a rubber stamp to use on their outgoing mail, we are inclined to think the more likely words to appear would be "stamp out the postal union."

A request had been received from the Department of Agriculture requesting our willingness to participate in taking applications for calf loans this fall and winter if the Provincial Government decides to operate a 1975 calf loan program. Other problems relating to graders and the wind up of the construction season was discussed briefly. As it was getting late in the day, and it appeared that we would have to have a further meeting in regard to our public works program, that a further meeting should be held. Moved that a Public Works Meeting be held on Wednesday, October [illegible].

Moved that the meeting adjourn at 6:00 p.m.

Grinde crowned Holden queen

Debbie Grinde was crowned "Queen" at the third annual Fall Carnival sponsored by the Holden and district Agricultural Society.

The two-day carnival got underway on Friday, Nov. 14, with a delicious beef supper, followed by bingo and games of chance.

Although attendance was down from previous years, an enthusiastic crowd was on hand on Saturday evening when the long awaited moment finally arrived, and the winner of the Queen contest was announced. Debbie Grinde was the young lady who sold the most tickets, to win this special honor. Runner-up was Debbie Pooke, and the princesses were Dawn Fleming and May Flynn.

Janice Stokowski, Queen of 1974, crowned the new Queen. President of the Agricultural Society, Norman Koetke, presented her with an engraved trophy and a gift, and each princess received a gift as a memento of the occasion. Each young lady also received a cheque amounting to ten percent of her ticket sales.

At this time draws were made for the carnival prizes. The winners were as follows.

1. $100.00 donated by Holden and district Chamber of Commerce Debby Lawson of Holden.

2. $80 donated by Olson, Josey, Glover and Fornal, J. D. Thera of Camrose

3. $75. donated by Holden Farm Equipment, Olson and Armstrong and Giebelhaus, M and M - Eugene Strichuk of Ryley.

4. $50 donated by R. F. Grinde Trucking - Edward Kiefiuk of Edmonton.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Holden and District Agricultural Society held their annual meeting at the complex on November 27

In his report, president, Norman Koetke, summerized the Society's activities and progress made during the year. He stated that construction of the Complex had progressed to the point where in February 1975, it was operational, and the official opening had taken place. The canvass for funds was completed, and in excess of $40,000.00 was raised in this manner. A grant of $25,000.00 was received recently under the Local Initiative Program. With this money, and money that is on hand, the exterior of the building should very nearly be completed. He thanked the board of directors and their committees for their cooperation and the people of the community, for their participation and support.

The financial statement was presented and discussed, after which the election of officers took place.

Elected as president for the ensuing year was Joe Fornal; first vice-president, Don Hultholm, second vice - president, Bruce Budd.

Elected to the board of directors were: Adelle Story, Harry Shyba, Marie Malick, Bob Mackay, Leona Koetke, Robert Lysio, Clay Schoning, Norman Koetke, Bill Dary, and Bill Glover.

Elected as auditor was Alfred Sorenson.

The new executive of the Agricultural Society held it's first meeting on Nov 30 for the purpose of forming new committees. They are as follows: Building, Harry Shyba, Bob Mackay, Operation, Norman Koetke, Bill Dary, Don Hultholm, Bruce Budd, Bob Mackay, Fund Raising, Adelle Story, Clay Schaning, Robert Lysio, Bill Glover, Marie Malick, Kitchen and Catering, Leona Koetke, Marie Malich, Adelle Story, Christine Mackay, Membership, Christine Mackay, Reporter, Robert Lysio, Fair, Don Hultholm, Clay Schaning

Christine Mackay was appointed as secretary-treasurer

Baker re-elected as Ryley mayor

George Baker was re-elected as Mayor of the Village of Ryley at the organizational meeting of the village council held on October 16th.

At the same time, Councillor Brown was elected as deputy mayor and all committees were to be the same as they were prior to the meeting. It was further decided that regular meetings would continue to be held on the 3rd Thursday of each month.

Council authorized the Fire Department to spend up to $500 on renovations to the Fire Hall and passed a by-law approving the purchase of a vacant garage for use in storing fire engines and fire fighting equipment

It was agreed that the village should take the necessary preliminary steps to extend water and sewage systems to 53 Avenue between 50th and 51st Streets, and on 55 Avenue, between 49th and 50th Streets.

Council decided that all dogs within the village should be licensed and authorized the secretary treasurer to put this motion into effect.

It was determined that fill dirt at the village reservoir should be increased in price from twenty-five to fifty cents per yard.

Councillor Burton was named to meet with a representative from the Lions Club to draft an agreement for use of the Community Hall. Prior to this appointment, council rescinded the rental fee charged to the Lions for holding dances.

Council agreed, in principle, with propals from a delegation for improvements to the village's main street.

Information for this story was taken from the unapproved minutes.

Tofield Cubs disband

The organizational meeting for the 1st Tofield Cub Pack was held on Wednesday, November 26th. A total of eight parents and Scout leader Don Kondrat attended.

Due to the apparent lack of support and leaders, the 1st Cub Pack of Tofield has been disbanded. Any boys 11 years of age and over may join the Scout Troop under the leadership of Dick Thomas and Don Kondrat

In place of their regular meeting Thursday, November 27, the Scout Troop enjoyed a skating party at the home of Scoutmaster, Dick Thomas. After several hours of hockey and skating on the slough, where a huge bonfire kept some of the chill away, everyone appreciated the hot chocolate and fresh doughnuts provided by Mrs. [illegible]

Rushing to catch up

While the Camrose-Ryley power project hasn't yet been given the go-ahead by provincial authority, there seems to be a stronger feeling now than a year ago that it is inevitable. We know members of city council who feel that almost nothing now could stop it, nor slow the effects which it will have on Camrose, and its development.

This being the feeling, there is likely to be new pressure on the administration to move ahead with longer range, and bigger planning for city expansion than there has been in recent years.

There's a shortage of house building lots within the city, and once again the city is in a "sold out" situation, with provision of more space quite some time away. An Edmonton developer is reputedly backing off from rushing to develop a number of sites, because of delays and hold-ups he has been experiencing. A trailer dweller complained over the weekend there isn't a site he can find in town. . .he didn't buy his home unit from developers who control one block of sites, and a local trailer court is already filled and has a waiting list. Industrial land, while not sold out, is also reputed to be in short supply, and council was actually told this by the administration several months ago.

The pressure on locations is likely to get worse before it gets better, but that doesn't mean that the City shouldn't be bending every effort to forestall the pressure. Providing land banks in the first place is highly expensive, and servicing them is more so, but it's an essential part of the game. And possibly more important in the short range than some of the great long-range schemes for diversionary highways and such. We don't know how many acres could have been landbanked from the money spent in the overdesign of Boulder Dam, but it would have been a lot bigger than a Victory Garden.

History repeats

History repeats itself, goes the old saying, so we were interested this week, in turning up an old report of scholarship awards made by a provincial organization, to find their selection program, back in 1968, had run into a number of setbacks, caused by a postal strike.

The note doesn't record which group in the Post Office was causing the problem at that time, but there it is. . .normal business and social operations seriously inconvenienced because of interruption of services.

Somehow it doesn't sound logical or sensible that the Post Office should be experiencing its eighth strike in the ten years since Prime Minister Pearson first accorded that privilege (not right) to the Post Office. Surely if working conditions were that bad, all the workers would have long ago walked out, and found employment in other fields. It must be recalled that during that period, there was a premium on workers all across the country, and anyone wanting to change jobs was almost assured of other work. Today, the situation in most provinces is rather more severe, and workers tend to hold on to jobs to a much higher degree. Alberta, fortunately, is not in that situation.

Despite this situation, the Post Office rarely seems to lack for adequate staff applications, which must say something about the job. . .its working conditions, and remuneration.

Thousands of television viewers on Sunday were impressed with the capability of Postal President J. Davidson, and his skill in handling the questions and arguments of a number of experienced reporters. One thing Mr. Davidson should be wary of, however, and that is of falling into the situation John Lewis developed years ago in crying for a "crust of bread" for his coal workers, to the point that coal and the miners were utterly repudiated by industry, and they found themselves in a far worse situation than before.

Certainly, coal is king again, but the methods and the workers are entirely changed. It could be that the same situation could develop in the Post Office.

History repeats itself. And repeats. And repeats. . .and repeats.

Co-operation or chaos

About half of mankind suffers in some degree from dietary deficiencies. These deficiencies, as we all know, constitute a terrible biological handicap to the attainment of emotional stability and the full realization of the faculties and capacities of human beings. But this enormous problem will grow worse in the coming decades if we do not - as from now - take effective, positive and competent measures to avert its consequences.

That is why I take the liberty of belabouring something very obvious. The coming decades will be dominated, and in one way only, by three central problems: food, population growth and unemployment. These factors constitute, like an enormous chain of explosive, but mutually consistent facts, the substance of the present crisis and the essential elements of future explosions. Only by facing the trinity together will we find solutions to the problems of development and human emancipation.

The population of the planet will double in the next 35 years. The third world peoples, who constitute two-thirds of the total population, will double in only 25 years, and even sooner in some special cases. Within this generation we will have to multiply at least by two the production of grains and, even more, that of milk and meat just to prevent food intake from descending below levels that are already very low. And this at a time of great hardship and when grains are being converted into animal protein for the much more calorie-rich diet of a small part of the world's population.

Grave as this is, it is a no less grave matter that part of the third world, bound fast to the system of dependence, mechanically reproducing a model conceived, adopted and imposed from the affluent societies, will find itself with an unemployment that will have the dual distinction of being both massive and growing.

The third world, which is already a world of the young, with 45 percent of its population under 15 years of age, can, therefore, end up as a world of the unemployed and, consequently, in open and irreversible crisis. It must not be forgotten that the right to food, the right to a life in dignity and the right to work are more than just words — they are active, historical expressions of the collective consciousness today in every part of the world. The dichotomy between the moral value of words and their innermost functional and practical being has turned into a historical chasm that the peoples bridge as best as they can, with anything from despair to utopia. This is why I have said that the basic question is obvious: either cooperation or world chaos, for solutions involving containment by force are not only unjust, but impractical in the present state of the new balance of power.

The above views were expressed by the President of Mexico, Luis Echeverria Alvarez. This article is part of the text of his speech delivered to the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

Ross Creek native passes in Tofield

Mrs. Dorothy Thomson passed away very suddenly at her home on Sunday evening, November 23, at the age of 66 years.

Dorothy Phyllis Thomson was born on a homestead in the Ross Creek district, the daughter of Nettie and Crawford Baptist. In 1916, the family moved to the Tofield area where she resided the rest of her life. She attended Normal School in Camrose and taught at the Ingram School until her marriage in 1933.

She was a faithful and active member of Holy Trinity A.C.W. and of the F.W.U.A. until a serious illness in 1972. She enjoyed gardening and handicrafts and had completed a large number of hand-stitched quilts which she gave as gifts to her grandchildren.

She is survived by her husband, John, three children, Kathleen McCleelar of Grande Prairie, David and Donald both of Edmonton, seven grandchildren, Sandra, Audrey and Karen McClellan, Denise, Philip, Andrew and Jeremy Thomson; two sisters, Jean Baptist of Edmonton and Mrs. Beatrice Mosby of Tofield, and one brother, Ken Baptist of [illegible]

Funeral services were held from Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Tofield, on Nov. 27th with the Rev. Canon Brian L. Brown officiating.

Pallbearers were Barry Mosby, David Baptist, Willard Ferguson, David Schmidt, Dan Dodds, and Arnold Swit.

Local growth to feature meeting

Dodds-Round Hill and the growth of Camrose will be two of the major factors to be discussed at a meeting in Camrose Thursday evening, which will center on the planning process and the type of development people want to see. Arranged by the provincial government, the meeting will feature a panel of speakers, two of them local.

The meeting opens at 7:30, Nov. 27 in the Camrose Legion, and opening sessions will be led by Dr. Jack Mason of the University of Alberta and Jack Fleming from the provincial Department of Municipal Affairs, who will talk about where people fit into the planning process, and whether or not Camrose can afford the increasing cost of growth.

This will be followed by a panel who will question the previous speakers, and lead discussion in other areas. Members included Gus Mireault and Mrs. Berdie Fowler of Camrose, Dick Wilson, Calgary Power's representative in Round Hill, and a resident of Edmonton, and Bob Botham, of Wetaskiwin, and the Battle River Planning Commission. Chairing the meeting will be Bill Grant, Camrose city manager.

The meeting is one of five being held in Alberta by the provincial government, seeking citizen input into a presentation to be made next June at an international conference, sponsored by the United Nations, on Habitat, or living conditions for people. This conference will bring together some 5,000 delegates from 140 countries, with an expected 15,000 additional attending in an observer capacity. It is expected to be Canada's largest conference.

ZIt is hoped many Camrose people will turn out for the meeting, and possibly contribute their ideas as to desirable forms for future growth and development, or non-growth, of Canadian communities. It is expected that Canada will have to build more housing in the next 25 years than it has since Confederation, and the Habitat conference is seen as one method of helping people to share in each other's solutions to a common problem. Alberta co-ordinator for Habitat is Bill Donahue of Edmonton, while local arrangements are being handled by Jeff Motherwell, regional representative for the provincial department of Business Development and Tourism, under Bob Dowling.

Residents petition for move to Beaver

Residents of the Round Hill area have made a definite move to pull out of the County of Camrose.

A petition formally requesting that about two townships near Round Hill be moved into the County of Beaver has been forwarded to the Boundaries Commission.

The petition was sent by bus because of the postal strike and appears to have become mislaid along the way. A spokesman for the citizens group heading the petition has been informed that the Boundaries Commission still has not received the petition.

However, efforts were being made to trace the petition and it was expected to be in the hands of the committee almost any day.

A spokesman for the petitioners indicated that the Boundaries Commission would likely schedule public hearings sometime in 1976. The spokesman had no indication as to where the meeting or meetings might be held.

About ninety-five percent of the ratepayers living in the two townships signed the petition. People owning land in the area involved, but living in other areas, were not asked to sign.

Asked about a suggestion that the County of Camrose might request, or had asked, that a portion of the County of Beaver be transferred into the County of Camrose, the spokesman indicated that it would not meet with the approval of the people signing the petition.

The petitioners' main concern had been to keep their high school operating, and adding an area from the County of Beaver would not bring in enough students to retain the high school, according to the spokesman.

Another major concern of the ratepayers involved is what they feel are very bad road conditions, something they feel will be improved by joining the County of Beaver.

Festival dates set for April

The Beaver Regional Arts Festival has had its dates changed to April 23, 24, and 25.

Changes in the dates were approved at a meeting of the Beaver Regional Arts Committee held on November 25th with Blaine Greenwood of Tofield acting as chairman.

It was decided that the committee should start looking, immediately, for adjudicators for the festival. It was also decided that there would not be a banquet at this year's festival.

Decisions on other matters were tabled until the next committee meeting.

Round Hill 'Protective' draws crowd to annual

Farmers attending the annual meeting of the Dodds-Round Hill Farmers Protective Association on Monday night were advised to move slowly when, or if, it came to selling their land, and strongly urged to learn all of their rights before they agreed to any sale. As well, they were told they should stick together for their own protection in order to get the best possible return if they did sell their land for the proposed power plant to be built in the area. Over two hundred people attended the meeting on Monday night which was held in the gymnasium of the Round Hill School with a wide range of guest speakers in attendance.

A move to change the name of the association to include the names of Camrose and Ryley was lost when a motion was passed to continue to use the name of Dodds Round Hill Farmers Protective Association. Apparently some members thought it might be wise to change the name in view of the fact that calgary Power and Canada Power have called their project the Camrose-Ryley Power Complex.

However, some spokesmen felt that the original name of the association should not be lost while others felt that the company's change of name might have been done to dilute any opposition by including a larger area in which many of the people would have little or no interest in whether or not the project proceeded. There were men ters against keeping the original name.

Farmers' Advocate Herbert Entrup told the farmers they should not negotiate for the sale of their land at this time. He urged them to hold back and learn all their rights under the Surface Rights Act. He suggested they would be exposed to all kinds of suggestions and reasons as to why they should sell now, but said they should hold off. He asked "how can anyone be so naive enough to sell now when they have so many alternatives to choose from?" He suggested that since negotiators for the company would be paid for negotiating, why shouldn't the farmers also be paid?

While not commenting himself on his office to supplying either funds or the hiring of a solicitor, Mr. Entrup said that his office has done both in the past and could again in the future, although he had to be careful about establishing a precedent.

Charlie Archibald, a director of Unifarm, speaking on behalf of Unifarm President Dobson Lea promised the full support of that organization in protecting the rights of the farmers, even to supplying funds and enlisting support of other bands. Edmonton lawyer, A.O. Ackroyd told the farmers not to be in a hurry to sell, rather, they should wait until they were certain they were aware of all the facts involved in the entire operation.

Mr. Ackroyd told the meeting that any sales, or options to sell, would more strongly establish the company's bid to proceed with the project at any hearing of the Alberta Energy Resources Conservation Board. Earlier, he outlined all the legal procedures to be followed before permission might be granted for construction of a plant.

Charlie Quast, association director, urged that the association become a "clearing house of information" and that all farmers should get any offers to purchase in writing, and turn it over to the association, so that everyone has access to any and all information for comparison purposes. He said [illegible] if they dealt as individuals, which was what the companies involved were [illegible] it would be a case of "divide and conquer" which would not benefit the individual.

Jerry Thompson, a member of the Board of Directors of the new Town of Fox Creek said that this town would support any effort to keep the project out of the Dodds-Round Hill area, and they were prepared to submit a brief to this effect at any public hearing.

Mr. Thompson indicated that Fox Creek had a selfish attitude in this regard as the town was founded on the oil and gas industry, with no farming being done in the area as the ground was unsuitable. Mr. Thompson said that unless Fox Creek established new major industries it would die within twenty or twenty-five years. Establishment of a power plant north of the town could mean survival.

Another speaker, Jack Barber, MLA for Hanna-Oyen, felt that his area needed development and would be willing to have a power plant established. Mr. Barber said that the land was not good for agricultural purposes and was only ranchland. To illustrate his point he said there were nats basements on his own property which had belonged to people who had tried farming and had given up. He added there should be enough coal in the ground to last for twenty-five years after which time much progress could have been made in land reclamation processes.

Dr. Walter Beck, MLA for Clover Bar encouraged the farmers in their opposition to the power plant project. Dr. Beck told his listeners that governments and corporations had been defeated in the past and can be beaten again. He urged the group to approach the government for financial assistance to continue their fight.

Beck told the group that governments and corporations often picks size for a project, and then do everything possible to justify their selection whether it was right or wrong. He added that he personally felt the land could not be returned to its present productive capacity.

During the business portion of the meeting, a motion was passed that the association approach the provincial government to see that body request a hearing from the Environment Conservation Authority. The motion was supported by Elmer Entrup, who indicated that the Authority is quite concerned about major projects such as power plants, and that such a hearing might bring an end to the project or delay it for a period of time which would enable the farmers to gain more time to take other steps to prevent it from continuing.

In speaking briefly, Camrose MLA Gordon Stromberg, alerted the farmers that hearings on the application by Calgary Power and Canadian would likely be held in May or June.

Two members of the association reported on tours taken by reclamation projects in Forestburg and three states in the United States.

Bob Anderson said reclamation in Forestburg was "not good", with water ponds having no type of plant life or use by waterfowl. Trees in the area often were undersized and grass areas were overgrown with thistles. He said he could see no apparent benefit to reclamation in the Forestburg project.

Fred Gotheridge reported on the tour in the United States where reclamation projects were about five or six years old. He said that the land was poor to start with and there were problems with erosion. Some grasses did quite well with one section of land producing 24-28 bushels of wheat per acre.

Mr. Gotheridge said that reclamation costs ranged from $5,000 - $6,000 per acre but, that most of the land had only been used as rangeland prior to mining as it seemed the government of that country used non-productive agricultural land for mining operations.

Earlier in the meeting Dick Keyse, chairman of the association, outlined the activities of the past year while Charlie Quast detailed the presentation of briefs to different groups and organizations.

It was reported that the association had eighty-eight members and eight associate members. Dennis Strilchuk, membership chairman, urged everyone concerned to obtain memberships. Just before the committee reports, it was pointed out that the proposed power plant would involve farms belonging to 125 [illegible].

It was reported that the association started off 1975 with $198 and had accrued expenses of $393.01, leaving a net operating balance of $196.99.

Five of the fifteen seats on the association's Board of Directors became vacant at Monday's meeting, while the other ten members still had one or two-year terms of office remaining.

Seven men allowed their names to stand for the three-year terms of office, and after voting was completed, the elected directors were Bernie Von Tetzenborn, Myron Konsek, Bert Neave, Robert Anderson, and Calvin Lauber.

Holden and district news

Mrs. G.H. Taylor

The Holden Senior Citizens Group held their regular monthly meeting Thursday evening, Nov. 27th, with the president, Lloyd Clark, chairing the business meeting. The date of the December meeting was discussed and it was decided to hold this Thursday evening, Dec. 11th. This would be a Christmas program and Mrs. Kate Nichols is in charge

The group also decided to offer a thank-you to the Holden Legion for their kindness in giving them the use of their hall for the meetings, and sent them a donation towards expenses.

Also attending were the Health Unit nurses, showing a film of an elderly senior citizen. 99-years old, doing her housework, her activities, and how she did daily exercises to keep in shape. After this lunch was served to bring the gathering to a close. Lunch hostesses were Mrs. M.A. Komarnisky and Mrs. Rousseaux.

Stan Kozinski of Vegreville has purchased the Scott residence near the school and has moved there.

The new home purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mackay was brought in last Saturday and with extra help, the shell, etc. was erected Saturday afternoon. Energy shares over the top Albertans have considerably over-subscribed the entire $75,000,000 share offering of the Alberta Energy Company Ltd., the firm announced last Wednesday. More than 60,000 applications were received.

Tabulation of results will require a few more days due to an extremely heavy flow of applications during the closing days of the Alberta priority period coupled with delivery delays caused by the mail strike. A method of allocation of shares to ensure fair distribution will be determined after final results are available and special consideration will be given to filling smaller orders.

The exceptional response by Albertans to the issue was considered astounding, particularly considering stock market conditions generally and the size of the offering relative to the Province's population.

Wilson addresses Holden's Chamber

R.H. "Dick" Wilson of Calgary Power was the guest speaker when the Holden Chamber of Commerce held its annual meeting recently

Mr. Wilson is the Project Representative for the Camrose-Ryley Power Project which has a cost estimate of $2.6 billion dollars. Mr. Wilson is currently operating a project information office which is located in a classroom in the Round Hill School

Mr. Wilson told the meeting that the project area involved has been divided into different regions with Region One being the immediate project area. Region Two takes in all of Region One and includes the County of Beaver, County of Camrose, including Holden, Viking, Ryley, Tofield and Camrose.

All areas involved in the project will gain some benefit, according to the spokesman for Calgary Power, as employees will move in to the districts, businesses will have to grow or be developed, and tax revenue will be gained directly from the project, and indirectly from developments resulting from the project.

According to Mr Wilson, there are 308,000,000 tons of coal that can be mined during the life of the Camrose-Ryley project. He added that cost of using this coal was much more reasonable than in other areas that were ' being suggested.

Reclamation plans are being formulated to bring the land back to agricultural use after it is mined Research has been done and will continue until the project has been completed, and the land restored.

Mr. Wilson would not comment about land purchases or land owner compensation as he felt negotiations between buyer and seller was a personal matter between two parties, and he intended to respect that privacy.

If approval is given to proceed with the Camrose-Ryley project, Mr. Wilson said that the first power producing plant was expected to start production in 1982 with a second plant beginning operations in 1983. Two more units would begin production in 1984 with single units being added in 1987 and 1988.

Mr. Wilson invited chamber members to visit the information office in the Round Hill School to get more information on the project.

Alberta's Canada Goose Project

Alberta has long been known for its abundant wildlife and each fall scores of hunters are lured to sporting and bagging game birds — among which the Canada Goose remains the undisputed prize. The admiration and excitement wild geese have evoked in man has stemmed not only from their superiority as an intelligent quarry, the spectacular beauty of their migratory flight, but also in recognition of many of their behavior traits which we humans tend to believe signifies more breeding in a higher order. Geese have usually strong pair bonds. they mate for life— at least the life of the mate should either be [illegible] a new partner. Geese are "The Waltons" of the bird world — the family unit is an integral part of the goose community. Mature adults nest when they are three years old, but pairing and courtship often occurs as yearlings — a social condition akin to going steady or an engagement period in human relationships.

In Southern Alberta, at the Brooks Wildlife Research Centre, provincial wildlife research biologists, under Bill Wishart, have been quietly involved in a LARGE CANADA GOOSE restoration project to introduce the birds back into the water-ways of Northern Alberta. Historical evidence proves that the birds inhabited areas north of the Red Deer River at one time, but now are limited to the south and only a small area in the central region of the province. In the last twelve years, since the project's inception, man has learned a great deal about the species — Branta Canadensis, it's habits and habitat.

The first attempt to establish a flock of geese, in cooperation with Ducks Unlimited, was in the Hanna district of Southeastern Alberta. From wild flocks at Brooks, researchers collected young goslings who at six weeks weren't old enough to fly and transported them to new bodies of water. The goslings appeared to adapt to their new environment immediately but the test would come the following spring to see whether the young birds who survived the treacherous migration to winter nesting grounds returned to where they were hatched or their newly transplanted home. That spring, the transplanted females returned with new mates in tow. After two years of transplanting and observation the research [illegible] established that geese return to the body of water they learn to fly on — not where they were hatched. The homing bond was stronger than the family bond. Studies also demonstrate that although the mate often initiates short distance local flights, more often it is the female who leads the family flock while the mate [illegible] the rear. With large migrating flocks, leadership appears to alternate between various members.

One problem researchers encountered was the unwillingness of the resident mature geese in new sites to accept foreign goslings. The problem seems to have been solved with a natural process called Gang Brooding. In the first five days of life young goslings do not distinguish between adult birds but do recognize other goslings. Goslings imprint to other goslings so that one set of parents may suddenly find their brood has swelled from five to twenty or fifty while the biological parents are relieved of family duties — at least for that season. The phenomena occurs for the first three weeks of life after that family bonds are firmly established and new membership in an adopted family is no longer permitted. By capitalizing on gang brooding and transplanting young goslings from the Brooks Research Centre during the critical three week period, researchers were able to successfully introduce new goslings who were accepted into new broods.

As data was compiled and yearly progress reports tabulated the project to re-establish flocks seemed to be running smoothly but there were still a few situations researchers had to correct. It was discovered that the mortality rate during hunting season when the transplanted goslings embarked on their first migration was high. The goslings were too naive and easy prey to the barrage of artillery lining the Central Flyway from Alberta to Texas each fall. Clearly then new flocks could not be established with all members roughly the same age. Adults would have to be transported along with goslings to new nesting sites. They would provide the expertise necessary to outmaneuver their human predators.

The moulting season is the end of June a time when the goslings who were hatched during the last two weeks in May still aren't old enough to fly. Both the mature birds and the goslings are earthbound and can be easily gathered up for transporting.

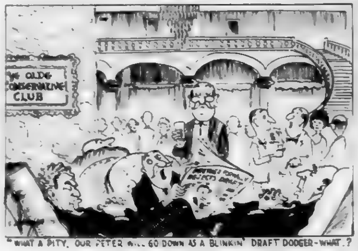
With mature birds of the transplanted flock the entire group took to the traditional flyway — the Pacific Flyway — Idaho and California used by Southern Alberta birds — left on their own the yearlings naturally gathered with birds using the heavier traffic Central Flyway — Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, Texas — to winter in New Mexico. The following spring, the older birds returned to their original nesting areas at Brooks — the yearlings returned to their transplanted northern sites. Proof positive that the homing bond is stronger than the family bond! By using adults in the restoration projects, researchers have effectively reduced the mortality rate three to four times!

Another experiment involved the use of man-made nesting sites at Dowling Lake. A few geese had been observed in abandoned Heron nests — but all attempts to increase possible nesting sites on the sixteen acre island by building platforms were unsuccessful. Once again a quirk of nature provided the answer. One particular spring, the snow level was unusually high. When the geese returned, the only thing above ground were the constructed platforms and, of course, the Heron nests. The high-rise dwelling Heron nesters settled in, and without very much ado, a large number of the remaining nesting population took to the platforms. Succeeding generations continued to use the platforms once the pattern had been established.

There would be little value in upping goose productivity if the environment could not sustain additional goose populations with suitable habitat but Northern Alberta is rich in waterways with island formations necessary for the birds.

Proposed areas for future restoration include Kenilworth Lake — near the Saskatchewan border and north eastern sections of the province. At present there are forty Albertans with captive flocks — adding to the knowledge and numbers of the goose populations for future generations of Albertans. Many provincial Fish and Game Associations are actively involved in goose restoration projects. The idea is not to turn the entire province into one big bird sanctuary but rather to maintain an equitable natural balance for the [illegible] and hunter alike.

Wishart who has been a wildlife research biologist for sixteen years is also an ardent hunter. He deplores what he terms "Slob Hunters the minority who give the rest of us a bad name." "Those who brand the hunter as being responsible for the decline of wildlife populations have an elementary understanding of where wildlife comes from." According to Wishart, "they're just associating [illegible]. Look at the extinct or near extinct species, with the exception of the buffalo they didn't disappear because they've been hunted as much as a result of the encroachment of civilization. Anything that survives in the face of civilization deserves a lot of respect. Increased agricultural technology, the population growth and urban sprawl have all drastically altered the natural habitat of many species. Civilization is the culprit — not the hunter."



"WHAT A PITY, OUR PETER WILL GO DOWN AS A BLINKIN' DRAFT DODGER-WHAT.?

Shouldn't sell

Eventual government approval of the Dodds-Round Hill power project is almost certain, and farmers in the region will all be approached regarding the sale of their land to the companies interested in recovering the coal buried not too far below the surface. Many of them have already been contacted, in fact, by representatives looking ahead.

Obviously, a number of farmers in the district are looking at retirement in the next few years, and have no objection to selling their land. But equally, there are many in the area who have no wish to move from the land, or change the way of life that in some cases has been part of their family for three or four generations.

And in cases like this, it's our feeling the farmers should not sell their land. That's right: not sell.

They have to make it available for mining within the time frames of the mining program, of course. The law stipulates that: No owner of surface rights can refuse the owner of mineral rights access to those minerals. But when the mining program is complete, the surface still remains in the hands of the farmer.

Farmers in this district have gained a good deal of experience in working with oil companies who held rights to the petroleum buried deep under the land, and they know the drilling units have to be allowed to come in and drill wells, to build roads, and sufficient land around them for working. But when the work is over, the surface goes back to the farm owner and he can work at it.

Ostensibly, the companies, Calgary Power and Can-Pac, are interested only in recovering the vast coal deposits buried beneath the farms, and then, they have stated, the original owner would have first claim on repurchase. But during a question period recently, we were dismayed at the import of a remark made by E.J. Barry, Calgary Power's vice president in charge of planning, to the effect that the land would be resold not at its acquisition price, but at then current land values. "I wouldn't buy and sell land personally on that basis, (acquisition price) . . . would you?" demanded Mr Barry.

But this introduces a new note.

Not only is Calgary Power interested in the coal, but in a land speculation, too. For almost certainly the price of land ten years, twenty or forty years down the road, when it is through with its mining, will be higher than it is today.

And so the farmer who doesn't want to leave his land, but does so only because the law requires that he accommodate the owner of the coal rights, would be put in the position of missing out on the escalated value he might otherwise enjoy. It's no good pointing to the revenue he could obtain by salting the money away until his land is available, for if he doesn't put it into other land within a year, the money would be heavily taxed for capital gains.

For the farmer who wants to continue to own his land, we can see little advantage in selling. We also realize it would take a mighty stalwart farmer acting as an individual to hold onto his surface rights. But we do think a number of them, as a group, might be able to achieve what the individual could not manage.

This little girl was a bit hesitant when she first approached Santa at the Moose Hall on Sunday afternoon, but, after a few minutes with the jolly gentleman, she relaxed, told him she had been a good girl and gave him her Christmas list.

Donation aids class

By Grace Phillips

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Purves recently made a very generous donation to the Tofield School.

They donated, entirely free of charge, a deep-freeze for use in the Biological Lab. of the Tofield School.

Miss Elaine Zimmerman and her biology students are deeply grateful for the Purves' generosity

Shopping in metric

Packages sized in the metric units of grams and kilograms are starting to show up in supermarkets.

To compare metric weights with the traditional ounces and pounds, consumers need to know that 28 grams is about one ounce, while a kilogram is equivalent to 2.2 pounds.

Thus, a pound of icing sugar might be labelled 454 grams and a customer buying a two kilogram roast of beef would have almost four and one-half pounds of meat.

Beaverhills group wants facility aid

Beaverhill Community Association has applied to the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board for approval of a Major Cultural-Recreation Facility Development Grant.

If approved, the grant would be used to upgrade and renovate the association's existing facility, and as well, to make additions to the building and add items to the outdoor area.

A delegation from the association attended the Board's regular monthly meeting in Ryley on November 26th. Their application was tabled by the Board until the consultants report has been received.

Henry Field of Bruce, along with a member of the administrative staff, were named as a two-person committee a future school committee meeting to announce the Board's aim of applying to purchase a used school bus when they become available next summer.

Members of the Board were told that Dennis Cooper would be Holden's new representative on the Regional Board.

It was decided that the Board's December meeting would be held on Wednesday, December 17th, because its normal meeting date conflicted with the holiday season.

Activity reports were heard from representatives of the different communities as well as from the administrative staff.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of the November meeting.

J.W.R.

K.O. those weeds now

Now is the time to knock out stinkweed and flixweed.

The two winter annual weeds seem to have increased on summerfallow and cropland in recent years.

Stinkweed and flixweed begin to appear in late September and early Oct. and many farmers assume the young growth will be killed by frost.

But it doesn't work that way. Stinkweed and flixweed are late starters that germinate and establish a root system in the fall and continue their growth almost as soon as the snow melts in the spring. By seeding time the two weeds may have absorbed so much moisture that newly seeded crops can't germinate properly.

Best control is late fall spraying with 2,4-D ester at four to six ounces an acre. Spraying should be delayed until late in October to be sure of killing all the late-germinating weeds. They are easier to kill in fall than in spring, and fall spraying reduces the early spring workload.

Control by late fall cultivation is less effective and more expensive. When the soil is moist, cultivation may merely transplant the weeds, not kill them. Fall cultivation also buries additional crop residue, increases the risk of soil erosion and reduces the amount of snow trapped on the fields.

"Valley of Shadows"
From the depth of personal sorrow came a new depth and dimension to the life of this moving memoir. Jake Plett, the author, recounts the tragic loss of his wife, who had a brilliantly successful real estate carrer ahead of her. Mr. Plett "suddenly realized that there was a point in my experience beyond which no other person could go with me. Beyond that point I would have to find the strength to go alone—with God".

WARNING!
WATCH THOSE FUMES
FUMES CREATED BY BURNING NATURAL GAS, PROPANE GAS, COAL OR OTHER FUELS CAN CAUSE HEADACHES, VOMITING, STUPOR AND DEATH.
TAKE NO CHANCES
CHECK YOUR CHIMNEY AND VENT PIPES NOW.
- Are fumes leaking from corroded vents or poor vent pipe connections?
- Are the vent pipes properly secured?
- Is there evidence of rust formation or soot on the burners, vent pipes or appliances?
- Watch for moisture or a black liquid dripping from vent pipes.
- Is the top of the chimney (outside) free of obstructions? Check routinely during winter for snow or frost build up.
- Are you using a brick chimney where mortar or other debris may be blocking the vent pipe entries? (Check with a hand mirror at the clean out opening.)
- Check that the vent pipe is not inserted so far into the chimney that the end is blocked.

APPLIANCES NEED AIR FOR COMBUSTION, VENTS CAN REVERSE AND SPILL DANGEROUS FUMES INTO YOUR HOME.
- Has your furnace been enclosed by building a rumpus room or laundry room without provision for an adequate air supply?
- Never operate a forced air furnace unless the fan compartment door is closed and properly secured.
- Exhaust fans and fireplaces can create a lower air pressure in your home than the outside causing gas vents to reverse and spill dangerous fumes into your home when the house is tightly sealed. It may be necessary to open a window.

The Homemaker

A SAFE CHRISTMAS!

Once again it is time to remind you about food safety. Food poisoning, a distressing attack of nausea, vomitting and stomach pains can even cause death. It is important to take certain precautions when dealing with food.

A smart housewife protects her family from food poisoning in the following ways:

1) Buy from reputable dealers. Patronize only clean stores and buy only government inspected products, eg. meat.

2) After shopping, keep frozen foods in deep freeze until used. Do not buy thawed foods that are supposed to be frozen.

3) Heat precooked frozen foods according to package directions.

4) After preparing foods containing eggs, meat, milk, gravy, salads with dressing serve them within two hours or refrigerate.

5) Refrigerate "leftovers" as soon as possible and keep refrigerated until used.

6) Do not prepare sandwiches or food more than four hours before use unless kept refrigerated.

7) Avoid preparing food if you have infected cuts or a bad cold.

8) If home canning, follow professional instructions carefully.

9) Do not eat foods that have an "off" flavour.

10) If you think you or your family is suffering from food poisoning, contact your local health agency or doctor immediately.

Poultry is an especially bad culprit when it comes to food poisoning. During and after the holiday season be careful that turkey is correctly prepared and leftovers are properly stored. It is not recommended that poultry be stuffed the day before it is to be roasted. If the dressing is not chilled before being put into the bird it will not be chilled even in the refrigerator, when in the bird, a harmful bacterial action may develop in the stuffing. If the dressing is well-chilled before being put into the bird, it takes too long to heat the centre of the chilled dressing to 165 degree F (to insure that any food spoilage organisms are destroyed and may result in over-cooked meat.

Before food can cause poisoning these things must happen:

1) Food must be exposed to right kind of bacteria.

2) Bacterial must have the chance to multiply and produce poisons.

3) Dangerous bacteria only grow and produce toxin if food is a suitable kind and temperature is over 40 degree F and under 140 degree F for more than four hours.

REMEMBER - cooking foods gives no guarantee of safety. Cooking temperatures are often too low to kill some of the harmful bacteria. Food may look, smell and taste all right yet be teeming with harmful bacteria. Handle food carefully and make it a safe Christmas.

Modern Santa

If Santa's snowmobile had been allowed to run along the streets, no one would have heard his hearty "Ho, ho, ho" over the roar of the machine, so the old gentleman made his visit to Tofield on Saturday in the manner shown above. A wagon load of hay followed his route down Main Street to take children to the Community Centre where a free movie was shown, but owing to the nippy weather, only a few braved the hay ride.

Holden Beavers join Beaverhill's hockey

The Holden Beavers Senior Hockey Club started the new hockey season in fine style by defeating Ryley Flyers 5-4, on Nov. 27th in the Tofield arena. A good crowd of Holden spectators were treated to an extremely exciting game, punctuated with several penalties by both teams as tempers ran high, as expected in an opening game

This is Holden's first season in the Beaverhill Senior Hockey League

On Nov. 29, at Mundare, the Holden Beavers played their second game against the Mundare Sabres. Holden was defeated by a score of 6-4. But even in losing, the team played well, took a few penalties, and are showing definite improvement

The team is a conglomerate of players from Holden district, and Edmonton. They have never played together before, and are still finding out who plays best in which position. They have just been practicing together for one month on ice rented from Vegreville, Tofield and Mundare.

As many of the players are not familiar to Holdenites, the following roster lists the names of the players now vieing for a position on the team. By January 10th this list will be reduced to 19, a maximum roster carried by all teams. Wayne Banack, John Campbell, Andy Chamberlain, Chris Cooper, Don Gabrysh, Murray Glosser; Blaine Hallett; Greg Jackson, Gordon Komarnisky; Greg Komarnisky, Rick Komarnisky, Gerald Lemke, Gary Macyk, Bob McQuitty, Lyle Myers, Andy Nymchuk, Eric Olson, George Pon, Gordon Puk, Grant Ramsey; Andre Siwiec; Richard Tymchuk, Ludick Banack, Ken Chamberlain.

On Dec. 2, at Tofield, the Tofield Satellites defeated the Holden Beavers 9-2

On Dec. 4, at Andrew, the Andrew Aces defeated the Holden Beavers 9-0. This game was well played, with very few penalties, but the Andrew goalie was so hot he handed Holden their first shutout.

The Holden Beavers played their first home game at the Holden Complex on Dec. 6th. A screaming crowd of 243 spectators almost brought the roof down cheering for their team. The Lamont Nuggets defeated the Holden Beavers 8-7, but, the game wasn't decided until the final buzzer. Holden led the first period 6-2, but Lamont came back in the second period with 5 goals to take the lead 7-6. Holden scored early in the third period to tie at 7-7, but a Lamont goal scored late in the period gave them the game 8-7. The excitement of this game will ensure a sell-out crowd for future home games.

The Holden Beavers were introduced to the crowd, as it was the first time the spectators had a chance to meet their new team

Also in use for the first time was the new electric score board. The scoreboard is a new addition to the Complex along with the nearly [illegible].

Weed course offers problem's answers

Are wild oats interfering with your cropping plans? Perhaps it's Canada thistle taking over your pasture. The Alberta Weed Control Course has the answers.

Early in 1976 Alberta Agriculture and the University of Alberta Extension Division, in co-operation with farm groups and industry will be conducting an eight week weed control course

The course will zero in on weed problems of Alberta. In-depth information such as would normally be available only at Agricultural Colleges will be presented to registered students in their homes by mail and over television. The mailed lessons will contain information on weed identification, selecting chemicals, preventive weed control practices, handling difficult weeds and other problems. Selected topics will be illustrated for further clarification on a series of television shows.

A number of seminars are also planned in your region so that participants in the course can discuss their weed control problems and obtain answers to their particular weed problems. The cost of registration is $10.00 payable to the University of Alberta. This fee will cover all materials, textbooks, seminars, etc.

Above all, the organizers have tried to present practical, useful information for farmers, and other people interested in weed control.

Details may be obtained from District Agriculturists, Agricultural Fieldmen, elevator agents and other chemical dealers, or by writing the Alberta Weed Control Course, Room 601, 9718-107 Street, Edmonton, or telephoning 1-427-5081.

Buck named to committee

Dr. Walt Buck, Clover Bar M.L.A., has been selected to serve on the Special Legislative Committee studying the Alberta trucking industry

The Committee composed of both sides of the Legislature, will study and advise the Legislature on all aspects of the trucking industry as it relates to the Alberta economy. The Committee will commence hearings sometime in the spring of 1976.

The Chairman of the Committee is former Minister of Industry and Commerce, Fred Peacock. Other members are Jim Horsman, Hugh Planche, Charlie Stewart, and Larry Shaben.

The Study should be completed sometime between twelve and twenty-four months.

Noted conservationist, Bill Bowthorpe passes

A public service career of many years devoted to the conservation of wildlife was terminated Friday afternoon with the death of William George Bowthorpe, of the Diamond E. Ranch, near Round Hill. Mr Bowthorpe had just come into the house from working outside, when he was suddenly overcome and died immediately. He was 75.

Funeral services were conducted this morning at 10:30 in Round Hill Community Hall, with the Rev. Bernie Osborne of Camrose officiating. Interment followed in the Emil Bonmans Memorial Gardens, at Round Hill. Burgar's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

He is survived by his wife, Emma, two sons, Robert at home and Bud in the RCMP, four daughters, Margaret, at home, Gladys, at the Wellington Zoo, New Zealand, Betty Simons and Clara Hampson of Edmonton, four grandsons, a brother, at Veteran, and three sisters, at Edmonton, Brownfield, and Carrot River, Sask.

Born August 5, 1900 in London England, he moved to Montreal with his family in 1903, and then to Alberta in 1911, where he helped his father farm. By 1914 they were working in the Veteran district and here he learned to halter break horses, talking to them as he worked. Winters he spent working with them, and one winter was spent in the Cypress Hills, breaking horses, followed by another in the Dogpound district.

From 1929 to 1933 he worked with the late Frank Mohler, building telephone lines all across Alberta, then he rented a quarter section near Veteran.

In 1934, he married the former Emma Muhlbeier, of Veteran. Two years later, he moved to the farm near Round Hill which he rented for six years before buying it in 1942.

It was a proud moment only six years later when he completely discharged the mortgage, harnessing hard work to long, wearying hours. However, with the farm free, he decided to give more time to a field he had been interested in for years, that of conservation and in 1950 he made his first start.

In 1952, with the aid of noted naturalist Fred Dittberner he gained his first mated pair of Canada geese, and started on his long and interesting career of harboring and observing the wild birds in their changing patterns. With Mrs. Bowthorpe as a staunch helper, the flock extended and the Bowthorpe's gained a good deal of fame for their knowledge and their work.

Always a supporter of the work of the Fish and Game society, his hard work of earlier years tapered off as he became more interested in the wildlife refuge he established, and he was called on to speak and show slides on many occasions. Using the slogan "Have Geese Will Travel" on his card, Mr Bowthorpe was called on to travel far and wide, and on one occasion made a special trip to Camp Morton 65 miles north of Winnipeg, to show his slides for Sister Renaud and her class, after she expressed keen interest.

In 1960 his work was recognized by the Camrose and District Chamber of Commerce, which made him a life member. More recently, he was honored by life membership in the Round Hill Elks Lodge, of which he was proud to be the holder of a 30-year membership pin.

Keenly interested in the people around him he had an abiding faith in the goodness of people generally and never missed an opportunity to build appreciation in young people for the virtues of life such as hard work, honesty, thrift, responsibility and so on. On a number of occasions, he and his wife accepted wayward young people into their home, and seemed invariably to build better citizens from them.

Perhaps his personal creed can be recorded as well as any by the message he distributed by thousands on the back of his business card, which reads "Boys and Girls ... when you are young and strong and full of hope, sit down and think what you would like to do above all else. Then go out and do it. Follow your star to the bitter end in spite of all hazards and perils.

You will enjoy life to the full, and even if you do not have total success you will leave a lot of kind thoughts in the hearts and minds of others that they may carry on where you left off."

Ministik news briefs

Mrs. Jim Roddick

As more seating accommodation was needed in Ministik Hall, a decision was made at the Community League meeting of November to build these.

Many willing hands turned out, one evening, the number was 30, and before the December meeting rolled around, the seats were completed.

Men who were welders did the welding, while others sawed the wood material required, the ladies doing the padding and upholstery work. The finished product is a most attractive and a welcome addition.

Keith Williams has had to retire from the Oldtimers hockey team in Tofield due to pressure of business. He is in the process of opening up an office in Grande Prairie. He is supervising this until a suitable man is obtained for the position.

Mrs. Bill Dyer, Dean and James, and Mrs. Joe Davenport and Doris, attended the Bob McGrath show in the Jubilee Auditorium on Saturday evening.

Spilstead news

Isabelle Lee

Spilstead Ladies Society held their December meeting at the home of Isabelle Lee. Final plans for the bazaar were made. Next meeting in January is to be held at the home of a new member, Lois Leggett.

Spilstead bazaar was a successful affair. Starting with a few games of bingo, then continued on with the auctioning of all the items. Popcorn, candy and home baked goods disappeared as if by magic. Candyce Ray was the winner of the quilt and Carl Blake of Tofield won the pillow cases. Gertie Fairbrother's daughter and husband Elaine and Dirk DeFrese of Camrose were up to visit Gertie and attended the bazaar.

During the festivities at Beaverhills Hall on Sunday, Eddie Ferguson, on behalf of the community, presented a surprised George Lee with an Auctioneer's trophy in appreciation of the work he did at their fall sale to make it such a success. It was inscribed with his name, date and expression of appreciation from the community. George then thanked them all for their thoughtfulness.

Weekend visitors at the Belcourt home were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Chwyl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Brenner, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Clew and Marsh Mitchell.

The Homemaker

At this Christmas Season, I'd like to share the following poem with you:

He must have been the son of God.
What other man would take [illegible]
None of any vanity, and he had vanity to spare.

No magician He,
for all the miracles
He performed were for the profit of receivers only.

Can you imagine what the doctor's fee might be for healing lameness with a [illegible] and blindness with a wink?

And those mercenary merchants would have jailed a man -- far sooner than they did the living, walking Christ -- for turning water into wine.

Or making one thin slice of bread manna for the many

We're told He never cried
[illegible]
of that ill-kept stable on that dark and silent night.
Even singing was left to the angels.
Who but the son of God would miss the chance to sing amidst the angels?

Rob McKuen.

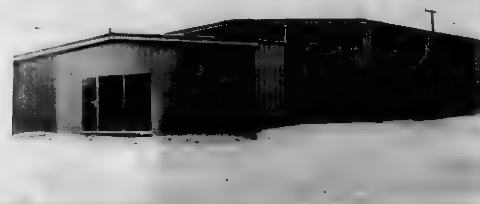
Errors

Very late in this week's production schedule, something went seriously wrong with our typesetting equipment, leading to innumerable errors. Rather than delay the whole paper, we are reluctantly inserting them and going to press.



Nearly ready

The Town of Tofield is continuing its growth, both in business and in residential as councillors are now investigating costs for a brand new area. One of the new businesses that is expected to open about the end of the month will be this hardware and lumber company.

Beaver investigates hosting '77 Games

The Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board is investigating the possibility of hosting the 1977 North Eastern Alberta Games.

Four people were named to a committee to look into all aspects of hosting the Games and bring in a report for the next Board meeting. Named to serve on the committee were Dennis Cooper, Don Armitage, Henry Nachtigal, and a representative from the Viking Recreation Board.

The decision to look into the involvement in hosting the Winter Games was made at the December meeting of the Board, held in Ryley.

The Board decided that the Regional Recreation Department should take over the operation and administration of courses presently being offered by the Further Education Council.

The takeover by the Department will be for a six-month trial period.

Carl Royan, consultant with W.J. Francl and Associates, told the meeting that all programs in the county have been charted and inventoried as the 5-year Master Plan Study is progressing smoothly.

Public meetings are being planned so that residents of the county may make written and oral presentations about the recreation [illegible]

Dates of the meeting will be set later. The meetings will be held in Tofield, Ryley, Viking, Holden, Bruce, Koppernick, Beaverhill, and Kinsella.

It was decided that the finance committee should look into the possibility of obtaining more office space for the recreation department. One place that is being considered is the Dr. Freebury Building.

Representatives from Tofield, Ryley, Holden, Bruce, Viking, Kinsella, as well as County Council, attended the meeting.

Information for this story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of the meeting.

Satellites win in two contests

Tofield Satellites were victorious in the first meeting of the season with the Lamont Nuggets on Dec. 20. Satellites, winning 6-3 in a game reminiscent to the playoff finals of last season.

Both teams opened up the game trying to intimidate the opposition and Tofield appeared to win this battle. The score was tied 3-3 after the first period as Satellites got goals from Morris Letwasky, Ray Cassey, and Don Fox. Tofield scored three times in the middle period and these goals provided the margin of difference. George Keen scored twice and Doug Nachtigal scored the final Tofield goal. Paul Halverson was exceptionally sharp foiling the Nuggets on numerous good chances. Satellites host the Nuggets next January 11th in a Sunday [illegible] game.

Last Thursday, Tofield visited Andrew and defeated the Aces 4-2. Ken Stauffer scored twice with Don Fox and Bill Vandemere each getting one goal. John Donnas and Howard Schneider shared the goaltending duties and both played very well.

Cardinal visits Tofield students

by Grace Phillips

Harold Cardinal's visit to Tofield School on December 15 was deemed a success by all.

The format of his visit included a forty-minute talk to those attending, which included the junior and senior high classes, and few members of the public, followed by a brief question and answer period. Mr. Cardinal was then invited to Mr Garneau's classroom for a more informal discussion with a few students and members of the public.

Mr Cardinal's message was that the Canadian Indian people want to be treated as human beings with the same aspirations, values and needs as the other members of the Canadian people. This equality, he felt, could be achieved by combining the 2 cultures so that each would gain some knowledge and understanding from the other. He reiterated that the Indian people had as much to contribute from their rich heritage to the white society, as the Indians could learn from the white.

All in all, the presentation by the president of the Alberta Indian Association provided a very memorable opportunity and much food for thought.

Through the auspices of the Indian Association, Mr Garneau looks forward to the implementation of greater intercultural relations between his students and Indian children of the same age group on reserves in Alberta, as part of the Social Studies 20 program next fall. The trip to the Stoney Reserve last October proved to be the initial step in this project.

THE TEMPORARY RENT REGULATION MEASURES ACT

The Temporary Rent Regulation Measures Act, establishes a system of rent regulation in Alberta effective immediately. The Act applies to residential premises rented in 1975, including mobile home pads. It does not apply to any residential premises constructed after January 1, 1976, or premises unoccupied in 1975.

Residential premises will each have attached, a "base rent" which will generally be the rental rate on December 31st, 1975, or the last rent charged in 1975. Any notices of rental increases which are due to take effect on January 1, 1976 will be covered by the Act. As such the increase will only be allowed up to the permitted maximum for 1976 of 10% of the base rent.

During 1976, a landlord may increase rent twice, but the total increase cannot exceed 10% of the base rent. From January 1, 1977 until June 30th, 1977, a landlord will be permitted to increase the rent of residential premises once by not more than 9% of the base rent, with the 1976 increase added, if any.

In exceptional circumstances, if a landlord wishes to increase the rent by more than the above, he may apply to a Rent Regulation Officer for approval to do so. Regulations covering this procedure will be forthcoming. Any notice of a permitted increase in rent and any application for an increase greater than the permitted must be made 90 days before the increase is proposed to take effect.

If services are reduced or cease from their level at October 1, 1975, a rent regulation officer can make an investigation. Landlords are required to notify any new tenant renting premises on or after January 1, 1976, of the "base rent" within 10 days of occupancy or by March 31, 1976.

A halt to further Condominium Conversion is imposed.

The Landlord & Tenant Act is amended to give tenants protection against eviction where they have taken some action under this Act.

The Act provides penalties for infringement

The Act establishes a Rent Regulation Appeal Board to hear and decide appeals from the Rent Regulation Officers. Regional offices have been established in the following areas:

EDMONTON	427-6838	MEDICINE HAT	526-5994
CALGARY	261-8464	GRANDE PRAIRIE	532-9806
LETHBRIDGE	329-5505	FORT McMURRAY	743-1363

What does a woman want in her man?

Men, you may be surprised to learn that what you thought women want and what they really want are two entirely different matters. In "TOUGH AND TENDER", well-known author Joyce Lasford gives a woman's eye view of the qualities most wives look for in their men. The ideal man according to her is a "just right" blend of toughness and tenderness.

In "The Biology of The Holy Spirit", Christian scientist Robert C. Frost embarks on a fascinating study of the biological realm of life and discovers dramatic parallels to the Christian experience and spiritual principles we can adapt for a deeper life in Christ.

WINTER SURVIVAL: STRANDED CARS.

A quick look outside made me feel that the following information from Susan Mayne, Information Office, Alberta Agriculture, might be timely and useful. Take a minute to read it and to prepare your car for the winter season.

"The roads that criss-cross our province hum with traffic, day and night, in all seasons . . . as Albertans pursue their business and their pleasure. Only blizzards eliminate that traffic entirely!

Unfortunately, when blizzards occur, it's often suddenly. Every year, drivers are stranded, and some don't survive the experience.

The Alberta Motor Association offers sound advice on how to cope with being stranded by bad road conditions . . . with a warning: every situation is different, and it's unwise to apply the same solutions to each.

Good planning can eliminate most of the hazards of being stranded. The motor association recommends basic equipment for winter travellers . . . the most important are a tow rope, battery jump-cables, and tire chains (with installers). Without these, an offer of assistance from a passing driver might be useless!

Travellers should carry a parka with a hood, a winter hat, spare mitts, boots, and a sleeping bag. Food supplies might include dried fruit, raisins and dehydrated emergency rations.

Also important are snow shovel, flares, flashlight, a window scraper, and first-aid kit.

The association advises stranded motorists to stay with their cars (another car will be along eventually). Don't wander away from the car unless a house or shelter is within easy and visible distance. And even for a tire change, put on that spare winter clothing!

If the engine is left running, remember to close air vents, open a window, and ensure snow isn't constricting the exhaust pipe. When the engine's off, a car becomes extremely cold . . . but still offers more protection than the open air.

The Alberta Motor Association has an information sheet on winter travelling equipment and precautions. Copies are available from Alberta Motor Association Safety Department, Box 3500, Station D, Edmonton.

PLEASE NOTE:

We will now take registrations from people who have previously taken Upholstery Courses in Tofield in order that classes will be filled. Pre-register by paying the fee to our office.

The Friendship Group met for their regular monthly meeting on Dec. 18th at the home of Mrs. Beth Campbell. The meeting was opened by singing a carol, followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. A reading then given by Mrs. G.H. Taylor. The minutes of the November meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Edith Carlson, were read and approved. Roll call was taken with each lady responding with a verse or scripture pertaining to the Christmas season. The meeting was closed by singing another of the well known Christmas carols. Rev. Walker closing the meeting with prayer. The next meeting, Jan. 15th, will be held at the home of Mrs. Ethel Brekstad with Mrs. Carlson in charge of devotions. More vehicles join over-50 club on total mileage basis, not years

The Over - 50 club has become the most dominant segment of the nation's motoring population. It's not the age of the drivers but the age of the cars on our highways.

According to a recent survey, more than half of the cars in operation today have in excess of 50,500 miles on their odometers. While the supposition could be that difficult economic times have caused people to hold on to cars longer, the survey shows the trend to higher mileage cars has been a steady one.

In 1968 only 43 per cent of the cars registered more than 50,500 miles. The latest study shows 51 per cent of all cars have exceeded that mileage.

The significance of the figures lies primarily in a need for more maintenance on the part of the motorists. By the time a car has been operated more than 50,500 miles, the following major services should be performed:

Cooling system component replacement and repair; major engine tune-up; exhaust system replacement; new shocks installed; major brake service; replace tires; install new battery; plus other services as needed.

JUST FOR TODAY

Just for today I will try to live through the day only and not tackle my whole life problem at once. I can do something for twelve hours that would appal me if I felt that I had to keep it up for a lifetime.

Just for today I will be happy. This assumes to be true what Abraham Lincoln said that, "Most folks are as happy as they make up their minds to be."

Just for today I will adjust myself to what is, and not try to adjust everything to my own desires. I will take my "luck" as it comes and fit myself to it.

Just for today I will try to strengthen my mind. I will study. I will learn something useful. I will not be a mental loafer. I will read something that requires effort, thought and concentration.

Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways. I will do somebody a good turn, and not get found out; if anybody knows of it it will not count. I will do at least two things I don't want to do just for exercise. I will not show anyone that my feelings are hurt; they may be hurt, but today I will not show it.

Just for today I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress becomingly, act courteously, criticize not one bit, not find fault with anything, and not try to improve or regulate anybody except myself.

Just for today I will have a program. I may not allow it exactly, but I will have it. It will save myself from two pests: hurry and indecision.

Just for today I will have a quiet half hour all by myself and relax. During this half hour, sometime, I will try to get a better perspective of my life.

Just for today I will be unafraid. Especially I will not be afraid to enjoy what is beautiful, and to believe that as I give to the world, so the world will give to me.

Isn't that a good thought for the new year. HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Holden Beavers are showing improvement

While the Holden Beavers may not be the most winning team in the league, they certainly are providing a lot of good entertainment for the community.

It's a good sign of community togetherness when large crowd's come to cheer regardless of weather conditions or the score in the game.

On Dec. 11th saw the Holden Beavers defeated by the Grand Fork Gulls 9-4. Goals were by Gary Macyk (2), with singles to Lyle Meyers and Chris Cooper.

On Dec 16th the Holden Beavers lost to the Ryley Flyers 5-1. Holden's goal was scored by Lyle Meyers. The game would have been a smash hit if the teams had scored as many goals as they did penalties, 30 in all.

Holden Beavers recorded their second win of the season when they defeated the Andrew Aces the Andrew Aces 6-4 on Dec 23rd. The outstanding goal tending of Wayne Banack combined with the fact that the team took just one penalty made the game one of the thrillers of the season. The Holden goals were scored by Andy Chamberlain (3) with singles to John Campbell, George Pon and Gary Macyk.

On Dec 27th the Beavers went down to defeat at the hands of the Lamont Nuggets by a score of 10-4. Holden goals were scored by Chris Cooper, John Campbell, Gary Macyk, and Gerald Lemko.

On Jan 3rd, the Beavers knocked off the Grand Fork Gulls by a score of 10-2. This game was one of the best this season, and goalie Wayne Banack seemed to have 4 arms and legs as he certainly starred in goal. A crowd of over 300 spectators yelled their lungs out, and went home well satisfied with the outcome.

Goals for Holden went to Gary Macyk (3), Andy Nymchuk (2), John Campbell (2), with singles to Andre Siwiec, Lyle Meyers, and Blaine Hallett.

Jan. 6th turned out to be one heck of a cold night, but, it didn't keep the crowd away, even a good sized contingent from Mundare came to see their team play. Unfortunately, the cold affected the Holden Beavers worse than the Mundare Sabres, as they lost the game by a score of 9-5. Holden goals were scored by Gary Macyk (2) with singles to Andy Chamberlain, Blaine Hallett, and Andy Nymchuk.

Clean up

A nice white blanket of snow can make for beautiful scenery, but it makes for difficult motor vehicle travel and must be removed.

Bert Clark was busy Tuesday afternoon, clearing off the streets in Tofield so that motorists wouldn't get stuck.

Here's how to keep car off 'won't start' list

What needs checking before cold weather arrives summarized in list below

Short of a heated garage, there's no better insurance that your car will start on a frigid morning than a properly serviced engine.

Since warm garages are at a premium, the best way to avoid a frustrating wait for a tow truck is to get your car in proper shape before cold weather sets in. The service needed is far less expensive than heating that garage.

Most cars with starting troubles begin winter with worn spark plugs and defective ignition systems. The incidence of hard-starting complaints reported by car owners climbs in direct proportion to the number of miles the plugs have been in service.

To make sure your car doesn't show up on the list of "won't starts" this winter, here's a check list of the items which should be inspected on your car before the weather turns cold:

HAVE THESE CHECKS MADE

1. Battery . . . Have your service man check the battery with a hydro-meter to determine the specific gravity. If specific gravity readings are low, have the battery recharged and make sure he determines the reason for the low readings. If battery condition appears doubtful have the mechanic test it for weak cells. Also, be sure he removes all corrosion from the battery terminals and lubricates them so the corrosion won't reoccur. Remember corroded cables and terminals restrict the flow of electricity through the entire system, and can actually prevent the car from starting if allowed to go unattended.

2. Voltage regulator . . . Make sure the regulator is properly adjusted. An out-of-adjustment regulator may not allow the battery to charge enough, or may result in overcharging which will eventually ruin the battery.

3. Starter and generator . . . Chances are if your car is only a year or two old, these components will be okay. However, make sure your service man removes any corrosion that might exist on either starter or generator connections — and that they are all securely fastened. If your car is over two years old better have the generator brushes and commutator looked at. Badly worn brushes reduce the generator efficiency and can result in a constant weak battery.

4. Distributor . . . If your car has been driven more than 10,000 miles since the distributor has been serviced you'll probably save yourself a lot of trouble by having the mechanic install new points, condenser (in engines that use them) and making whatever adjustments are necessary. Improperly operating distributors are a major cause of starting difficulty.

5. Coil . . . Again, if your car is reasonably new, chances are you won't have to worry about coil condition. However, better keep in mind that a weak coil can not only cause starting failure but also contribute to poor performance in general and reduced gasoline economy. If your car has over 20,000 miles on the odometer better have your service man run a check on coil condition.

6. Spark Plugs . . . If the plugs are nearing the 10,000-mile mark, they should be replaced before the weather turns cold as worn out plugs are probably the biggest single factor in hard starting.

It is also a good idea to have your mechanic check the engine with a timing light. Out of time engines not only are much harder to start but lose much of the efficiency and performance they were intended to deliver.

Favorable wheat price prospects

Wheat price prospects for the 1975-76 year have greatly improved in the last two months and now offer the best price prospects, relative to last year, of all grain crops.

Alberta Agriculture's marketing analyst, Peter Perkins, reports that global wheat production is expected to be only 2 per cent higher than it was last year because of unfavorable growing weather in much of the northern hemisphere. "with a modest increase in demand, it is now expected that world wheat stocks will decrease this year instead of building up as was expected earlier this season," he says. If fact, world wheat stocks will remain tight throughout this crop year and are expected to close with a projected record low stock level of only 49.4 million tonnes, representing a 7 per cent decrease compared with the preliminary estimate for the crop year just ended. However, world food supplies will be a little more readily available than they were last year because the world rice crop is expected to be a record 339 million tonnes.

"The sharp deterioration of the Soviet wheat crop and their resultant need to purchase grains from 'Western' sources," says Mr. Perkins," is providing the major stimulus to wheat prices." Wheat crops in Europe, especially those in the communist bloc, also fared less well than had been anticipated. Although there will be a need for additional imports in these areas, a large proportion of these losses have been offset by the record U.S. wheat crop, currently estimated at over 58 million tonnes. "Almost 10 million tonnes greater than the record 1974 harvest, the U.S. crop will increase export availabilities in that country to the point where they will dampen what might otherwise have been an unprecedented rise in the price of wheat," Mr. Perkins says.

Despite the indicated sharp increase in projected imports by East Europe and the Soviet Union, total world imports are not expected to increase dramatically because of an expected decrease in the demand from China and Asia.

China is believed to have reaped a record grain harvest this year and is only expected to import wheat that is already committed under long term contracts. A similar situation exists in India which is expected to import only a modest volume of wheat this year.

"The price of wheat," Mr Perkins says, "will depend to a large extent on sustained demand from the Soviets and other Eastern European countries. If this sustained demand occurs, top grade wheat prices are likely to remain around the $4.50 per bushel mark for a good part of the current crop year However, there is always the possibility that once Soviet needs have been met, world demand for imported wheat could quickly dry up and prices would work themselves lower. Hence, a great deal will depend upon the timing and quantity of additional Soviet buying and the maintainance of price levels through a reasonably steady demand from other customers." Prices will naturally tend to go higher if crop problems develop later this year in either Australia or Argentina.

Mr. Perkins believes that all these forces auger well for a good realized payment to Canadian wheat producers from the Canadian Wheat Board's 1975-76 pool. At the present time Statistics Canada expects the Canadian wheat crop to reach 595 bushels, an average crop by historical standards, and about 22 percent greater than last year's very poor crop. Although it seems to be an encouraging increase in production, in actual fact it is only 14 per cent greater than the 'final' estimate for last year's crop. The production increase appears greater because Statistics Canada has just revised the 1974 crop downwards by 34 million bushels.

According to Mr Perkins, the wheat board is no longer offering wheat to all potential buyers because it has already committed virtually all available supplies Canadian wheat and flour exports are currently expected to reach 460 million bushels, up 17 per cent compared with the 1974-75 crop year

The Soviet Union has bought 110 million bushels of new crop wheat and another 55 million bushels are committed to China In addition, 28 million bushels of old crop utility wheat are to be shipped to the Soviets and regular customers traditionally take about 250 million bushels each year Assuming a normal domestic, farm and seed demand, total disappearance should approach 628 million bushels, which would reduce the level of stocks to 256 million bushels or 12 per cent less than the relatively small carry-over from the 1974-75 season.

The final payment for the 1974-75 crop is estimated to yield farmers about $4.10 per bushel ($4.58 for 1973-74) for top grade red spring wheat basis Thunder Bay "The final value of the wheat in the 1975-76 pool will of course depend on what Soviet purchases have been or will be priced at," says Mr Perkins, "but one should expect the 1975-76 pool to realize a price approaching that expected from the 1974-75 pool or about $4 a bushel."

Mazankowski seeks damages from strikes

On December 8th, Don Mazankowski, Progressive Conservative M.P. for Vegreville, issued the following statement.

"I am today tabling in Parliament a Notice of Motion calling on the government to consider whether innocent third parties, who suffer direct financial loss from strikes or lockouts over which they have no control, should have the right to take legal action to recover such damages from the appropriate labour unions or management."

"My Motion arises out of a growing concern for the tremendous damage which is caused every year by labour disputes, especially in the so-called essential industries, to groups and individuals who are not a party to the dispute, but who feel the full impact of it upon their lives and businesses.

"To take just one example, during the 1973-74 crop year, grain producers in Western Canada were forced to pay more than $17 million in demurrage costs largely because of strikes by railway employees, grain handlers and longshoremen. During the past crop year, again because of labour strife, failure to meet contractual commitments and subsequent loss of sales and reduced prices cost Canada's wheat producers some $250 million.

"More recently, we have seen ample evidence of the direct financial loss suffered by many Canadians, especially those in small businesses, by the 43-day strike of postal workers. A spot survey done by the P.C. Research Office showed losses running into the millions of dollars, many of which simply will not and cannot be recovered by the companies and individuals involved.

"In most areas of activity the right of citizens to take legal action against anyone who deliberately or carelessly causes them damage is accepted. I believe the time now has come for the government to consider whether this generally accepted principle should not be applied to damages caused by industrial strife.

"Such an approach would not interfere with the collective bargaining rights of either labour or management. They can still bargain and, if they so decide, resort to strike or lockout. I am simply recommending that consideration be given to the principle of accountability so that, like other groups and individuals, labour and management would have to accept some responsibility for their actions in terms of the direct financial damage their private quarrel causes to innocent people.

"I am more than aware of the practical questions which would have to be resolved in order to put this principle into legislative practice. But I believe the time has come when Parliament - - and the government - - must address itself to the basic question whether certain groups in society should have an unimpeded right to hold innocent Canadians to ransom and, as is increasingly happening, to drive such innocent third parties to the brink of bankruptcy and financial ruin."

The meeting was called to order by the Reeve, Cr. Kaudelien at 10:00 a.m.

Moved that the minutes of the regular meeting of November 13th, 1975 be accepted.

Laurie Weatherill, Fieldman, attended the meeting at this time. He advised that he has set up a meeting to which he has invited members of the urban areas within the County, as well as some of the representatives of industrial plants. At this meeting they are to discuss the problems as far as weeds are concerned within the borders of the urban areas that are around industrial plants. Representation is also expected from the Department of Agriculture, who will also advise what grants are available for weed control. It was suggested that representation should also be at this meeting from the County Council. Moved that Charles Sears, chairman of the Agricultural Committee, as well as any other Councillors, be authorized to attend this meeting. [illegible]

Don't close the gates

Not too many years ago the population of Canada was rated at four people per square mile. Of course this was accounted for partially by the fact that most of the population lived close to the southern border, and many thousands of square miles of the country were unpopulated. Still, Canada had lots of land, and what we needed most right then was people. So the people flocked to Canada as to the promised land; the gates of Paradise were open and thousands came from all corners of the world to take up residence in this vast new country.

Now the situation has changed, if we are to believe some authorities. We hear today that no more people are wanted in Canada. The gates to Paradise are closing. Immigration has become a hot potato for the federal government and there seems to be no rational answer to the question of whether or not we need more people. As is usual in such situations, there are many sides to the question, and many individuals and groups offering answers.

There are those groups who want to put up barriers, to all new entries. Some groups advocate the [illegible]

[illegible]

Consider the sons and daughters and grandchildren of those original "foreigners" - people who are now our prosperous merchants, farmers, ranchers, businessmen, mayors, councillors, doctors, lawyers, members of parliament. To us they are not aliens, not immigrants. They are our friends, neighbors, family. They are us.

If their parents had been barred in those long-ago days, if only certain professions or races had been allowed to settle our sacred soil, we would certainly not today be nearly as rich in wealth, history or culture. No so rich in wisdom and understanding.

Doctors, engineers, scientists we need, just as desperately as before. But we also need integrity, muscle and willingness. We need people to work the machines as well as design them to build the houses and roads as well as plan them, to scratch the soil and grow things as well as to tell us how to grow them. A nation cannot live by brains alone. Without people, common, ordinary, everyday people, we can be nothing as a nation, and if Canada must become a melting pot for mankind, then let us accept this fact. Let us forget the origin of our individuals. Let us mould ourselves into one nation, Canada, and let us get on with living.

Extend freeze on rail abandonment

Transport and Wheat Board Minister Otto Lang on Dec. 31st announce extension of the government's freeze protecting that portion of the prairie rail network now being examined by the Hall Commission on Grain Handling and transportation. (The commission will meet in Stettler on Feb. to discuss the future of the Camrose - Stettler - Drumheller line and the Camrose - Alliance - Forestburg line).

Mr. Lang noted that the current freeze period affecting those branch lines was due to expire at the end of the day.

"By Order-in-Council, the government of Canada has extended that protection to the end of 1976 at least, "the Minister said," to accommodate the on-going work of Mr. Justice Hall's commission.

"That study is of fundamental significance for Western Canada.

"The conclusions and recommendations of the Hall Commission will have a tremendous bearing upon the future shape and strength of the prairie rail system.

"While the Commission's hearings, studies and deliberations are underway the Government of Canada will, of course, continue to protect and preserve the rail lines involved by extending its prohibition order against abandonment proceedings.

"The Government is carefully following the thorough and conscientious work which Mr. Justice Hall and his fellow commissioners are doing, and we are looking forward to receiving their report," Mr. Lang said.

The freeze extension announced today a follow up to the Minister's statement on December 23rd, 1974 in which Mr. Lang outlined the Government's full program of prairie rail line revitalization.

That program involves a three-way categorization of the existing network of rail lines on the Prairies. In total, that network includes some 19,221 miles of rail.

The three categories designated in that announcement a year ago were as follows:—

(1) The Basic Prairie Rail Network - -

This category includes almost two thirds of the entire system, about 12,413 miles of track. It has been identified as essential to any future prairie rail system and has been protected until the year 2000 at least. For all intents and purposes, this amounts to virtual permanent protection for the basic prairie rail network.

(2) Lines Requiring Study and Consultation

This is the category of lines - - involving about a third of the existing system, some 6,283 miles - - which is subject to the examination being conducted by the Hall Commission on Grain Handling and Transportation. According to the announcement made today by Mr. Lang, the Government's freeze protection for these lines has now been extended through to the end of 1976 at least.

These lines will remain frozen during the on-going work of the Hall Commission to determine the rail needs of prairie communities, the economies of rail and elevator modernization, and the impact - - both in social and economic terms - - on producers and communities of possible changes in the present grain handling and transportation system. On April 18th, 1975 former Supreme Court Justice Emmett Hall was appointed to head this Commission of Inquiry. The four other Commissioners involved are Reg Forbes of Brandon, Man., Lloyd Stewart of Rockglen, Sask., Bob Cowan of Rosetown, Sask., and Reinhold Lehr of Medicine Hat, Alta.

(3) Lines No Longer in Use—

HONEY— old as time

by Dr. Ulf Soehngen
Supervisor of Apiculture
Alberta Agriculture

Honey, man's oldest sweet, takes on a special significance during the Christmas season, when it is used in many traditional dishes and pastries as well as for making mead (honey wine).

Honey was the only concentrated sweet widely available in prehistoric times, and fermented honey may well have been man's first common alcoholic drink, long before the cultivation of fruit or grain crops. The earliest evidence to-date of man's interest in honey is a paleolithic rock painting in easter Spain, dated around 7000 B.C. It shows two people using a ladder and a honey container - but no personal protection against the stings of infuriated insects - to rob honey from a cavity in a cliff. Another rock painting - this one in southern Africa - shows the early use of smoke in subduing the bees.

From the mere gathering of honey, man progressed to claiming ownership of isolated colonies located in forests or in cliffs - a first step towards honey production as we now know it. Moving sections of logs containing honeybee nests to centrally located 'apiaries', and the provision of hollow logs (bee gums) and other containers to settle honeybee swarms in specific locations became beekeeping practices. These are still used in some par' of the world today.

Through the years beekeeping became a trade which, in many parts of the world, was often governed by special rules not applicable to the population at large. Beekeepers, for example, often paid their taxes in honey and wax, and are said to have been exempt from military service in some parts of Medieval Europe.

Honey was known and used in nearly all countries of the Old World. Already the ancient Babylonians used honey as a medicine, and the Hittites (1400 B.C.) left records showing not only the price of honey, but also the fines that had to be paid for stealing honey and beehives.

In ancient Egypt, honey was used not only in religious rites and for the feeding of sacred animals, but also for the preservation of some bodies after death. Much honey was imported into ancient China from the West in exchange for silk. A lively trade in honey was also carried on in certain parts of Medieval Europe where honey was used both as a source of food and in the production of mead.

In the Western Hemisphere, which contains no indigenous honeybees, honey was produced in Central and South America by the natives, using stingless bees. The Mayas were especially expert in beekeeping and produced considerable quantities of the sweet material. In North America, however, honey was unknown to the natives. When the honeybee was first introduced into eastern North America conditions were so favorable that it spread westward far more rapidly than the land was settled.

Nevertheless, it was not until the latter part of the 19th century, when a practical hive with movable frames (permitting beekeepers to remove each comb from the hive for inspection) was developed, that honey production came into its own as an industry. Since the turn of the century beekeepers have learned, through experience and research, to manage honeybee colonies in such a way that under favorable conditions a surplus (to the needs of the colony) of 200 pounds (or more) of honey may be obtained from one hive.

Honey is not merely a simple solution of sugars in water. It is a complex mixture that includes a variety of sugars as well as a number of organic and inorganic components. Of the sugars, glucose (grape sugar), fructose (fruit sugar) and sucrose (cane sugar) are nearly always present. Their proportions, as well as those of several less common sugars, vary with the plant species from which the honey originated. A number of organic acids, amino acids and proteins, vitamins, enzymes and minerals have also been identified in honey as have pigments and compounds that influence the aroma and flavor of honey.

Since the make-up of a honey sample depends not only on the type of plant from which it was derived, but is also influenced strongly by the conditions under which the plants grew, honeys from different plant crops (and in different locations) will often look, smell, and taste very different. In fact, it is sometimes possible for an expert to distinguish between honeys of various origins on the basis of aroma and taste alone.

A more accurate way to determine the plant source(s) of a honey sample is to check the pollen grains, which are nearly always found in honey, under the microscope. Most plant groups have pollens with characteristic shapes, and it is usually not difficult for a specialist to determine the types of plants that contributed to a given honey sample

While nearly all of the honey produced in Alberta is very light in color, and is internationally recognized as being of the first quality, honey obtained in some other areas may be very dark, or almost black. This does not mean, however, that such honey is of second quality, or that it is nutritionally inferior. In fact, dark honeys are often preferred by consumers of European (especially German) ancestry! It is difficult, however, without resorting to chemical tests, to distinguish between naturally dark honey, and honey that has been darkened by overheating during processing. Fortunately, such abuse of honey is rare.

In order to protect their consumers, most honey importing countries follow a set of standards with certain variations (the "Codex alimentarius") against which all honey that is to be imported must be graded. The Codex includes several specified chemical tests to guard against damage that cannot otherwise be detected.

Honey that is to be sold interprovincially within Canada must be graded according to regulations set out by the federal, government. These include a numerical rating (Canada No. 1, Canada No. 2 etc.) based on quality and a color designation such as "water white", "white", "golden", etc.

The next time you bite into a gingerbread cake, or drink a glass of mead, take a second to remember the small insect with the long history - and its keeper - who have helped to make your Christmas more enjoyable.
